HEARST MEN MAKING INROADS IN OHIO

COLUMBUS, O., May 24.—The preliminary meetings of the Democratic State Convention were unusually animated today owing to contests from the larger conventions involving two hundred delegates and nine members of the committee that are selected by twenty-one congressional districts.

Under what is known as the "Johnson rule" of the past two years, the State Central Committee passes on contests for the temporary organization of the convention and for the district meeting at which members of the new State Central Committee and all committees of the convention are selected. The State Committee was in session during the day hearing the contestants preparatory to the district meetings in the evening.

The convention proper does not convene until tomorrow, but its control was determined at the meetings today and especially by the selection of members of the committees at the district meetings. When the holding over State central committee was selected last year at the convention that nominated Mayor Tom L. Johnson, of Cleveland, for Governor, it was composed largely of "Johnson men," but recently this committee acted so independently that there was great doubt today as to what it would do with the unusually large number of contested seats.

At the recent meeting this committee selected E. L. Starr, of Bryan, for temporary chairman of the convention and other Hearst men for temporary officers, although Mayor Johnson was opposed to Hearst. Even the two state committeemen from Cleveland, at a previous meeting, voted against the Hearst organization and they were reported today as not in accord with their old chief.

The anomaly was presented of the old friends of John R. McLean, James Kilbourne and Tom L. Johnson, the last three Democratic candidates for Governor in Ohio, who have never cooperated before combining against the recent organization of Hearst men in this state.

Does Such Malady as Hydrophobia Exist?

An old discussion, "Is hydrophobia a bona fide and distinctive disease?" is revived by a letter being distributed by the Women's Pennsylvania Society for the prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

The society declares that "the annual mad dog scare" causes much suffering both to dogs and human beings. It calls attention to the fact that in St. George's Hospital, London, where 4,000 patients have been received who were bitten by dogs supposed to have been mad, not one developed hydrophobia.

Many doctors are quoted to the effect that they have never seen a case of hydrophobia, and the letter is endorsed by six physicians, who say that, if there is such a thing as rabies, they have yet to see it.

Several of them have made a practice of following up the cases reported, and one in Philadelphia has gone so far as to offer $100 for a case of rabies which can be proved to be such.

Improvements at Germania Brewery.

Foust Bros. in the work of rebuilding at the Germania Brewery have accomplished quite a feat by erecting a new building without tearing down the old one to make room for it.

A substantial brick building is replacing the rambling and dilapidated frame structure, which for the greater part of the last century was a landmark on the spot. The owners began the work with the intention of keeping the brewery in operation while rebuilding, if possible, and in this they have succeeded. Only one section of the brewery is built at a time and the work is so conducted that it is necessary to pull down only a small portion of the old building at one time, as the new wall rises to take its place. A greater part of the brick work to the second story was laid up with the roof of the old structure still overhead and the work in the brewery going on without the least interruption.

Small Brushes are Reported.

TOKIO, May 23.—A p. m.—The Japanese landed at Yakusatsu report having been engaged in two scouting skirmishes, during which ten Russians were killed. In the first affair two Russians were captured, and in the other General Kuraki reports the capture of an officer and a man caught making a reconnaissance in the rear of Kuraki's army.

Three splendid horses captured at the Yalu battle by Kuraki and presented to the Emperor reached Tokyo today. They were taken to the Palace where they were inspected. Two of them are Russian bred and the other is an Arabian.

People who have visited Matsuyama reports that the Japanese are exercising great care with the food and general treatment of the Russian prisoners there. The rations include liberal allowances of meat, bread and tea daily. The prisoners' quarters are clean and sanitary. The majority of the wounded are making good progress.

Are Foreigners Eligible?

Attorney General Carson has been asked by Dr. Charles T. George, Secretary of the State Pharmaceutical Examining Board, for an opinion as to whether foreigners can take the examination.

Several graduates of foreign colleges have come to this country and established pharmacies in places where colonies of foreigners have located. These persons ask to be permitted to take the examination of the board so that they can receive certificates.

The board is uncertain whether foreign born persons who have not been naturalized can take the examinations with the aid of interpreters but it is inclined to refuse an examination to a person who is not a citizen of the country.

