Bench.

[Special Correspondence.]

Harrisburg, Sept. 15.—Republican of Pennsylvania are exceptionally fortunate in the strength of their candidates for the superior court in the present campaign. Each has not fession and won the confidence and admiration of the people by his course

Republicans Are Satisfied to Let Well Enough Alone.

THIS STATE POINTS THE WAY

Vigorous Citizenship of the Club League of Pennsylvania to Demand That Policies That Brought Prosperity Be Not Changed.

[Special Correspondence.]

Philadelphia, Sept. 15.—Republicans throughout Pennsylvania who take an active interest in the party organization are looking forward to the convention of the State League of Republican Clubs, which is to be held in Wilkesbarre next week.

Elaborate arrangements have been made by the local committees, including some of the most prominent Republicans in Luzerne county, for the entertainment of the visitors, and the convention is expected to be largely attended. While the nominees for the superior court, Judges Morrison, of McKean county, and Henderson, of Crawford, both of whom are now on the bench, will not be present, as they are not expected to do any campaigning, the Republican candidates for state treasurer and auditor general, William L. Matthews, of Delaware, and Senator William P. Snyder, of Chester, respectively, have been asked to attend, and they are assured of cordial receptions.

YOUNG REPUBLICANS TO SPEAK

The State League includes in its membership many aggressive young Republicans who are expected to express themselves clearly and vigorously on the issues which should be paramount in the present campaign.

There is no question of the sentiment among the clubmen in favor of President Roosevelt to succeed himself in the White House, and it can be safely predicted that the league convention will be held from in no uncertain tones, in line with the activities of the two regular Republican state conventions of Pennsylvania, which considered the nomination of Roosevelt for president by the Republican national convention.

The platform builders and the orators will voice the wishes of a great majority of the people of this country, who demand that there shall be no cessation of the prosperity which this nation now enjoys, and that a continuing state there is difficult. The satisfactory business conditions is dependent upon Republican control of the affairs of the federal government and the enforcement of Republican policies which have resulted in the development and growth of the industries of the United States.

Capital and labor each finds profitable employment, and there is no man in Pennsylvania today, it is maintained, who cares to work, who cannot find something to do with satisfactory remuneration for his services. In most sections of the state there is difficulty in procuring enough labor to meet requirements of vast manufacturing establishments.

In commenting upon the political situation in Pennsylvania and the probable issues of the state campaign, a few days ago, Judge Woodley R.
Fritz, president of the Republican state committee, remarked that while the Republicans were content to advocate the proposition "to let well enough alone," and to help bring about a continuance of conditions which have brought contentment, happiness and prosperity to the people, the Democrats have been hunting around for an issue upon which to make their state campaign, and they have failed to find one.

"The people are too prosperous," remarked Secretary Andrews, "to go chaunting 'wither the wisp'."

REPUBLICANISM MUST PREVAIL

It is pointed out that Democratic success in Pennsylvania this fall, or even reduced Republican majorities, would be a state there is difficult. The prosperity to the people, the Democ-
an issue upon which to make their
to find one.

Judge John J. Henderson.

On the bench, but he has earned the overlasting gratitude of the nation by valorous and distinguished services in defense of his country's honor and his country's flag.

Judge John Joseph Henderson, of Crawford county, like his colleague on the Republican ticket, Judge Thomas A. Morrison, of McKean, who lost an arm on the field of battle, was a brave Union soldier. He enlisted as a private in Company H, of the 10th regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteers, in August, 1862. His company was detailed for guard duty in Washington at the White House, but after a few weeks' service Private Henderson longed to go to the front and to take his place on the firing line with the other brave boys in action. His request was finally granted, and he was detailed an ornamental sergeant of the 3d division, 1st corps, army of the Potomac. He served in this capacity until the close of the war, and had many thrilling and narrow escapes in battle. He was frequently commended by his superior officers for bravery while under fire.

Judge Henderson was born in Allegheny county, Pa., September 23, 1843. He is of Scotch-Irish descent on his father's side and of Quaker ancestry on his mother's side.

His father, William C. Henderson, was a clergyman of the Methodist Episcopal Church, who moved to Meadville in 1856 to educate his children. Judge Henderson attended the Meadville Academy and Allegheny College, from which he was graduated in 1862.

AN ATTORNEY AND JUDGE

On his return from the army he read law and was admitted to the bar in 1867. He was elected district attorney of Crawford county in 1872, and was elected judge in 1887. On his retirement from the bench in 1897 he resumed the practice of his profession and pursued it until he was appointed to a seat on the superior court by Governor Pennypacker in March last.

Judge Henderson's practice has been largely and varied. His ability as an advocate early brought him a large client-age, while his ready grasp and application of legal principles induced large financial interests to seek his advice and direction.

On his retirement from the bench the fame of his judicial record brought him important cases not only from surrounding counties, but from adjoining states, in addition to his naturally large practice at home.

Judge Henderson's equipment for the bench is not limited to his legal learning, for he is a close student of literature, and he charms all those not only in his public addresses, but also in private conversation by the elegance of his diction and the grace of his manners. He has been granted by his alma mater the degree of master of arts and doctor of laws.

