THE DEMOCRATS' GAME

Would Like to See a Reduction in Republican Majorities in State.

VAINLY LOOKING TO NEXT YEAR

[Special Correspondence.] Philadelphia, Oct. 20.—An unexpected move on the part of the Democracy to put some life into their State campaign during the last week has put the Republicans on guard and stimulated the majority party workers to renewed efforts to insure a great Republican triumph at the coming election.

With election day but two weeks off from to-day—it falls on November 3 this year—there is little time left for the county committees to prepare for the battle of the ballots.

While none but gratifying reports have been received by Chairman Penrose and Secretary Andrews at Republican State headquarters, the Republican field marshal proposes to labor incessantly until the polls are closed to get out the largest possible percentage of the enrolled Republican vote.

A FINAL APPEAL.

A final appeal has been made this week by Chairman Penrose to the thousands of more county committee members throughout the State to devote their best energies to the cause during the few days of the campaign. He congratulates them upon their conscientious work up to date and reminds them that the contest is far more important than it appears to be upon its face.

There is no attempt to create the impression that the Republican ticket is in danger, but stress is laid upon the fact that the greater the Republican majority will be next month, the greater will be the influence of the election returns from Pennsylvania in moulding sentiment throughout the country and affecting political conditions generally.

Capitalists and wage-earners are alike interested in the result, for it may have far-reaching influence in determining future business conditions throughout the nation.

General H. H. Bingham, the "Father of the House," who was in Washington last week, was among the callers upon Chairman Penrose today. General Bingham is recognized as one of the leaders in congress, and he is acknowledged to be held in high esteem at the White House and by all the members of the cabinet on account of his years of experience and the excellence of his judgment.

INTEREST IN WASHINGTON.

"What about Pennsylvania?" was a query I heard on every hand," said General Bingham, in recounting his experiences on his trip to Washington. "I found a remarkable interest in our campaign. Not that anyone suspected for a moment that any of the Republican candidates was in danger, but there was an almost universal desire to know something about the temper of the people, to learn of the interest they are taking in the election, and whether Republicans have awakened to the important bearing the election returns next month will have upon national politics."

"The activity of the Democrats throughout the country in what would ordinarily be regarded as elections of minor importance, and the desperate battle being fought by Tammany to get control of the patronage and election machinery of New York city, are conditions which are not being overlooked by the national leaders of the Republican party. Every democratic victory next month will give additional encouragement to the Democrats, who, hungry for office and power, are looking ahead in the vain hope that there will some mishap occur to handicap the Republican organization for the coming national campaign."

BLADDER TROUBLE.

People Should Know How Mr. Miller Was Cured of Kidney and Bladder Trouble by the Great New Medicine, Cal-cura Solvent. Your Money Back if it Does Not Cure.

MATTHEWAN, N. Y., Sept. 29, 1901.

A few months ago I decided to try Cal-cura Solvent, Dr. Kennedy's latest medicine, and am thankful to say I am now practically cured. You have not asked me for a testimonial but I wish to tell you what Cal-cura Solvent has done for me and how it has cured me so happily.

WANT FIRST VOTERS

Pennsylvania Republican Leaders Seek to Enroll Young Men.

ACTIVE AGENCIES AT WORK

Club League and League of College Clubs Laboring With the Coming Presidential Election in View.

[Special Correspondence.] Harrisburg, Oct. 20.—A feature of the present campaign in Pennsylvania is the determined effort of the Republican committee throughout the state to have all the young men who are qualified to vote cast their ballots for the Republican state and local candidates at the election to be held on November 3.

Particular attention is being given to this class of voters by direction of Chairman Penrose, of the Republican state committee, who is looking ahead for the presidential election of next year. Senator Penrose is a great believer in the policy of reaching out far to the voters, no matter to what party their fathers may belong, and getting them to cast their first ballots for the Republican candidates. He argues that this is one of the best ways to build up and strengthen an organization and to increase the majorities of the party by coming enrolling the young voters there will always be activity and vitality in the organization and there will be no danger of the party suffering from dry rot and failure to keep in touch with the march of progress.

