CALL FOR STATE CONVENTION

TO THE REPUBLICAN ELECTORS OF PENNSYLVANIA

I am directed by the Republican State Committee to announce that the Republicans of Pennsylvania, by their duly chosen Representatives, will meet in convention at the Opera House, in the city of Harrisburg, on Wednesday, May 27th, 1903 at 10.30 o'clock A. M. for the purpose of nominating candidates for the following offices, to wit:

One person for the office of State Treasurer. One person for the office of Auditor General. Two persons for the office of Judge of the Superior Court.

In accordance with the rules governing the organization, the representation in the State Convention will be based on the vote polled at the last Presidential election. Under the rules each legislative district is entitled to one delegate for every two thousand votes cast for the Presidential Electors in 1900, and an additional delegate for every fraction of two thousand votes polled in excess of one thousand.

By order of the Republican State Committee.

M. S. QUAY, Chairman. W. R. ANDREWS, Secretary.

SHIPS DRIVEN UPON THE ROCKS.

NEW YORK, April 15.—A high southeasterly gale, accompanied by a steady rain, raged about New York last night and continues this morning.

Shipping has suffered badly and a steam boat was driven on the rocks in the sound. Wharfing at sound ports was swept away and the high tide, piled up by the wind, flooded the town along the Westchester shore.

The small freight steamer Oregon, of the Rockport line, went on the rocks in the upper sound, between City Island and Hart's island, and was lost. The Oregon sank within fifty feet of the mooring of the old cup defender Columbia. The crew of the steamer escaped. This morning all that could be seen of the vessel was the upper part of the smoke stack sticking out of the water.

Witnesses of the sinking say the Oregon drifted into the channel, being driven along by the high winds and waves in the afternoon. She pounded perilously near the Columbia and then, veering off, jammed on the rocks and sank within fifty feet of the yacht.

All along the Westchester shore of the sound, piers were swept away and at 1 o'clock this morning the water was up above the normal high water mark.

As a result residents of City Island, Union Post and other small suburbs on the sound found their cellars flooded this morning. Incoming vessels reported extremely heavy weather with high winds and seas. The life saving stations along the coast are keeping strict vigil for wrecks. A barge, which went ashore at Amagansett recently, pounded to pieces during the night.

The wind in the city played havoc with street signs and the police report several people hurt from falling boards, blown down by the wind. Special policemen were assigned to duty at the windy corner where the Flatiron building stands. Collisions at this point between pedestrians were numerous and hats and umbrellas soared skyward.

Mrs. Bertha Lyons was blown down at Broadway and Twenty-second street receiving contusions of the face and body.

Birmingham, Ala., April 15.—A special from Evergreen, Ala., says: "News has just reached here by telephone confirming rumors of heavy loss of life and property in the neighborhood of Peterman and Burntown, wrought by the tornado which passed near here yesterday. Ten persons are known to have been killed and numerous barns, residences, fences and out-buildings were swept away, entailing a loss which will reach high in the thousands. On account of the bad condition of the wires communication is difficult and the only name of the dead that could be obtained is that of Henry Salter, a well-known planter."

Several residences were demolished, the timber falling on the occupants, killing and injuring all within the buildings. It will be several days before a correct list of the casualties can be obtained as there is neither telegraph nor railroad connection. The heavy rains have rendered the roads almost impassable.

"All news received has come over the telephone lines, which are several miles from the path of the storm."

Another New Trolley Line. Berwick's new daily paper, the Enterprise, says: "Berwick can have another trolley line if it wants it, and out of town capitalists are willing to furnish $125,000 to back the new scheme, and it is proposed to extend the Nanticoke electric system to this borough. This would necessitate the laying of twenty miles of track and a large expenditure of money. It would also furnish some additional employment for the people of this community."

GRAND LODGE OF ODD FELLOWS.

The following notice has been issued by the secretary of the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows:

PHILADELPHIA, April 10, 1903. To the Subordinate Lodges; Fraternal Greeting:

A special session of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania will be held by Edwin L. Ritter, grand master, and other officers of the grand lodge, at Milton, Northumberland county, on Tuesday, April 28, 1903, at 7:30 o'clock in the evening, for the admission of past grands to membership; and a lodge of instruction for third degree members will be opened at 8:30 o'clock in the evening.

