WESTERN TRIP DESCRIBED

SANTA ANA, Cal., July 4, 1903. Editor Montour American:—Being a former resident of Montour county I take the liberty of enclosing you a brief description of an interesting trip from Kansas to California, hoping that it may prove of interest to my Eastern friends.

We left Long Island, Kansas, March 25 and on Oxford, Nebraska, took the tourist sleeper, a through car which we could do our own cooking and had a jolly time. We arrived at Denver on the 20th. We passed through in succession, Pueblo, a great town and Florence, in the midst of the great oil district, and Carson City which is surrounded by a charming country studded with fruit orchards.

The Great Rocky Gorge in the Grand Canon of the Arkansas is fifty feet wide at the bottom and but seventy feet wide at the top, the walls of the Canon rising sheer three thousand feet above the level of the river that rushes and swirls in its narrow bed. The scenery is sublime and fascinating. We passed through Leadville and the Mount of the Holy Cross at night.

On March 27 at 10 a. m. we passed through Castle Gate and by Castle Rock in Utah. Castle Gate is composed of two huge pillars of rock, a continuation of spurs of the cliffs behind. One measures 500 feet and the other 450 feet from base to top. They are of a rich red color.

Passing through Salt Lake City and Ogden, Utah, proceeding via the Southern Pacific railroad we struck Nevada at 11:45 a. m., March 28th. Through this section we saw nothing but sand, sage-brush, dugouts, wigwags and Indians.

When we entered California on March 29th we passed through a forty-mile snow shed, after which we crossed San Francisco Lake on a ferry boat and arrived at Santa Barbara Channel, March 30. After a smooth run along the coast we reached Los Angeles, whence we proceeded to Santa Ana, 34 miles distant.

Santa Ana is a city of about 6000 inhabitants surrounded by a rich level country where they raise oranges, lemons, English walnuts, apricots, prunes, grapes, peaches, figs, Logan berries, dewberries, bananas, blackberries, raspberries, and all kinds of fruit.

Oranges and lemons sell at 10 cents per bushel. Santa Ana is the county seat of Orange county and is ten miles from the Pacific ocean. It is a beautiful city with asphalt streets and concrete sidewalks; it has street car service and a fine park. The most beautiful ornamental trees abound, palms, evergreens and many varieties which I can not name. The palms grow as high as the buildings, many of them being 75 to 80 feet tall.

We expect to remain here for some time after which, we will take a northern route passing through Washington, Yellowstone National Park, Wyoming and Nebraska.

DANIEL P. DIETRICH.

SOLDIER LOVER WAS REJECTED

What might have been another soldier romance, resulting from the occupation of Shamokin by the Tenth Regiment, N. G. P., last fall, ended very abruptly Saturday, when a soldier, who went there from the western part of the State to claim a bride, returned to his home wifeless.

When the soldiers were there last fall in their attractive blue uniforms, many eastern girls lost their hearts to the brass-buttoned defenders of the State's peace, for 'tis an undisputed fact that a soldier's uniform appeals to many girls.

Among the girls who surrendered her heart to a gallant Tenth Regiment soldier, J. F. Bickerstaff, of Rochester, Pa., was Miss Minnie Rose. She saw him but three times during his stay in Shamokin, but after he returned home they kept up a correspondence and when he asked her to become his wife she consented most willingly, for truly did she believe in the old saying, "Absence makes the heart grow fonder."

Bickerstaff received a letter a short time ago from Minnie asking him to come on, also stating that they would be married on July 15. Minnie had made arrangements with her sister, who lives at Yorkville, near Pottsville, to have the wedding take place at her home.

The young soldier arrived last week and lavished all his attentions upon his fiancée. But in vain, she treated him with disdain and told him definitely Saturday that she would not marry him. The young man was broken hearted and pleaded with his sweet heart, but in vain, for her heart had grown cold.

Bickerstaff, who is a fine young fellow, departed for his home a sadly disappointed lover.

