WHIRLED TO DEATH IN FLY WHEEL.

Yesterday morning at the paper mill of the Stillwater Manufacturing Company, at Stillwater, Columbia county, Isaac Girton, sixty-five years old, an employee of the concern, stepped against the big fly wheel and was almost instantly hurled into eternity. The unfortunate victim, who was employed as a heater at the place, was being to work in his peculiar line being stuck, doing some other duty, and thus had occasion to go to the engine room, and there being no person in the power room, it is not known definitely what caused him to come in contact with the big wheel that caused his sudden and sad taking off. He was found lying on the floor of the engine room by Harry Berlin and Charles Wesley, about twenty minutes after he had left the other department of the mill, but life was then already extinct, death having evidently been instant.

The general opinion seems to be that the dead man carelessly or thoughtlessly stepped against the fly wheel, and was hurled through the opening in the floor with terrific force, around and about the other side, and on to the engine floor again.

When picked up the body presented a sickening sight, bleeding and crushed in almost unrecognizable shape, with the clothing in shreds and with life already blotted out.

The remains were carefully carried to his home in Papardale, close to the scene of the accident.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by an internal remedy. Deafness is caused by an inflammation of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys. Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood. If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work. Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or uneasy heart beats, makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It is used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be treated by the kidneys, but modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It is the highest and its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits.

Home of Swamp-Root, free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

Don't make no mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

FELL DOWN A CHUTE

Alexander Krowskie, a miner employed at the Pennsylvania colliery at Shamokin, fell down a chute a distance of over two hundred feet Tuesday evening, sustaining frightful injuries, yet still lives.

Krowskie, with several other men, was working in a breast near the main gangway and while drilling in the rock preparatory to blasting, made a misstep backward, falling down the chute. The distance he fell was over two hundred feet and his head struck a large sharp pointed rock, splitting the front part of his skull as clean as if it had been done with an axe or some other broad-bladed instrument.

The scalp was torn from the skull from the forehead to the ears and he sustained other injuries that are of such a serious nature to alone produce death.

When the workmen reached the injured man he was still alive and conscious. He spoke to the men and requested that he be removed to his home and not to the hospital. At noon yesterday he was still resting fairly well. The doctors say that he may recover, but if he does it will be a miracle.

Blue Island, Ill., Jan. 14, 1901. Messrs ELY BROS.—I have used your Cream Balm in my family for nine years and it has become my family doctor for colds in the head. I use it freely on my children. It is a Godsend to children.

Yours respectfully, J. KIMBALL. Messrs ELY BROS.—I suffered greatly with catarrh and tried different remedies without effect. After using one bottle of your Cream Balm I found relief and I cannot praise too highly such a remedy.

Miss CORA WILLARD, Albany, N. Y. Suit Against W. O. Richard. As an aftermath to the injunction proceedings instituted by W. Clark Richard, restraining Farmer Krum, executor of the David Manser estate from using a road leading to the P. & R. switch at Grovania and which was decided by the Court against Mr. Richard, comes a suit instituted by the David Manser estate against Mr. Richard, claiming damages in the sum of $5,000. Richard having lost his case is now made the defendant in a damage case. It is understood that Farmer Krum, who runs the lime kiln, will also bring suit for damages. There promises to be some interesting developments.—Bloumsburg Press.

By order of COLONEL CLEMENT, M. H. TAGGART, Adjutant.

The ten thousand State Militiamen of Pennsylvania have such a constituency of friends in the various communities from which they come, that their Annual Encampments are always patronized by a large number of visitors from all sections of the State. When a stranger first visits the Camp, his interest is immediately attracted by a large tent which overshadows everything else on the field. He soon learns that this tent is the Camp Young Men's Christian Association provided by the State Committee of the Association. A visit to the tent reveals almost a model Association.

There are the daily papers from the home towns of the Guardsmen, the tables provided with stationery, pens and ink, post office accommodations, a variety of games such as are found in the home Association—chess, checkers, crokinole, etc., together with a few out door games—base ball, quoits, organ or piano and song books, ice water, etc. Each evening a gospel service is held in the tent, conducted by one of the Secretaries in charge and always participated in by the guardsmen. This entire outfit is provided by the Young Men's Christian Association free of charge to the Soldier. That the men appreciate the privileges provided is evidenced from the fact that last summer at the Gettysburg Division Encampment more than 17,000 visits were made to the tents, 13,000 letters were written, and 3,000 attended the gospel services. About fifty men expressed their purpose to live the Christian life. These tents stand in the camp as constant reminders of the Christian faith, and its readiness to minister to and develop what is best in man, irrespective of race, creed or condition, as a rallying place for the Christian men, and a foil from temptation to many who would surely be led into more injurious pastimes. Officers and men, from the Commander-in-chief to the private, have united in the heartiest commendation of the work done.

The cost of the work which is approximately $600.00 is provided entirely by gratuitous contributions. Readers of this paper who appreciate the work being done for the Guardsmen and who would like to assist in its conduct, can do so by sending contributions to James B. Bailey, Treasurer State Young Men's Christian Association, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

A representative of Lyman D. Howe, of Wilkesbarre, the moving picture man, whose views will be presented here during the coming season, is now in Europe securing views for the moving picture exhibitions.

Business always favors Morning News advertisers. Why? Because the paper goes into the homes of the people.

