THE VALUE OF A GRANGE.

A subordinate grange is the most practical and the most natural means of promoting all the interests of a rural community ever conceived in the history of the world...

1. It contributes to the social life by frequent regular meetings in which the art of sociability is so agreeably and informally taught...

2. It contributes to the high moral standard by affording convenient and agreeable society for old and young in which the highest standard of morality is maintained...

3. It contributes to the happiness of home by the mental recreation afforded all members of the family in the various Grange gatherings attended...

4. It contributes to the material prosperity by its discussion of all matters of importance tending to local development, and often is instrumental in securing the establishment of industries that give added population...

5. It contributes to the general intelligence of the inhabitants by its frequent discussion of questions of a public nature and by the educating influences of other exercises...

6. It contributes to the general welfare by dissipating neighborhood quarrels, by breaking up long-standing feuds caused by church, school, or society troubles, by promoting better roads, better schools, and better farming...

7. A subordinate Grange contributes in many ways to the upbuilding of a rural community by making it a more desirable place to live and making its citizens more intelligent, more prosperous, and more happy.

Roses in Profusion. The grounds of many of the homes about town appear quite resplendent now that roses are in bloom.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble. Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens activity; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

The Oregon Cloudburst. Every hour adds to the awful loss of life and other horrors attendant upon Monday's awful storm at Hepper, Ore., when a wall of water 20 feet high swept down upon the little town.

Balloon Landed Near Buckhorn. Mr. Laumaster received the following from Buckhorn, Pa.: "Your balloon landed about one mile north of Buckhorn, Pa., about 7 o'clock Saturday night."

INTO AN UNKNOWN'S GRAVE.

The stranger who committed suicide in this place on Friday morning by cutting her throat was not Mrs. P. L. Fagin, of Athens, O., as some supposed.

A telegram was received late Saturday afternoon from that missing woman's husband that read substantially as follows: "Please send description and if it tallies with the following description, I will come at once. The woman I am looking for had small pox mark on nose, short thick hands, short thick ankles, wears No. 7 shoes, has gray streaked hair. Did she have a satchel with picture of little boy in it?"

This description, of course, did not tally in any way with the appearance of the dead woman here and additional messages received yesterday only served to confirm the fact that, who ever she might be, the Gettysburg suicide was certainly not Mrs. Fagin. And so that theory is definitely disposed of.

The trained nurse theory which connects the woman with the stranger who has been traveling the state imposing upon clergymen and doctors, and whose description so far as it has been obtainable here seems to agree with that of the suicide, is now being investigated and will be established or disproved within a day or two.

At 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon the remains of the unknown were quietly interred in the Catholic cemetery, the services at the grave consisting of a simple prayer by Rev. T. J. Crotty. The funeral cortege from the church to the burial ground included but the hearse and a single cab. There were few witnesses of the interment outside of Father Crotty, Undertaker Garlach, and the four pall-bearers, J. Harry Holtzworth, Fred Thorn, J. Frank Wisotzky and Edward Crotty.

The dead woman could not possibly have wished for a more peaceful funeral, one more free from curious eyes and comment. And so she was buried, still unknown, as she desired.—Gettysburg Progress.

Blue Island, Ill., Jan. 14, 1901. Messrs ELY BROS.—I have used your Cream Balm in my family for nine years and it has become my family doctor for colds in the head. I use it freely on my children. It is a Godsend to children.

Yours respectfully, J. KIMBALL. Messrs ELY BROS.—I suffered greatly with catarrh and tried different remedies without effect. After using one bottle of your Cream Balm I found relief and I cannot praise to highly such a remedy.

Lightning Causes Destruction. MILTON, Pa., June 17.—Fire caused by lightning entirely destroyed the large barn on the Heinen's farm about a mile and a quarter northeast of this place Tuesday afternoon about 3:30 o'clock together with all the contents including 25 head of cows and a large quantity of grain.

The farm is occupied by Bert Hill. At the approach of the storm Mr. Hill and the farm hands drove the cattle into the barn from the pasture fields. The structure had three large cupolas or air-chambers on top and the lightning struck the brass weather vane on the middle one and passed down into the building, setting fire to the upper story.