Miss Rose told her story as follows: "An intimate friend of mine introduced me to Bickerstaff last fall. He was with me three times and I liked him very much. After he went home I thought I loved him, indeed, I did care a great deal for him and promised to marry him. When he came on this time I found I did not care enough for him to love him any more."

When asked if she thought that seeing him without his soldier uniform had changed her feelings, Minnie smiled and said that she thought not, but said a friend had advised her to marry a "regular" soldier if she wanted a soldier for a husband.

Nervous Dyspepsia Its Cause and Cure

Overwork any organ and it gives out—the stomach is no exception. Ask it to digest anything, everything, at any time in half the time required, and like an over driven horse, it balks. Nature intended the stomach should have regular hours. A time to work, a time to rest—and when you break up this habit, you upset the whole arrangement. The stomach nerves become exhausted, the glands refuse to act, the food does not digest—free heavy ferments and repeats. There is pain, gas forms, bloating occurs, the heart becomes irregular and a nervous irritable feeling sets in. This is the cause of dyspepsia and Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills its cure.

Mrs. M. Fields of 128 Pine street, Danville, Pa., says: "I had been bothered a good deal for some time with a nervous indigestion and was feeling generally run down. I did not rest well and had frequent nervous headaches. I got some of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills at Gosh's Drug Store and used them and know that they are an excellent medicine. I rest well again—feel strong and well and the headaches and indigestion are gone. The medicine is an excellent one and I can recommend it. 50 cents a box at dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y. See that portrait and signature of Dr. Chase, M. D., are on every package."

Vacation Time. The arrival of the vacation period brings to many minds the question: How shall I spend my vacation? Vacation days no less than work days, are full of disappointments and many a vacationist has to admit at the end of his outing that it was not the kind of thing he needed. Of course the ideal holiday for each individual is the one that offers existence on an entirely different plane from the one to which he is accustomed. It would be well if the professor could become a farmer, the farmer a bookman, and the office man a fisherman. The housekeeper should have freedom from "ordering" and "planning" meals, the society woman ought to taste of an early to bed and early to rise existence. But as a matter of fact the ideal vacation is granted to few and one's summer self is much like one's winter self. The farmer rarely spends his holiday in a library nor does the bookman seek the corn fields. The housekeeper closes her winter home only to dispense summer hospitality in a country residence. A complete change is not possible to many, for intellectually, at least, we are all snails and carry our houses with us. But it is always possible to find new environment for these mental domiciles, and to secure change of scene, if not of self, and sometimes new scenes help to make new selves.

No man or woman in the state will hesitate to speak well of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets after once trying them. They always produce a pleasant movement of the bowels, improve the appetite and strengthen the digestion. For sale by Pauls & Co.

Hay Fever Season Here. The hay fever season, so distressing to victims, is here in all its terrors and the unfortunate afflicted with the malady will find a distressing sojourn of it. Its duration is from five to six weeks and sometimes longer. Many of the victims hit themselves off to some cold climate, where they remain until the departure of the season for the disease. A cold climate is the most effective balm for the disease.

For a lazy liver try Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They invigorate the liver, aid the digestion, regulate the bowels and prevent bilious attacks. For sale by Pauls & Co.

Out Again. Dr. O. H. Reynolds, who sprained his left ankle when near DeWitt's Park two weeks ago last Sunday, was able to put his weight upon the foot yesterday for the first time since the accident. He was able to walk out with the aid of crutches.

BROUGHT DEATH AND DESTRUCTION

From all reports received the heavy storm on Friday afternoon caused great damage and destruction in Northumberland county. In the country districts the damage was more severe than that caused by the storm of Friday, July 3.

KILLED NEAR MT. CARMEL. Annie Metzger, 53 years old, was found dead on the mountain near Reliance colliery, Mt. Carmel, Friday afternoon. She was under a tree that was torn into shreds by lightning. A broad black mark extended down her back and the shoes were nearly torn from her feet. The woman came from England thirteen weeks ago and was picking blackberries to earn enough money to bring her husband to this country.