Some of the Hazleton firemen, disgusted with the fatality of their efforts to secure a stopping place at Allentown during the state convention, are talking of camping out for that week. They expect to get a place for their tent at the fair grounds.

Special Meeting. On account of the death of Brother Dr. J. R. Kimerer, a special meeting of Muncolton Lodge, L. O. E. P., No. 40, will be held in the Lodge room, Thursday evening, July 2, 1903, at 8:15 for the purpose of making arrangements for attending the funeral in a body.

THOS. G. VINCENT, Scribe.

Prose and Poetry.

Despite the notable poems by new writers as Ruskin and Stevenson, Peter and Newman, one feels that the best of poetry, as a medium for beauty, was not realized by a few. There is not yet written as frankly for its own sake as poetry. It ought to be. Of course I do not mean that it ought not to be continued as a vehicle for every kind of diabolic purpose. But it ought well to be used for the expression of merely lyrical feeling.

In modern English prose there are, it is true, many lyrical passages, but they are always sandwiched apologetically in the midst of expository writing. The only separate prose lyrics that I can recall written in English are translations from another language, such as Mr. Andrew Lang's translation from Theocritus. I recommend that dear little book as an incentive to young writers of prose. It will embolden them to be merely lyrical, thus hastening the day when writers of prose shall be as specific and distinct a class as poets are now.—London Academy.

Courtesies of War. The singular and perhaps unique spectacle of an army maintaining itself in the field upon provisions acquired from the opposing force, richer in supplies, was witnessed during the chivalrous and long protracted struggles (1481-92) which led to the destruction of the Moslem kingdom of Granada in Spain, after the conquest of the Moors from that country.

From the second year of this war 30,000 foragers were reserved by the Spanish sovereigns, Ferdinand and Isabella, for the special service of devastation. These men destroyed the Moorish farms in Granada, with all crops, granaries, mills, vines and olive gardens, for a space of more than two leagues on either side of the line of march, while in the Mediterranean a Spanish fleet was maintained to cut off all supplies destined for the Moors from the Barbary coast.

So extreme was the scarcity occasioned by these operations that the furnished Moors were glad to exchange their Christian captives, of whom thousands fell to their troops in the war, for supplies of provisions from their foes. It was not until it threatened to be a hindrance to ultimate success that this strange system of exchange was stopped by the Christians.—London Answers.

Satisfied. The angular passenger stuck her head out of the window. "Why," she asked the man on the station platform, "did you speak just now of that singular looking machine as 'she'?"

"Because, ma'am," replied the man, "I had to take her head in against Chicago Tribune."

Do You Enjoy What You Eat? You can eat whatever and whenever you like if you take Kodol. By the use of this remedy disordered digestion and diseased stomachs are so completely restored to health, and the full performance of their functions naturally, that such foods as would be out of the question for a weak stomach are eaten with a positive pleasure and enjoyment. And what is more—these foods are assimilated and transformed into the kind of nutriment that is appropriated by the blood and tissues.

Kodol is the only digestant or combination of digestants that will digest all classes of food. In addition to this, it contains the assimilating power of the greatest known tonic and reconstructive properties.

The Old Astronomy.

One of the Hesiodic poems, "The Works and Days," composed, perhaps, a century and a half later than the Homeric, gives precept upon precept to farmer and mariner and teaches them how to observe the seasons at a period when almanacs were as yet unknown.

"When the Pleiades, daughters of Atlas, rise, begin your harvest; when they set, your plowing. When after the winter solstice Zeus has fulfilled sixty days of winter (then it is that Arcturus, having left the sacred stream of Ocean, rises in the twilight brightly shining), prune your vines. When Sirius parches head and knees and the body is dried up by reason of heat, then sit in the shade and drink. When Orion and Sirius have reached mid-heaven and rosy fingered dawn beholds Arcturus, then gather and carry home your grape clusters. When, flying the impetuous might of Orion, the Pleiades sink into the misty dew, then range blasts of wind, haul ashore your ship and cover her around with stones."

The mention of the solstices here and elsewhere in the poem implies careful astronomical observation. Arcturus, "the bear keeper," is a bright star in the constellation Bootes.

First Indian Trials. The fumes of the gods in India are not made by a separate caste, but the carpenters and masons respectively make the large wooden and stone idols set up in the temples, the potters the clay idols consumed in daily worship and the braziers, copper-smiths and goldsmiths the little images in brass, copper, mixed metal and gold and silver that are always kept in private homes. The East Indians regard an alloy of brass with five other metals—gold, silver, iron, tin and lead, making with the copper and zinc of the brass, a mixture of light metals—as a perfect alloy, and this is highly prized as a material for sacred images.

Palmerston and His Maces. Lord Palmerston died at his post two days before he was eighty-one, his faculties undimmed and his physical strength little affected by his advanced age. A hidden witness recorded a touching anecdote: A fortnight before his death he saw the old statesman come out of his London house early one morning, look around to assure himself that he was alone, then climb over the area railing around the house and back again to test the strength of his muscles.—Lippincott's Magazine.

THE WORD AGOSTE. Professor Huxley invented the word "agnostic." Finding himself one day a "man without a rag of a label to cover himself with," he concluded to call himself by a name of his own creating. It came into his head, said Huxley, as suggestively antithetical to the motto of church history, who professed to know so much about the very things of which he himself was ignorant, and the professor "was the very earliest opportunity of parading it at our society, to show that I, too, had a tail like other fishes."
