WITH ICE

The cost to the State of rebuilding hridges in various parts of Pennsylvania that have been swept away by foods and ice this winter will exceed full. $1,000,000. The estimated cost of replacing bridges carried away by high water previous to last Wednesday's flood, for which application has already been made to the State to rebuild, is $568,000. The State officers have partly arranged to rebuild four bridges in Wayne county, five in Columbia county. one in Lackawanna county, one over the Susquehanna River between Columbia and Luzerpe counties, one at Blakely, Lackawanna county, one over the Shenango River at Sharpsville, and another over the Shenango at Bovaria.

One of the bridges which will be rebuilt in Columbia county will take the place of a bridge recently built by the State at a cost of thousands of dollars. The State officers have not yet received application to rebuild the Catawissa and other bridges carried away by the recent disastrous flood in the Susquehanna and other streams of the State.

Contracts for these bridges are awarded by the Public Buildings and Grounds, composed of the Governor, Auditor General and State Treasurer. The work is done under the Focht act of 1895, which requires the State to replace all bridges over navigable streams which have been destroyed by fire and flood.

The State has already expended more than $1,000,000 in building bridges under this act and at the last session of the Legislature an unsuccessful attempt was made to pass a bill limiting the expenditure for rebuilding bridges by the State to $200,000 annually.

The method of proceeding under this act to secure a bridge is very simple and it is expected by the State officers that there will be numerous applications the next thirty days. The county appoints five viewers, one of whom is an engineer. They visit the site and report that the bridge has been destroyed and recom. mend that it be replaced by a bridge at a cost fixed in their report. The Board of Public Buildings and Grounds then employs an engineer to prepare the plans and specifications on which the contract for the bridge is awarded.

The only cost to the county is the fees and mileage of the viewers and the fees of three inspectors appointed by the Board of Public Buildings and Grounds to inspect the bridge before it is formally accepted. #### March Snow.

The floods having subsided, by way of a little variety we were treated to a March snow storm Monday. The weather Sunday was decidedly springwho joined yesterday and others taken like and several robins were seen on the hills east of town. The relapse into winter yesterday had quite a de pressing effect upon people and intershurch since Rev. J. E. Hatchison en- fered very mach with the work of cleaning up after the flood.