WOMAN'S NARROW ESCAPE. At Chestnut Ridge, about two miles back of Shamokin Dam, two barns were struck by lightning and destroyed by fire with all their contents. The barns were located on the farms of William Troxell and Levi Hammel. At the Troxell farm a cow was struck and killed by lightning and Mrs. Troxell had a very narrow escape from being burned to death by lightning striking her barn. When she noticed that the barn was on fire she hurried to the burning building to help in saving the live stock. While in the barn assisting in the work the flames broke forth in all their fury and before Mrs. Troxell could seek a place of safety outside the burning barn which was soon a seething mass of flames she fainted and was rescued just in time to escape a horrible death by a neighbor who discovered her in her perilous position.

FARM HOUSE THREATENED. At the farm of George Kuebler on the Plum Creek road about three miles from Sunbury the barn was struck by lightning and set on fire and destroyed with all the farming implements and a considerable amount of grain which was also stored in the barn. After a lot of hard work threatened with grave danger the stock was saved, with the exception of a large number of chickens which were burned up. Only by heroic measures the farm house located near by was prevented from being consumed by the angry flames.

KNOCKED THROUGH THE DOOR. At George Kessler's restaurant on Queen street, Northumberland, a bolt of lightning followed the electric wire like a ball of fire, striking the electric fan, completely shattered it, badly scorching the ceiling. Two men who were standing under the fan were severely shocked, one was hurled through the swinging door to the pavement, while the other one was knocked flat on the floor. Neither of the men were injured.

CROPS WERE RUINED. The damage caused above Northumberland in Point township was particularly severe owing to the heavy fall of hail which accompanied the rain. At the home on the Eggart farm almost every window glass was shattered. Many of the small bridges were washed away but the most damage was suffered by the growing crops as many acres of wheat and corn were ruined being leveled to the ground by the cutting hail stones. Many large trees were torn from the ground and the storm left a path of destruction on all sides.

WERE BADLY SHOCKED. At the home of William Eyster, who resides near Klimesgrove, during the most severe part of the storm the house was struck by lightning and a number of weather boards were torn from the building and scattered in all directions. All of the members of the family in the house at the time were badly shocked, a neighbor woman who was also present being the worst sufferer, imagining that her face was burning and it was some time before the terrible pain subsided.

At other places where the storm visited there are many reports of damage and destruction.

ASK YOUR NEIGHBOR.

Hundreds of Danville Citizens can Tell You All About It.

Home endorsement, the public expression of Danville people, should be evidence beyond dispute for every Danville reader. Surely the experience of friends and neighbors, cheerfully given them, will carry more weight than the unimpaired testimonies residing in far-away places. Read the following:

Mrs. Edward H. Langer of 11 Church st., says: "I suffered so much from pain in my back that I could not sleep nights. The pain over my hips was continuous and when on my feet, it was one steady gnawing ache. It hurt me to do anything requiring bending over, and sharp twinges would catch me so suddenly that I had to brace my back against something until they stopped. The kidney secretions annoyed me and headaches accompanied the backache. I read about Doan's Kidney Pills and in the statements of those who had been cured the symptoms were so much like mine that my husband procured a box for me. They did me more good than any medicine ever tried. I no longer had any backache and was free from any embarrassment caused from the secretions. I can honestly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to others who suffer as I did."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents per box. Foster-McBirney Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no substitutes.

Meeting With Success. X. P. LeDuc is much encouraged over the success he has met with in his efforts to secure river road. He took another cruise yesterday down the river to deep water, he has been out nearly every day since the digger was completed and he considers himself on the whole well repaid for the efforts put forth.

Pauls & Co. Will Buy It Back. You assume no risk when you buy Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Pauls & Co. will refund your money if you are not satisfied after using it. It is everywhere admitted to be the most successful remedy in use for bowel complaints and the only one that never fails. It is pleasant, safe and reliable.