Secretaries will please give due notice of the special session and notify the past grands of their lodges and furnish them with properly authenticated past grand's certificates if they have not previously been admitted to membership in the grand lodge and received the grand lodge degree; for without said certificates no past grand can, under any circumstances, be admitted to membership in the grand lodge.

The Odd Fellows of this city are making extensive preparations to attend the anniversary celebration at Milton. This event is always looked forward to with more than ordinary interest and this year will be more largely attended by our townspeople than ever.

A committee of three from each of the Danville lodges has been appointed to arrange for the trip which will most likely be made over the Reading road. A low rate will be secured and the party will leave on the 8:02 morning train returning on a special late in the evening. The Danville lodges will be accompanied by a band.

A large Market. Saturday morning brought one of the largest markets that we have had since the holidays, the line of market wagons extending from the canal bridge to Northumberland street.

Eggs, as was natural owing to Easter week, were the ruling commodity. The market, however, was not overstocked with them. During the early hours they sold for as low as fourteen cents. The ruling price, however, was fifteen cents, although toward the close of market some were sold for eighteen cents. During the forenoon large quantities were brought into town and sold to the merchants by the farmers and after the close of market these might have been seen by the bushel basket full displayed in front of the stores marked "14 cents per dozen."

Butter was rather plentiful in market, the prevailing price being 28 cents per pound. Here and there a farmer was found who had received a higher figure. The prices prevailing during last week is said to have ranged between 25 cents and 32 cents, according to quality.

Many of the farmers had potatoes for sale, the price being uniform, 70 cents per bushel. J. P. Tooley had new potatoes for sale, which had been shipped from the Bermuda Islands. They retailed at 20 cents per quarter peck. At this rate they proved an expensive luxury and did not sell rapidly.

Mr. Tooley among other early products shipped from the south had a crate of strawberries which looked very inviting. They sold at the rate of 20 cents per box.

The fish dealers were well supplied with a nice lot of fresh shad, which sold at 14 cents per pound.

There were plenty of flowers in market, each of our green-houses being represented by a fine display embracing the popular varieties, in which the Easter lily predominated. The prices commanded by the various blooms were not unreasonable and many flowers were disposed of by the dealers.

GOOD ROADS BILL PASSES

HARRISBURG, April 15.—Governor Pennypacker has the Sprout good roads bill. It passed the house yesterday, with only four opposing votes, and 186 for it. Its notable amendments of the last few days being with reducing the state commissioner's salary from $4,000 to $3,500. His first assistant is to get $2,000. The remainder of the office force is reduced to a chief clerk, with salary cut from $1,800 to $1,500, and a stenographer. Northampton and Allegheny counties are permitted to continue their road operations under the Pitten road act of 1885, with this bill's money.

Of the $5,750,000 appropriation $500,000 is to be expended in each of the ensuing two years. The money distribution is to be based upon township road mileage. The county commissioners will give the state highway commissioners the township statistics of the expense; the state is to bear two-thirds and a township and its county one-sixth. The minimum length of road to be improved is reduced from 2,500 feet to a quarter of a mile.

The right to determine whether the improvements are to be upon a continuous road is transferred from the state commissioners to the county commissioners, and the latter are to specify the kind of road to be made. The New Jersey definition of "good roads" is adopted. If a township does not want its money share the first year it may have two years' share in the second year.

SEVERE ATTACK OF GRIP. Cured by One Bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. When I had an attack of grip last winter (the second one) I actually cured myself with one bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," says Frank W. Perry, Editor of the Enterprise, Shortsville, N. Y. "This is the honest truth. I at all times kept from coughing myself to pieces by taking a teaspoonful of this remedy and at night I would take a dose and it seemed that in the briefest interval the cough would pass off and I would go to sleep perfectly free from cough and its accompanying pains. To say that the remedy acted as a most agreeable surprise is putting it very mildly. I had no idea that it would or could knock out the grip, simply because I had never tried it for such a purpose, but it did, and it seemed with the second attack of coughing the remedy caused it to not only be of less duration, but the pains were far less severe, and I had not used the contents of one bottle before Mr. Grip had bid me adieu." For sale by Parlies & Co.

A PECULIAR AFFLICTION

YOUNG MAN KILLED.

