CONDENSED NEWS.

Butchering will soon be the rage.
The time for out door work is drawing to a close.
Examine the chimneys before lighting the furnace.
The man and the game bird are parties to the usual autumn tragedies.
The autumnal foliage just at present is at its prettiest.

Columbia County Republicans will not be represented on the ballot at the November election because of their failure to take out certificates of nomination papers. The only way in which they can vote at the election is to write in the name of their candidate.
The chestnut crop is reported to be fully ripe and the surrounding hills will now be full of harvesters.
Walk all you can at this season of the year. The air is bracing and the exercise is worth tons of medicine.

Opinions differ on most subjects, but there is a singular, not to say amazing, unanimity in the opinion that the verdict of the South Carolina jury which acquitted James H. Tillman was a travesty on justice. Such verdicts breed anarchy inevitably, for they teach that justice is dead and violence and lawlessness enthroned in its place.

There are now 1025 pupils at the Indian school at Carlisle, and more are desirous of being admitted.
Even the chipmunks laughed at the example of nimrods who went to the woods on the first day of the season.
The most important thing for the politicians is to get their names on the ballot for the coming two weeks is the bringing out of the vote on election day. Every citizen ought to record his vote. It is a duty that should not be neglected.
October weather has been both good and bad, notwithstanding the sun spots.
Tuberculosis is working havoc among cattle in the northeastern part of the State. The state authorities are making every effort to stamp out the disease by killing the cattle afflicted with it.

With the advent of cool weather the Dairy and Food Commission is receiving numerous applications for the privilege of self oleomargarine. In summer when butter is cheap there is not much of a demand for oleo but when the price of butter advances with cool weather some people begin to purchase it.
The man behind the gun is in more danger than the game the man hunts.
Dowie finds the work of reforming New York a hard task. He should have begun on some less wicked city to get his hand in.
The laying off of employees by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company continues over the entire system.
It is not too late to plant a tree even if Arbor Day is past.
The Thanksgiving turkey begins to look nervous.
The returns from the woods indicate that a great many hunters do not know whether or not the gun is loaded.
Fallen leaves are being gathered for use in the stables and a covering for the garden beds.
Now that the chrysanthemum is flowering foot ball will take on a greater degree of interest.
Seats on the stock exchange are fifty per cent. cheaper than a year ago, but they are not on sale yet in second-hand furniture stores.
With the exception of Saturday evening the drug stores of Bloomsburg will close at nine o'clock in the evening.
Now that congress is about to resume business in the height of the football season we hope to see a little more life in its sporting department.
A number of invitations are out for a private dance at Fairchild's Park on Thursday night and there will be quite a few guests from Bloomsburg, Catawissa, Sunbury, Northumberland and Danville. This will be a great social event and possibly the last open air dance of the season.—Bloomsburg Daily.

VOL. 48—NO. 42. DANVILLE, PA., THURSDAY OCTOBER 22, 1903. ESTABLISHED IN 1855

CANAL BRIDGES TO COME DOWN

The Borough Council Friday night came near having no quorum. Up to a late hour but six members were present: Vastine, Roifnyder, Williver, Montgomery, Joseph Gibson and Lloyd Burgess Parsel was also present.
When it became likely that a quorum could not be obtained the members settled down into an informal session. Surveyor G. F. Koefer of Sunbury being present the conversation turned to paving. Sam A. McCoy of the Committee appointed by the Board of Trade to circulate a petition was present to gain some information as to the probable cost of street paving.
Mr. Koefer very willingly gave the commission the benefit of his extended experience on the subject enlarging on the different methods employed the quality of the brick used, etc. The cost, he explained, will depend upon many things, but principally on the kind of brick. It is safe, he said, to estimate the cost at $1.45 to $1.60 per square yard.
It was clearly brought out during the discussion that the pavement can not be laid during the present fall. Such work is never begun at this season. Preparation, however, will go right on and interest in the work will be kept up to the end that the pavement may be laid for the first thing in the spring.
By that time it is probable that vitrified brick may be manufactured in Danville. In that event the cost would be materially reduced below the figure named by Mr. Koefer, as freight in the case of vitrified brick is an item which amounts to as much as the cost of manufacture and brick manufactured at home, therefore, could be purchased at an enormous saving.
About half past 9 o'clock Messrs. Swank and Fundermacher of the Second Ward who had been at Bloomsburg, turned up in the vicinity of the Council Chamber; with the other members who had remained there were now enough for a quorum and it was decided to hold a brief session for the purpose of paying bills and transacting some other important business.
On motion of Mr. Montgomery, seconded by Mr. Fundermacher, it was decided that the bridges over the canal be taken down yet the present fall and be replaced with culverts.
It was also decided to repair the road connecting Welsh Hill and Stiller Hill, which was reported as impassable owing to deep ruts and washouts. The Street Commissioner was instructed to begin repairs upon the road immediately and to fix it up in first class condition.
The following bills were ordered paid:
WATER DEPARTMENT