GRANGERS' ANNUAL PICNIC

Pomona Grange No. 31 taking in the counties of Montour and Northumberland is planning its annual picnic, which will be held at the farm of J. L. Voris, Chillisquaque, on Tuesday, August 1th.

Of all the functions connected with the grange there are none that prove more enjoyable to the members than these annual picnics, as they are connected with them the benefits of lectures delivered, etc., along with all the pleasures of a summer outing.

Several noted speakers will be present at the coming picnic, among them W. F. Hill of the State Grange of Pennsylvania, who will discuss the topics of the day as they affect agricultural interests of the state. He is a finished speaker and a recognized authority on subjects relating to the farm.

Prof. A. E. Morse, the "funny man from Maine," will also be present at the picnic and will furnish entertainment most of a high order for the grangers. There will also be plenty of local entertainment, including good music.

Charles V. Ammerman, Esq., of this city is Master of the local grange, which has a good many members throughout Montour county and they will all be at the grange picnic along with a well filled lunch basket prepared to enter fully into the festivities of the occasion.

A Surgical Operation. It is always dangerous—do not submit to the surgeon's knife until you have tried DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. It will cure you everything else fails—it has done this in thousands of cases. Here is one of them: I suffered from bleeding and protruding piles for twenty years. Was treated by different specialists and used many remedies but obtained no relief until I used DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Two boxes of this salve cured me eighteen months ago and I have not had a touch of the piles since.—H. A. Tisdale, Summerton, S. C. For Blind, Bleeding, Itching and Protruding Piles no remedy equals DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Sold by Pauls & Co., and Gosh & Co.

Agent Lee's Joke. Passenger Agent T. W. Lee of the Lackawanna Railroad, who piloted the New York newspaper excursion recently, is fond of a joke. Here is one, described by F. S. Johnson, of the New York Tribune, who was one of the party and "taken in" with the rest of them.

At one point the train stopped, and when the young women of the party asked Mr. Lee the reason, he pointed up a precipitous mountain, and said: "Do you see that brick cabin up there?"

"Yes, yes," was the chorus.

"Well, in that brick cabin there is an ossified man. He has been in this condition for many years. He is dead, I thought the scenery of the Delaware Water Gap and the Mount Pocono region was the most beautiful in the world, and on his death bed he asked that he might be buried in an armchair with his face looking toward the Gap. They set him in the chair and sealed him up with cement."

"How wonderful!" exclaimed one young wife.

"How thoughtful!" chirruped another.

After the party was again on the train, and Mr. Lee was talking with the men of the party, he looked up suddenly and shouted:

"Boys, I've made a fearful mistake."

"How's that?" asked one philosopher.

"Why, I told the women to look up the wrong side of the river. That brick vault they were admiring was only an ice house."

Night Was Her Terror. "I would cough nearly all night long," writes Mrs. Chas. Applegate, of Alexandria, Ind., "and could hardly get any sleep. I had consumption so bad that if I walked a block I would cough frightfully and spit blood, but, when all other medicines failed, three $1.00 bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery wholly cured me and I gained 58 pounds." It's guaranteed to cure Coughs, Colds, La Grippe, Bronchitis and all Throat and Lung Troubles. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at Pauls & Co.'s drug store.

Yegger-Myerly. Miss Bertha Myerly of this city and Frank Yegger of Riverside were united in matrimony at the home of the bride, East Front street, on Thursday evening, Rev. L. E. Twichell officiating. The bride is a daughter of the late George W. Myerly and is very popular and esteemed. The groom is a well known young man of Riverside.

Just About Bedtime. Take a Little Early Riser—it will cure constipation, biliousness, and liver troubles. Dr. Witt's Little Early Riser are different from other pills. They do not gripe and break down the mucous membrane of the stomach, liver and bowels, but cure by gently arousing the secretions and giving strength to these organs. Sold by Pauls & Co., and Gosh & Co.