In the full maturity of his powers, it is believed by his friends that he will materially add to the public confidence in the ability and integrity of the superior court.

All Were Costly Habits.

No man who enters a restaurant ever pays less than $75 for a suit or an overcoat, and no woman who enters in a public place ever wears a waist costing less than $25, and frequently the cost is much more, at least so says the proprietor of a fashionable New York restaurant. He, like all restaurant owners, occasionally resolves complaints from people who have lost an overcoat or mislaid one and who have had garments positively ruined by a careless waiter's spilling soup or something else on a portion of it, usually a sleeve, and he says that the above figures are the lowest quotations he ever heard.

PLEADED GUILTY
OF BIGAMY

William Fritz, guilty of bigamy, who is alleged to have a wife in Danville, was sentenced to one and a half year's imprisonment at Reading on Tuesday.

Fritz is a native of Philadelphia, was the prosecutor. The court was informed by counsel that the defendant had a wife living in Danville and last June married Miss Emma K. Holl of Reading. Judge Ermentrout sentenced Fritz to pay a fine of twenty-five dollars and costs and undergo an imprisonment of one and a half years in the Berks county prison. Bessie Holl who had married Fritz was charged with marrying a man whom she knew was married. Judge Ermentrout told the jury that the girl was innocent and directed that she be acquitted, which was done.

FIRE CAUSED PANIC
AMONG HOTEL GUESTS

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—The old National Bank building, at Broadway and Park Place, caught fire from a mysterious explosion about 2 o'clock this morning. A moment later flames burst out in the elevator shaft and quickly spread from the main floor to the roof. Enoch Harris, the janitor, and his wife were asleep on the top floor when the fire started. Harris took his wife down to the fourth floor and with her then slid down a chain to the roof of a building on Park Place, from which place they were rescued by the police.

Within a stone's throw of the burning buildings were stores of Pain's fireworks and the Unexcelled Fireworks company, but the fire was confined to the old bank building.

The fire caused a panic among the guests of the Astor House, a block away, who ran into the street in night attire. Most of the damages resulting from the blaze are distributed among a dozen or more firms which had offices in the building. The Broadway bank was moved out of the building some time ago.

Fell Off the Train.

As the 5:55 Pennsylvania train approached South Danville last evening an individual a little the worse for "red eyes" who had sought the rear platform lost his balance and fell off the car. The train carried a few minutes at the station until the fellow caught up and clambered on board. He was apparently not injured any by falling off.

Sleepwalker's Experience.

A six-year-old son of A. S. Powers, on North Queen street, Northumberland, arose in his sleep during Tuesday night and walked out an upstairs window, looking down and fell to the porch below. His mother heard the fall and awakened the father, who went to the bed's assistance and found him unharmed and at the door, trying to get in. He returned to his bed and was not aware of his perilous accident until he Wednesday morning.
Outside of feeling somewhat cramped in his muscles he is no worse for his midnight walk.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle of standard glass with your urine and let it stand twenty-four hours.
A sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys, if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble, to frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. King's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidney, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant odor of the urine which is often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest in its class of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c, and $1. sizes.
You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail.

CYCLONE AT ATLANTIC CITY

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 16.—The storm which broke this morning promised to be one of the severest along the coast that has prevailed in years. Every wire to the Jersey reports is down, but such meagre reports as have come through indicate that much damage has already been done at Cape May and Atlantic.

A. G. McCausland, superintendent of the Atlantic City Railroad, on reaching Camden from Cape May about 9 o'clock, reported that the fury of the storm which struck the coast at 5:30 was unprecedented. He said a bank had been unroofed, and the Queen Ann pier partially torn away.
He said that a number of cottages had been unroofed, but was unable to give details on account of his early departure from the coast. He had not heard of any loss of life.

Crews and passengers of the train arriving about 9 o'clock at Kailgin's Point, reported that a veritable cyclone had struck Atlantic City, unroofing from fifty to sixty hotels and cottages.

In Philadelphia the wind and downpour were terrific. A section of the Pennsylvania Railroad Broad street station roof was carried away, and view glasses were broken in all sections, trees uprooted and great damage done.

Blinded by the rain Prof. Stratton, principal of the Pitman's Grove, N. J., schools, and J. M. Glendonig, of Ridgewood, N. J., drove in front of a Cape May passenger train at 9 o'clock.
Prof. Stratton was killed instantly and Mr. Glendonig is in the hospital suffering from bruises and shock. He will probably recover.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—A terrific hurricane, driving sheets of rain before it, began to sweep over this city at 11 o'clock today up to 12:30 o'clock.
A serious accident from the storm had been reported. Houses in the suburbs suffered some damage; trees were uprooted, signs blown down and other damage of a minor character reported.
Telegraph and telephone wires were blown down in all directions and communication with the outside world was practically suspended. Business in Wall street and commercial districts came to a standstill. The streets were deserted, as walking and riding was dangerous because of falling signs, loose bricks, etc.

It is the worst storm New York has ever experienced. A feature of the storm was the intense darkness, which set in, making lights a necessity.