It is believed that the efforts made to get the first voters out for the full Republican ticket will mean an increase of many thousands of votes for the Republican nominees next month. There are two agencies upon which Chairman Penrose is relying to assist him and the regular party organization in this line of campaign work—the State League of Republican Clubs and the League of College Clubs. Much effective work has already been done through these agencies and more will be done before election day.

QUALIFICATION OF VOTERS.

This information bearing upon the qualification of voters is being circulated by the Republican state committee.

All persons born or naturalized in the United States and subject to the jurisdiction thereof are citizens of the United States and of the state wherein they reside.

Every male citizen 21 years of age possessing the following qualifications shall be entitled to vote at all elections.

a. He shall have been a citizen of the United States at least one month.

b. He shall have resided in the state one year or if having been a qualified elector or native-born citizen of the state he shall have resided therefrom and returned, then six months) immediately preceding the election.

c. He shall have resided in the election district where he shall offer to vote at least two months immediately preceding the election. A minor becomes of age on the day prior to the 21st anniversary of his birth.

REPUBLICAN LEAGUE WORK.

J. Hatton Moore, of Philadelphia, who is president of the National League of Republican Clubs is cooperating with Chairman Penrose in the campaign in this state.

"The Republican League," says President Moore, "is looking hopefully to Pennsylvania for splendid results at the coming election. The young men of Pennsylvania are being aroused to the great opportunity which presents itself to become enrolled in the Republican organization now so as to be in line early for the presidential campaign."

"The experience of the last decade and a half demonstrated the advantages and demerits of the two great political parties. We had two Democratic administrations, each of them depressing the business and laboring interests of the country, and we had two Republican administrations, each establishing confidence and restoring commercial and industrial activity. We are going to vote in another year for one or the other of these conditions."

"As we view the situation today it is hard to imagine how any sane man—familiar with the progress the country has made under Republican doctrine—could want to restore the demoralizing influence of Democracy."

"The National Republican League stands for Republican principles. It believes the Republican party to be better in policy and performance than the Democratic party; better for commerce, better for manufactures, better for mining, better for the workingmen. It stands with its face bravely set against the conditions which destroyed the industries of the country under Democratic management. It stands against the return of soup houses and idleness."

"Believing in Republican policy and the wisdom of Republican legislation, the National League sounds the tocsin of 1904. It calls upon the farmer, the miner and the mechanic to compare the performances of the past decade and say whether Republicanism or Democracy has best served the plain people. It calls upon the manufacturer and employer to say whether confidence is best maintained under Democratic or Republican rule. The league calls upon thinking people to lay aside their local differences and lend their energies in the contest of 1904 to the continuance of the general conditions which distinguished the administration of McKinley and Roosevelt."

"It wants the young men of Pennsylvania to vote right this year."

AT THE THEATRE.

A WELL KNOWN STORY.

Is that of "Darkness and Daylight," Mary J. Holmes' tale of southern life that has, by special arrangement with her publishers, been put into dramatic form to be served for the delectation of those who delight in heart stories in dramatic form. The book is one of the most phenomenal successes, and a phenomenal success of one of her books means the sale of hundreds of thousands of copies, for she is the most popular writer of that class of books more eagerly devoured by women, and they are by far the greatest readers of fiction, and therefore the best judges of what is good. This play comes to Danville Saturday night and will be interpreted by an excellent cast.

MILDRED HOLLAND.

Mildred Holland will make her annual appearance at the Opera House next Tuesday evening as Angela di Savelli in Carina Jordan's successful four act romantic drama "The Lily and The Prince." It can be said in truth of this favorite actress, that she is, in the judgment of the most conservative critics in the country, one of the most capable and accomplished artists of her day and generation. Possessed of wonderful personal magnetism, she has acquired a polish which makes her performance a joy and a delight to witness. Her voice is of wonderful sweetness, as well as timbre, and her elocutionary powers are second to those of no other actress in America. Her engagements in Danville, are looked upon as the leading theatrical event of the entire season.