Many Will Attend. Present indications are that the forthcoming convention of State Farmers to be held at Albiontown in October will be one of the most successful gatherings of its kind ever held within the confines of the Commonwealth. Up to date almost two hundred fire companies have signified their intention of participating in the annual parade.

Cholera Infantum. This has long been regarded as one of the most dangerous and fatal diseases to which infants are subject. It can be cured, however, when properly treated. All that is necessary is to give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and castor oil, as directed with each bottle, and a cure is certain. For sale by Pauls & Co. Druggists.

DANVILLE WINS FROM BLOOM

Danville 4; Bloomsburg 3. Such was the result of the game of base ball at DeWitt's park yesterday afternoon. Bloomsburg was shut out, not because they were poor players, but because they were outclassed by the "Old Timers," who were at their best yesterday.

McCloud for Danville pitched a good game, but four scattered hits being made off his delivery. He struck out seven men and gave only one pass to first. Savitts pitched a good game for Bloomsburg, but errors were responsible for several runs. A feature was the double play from Lewis to Hoffman. Yerrick made a good catch of a fly hit back of second base. Bloomsburg several times had men on third but could not get a hit at the proper time.

The attendance was not large. Those present, however, showed much interest. Horace Preece of Brooklyn, an old-time base ball player, umpired the game. The score:

Twilight Game of Ball. The first "twilight" game of base ball held at Danville took place last evening between Bloomsburg and the St. Elmo team of this city.

It was a fast game and showed good playing on both sides. Both teams, however, were up against conditions hard to overcome.

In the first place the Berwick team failed to materialize and at the last moment yesterday Bloomsburg was prevailed upon to take its place. Owing to the short notice the latter was not able to get all its players together and a team had to be patched up for the occasion.

The game was to have begun at 3 o'clock. The shower, however, prevented playing at all in the afternoon. Then an evening game was arranged, to begin at 6:30. It will probably be the last twilight game played in Danville. By the time six innings were played it began to get dark. In the seventh inning it was almost impossible to see the ball.

Then the game stopped, with the score six to one in favor of Bloomsburg. Following are the batteries: Danville—Reilly and Buck. Bloomsburg—Savitts and Edgar. Edgar is credited with pitching a fine game.

Brutally Tortured. A case came to light that for persistent and unmerciful torture has perhaps never been equaled. Joe Goldberg of Colusa, Calif., writes: "For 15 years I endured insupportable pain from Rheumatism and nothing relieved me though I tried everything known. I came across Electric Bitters and it's the greatest medicine on earth for that trouble. A few bottles of it completely cured me." Just as good for Liver and Kidney troubles and general debility. Only 50c. Satisfaction guaranteed by Pauls & Co., Druggists.

Cycle Path as Picnic Ground. The picnic season is now upon us and little outings are of daily occurrence. Few towns are situated as favorably as Danville is to encourage a ramble to the hills. It is a feature which adds a decided charm to the summer time and makes people better in many ways by bringing them more closely in contact with nature.

The Cycle path now practically abandoned by the wheel seems to be one of the most favorite resorts, judging from the fact that there is not a day but picnics occur on the spot. It lies at the very doors of the town and has an abundance of deep shade, refreshing springs, cool walks and is yet wild enough in aspect to suggest the backwoods.

For an evening's stroll there are two routes which surpass all others. One of these is down the tow path of the abandoned canal and the other lies up along the river by Blue Hill. Either route affords magnificent vistas of river, mountain and sunset skies. In the fall the beauty of a sunset on the Susquehanna until he takes a stroll over any of these routes at evening. A very few steps either way takes a person entirely away from town and he finds himself alone with nature, where the verdure of the mountain is above and about him, and the harvest fields lie in view.

