GRAND LODGE KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS

Former County Commissioner George W. Miles who attended a meeting of the Grand Lodge, Knights of Pythias, at Carbondale last week has contrib uted the following interesting account of the event:

The Grand lodge, Knights of Pyth ias, convened at Carbondale on Tues day, the 18th, inst., at 9 o'clock a. m. The reception given the body surpassed any similar demonstration occurring anywhere in the last twenty-five years.

Carbondale is a fine inland city of 15,000 population-up to date in every respect-all the streets paved with vitrified brick; it is well lighted and ings, public and private, are commodious and well appointed, architecturally showing off to excellent advantage. There is a beautiful park opposite the City Building and Y. M. C. A. Hall, in which stands an imposing soldiers' monument, surrounded by fountains. The town has an excellent fire department including a splendid hook and ladder truck.

On the occasion of the Grand Lodge meeting the city was beautifully dec orated on every street with bunting, arches, "Welcome" banners, and electric devices. All this display, however, was not formal, but the entire population entered into the move ment with true fraternal hospitality and when the Mayor turned the city over to the visitors in the name of the residents the latter proved their sincerity in ways which could not be

There were fully ten thousand visitors in the city on the day of the parade. There was not an arrest or a dranken person on the street during the day. The Pythian parade was a grand demonstration, consisting of the Grand Lodge and uniformed companies from all the neighboring cities and towns, each one having a band or drum corps. Scranton, Wilkesbarre, Plymouth, Nanticoke, Providence Olyphant, Duryea, and many other neighbring towns were represented in the line of march. The entire fire department with visiting companies was feature which added much to the

Alexander's band of Wilkesbarre, Barnes' band of Somerset and the Moz art band of Carbondale joined in play ing "Onward Christian Soldiers" and the "Portugese Hymn," the effect be ing grand and inspiring in the ex

During the afternoon 6000 people went up to Lake Ledore in the mount ains, where there is a fine grove or park, with large dancing pavilion, band stands, steamboating, shoot the shute, concerts, base ball grounds, and dining rooms. There were band concerts at the resort during the entire afternoon. Returning to Carbondale at evening the different bands located in different parts of the city gave concerts, making the entire day one that a person is not likely to forget.

Lake Ledore is not more than five miles from Carbondale, but the ascending circuit which one has to make to reach it requires a journey of nearly tifteen miles each way.

One thing about the city which seemed to strike the visitors is the absence of the lately arrived foreign element, also the absence of colored people. Carbondale has beautiful churches of the different denominations. The people all seem to be Americans, a large proportion of Welsh, English, Scotch or Irish extraction. It is now a typical American city. A few of the people cling to their national ities in naming their societies, particularly the Welsh Singing Societies.

The convention on the whole was a great success and the order in every respect is in better condition than ever