VOGEL'S MINSTRELS.

John W. Vogel's minstrel troupe opened a week's engagement at the Empire theatre last night. The funny jokes of the end men and the latest songs of the soloists, such as are included among the artist in this company, furnished a pleasing change to the patrons of the theatre. "The Electric Velour," the title of the setting of the first part, is scenic with electrical effects. The first part differed little from the regular procedure of minstrel shows. The jokes were new and wholesome, while the songs throughout were well rendered and enjoyed many times.

Struck by Pipe.

Harry Sanders, who lives on Bloom street, was injured at the Structural Tubing Works yesterday morning by being struck on the shoulder by a pipe. The injury was not serious although the man was obliged to quit work and go home. He was given treatment by Dr. Curry.

CARRIE NATION MEETS DOWIE

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—A new star has been added to the great Dowie show in the person of one Mrs. Carrie Nation. The Kansas destroyer went to the Garden last night while the "only one" was blowing up the newspaper men. Just at the psychological moment Mrs. Nation bobbed up in her seat and shouted, "Doctor, I want to ask you a question." Then followed a talking match which no one could follow. Dowie ordered the band to play and the choir to sing in order to drown Mrs. Nation out. But Carrie kept right on yelling and the police reserves were called to quell the disorder. She was finally rushed out to the street and the meeting was broken up.

The "prophet's" lecture last night was intended to be confined to Dr. Buckley's charges that he was a lunatic. He failed to stick to his subject and rambled incoherently through many subjects, occasionally injecting a little billingsgate, which was applied to certain ministers and reporters in New York in general. After grating around the stage, while denouncing the newspaper men, he finally ordered that all the newspapers except two be excluded from further participation in the meetings.

The Dowie show has succeeded in doing what no other exhibition in this city has ever done. It has collected in one great bunch all persons who have "queer bees in their hats." The police say that over a hundred well known cranks were present at last night's show. Each day the number grows larger. They could be seen last night yelling from all parts of the house. Some denounce him and others praise him, but they all make the Garden their Mecca.

A few of the faithful, weary and foot-sore gathered this morning to hear the "prophet" discourse on the fourth commandment. Somehow or other the discourse proved to be another attack on the "wicked" press.

Dowie claims that over one hundred thousand homes have been visited with the message from Zion but he did not further add that many of his lost, in an exhausted condition, had been taken in at many of the homes and fed. Neither did he tell of forty-three workers who have become sick and exhausted from their house to house labors.

The doctor told this morning of the reasons why his healings have all gone wrong. It's all because Chicago is one hour behind New York in point of time. It seems that the hosts in Zion City have been praying at nine o'clock while the healers here have been doing the same thing. Dowie says they have not allowed for the difference in time and the healing will now go on perfectly.

CLAIMANT FOUND FOR OLD MAN'S RICHES

BLOOMSBURG, Oct. 21.—An unexpected turn now marks the proceedings in the estate of the late Herman Walter, who met his death by stopping in front of a car of the Columbia and Montour electric railroad and over the settlement of whose estate that as developed quite a fight, inasmuch as involved in it there are several thousand dollars to be handed over to the claimant and the executor, or in the event that he had no kin as was generally supposed. Corner Sharpless has received a communication from the German consulate at Philadelphia in which the consul informs Corner Sharpless that the only heir and the next of kin is Mrs. Marie Nolt, a subject of the emperor of Germany, who resides near Hanover, Germany. The letter then states that no letters of administration should be granted until her wishes in the matter have been ascertained as she is the only one interested. The consul further advises Corner Sharpless to retain all monies, books, etc., in his possession and that he shall not part with them to anyone, no matter by what authority he may ask it, until Mrs. Nolt expresses the course which she desires to take in the matter.