A BIG TIME AT BALTIMORE

The Danville Lodge of Elks recently received a copy of the official program of the Grand Lodge session at Baltimore next week and it shows that it will eclipse all previous conventions of the order in unique features, in the great parade and novel method of entertainment.

The electric illumination, provided for the city as well as a grander one than ever before attempted in this country, excepting at the Buffalo Exposition, it will be a week of carnival and feats of lights. The illumination in honor of the August 1st to June was elaborate, but since then additional arches have been erected and the Elks have constructed a beautiful court of honor on West Fayette street in front of their club house and Ford's Theatre in which the sessions of the convention will be held.

FEATURES OF THE DISPLAY. In the illumination of the public buildings, the Court of Honor in the Courthouse Square, the arches on Baltimore street, the Elk's Club and Court of Honor over 100,000 electric lamps will be used. The big City Hall dome will be a blaze of light, the lamps being arranged after the fashion of the electrical tower at Buffalo.

Among the special features in the Elk's Court of Honor will be a great elk head and an American flag in electric bulbs. Baltimore street for a mile will be strung with festoons of lamps in addition to the three splendid electric arches. The city appropriated $25,000 for the electrical display. The Elks will spend $10,000 more in illuminating and $30,000 additional for entertainment of the thousands of visiting Elks. The Merchants and Manufacturers' Association has donated $5,000 and other trade bodies and individual business men have contributed.

There will be ample hotel and boarding house accommodations, and an innovation which the inland Elks will enjoy will be the quartering of numbers of them on steamboats should all the hotels and lodging houses be filled. If the weather is hot the visitors can board large excursion steamers at 11 o'clock at night, and the boats will run a few miles down below Fort McHenry, where cool, soft breezes from the Chesapeake will induce sleep. In the morning the boats will return to their piers.

A BIG CRAB FEAST. Of the various entertainments and feasts to be provided the greatest will be crab day at Tolchester Beach, thirty miles down the Chesapeake Bay. Four large steamboats have been chartered to carry the crowds. A contract has been made with an Annapolis fishing firm to furnish 60,000 live crabs for the unique feast. A hundred or more old Eastern Shore negro "mammys" in gingham aprons and their heads dressed in bright head bandanas, will "hib" the crabs in twenty-five 16-gallon iron pots hung on iron tripods on the beach. There will be hard fried and "dressed" crabs, crab salad, crab soup and crabs in every way. For those who do not like crabs there will be fresh fish from the Chesapeake. The feast at Tolchester will be on Thursday. No one but those wearing Elk badges will be permitted on the shore. Friday there will be an excursion to Pen-Mar, on the Blue Ridge, and Gettysburg battle-field.

The Baltimore Elks have had 15,000 souvenir badges made at a cost of over $500 for presentation to the visitors. It is a beautiful arrangement of heraldic or gilt bearing unique emblems of every Baltimore industry. The cross bar to which is attached the pin, has across the top, in the center, the design of the canvasback duck, under which is inscribed the word "Baltimore," and at each end is an oyster shell. Suspended from the bar is the medal or badge, about two inches long by one and a half inches wide. At the top of the badge is the dial of a clock representing the hours 11, which is a significance of the Order of Elks, and just beneath the clock dial and forming the centerpiece of the badge is a bust of Charles Vivian, the founder of the Elk order. Inscribed around the bust of Vivian is the following: "Grand Reunion, July 21, 22, 23, 1903."

ELK, TERRAPIN, CRAB. Just above the bust is a design of the elk's head, and beneath the bust is a design of the terrapin. Encircling the above is a wreath of flowers, and at each side extremity is a group of Chesapeake crabs.

Very Remarkable Cure of Dyspepsia. "About six years ago for the first time in my life I had a sudden and severe attack of dyspepsia," says Mrs. Alice Miller, of Morgan, Texas. "I got temporary relief, but it came back again and again, and for six long years I have suffered more misery and agony than I can tell. It was worse than death. My husband spent hundreds of dollars for physicians' prescriptions and treatment without avail. Finally he moved to Besque county, our present home, and one day I happened to see an advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with a testimonial of a man who had been cured by it. The case was so similar to my own that I concluded to try the remedy. The result was wonderful. I could hardly realize that I was well again, a choleraic it could be so after having suffered so long, but that one bottle of medicine, costing but a few cents, cured me." For sale by Pauls & Co. Druggists.

