A TRAGEDY AT SUNBURY

A. E. Jacobs, of Hasleton, Pa., committed suicide in a room at the St. Charles Hotel in this city Tuesday afternoon by drinking two ounces of carbolic acid and one and a half ounces of laudanum.

Jacobs went to the hotel between one and two o'clock Tuesday afternoon and registered, stating that he did not want dinner, but that he did not want to be a burden on his family.

The man did not bring up by noon to Mr. Chester, who went to his room to call him; falling to receive an answer he became alarmed about the man's absence and looked over the transom in the hall.

Mr. Will L. Shindel was summoned and upon his arrival the room was broken into. It required no exhaustive examination to learn that the man was dead and that it was a case of suicide. The evidence was at hand.

The bottle that contained the carbolic acid stood empty on the washstand alongside of a half-filled silver whiskey flask. The rest of the whiskey as drunk was taken as a brazer.

Preparations on duty had been made to complete the job in case the acid and laudanum would fail. The man carried a gold watch with a black silk guard. A dollar and three cents in gold was all the money found. A lot was left to W. E. Jacobs, Hasleton, of Attorney Williams, of Wilkesbarre.

The man is apparently 45 years of age, medium stature and weight and wears gray sideburns. The right hand is badly burned by the acid which he applied in taking. There is no motive known for the suicide. Oruter was killed and developments are awaited. George Dreiser, of Shamokin, will be here on the first train.

A telegraphic message to Hasleton failed to draw any light on the mystery, the Daily Sentinel stating that they did not know T. E. Jacobs.—Sunbury Daily.

FORIER RESIDENTS HEARD FROM

The following letter from James W. Bogart and Rachel W. Bogart, former editor and teacher of Castle Grove farm, who now reside near Ashland, Va., will be read with interest by their acquaintances in this locality:

Ashland, Va., June 7, 1903. Editor American: We have in the vicinity of our farm here situated six miles from Ashland on the R. P. D. route. Church and school house are only half a mile distant.

Crops of all kinds this year are very backward. The ground was literally soaked with rain during the winter and up to about the 15th of April. From that on we did not have a drop of rain until the 27th of May.

Our corn here have only a portion of their corn planted. Corn here can be planted until about the first of July. Early cherries were a failure, but there will be plenty of early apples, although rather small in size.

The early potatoes nearly all rotted in the ground, but the June crop will be a big one by the appearance of things now. We will plant late potatoes and sweet potatoes about the 15th of this month. Winter oats are a fair crop; wheat is nearly ready to cut here.

Hay is very short and will be high in price next winter. Corn is 70 cents per bushel; oats 60 cents. Hay brings $20 per ton. It is a paradise here for hunters. Quail are as thick as sparrows, with plenty of rabbits, wild turkeys, foxes, coons and deer.

Yours truly, James W. Bogart & Son. ST. LOUIS, CITY OF TEXAS. LEON C. CHENEY, Notary Public.

FRANK J. CHENEY, Notary Public. CHENEY'S OATH: I, FRANK J. CHENEY, do hereby certify that I am a resident of the County of Adams, State of Pennsylvania, and that I am duly qualified to perform the duties of a Notary Public for the County of Adams, State of Pennsylvania.

National Guard for Berwick. It is probable that in the near future a company of the Ninth Regiment may be located in Berwick. There is a movement on foot among the officers and it is expected that the matter will soon be taken up with local persons.

One of the companies in Parsons, Wis., was recently disbanded and transferred to Wilkesbarre which is the sixth to be located there. It is difficult to keep the ranks filled because of the number of military organizations in the city apart from the Ninth Regiment Company so that one company from Wilkesbarre may be disbanded and transferred to another town.

The colonel and staff officers have been considering the matter and on account of the patriotic spirit in Berwick have picked this town as a desirable one in which to locate a company. This may not be until after the summer camping but that it will come is not doubted by those in close touch with the question and with the large number of men in Berwick and no military organizations the forming of a first class company could readily be effected.—Blossburg Press.

Startling Evidence. Fresh testimony in great quantity is constantly coming in, declaring Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds to be unequalled. A recent expression from T. J. McFarland Benterville, Va., serves as example. He writes: "I had Bronchitis for three years and doctored all the time without being benefited. Then I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery, and a few bottles wholly cured me." Equally effective in curing all Lung and Throat troubles, Consumption, Pneumonia and Grip. Guaranteed by Parlow & Co., Drug Co. Trial bottles free, regular sizes 50c. and $1.00.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of St. Paul's M. E. Church will hold a special meeting in the lecture room tonight. This meeting will be held in the interest of the young people and will convene at 7:30 o'clock. It will be addressed by Mrs. Parly of Sunbury, Secretary of the Danville District, and Miss Gallimore, a returned missionary of India. The young people especially are requested to take note of the meeting and if possible to be present.

DO YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable. Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to find the wonderful cure made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century, discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, kidney, bladder, uric acid troubles and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital care, in private practice, among the helpless poor to purchase relief and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which each reader of this paper who has not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble.

When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your name and address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., 1012 Broadway, New York, N. Y. The regular fifty cent and one dollar bottles are sold by all good druggists.

Don't make no mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address Hinghamton, N. Y., on every bottle. Despite all efforts to the contrary the damage by forest fires this year is greater than ever before.

THIRTY DROWN IN FLOOD

ST. LOUIS, June 10.—The impending break in the Illinois Central dyke came at 12:30 o'clock this morning.