The government yacht Skiph, with the President on board was expected to arrive at Ellis Island at noon, but up to 12:45 it had not put in an appearance. It is probable that the yacht sought some haven in the sound and will remain there until the storm is over.

The weather bureau reports that the storm came from the ocean last night and struck the South Jersey coast early this morning. It blew with tremendous force and quickly leveled all wires, so that no communication has been had with that section since the storm started. The wind around New York is blowing at the rate of about 60 miles an hour.

CAMDEN, N. J., Sept. 16.—All trains reaching this city bring the information that the hurricane which struck Atlantic City early this morning has damaged property to the extent of nearly $1,000,000. The piers along the beach front have been damaged, pavilions have been washed away, and the debris is piled high up against the beach front hotels, many of which have been unroofed. Up to the city, McClay's apartment house at Pacific and South Carolina avenues was unroofed and houses in all parts of the city, but particularly around the inlet, have suffered.

The Meadows are flooded to the railroad tracks and if the rain does not cease it may be impossible to get any more trains through.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 16.—A severe storm from the Gulf region reached this city this morning. The rain fell in torrents and was driven by a 38 mile gale. The temperature was 74 degrees, rendering the atmosphere oppressive. The telegraph and phone service is badly crippled, and there is no communication with Atlantic City.
The superintendent of the Delaware & Atlantic Telephone Co. states that eight hundred telephones are out of service in Atlantic City.

Passengers arriving from Atlantic City say the storm there was very severe and the wind unroofed in the neighborhood of fifty hotels and cottages.

Supt. Causland of the Atlantic City Railroad, arrived from Cape May at 9:30 o'clock and reported that the fury of the storm was unprecedented. A bank building was unroofed, and the Queen Ann pier destroyed and a number of cottages were damaged.

All telegraph wires to the coast are down and some trolley lines are idle because of prostrated wires.

WAS MARRIED TO A NEGRO

James Lahr, the Shamokin married man and father of a half dozen children who created a sensation two years ago when he deserted his family and went to Milton where he married wife No. 2, is outdone by his son John Way when it comes to real sensationalism.

The son is about 24 years of age is a well known railroad and resides with his mother at Shamokin on East Independence street. Tuesday morning he accosted a reporter and said: "Why don't you announce my recent marriage?"

The scribe was slightly shocked and replied: "I thought you were married some years ago to a Milton young lady?"

"Yes that's a fact," Lahr answered but it was illegal. You see it happened this way. I was working in the mail mill at Milton on one evening met Ella E. Coltrun, who represented herself as unmarried. We later decided to marry and were hitched together by a preacher.

"Imagine my surprise one day when a colored man named Frank Johnson, who worked alongside of me at the mail mill made up to me and he told me he was my real husband. Of course I replied yes and then he shocked my nervous system by stating 'She's my wife.'"

"That settled my happy home and unsettled my mode of living. I tried to shake the woman but she clung to me like a leech. Oh! yes I was a good sucker for a while but when she came to Shamokin and bounded me like the blood hounds on the trail of Eliza in Uncle Tom's Cabin, I decided to do something desperate.

"Realizing that the first matrimonial mistake was illegal and not binding, I made up my mind to marry again and by jinks I did so about four weeks ago on an unlucky Friday. I then went before a clergyman to make Miss Jennie Bostran my wife for keeps and now we are home every day in the week including Sunday to our friends at 619 East Independence street.

On Labor Day wife No. 1 followed my footsteps but I fooled her as she had no claim on the right to pack my dinner pail anymore.

The Home Town.

Next to a man's family and business nothing should stand dearer to a man's heart than the community in which he lives. It is home. It is the place in which he earns his competence and educates his children. If he wants to make it as popular, as thrifty and widely known as possible, he cannot afford to be indifferent to anything that will further these ends. It can be said that a town which is not worthy of the devotion of its citizens in making it widely and generally prosperous is a town in which it is not worth while to live at all. If a town is anything, it is worthy of our greatest energy, whether we receive an immediate dividend in dollars and cents or whether we merely take our share of the common benefits accorded our home town.

is business of importance on hand.

Indigestion Causes Catarrh of the Stomach.

For many years it has been supposed that Catarrh of the Stomach causes indigestion and dyspepsia, but the truth is exactly the opposite. Indigestion causes catarrh.
Repeated attacks of indigestion inflame the mucous membrane lining the stomach and expose the nerves of the stomach, thus causing the glands to secrete mucus instead of the juices of natural digestion. This is called Catarrh of the Stomach.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure relieves all inflammation of the mucous membrane lining the stomach, protects the cornea, and cures bad breath, sour flatus, indigestion, flatulence, after eating indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach troubles.

MOYER BROS.

DEAR SIR—

I think that every man that has a team of horses or any stock ought to have a bottle of Moyer's White Liniment in the stable or his home. I had a horse that stepped in a hole with his front foot, coming down the mountain with a trail of props, and fell forward and strained his shoulder blade. That it swelled so fast that we could hardly get the collar off, and in two hours his neck was swollen to all the skin would hold. We used your White Liniment freely, and in a few days he was to work again, and does not show any signs of lameness. It worked like magic.

Respectfully Yours,