Be Careful.

Every year we hear of accidents happening through the careless handling of firearms, and as the hunting season has now opened every hunter who hunts should be careful how they shoot. Don't get excited and shoot haphazard in any direction, especially if your hunting companions are close by. A small twig striking the trigger may discharge the gun, and a companion waiting behind you may receive the contents. Above all else, when hunting, be careful.

George W. Kerr, is interlocutor and with Lew Bonedict and Arthur Rigby furnish their share of the fun. Joseph Eagen and George Christopher are the artistic buff and wing dancers. The lyric tenor of Harry Leighton pleased the audience as it has done for years past. The solos and choruses were well rendered, with precision and plenty of volume. The novelties are no less pleasing than the minstrel part. Among the specialties are the great Knetzer, who performs marvelous and grotesque tricks with clubs and hoops; Arthur Rigby, in good monologues and the Melrose troupe of acrobats. A large and enthusiastic audience filled the Empire last night. —Pittsburgh Gazette, Sept. 15, 1903.

Old Building to New Use.

The building on Mill street for so many years occupied by Lew Woods as a shoe store is about going on duty as a shooting gallery. It is being fitted up for this purpose by G. W. Mitchell, who comes here from Look Haven Park. The room will be open in a day or so.

The state dairy and feed commissioner Tuesday ordered 265 suits to be brought against wholesale and retail liquor dealers in various parts of the state for selling adulterated liquors.

It is alleged these liquors are adulterated with salicylic acid. It is possible that this adulteration takes place at the stores, but it seems to us that it is the big game, the distilleries and groceries, the manufacturers of wines, and food supplies that should feel the weight of the law, and not the small dealer who buys in good faith, and unaware of the adulteration of the goods which he buys or which he is powerless to prevent.

A GOOD THING GIVE IT A PUSH.

LIVONA CAMP, PA. APRIL 21, 1902. MOYER BROS.

DEAR SIR—

I think that every man that has a team of horses or any stock, ought to have a bottle of Moyer's White Liniment in the stable or his home. I had a horse that stopped in a hole with his front foot, coming down the mountain with a trail of props, and fell forward and strained his shoulder blade. That it swelled so fast that we could hardly get the collar off, and in two hours his neck was swollen to all the skin would hold. We used your White Liniment freely, and in a few days he was to work again, and does not show any signs of lameness. It worked like magic. Respectfully Yours,

J. A. BARTHAST.

"Anglo-Saxon English."

There is an old fallacy that Anglo-Saxon words are the best. The fallacy is based on the belief that words of Anglo-Saxon origin are more simple and vigorous than those derived from Latin. In point of fact, some Anglo-Saxon words are obscure and long, and many of our commonest, most simple words are from the Latin. The London News tells a story in regard to a barrister more remarkable for the vigor of his address to juries than for his learning was commenting on the proceeding of the other party in a case under trial.

"I do not know what gloss my learned friend is going to put upon this matter, but I will not mislead my words. I denounce it in plain, downright Anglo-Saxon as a nefarious transaction."

All Wear Costly Hatments.

No man who eats in a restaurant ever pays less than $75 for a suit or an overcoat, and no woman who eats in a public place ever wears a waist costing less than $25, and frequently the cost is too extravagant. When he was proprietor of a fashionable New York restaurant, he, like all restaurant owners, occasionally receives complaints from people who have lost an overcoat or mislaid one—and who have had garments positively ruined by a careless waiter spilling soup or some such thing on a portion of it, usually a sleeve, and he says that the above figures are the lowest quotations he ever heard.

Unlaid to George.

"The trouble with George," the young wife's mother was saying, "is that he is too extravagant. When he wants anything, he just gets it. He never considers the expense."

"Oh, I am sure he does, mamma," protested the young wife, "because I often hear him say, 'D—n the expense!'"—Chicago Tribune.