It is conservatively estimated that thirty persons have drowned. Another estimate places the number of lives lost at seventy-five.

In five minutes after the break a mighty torrent was tearing through a large residence section of East St. Louis.

One-half of East St. Louis is buried in the flood. Ten thousand persons are homeless and at the mercy of the raging waters. Families are pumpe up prisoners in garrets of their homes or on roofs. They are without food and are crying for help.

The city appealed to St. Louis for small boats. In the section on the eastern part of the city people by the thousands were sleeping and felt certain the city was safe. But they were warned by the blowing of the sand train whistles, by firing of riot guns and the cries of those who had been working on the embankment in an effort to save it. The property losses cannot be estimated.

Kindly take notice that Ely's Liquid Cream Balm is of a great benefit to sufferers from nasal catarrh who can not inhale freely through the nose but must therefore by spraying. Liquid Cream Balm differs in form, but not in medicinal from the Cream Balm that has stood for years at the head of remedies for catarrh. It may be used in any nasal atomizer. The price, including a spraying tube, is 75 cents. Sold by druggists and mailed by Ely Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York.

Murder at Centralia. Centralia presented the peaceable citizens of the town with another shock on Sunday when it was announced that another stabbing affray had resulted in death of one.

The latest alleged murder in Columbia county is John Seesholtz, who was arrested on Sunday by Constable Langdon charged with the murder of John Swatski, both of whom are from the shanties on the road from Aristes to Centralia.

From the story as told by the Justice and gathered at the hospital, Seesholtz and Swatski, were both at a boarding house where some alterations arose and Seesholtz is alleged to have stabbed Swatski, once over the right kidney and once over the left. The latter wound was not severe being merely a flesh wound but the former penetrated the kidney. He was taken to the Myers hospital at Ashland where an operation was performed by Dr. Biddle who was however unable to save his life and he died at eleven o'clock Friday night.

It is stated that before he died Swatski made a statement saying that Seesholtz was his assailant.

Another is said to be implicated who together with Seesholtz skipped. The authorities were soon after them, however, and Constable Langdon made the arrest Sunday.

Seesholtz was taken before Justice Black at Centralia, and given a hearing, three witnesses testifying against him. None of them, however, saw the crime committed, all testifying to Seesholtz's having been in the room with Swatski and of his having had the knife.

After hearing the evidence Justice Black remanded him to jail without bail, where he will remain until the September term of court.

Leighton Journal Goes Up. The Leighton Evening Journal, launched about a month ago, is no more. It died Saturday night and here is the editor's sad farewell. With this issue the Journal will cease to exist. We did all we could to make it a success, sunk our own money and used up a lot of good energy. We return hearty thanks to those who have stood so faithfully by us and did what they could to keep alive this little public benefactor. But fate was against the paper and as we never cry over spilled milk we drop daily journalism in Leighton.

Our Burying Grounds. A visit to the cemeteries at present following the refreshing rains and the results of the horticultural efforts previous to May 20th being manifest, is a sight good for the eyes and provoking a sense of pleasure and pride in the beauty of local burying grounds. Interest in cemetery work should not die with the passing of Memorial Day.

Crispien's Narrow Escape.

The Courier des Etats Unis says that on Jan. 14, 1868, the late Francesco Crispien, the great Italian statesman, then a political refugee in Paris, rescued from an Italian friend connected with the Paris opera two gallery tickets for the performance of that evening, which the emperor and empress were expected to attend. Crispien and his wife were on the point of starting for the theater when the latter exclaimed, "Francesco, where shall we get a candle?"

They were in such destitution that they had neither candles nor matches nor yet the wherewithal to buy them. Going to the opera would involve groping for their room at midnight and going to bed in total darkness. Too proud to confess their condition and to borrow a few pence, they gratefully denied themselves the promised treat, remained in their room and retired before the twilight had faded.

On the following morning they learned of Orsini's attack on the emperor, the police raids and the arrest of all Italian revolutionists found in or near the theater. If Crispien had been in the house, he would certainly have been the first arrested, for he was known as an ardent disciple of Mazzini.

Juvenile Financiers. Two Wall street financiers were discussing the importance of early investing upon children the value of money. "A penny saved," said the banker, "is the fundamental principle in fortune making. I give my youngsters a penny every month for saving the pin money I enable them to pay by various services that my father would have relegated to the servants. I think I am on the right track, for the other day I found myself short of car fare, and I was with reluctance that the youngest of the brood would lend me five pennies, while the eldest came to the rescue only when I offered security.

"It's well to have children early trained to keep account of what they spend," said the banker's companion, with a twinkle in his shrewd eye. "My boy is six. On his birthday I bought him a little desk, a ledger and all the paraphernalia of bookkeeping, and showed him how to make entries and balance accounts. The other night, when he had gone to bed, I thought I would see how he was coming on. The first page read: 'Had 4 cents; spent 4 yents; haven't a darn cent left!'"—New York Press.

THOMAS G. VINCENT, Clerk of Quarter Session. Establishing His Gault. "Officer," said the police court judge, "what made you think the prisoner was drunk?"

"Well, your honor, as he was going along the sidewalk he ran plump into a street lamppost. He backed away, replaced his hat on his head and firmly started forward again, but once more ran into the post. Four times he tried to get by the post, but each time his coat fell pole. After the fourth attempt and failure to pass the post he backed off, fell to the pavement and, clutching his head in his hands, murmured as one lost to all hope: 'Lost! Lost in an impenetrable forest!'"
