WILL REBUILD

AT ONCE

"A meeting of the board of directers of the Northumberland Bridge company was held at the office of J. C. Packer, Esq., Tuesday afternoon. The object of the meeting was to take action on the rebuilding of the structure which was destroyed last Wednesday night by the high water. The board unanimously decided to rebuild the bridge just as speedily as possible. General Manager Waples was instruct ed to proceed at once to have the plans prepared and also to ascertain the cost of having the bridge constructed of steel instead of wood. Until the bridge is constructed the company will conduct a ferry for the accommodation of the public.

"Stories circulated by parties claiming to have their information from a thoroughly reliable source, have it that the Sunbury and Northumberland trolley road has been sold and that the new owners are the promoters of the proposed line between Shamokin and Sunbury, who are also interested in and testimonials. Address. F. J. CHENEY & CO., the Shamokin road. The sale of the road was denied positively by the owners. when seen Tuesday morning by representative of this paper. S. P. Wolverton, Jr., not only emphatically denied the sale of the road, but stated that such a thing was not even being considered. He was at a loss to know how the story got out, as there is not the slightest atom of foundation for it. Owing to the destruction by the high water of the Northumberland bridge, the cars are now running only between Pine street and the dye works in the Fifth ward."-Sunbury Daily.

Ferry Uompany Receives Charter. The Berwick and Nescopeck Ferry the Governor dated March 7,1904, giving them authority to operate a ferry at this place. This was the first company to apply for a charter, also to advertise the same. The incorporators for one year are F. A. Witman, T. B. Brobst, and George Cartee. The organization is George Cartee, president; T. B. Brobst, vice president, and general manager; F. A. Witman, treasurer and W. C. Garrison secretary. The rates of transportation have not yet been fixed but the company states that are already being planted by a force of eight men and a 1750 foot cable is of patients suffering from the afflicexpected from Wilkesbarre today. The tion. company has purchased a 35-foot boat and will soon begin the construction of a 60-foot one. The ferry will be in operation day and night and will be in charge of an experienced boatman. The managers state that their object in maintaining a ferry is for the accommodation of the merchants and public. - Berwick Enterprise.

Farmers Must Pay.

SUNBURY. March 16 .- Judge Voris Auten, in the Northumberland county court vesterday, handed down a decision of interest to every town in the state where a market ordinance is in force. Some time ago O. G. Ramer, a farmer, drove to Mt. Carmel, backed up to the curb and refused to pay the tax asked by the authorities for the privilege of selling produce. He was arrested and fined $5 and the costs of the prosecution.

Ramer took his case to court.asserting, according to a late act, farmers could not be compelled to pay such tax. The judge found that the recent law had no application in Ramer's case and affirmed the stand of the borough.

Washington in Ice on River.

Of the many odd forms in which the great masses of ice have jammed the Sosquehanna river by the pressure of the flood, none is attracting as much attention as an ice portrait of George Washington in powdered wig, which the ice blocks and the water have formed three miles above Wilkesbarre. The portrait is a remarkable likeness of the head and neck and hundreds of persons are going there to see it. The face is high above a twenty foot hummock and rests on a large block of ice. It is of clear ice and about three feet high. The one defect is a rather pointed nose, but the forehead, chin, neck and back of the head are remarkable for the clear cut likeness.

Iron Bridge Carried Away.

The bridge at the creek's mouth below town was carried away by the flood. The localities down the river are buried deep under ice and it was only on Saturday that explorations began to extend any further than the railroad and the wagon road, both of which were blocked. It was then ascertained that the bridge had been carried from the abutments.

It is practically impossible to reach the creek's mouth owing to the immense boulders of ice which are piled one on top of the other but viewed from a distance the bridge seems to have disappeared from the spot.

Watch Box Set Up.

George Hunlock's watchbox at the Railroad street crossing, which was carried from its foundation by the flood last week was set up on altogether a new site yesterday. Things are still very much out of order about the crossing and the watch box was only temporarily placed in position vesterday. The door now opens on Railroad street instead of the D. L. & W. track as formerly.