Blaine's Widow Passes Away. AUGUSTA, Maine, July 15.—Mrs. James G. Blaine died at the Blaine homestead here today.

Mrs. Blaine was 73. She was born in Augusta, Maine, and in 1850 was a school teacher at Blue Hill, Ky. Here she was married in 1850 to James G. Blaine. Of the children born of this union Harriet Blaine, Mrs. Walter Danvers and James G. Blaine, Jr., survive. Since the death of her husband Mrs. Blaine has lived quietly at her home in Augusta. She has been a sufferer for some time.

FOUND HELPLESS IN ROADWAY

LEWISBURG, July 15.—While Elmer E. Johnson, daughter of the Rutherford Ivory stable at Laurelton, was taking two commercial travelers to Millington yesterday he found two young ladies lying along the road so helplessly injured that they were unable to help themselves. They were Miss Jane Church, daughter of John T. Church, of Union Iron, and Miss Louisa McClure, of Danville.

Miss McClure is the guest of Miss Church, and yesterday afternoon the two young ladies started to drive to Millington. When about a mile from town near the home of Benneville Mensch, the horse came off a spindrift and as a result the wheel came off the horse, becoming frightened, started to run, throwing both occupants of the buggy out. They were so helplessly hurt that they were unable to help themselves and lay there until found by Mr. Johnson. They were taken to Millington and Dr. James Kliney and Charles Dinan attended them. It was found that Miss McClure had her hip dislocated and that Miss Church was badly bruised, although not so badly injured as her companion. Mr. Church, father of one of the injured girls, was notified of the accident and hurried to Millington. The girls were then taken to Glen Iron—Williamsport Sun.

Miss McClure, one of the injured ladies, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McClure, No. 29 Ash street, and a sister of W. McClure, Cashier of the First National Bank of Danville. Accompanied by Miss Church she spent last week at the home of her parents in this city, the two leaving on Saturday for Glen Iron.

Miss McClure had intended to return to Danville tomorrow and had planned to leave on Saturday for Atlantic City to visit her sister. The Morning News was informed by Dr. Kliney in a telephone message last evening that Miss McClure was still at the home of Miss Church; that the dislocation had been reduced and that she was doing very well.

Working Night and Day. The busiest and mightiest little thing that ever was made is Dr. King's New Life Pills. These pills change weaklings into strength, listlessness into energy, brain-fog into mental power. They're wonderful in building up the health. Only 25c per box. Sold by Pauls & Co.

Warm Weather Brings Bugs. Now that the warm weather is here the bugs and beetles, and moths and butterflies, have left their hiding places under the leaves and stones, in cracks and crevices and have made their appearance in myriads. Although most of the insects fly in the daytime, many, and very destructive ones at that, appear only at night.

The only evidence of this fact that is generally known is the immediate vicinity of an are light on a clear, dry summer evening, where hundreds of insects, representing dozens of different genera may be seen flying about.

No Pity Shown. "For years fate was after me continuously," writes F. A. Gallego, Verbena, Ark. "I had a terrible case of Piles causing 24 tumors. When all failed Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured me. Equally good for Burns and all aches and pains. Only 25c at Pauls & Co.'s Drug Store."

Harvesting Much Delayed. Harvesting this year is rendered much more difficult and expensive, even if the wheat is not damaged, by the heavy storm of last Saturday. The grain everywhere has to be re-shocked, while a great deal of it, which was blown clear out of the fields, may be lost or collected only at considerable cost. The sheaves were saturated with rain and unless several days of warm sunshine should follow it is feared that they will