MILTON, April 15.—A horrible accident, resulting in the death of Dennis Woodling, a prominent young man of this place, happened at the lower mill of S. J. Shimer & Sons between twelve and one o'clock this morning.

Woodling was employed in the nut department of the mill, which runs a miniature railroad for the transportation of heavy iron. There is sufficient space on the right side of the track to allow two men to pass, but on the left side there is only room for one. Woodling in leaving the place walked on the left side of the track, when a car was pushed in. To escape being crushed by the car, Woodling stood on a keg of nuts and was struck on the head by the main belt of the plant. He was felled to the ground with terrific force and sustained two holes in the head.

The injured man was taken to the home of his parents, 137 Mahoning street, where he was attended by Dr. Sidney Davis, but his injuries were such that medical assistance was of no avail, the young man dying an hour and a half after the accident. Woodling was aged 22 years and unmarried.

Discovery of 11 additional veins of anthracite coal in the Wilkesbarre district is a matter of great importance to this state and to other parts of the country. The tests undertaken by the mining companies were primarily for the purpose of determining the extension and thickness of well-known veins. Eleven of these were found, including the "mammoth" which showed a thickness of 32 feet. In addition, 11 others, not mentioned in any geological reports, were located, none at a greater depth than 2,000 feet.

This exploration will put an end to the talk about the exhaustion of the Pennsylvania anthracite coal fields during the next 50 or 60 years. The probable extension of the life of the mines will be more than double the periods named. It may be taken for granted that the veins discovered near Wilkesbarre will be found to underlie the greater part of the anthracite region, and it is not improbable they may extend beyond the present recognized limits of that region.

From West Virginia the story came several years ago that a great seam of coal had been tapped by the drill in the Poccano sandstone, familiarly known in oil circles as the "Big Injun." It was said to be not more than semi-bituminous, but the report attracted no great attention because coal at a perpendicular depth of 1,500 feet was not much wanted in a territory where the development of millions of acres of the Pittsburgh vein, at or near the surface, had just begun. The Poccano formation takes its name from Poccano mountain, and crops out in the anthracite mining region. The 11 new veins disclosed by drilling near Wilkesbarre are below the Poccano sandstone and may extend far to the south west, to great depths. Of course, even if they do extend far, their character may change from anthracite to semi-bituminous, or bituminous. In any event, the Wilkesbarre exploration tends to dispel possible apprehensions of a fuel famine in this country before the year 2000.

The legislature has no time to spare now.

Another Murder Recorded. Fidele Codispoti, the Italian who was shot by Charles Mirach in a bar-room fight at Shamokin Easter Sunday afternoon, died at the Ashland Hospital Tuesday night from the effects of injuries and murder one hundred and forty-four now be recorded in the criminal annals of Northumberland county.

Monday afternoon Codispoti was operated upon by Dr. Biddle. The intestines were found to be perforated and the injured portions were removed. The left kidney was also perforated and removed likewise. One of the bullets has passed through the bladder and several stitches were required. The bullets which were imbedded in the tissues were not removed.

Mirach was formally arraigned on a charge of murder before Justice Rowe Tuesday evening. The information was made by Chief of Police Gilliam. The prisoner admitted having done the shooting, but pleaded self defense. Justice Rowe had no jurisdiction to accept bail and Mirach was taken to the county jail. His friends will try to have him released on bail for court by a habeas corpus hearing before the Court.

Tony Buffeta and Joseph Mosen, the two Italians who were eye witnesses to the shooting were also committed to jail in default of $500 bail. They are held as witnesses.

Indigestion Causes Catarrh of the Stomach. For many years it has been supposed that Catarrh of the Stomach caused indigestion and dyspepsia, but the truth is exactly the opposite. Indigestion causes catarrh. Repeated attacks of indigestion inflame the mucous membranes lining the stomach and expose the nerves of the stomach, thus causing the glands to secrete much diluted acid juices of natural digestion. This is called Catarrh of the Stomach.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. Relieves all inflammation of the mucous membranes lining the stomach, protects the nerves, and cures bad breath, sour risings, a sense of fullness after eating, indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach troubles.

Kodol Digests What You Eat. Make the Stomach Sweet. Bottles only. Regular size, 21c, holding 2 1/2 times as much as the smaller size, which sells for 10c.