During a heavy thunder storm at 3:30 Tuesday afternoon a bolt of lightning struck the high spire of the First Presbyterian church at Watsonstown. It was completely shattered and ruined. The damage, which is considerable, is covered by insurance. The spire will be rebuilt at once.

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets are just what you need when you have no appetite, feel dull after eating and wake up with a bad taste in your mouth. They will improve your appetite, cleanse and invigorate your stomach and give you a relish for your food. For sale by Paulus & Co. Drug Store.

Severe Storm at Lewisburg. LEWISBURG, June 17.—A severe rain, hail and wind storm visited this section yesterday afternoon, lasting about twenty minutes. The storm was most severe in East Lewisburg, where hail fell so thickly that it could be shoveled up. So heavy was the rainfall that the streets became miniature streams. Considerable damage was done.

Bucknell Commencement Base Ball Games. Saturday, June 20, is the date set for the annual Sophomore Freshman game. As varsity men figure on both sides, a good exhibition of ball, full of spirit may be looked for Monday, June 22nd, the strong Williamsport A. C. Champions of this part of the State. Tuesday, June 23, it is not yet decided who will play on this date, but a good game is assured. Wednesday, June 24, the strong Bloomsburg team are the opponents in the closing game of the season. Admission 25 cents.

Will Observe Fourth of July. The carriers on the rural free delivery routes are sure of a holiday on July 4th. Postmaster Harder yesterday received a communication from the department stating that there will be no delivery on the r. f. d. routes on that day.

This is welcome news to the carriers, however, it may strike the patrons on the several routes in the county, who for the first time in many months will be obliged to forgo the luxury of a daily mail.

As relates to the town carriers and other departments of the local post office the regular holiday hours will be observed on the Fourth of July.

There is nothing stingy about Jupiter or Phylis when he begins operations and the trouble seems to be to stop him before he falls into the other extreme. Too much rain is as bad as not enough.

GEARHARDT WILL NOT HANG.

Late Wednesday afternoon word was received from the Clerk of the Board of Pardons in session at Harrisburg that in the case of wife murderer Jacob Gearhardt the Board had reached a final decision recommending the commutation of the death sentence to life imprisonment.

At the last session of the Board of Pardons Gearhardt received a telegram from his attorney James Scarlot that the Board would recommend the commutation of his sentence but when the report of the Board was made known it was found that the case had been held under advisement. This action awakened considerable interest in the case concerning the final decision of the Board.

Within the next few days Sheriff Dietrick will receive the proper papers and Gearhardt will be taken to the Eastern Penitentiary to serve the remainder of his days.—Sunbury Item.

Equalled by Few. In a corner of the Philadelphia Press there appeared the following: "It is certainly a 'handsome city,' 'one of the most beautiful in the State as a place of residence.' The people are hospitable and highly intelligent and patriotic. If the many respectable emigrants who are daily coming to our shores would settle there and in other cities like it, instead of stopping in the overcrowded cities of the first class, the future of these strangers would be much more promising and it would be better for the whole country. Accommodations of all kinds are the best in Williamsport and for orderliness and moral tone it is not surpassed by any and equalled by few."

Everybody connected with the Lumber city is following out the policy of advertising, not part of the time, but all the time. The success so achieved by a systematic and persistent effort might well commend itself to our Board of Trade.

Musical Leses His Cornet. The Chief-of-Police is in receipt of a letter from one of the musicians with Robinson's show who would like to have information concerning a cornet which was lost in this city last week. The letter reads as follows: "Roaring Branch, June 15, 1903. My Dear Sir:—While in your city last Wednesday, 10th inst., I left a silver and gold-mounted cornet in a tan leather case made by C. G. Conn of Elkhart in the depot or in some one of the business places. If you can find it for me send it to my address and I will pay all charges. Yours, respectfully, JOHN F. KING."

Do You Enjoy What You Eat? You can eat whatever and whenever you like if you take Kodol. By the use of this remedy disorders of digestion and diseased stomachs are so completely restored to health, and the full performance of their functions naturally, that such foods as would tie one into a double-bow-knot are eaten without even a "rumbling" and with a positive pleasure and enjoyment. And what is more—these foods are assimilated and transformed into the kind of nutriment that is appropriated by the blood and tissues.