On Thursday night Beaver Lodge passed a resolution ordering that the sword, which had served the order so well, should be presented to its former owner, who was still in Danville.
The sword was presented to the veteran on Saturday. Captain Young was a brave soldier and is an honored survivor of the 18th regiment. He was badly wounded and fought through many a hard battle. It is not strange therefore that he was overcome with emotion as he took the old sword in his hands from which he had been separated for so many years.
Captain Young and his wife returned to their home in Washington on Saturday taking the sword along with them.

THE Y. M. C. A. LECTURE COURSE

The Entertainment Committee of the Y. M. C. A. feels that it is offering to the citizens of Danville the finest course of select entertainments that has ever been its good fortune to engage, and it has also spent much money to secure high class talent for the pleasure of the people. It is, therefore, the hope of the Committee, that the course will be supported to a large degree than ever before.
Admission tickets for the five entertainments are $1.00 for the gallery, or $1.25 for reserved seat on lower floor which is but 25 cents for a single entertainment—a price that is trifling indeed, when character of entertainments are considered. Surely, no one who desires clean, elevating and delightful entertainment, will fail to secure a ticket for this splendid course arranged for the pleasure of the people.
Parents would do well to see that tickets are secured for their children who are old enough to be benefited by a course of entertainments such as is offered by the Y. M. C. A.
The Association recognizes the recreative needs of young men. They demand amusement. They will get it somewhere—if not the right kind, then the wrong. The Association offers in its Entertainment Course the right kind. It is also the best. Every number of the five is first class, and will be greatly enjoyed by those who patronize the course.
Tickets are on sale at the Y. M. C. A., A. A. H. Grone's Book Store, Hunt's Drug Store, and W. V. Oglesby's office. The committee would be glad to have persons call at one or the other of these places and secure tickets, as it will save much time and labor, and be a great accommodation to those having the matter in charge, as it is almost impossible to see all the patrons of course.
There are a number of solicitors who have tickets for sale, and many persons will be waited upon, but should any be over looked in the canvass, they can secure tickets at the places named.
The reserved seat board will be open at the Y. M. C. A., Friday morning, November 20th at 8 o'clock.
Christian Endeavor Convention.
The Bi-County Christian Endeavor Convention will open in the Mahoning Presbyterian Church this evening. The two counties of Montour and Columbia will be represented and the convention will bring together some fifty delegates from out of town. These will be entertained during the convention by the members of the society in Danville.
The address this evening will be delivered by Rev. W. D. Roberts, D. D., of Williamsport. His subject will be "Fishing for Men." Dr. Roberts is an able speaker and one of Williamsport's leading divines. He will no doubt do the subject full justice.

WEDDED AT HIGH NOON

Miss Ada R. Bailey at high noon yesterday became the bride of Edwin F. Williams. The wedding took place at the Bailey home on Ferry street, before a large assemblage of invited guests. Rev. J. E. Hatchison, pastor of Mahoning Presbyterian church, performing the ceremony.
Mrs. Laura Waters, of Philadelphia, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Dr. J. O. Reed was best man.
Among those from out of town who witnessed the ceremony were Mrs. J. S. Williams, Miss Anna and Master Jay Williams, mother, sister and brother of the groom, of Shenandoah; Miss Lois Boyer of Plymouth; Mrs. Lewis and daughter, Miss Jennie, of Pittston.
Mr. and Mrs. Williams left on the 2:11 D. L. & W. train for a wedding trip. Returning they will take up their residence in this city.
The bride is the daughter of our townsman, Samuel Bailey, and is a popular and accomplished young lady. The groom is an active young business man of our town. He has a large circle of acquaintances and is popular and esteemed.