Kodol cures indigestion, dyspepsia and all disorders arising therefrom. Kodol cures indigestion, dyspepsia and all disorders arising therefrom. Kodol cures indigestion, dyspepsia and all disorders arising therefrom.

A Paying Occupation. The most profitable employment a young man or a young woman can follow is that of writing advertisements. The salaries paid range from $25.00 to $100.00 a week. John Wannamaker pays his advertising manager $10,000 a year.

More young people should qualify themselves to write ads as there are openings for all who are properly qualified. You can take an advertising course by mail. There is also a book on the subject containing Fifty Complete Lessons. It is entitled "Theory and Practice of Advertising," is the first and only text book on advertising in the world and is written by a practical advertising man.

Who can profit by having this book? FIRST, the merchant who should get twice the results from his advertising. SECOND, the young man or woman who wants to prepare for positions paying from $25.00 to $100.00 a week. THIRD, school teachers, clerks, stenographers and book keepers, who wish to double their income.

"Theory and Practice of Advertising," in flexible covers will be sent to any address on receipt of seventy-five cents or in cloth for one dollar. Enclosed currency in sealed letter.

Should you be in doubt whether you want to take up the more exhaustive course by mail, you should order a copy of the book. It will explain many things as it contains all the salient principles of advertising. After you have bought a book you can, if you wish, secure contract to sell books in order to pay for complete correspondence course. Order a book today. Do it now. GEO. W. WAGONSSELLER, A. FARMERS AND GOOD ROADS.

Cost of hauling Farm Products Over Country Highways.

The advocates of good roads will find plenty of arguments in the recent report of the industrial commission on the marketing and distribution of farming products. This report shows the value of good country roads and the immense saving that could be effected through them. It is the furthest arguments in favor of the construction of electric lines through the farming sections of the country not only for the hauling of passengers, but for the hauling of freight.

The report shows that the cost of hauling farm products over country roads is $20,000,000 a year, or more than the entire cost of operating all the railroads in the United States, says the New York Commercial Advertiser. The total operating expenses of railroads is estimated at only $18,000,000 annually. The average haul to the nearest shipping station in the transportation of farm products is twelve miles, and the average cost is 25 cents a ton a mile, or $3 a ton for the twelve miles. By comparing this ton mile cost with the average ton mile revenue of the railroads in the country, which amounts to 7 cents, it is seen that there is opportunity for saving that would be effected through good roads may readily be seen. If farm products could be hauled to market at 7 mills a ton mile, as is the case with railway traffic, the entire charge for transportation would be less than $2,000,000, as compared with the $20,000,000 it costs the farmers to haul their products over ordinary roads.

The building of good roads and the construction of electric lines will mean an enormous saving to the farming classes. Some of the advocates of good roads believe that the two could be constructed jointly, as the cost would be proportionately less for the building of good wagon roads, which could also be used for electric railways. These electric railways could be constructed through those sections of the farming community which would offer the greatest possibilities in the way of freight and passenger traffic returns, and wagon roads could be built connecting these with all sections of the country. The farmer who did not live on the direct line of an electric railway could haul his freight to the nearest point, where it could be quickly transferred to an electric train.

Women as Jewelers. Time was not so very far back either when the woman of artistic talents who sought to earn her own living found no outlook beyond selling an occasional picture or giving lessons in painting. Now the artistic sphere for women has widened to include so many departments that there is almost an unlimited range of riches from which to make a choice.

One of the latest to be taken up by women is the designing of artistic jewelry. In England particularly women have been meeting with much success in this line, and there seems to be no reason why it should not be more widely taken up. It is a craft to which a woman's light and dainty manipulation is particularly adapted. Certainly the present renaissance in the jeweler's art seems to have come to stay. It has spread from France to England, Austria, Germany, Denmark and Belgium. It recognizes the art of the metal worker as an important factor and quite independent of costly stones. It considers a beauty of form and color rather than a display of costliness of material.