RAILROAD CO.'S RULES ON FIRE

General Supt. A. T. Dice, of the P. & R. Railway Co., has issued orders bearing upon fires in and about the stations and other property of the company. Certain rules are set forth which the employees are supposed to carry out to the letter. These relate to the placing of stoves on metal or stone or iron bases, the keeping of matches in secure tin boxes, having no sawdust or cotton waste near the fire, fixing gas jets so that they cannot be twisted against any wood work, keeping steam pipes at sufficient distance from wood work, using sand to catch oil droppings and various other precautionary measures. The order concludes with the reminder that the majority of fires are due to carelessness and neglect. Supt. Dice also recommends that in departments where a large number of men are employed a system of fire protection be inaugurated and each employee be assigned a certain duty to perform in this respect so that in case at any time a fire should occur there will be no excitement, but a systematic fighting of the flames. Buckets of water and sand are to be kept in and about the stations, and are to be inspected not less than once a week to see that they are in proper condition. Employees will not be allowed to smoke in warehouses or buildings where any inflammable materials are kept and trainmen are cautioned against entering cars with a lighted lantern, where there are fumes of gasoline, naphtha or any other inflammable gas. Cars containing oils or other inflammable materials will never be coupled next to the engine. When cars are standing in yards or on sidings they should always be coupled so that they can be pulled out without delay should a fire at any time occur.

Sale of "Bob" Veal For Turkey.

State Dairy and Food Commissioner Warren, at a conference with his agents a few days ago, began to lay out new laws which will help them still further to rid the State of impure food and drink. It has been discovered that there are many sales of two and three-day-old calves, which are injurious to health. These calves are sold for veal, and in many cases this meat is substituted for "boned turkey" and other delicacies. The law now carries with it only a small fine for this nefarious traffic, and what is desired is the prohibition of sale of veal under six weeks old, and to make an offense punishable with imprisonment and fine.

Another important law to be advocated is the prohibition of the sale and manufacture of what is known as renovated butter. The chemists report that this product is the old, rancid and putrid butter sweetened, while the putrefaction still remains, although the objectionable smell and taste is to a great extent removed. The legislature is to be asked to stop all traffic in this unwholesome product.

A standard for milk is also to be legally established, such not now being on the statutes.

There is to be a stricter law against the use of preservatives for fresh meats, it being claimed that fresh meats cannot be such if they are preserved. With the preservatives used, much decayed meat is being sold as fresh, and this is a disease breeder.

The department wants a law giving magistrates and justices of the peace summary power to imprison and inflict heavy fines on those trafficking in impure food products.

Thus far the principal crusades of the department have been against the sale of oleomargarine colored in imitation of butter, which is prohibited by law, and against adulterated liquors and beers. All branches of groceries were also thoroughly tested.

Grafting Chestnut Sprouts.

The annual grafting season has just closed at C. K. Sober's Irish Valley chestnut farm. Thousands upon thousands of Paragon scions have been grafted this spring on native chestnut sprouts. The success of Mr. Sober's efforts in raising the celebrated Paragon chestnuts has attracted the attention of leading agriculturists throughout the country. The system of grafting was perfected by Mr. Sober himself and has proven a pronounced success. The groves were visited this spring by scores of men, whose attention has been directed to Mr. Sober's experiment in turning waste mountain land to profit, and the work of grafting the scions was watched with much interest. With the proper care from accident and protection against damage from wind storms fully nine-tenths of the "tongue" grafts will grow. The Paragon scions will grow in February and laid away in sand until the open weather comes and the grafting begins. The grafts begin to bear in a small way the second year. The third year the burrs increase in number and as high as three points of chestnuts have been gathered from a three-year-old tree not more than six feet high.

NO FURTHER REPORT RECEIVED

CHEFOO, May 24.—10 p. m.—No further news has been received here from Port Arthur or the armies north of the Yalu river up to the hour of filing of this dispatch.

BELIEVE JAPANESE WILL REST AWHILE

ST. PETERSBURG, May 24.—2 p. m.—The prevailing opinion at the headquarters of the general staff is that the withdrawal of the Japanese upon Fung Wang Ching means that the enemy has decided to devote himself primarily to operations against Port Arthur and that the present object of General Kuroki, with the First Army, supported by General Nanya, with the Third Army now landing near Taku Shan, is to watch General Kuroki and prevent a move southward which would take General Ku and the Second Army, on the Liao Tung peninsula, in the rear.

A direct attack upon General Kuroki's main force apparently is not considered to be impending. Nothing more than out-post affairs are anticipated, although some of these may be quite sanguinary. The Russian scouts are keeping in constant touch with the enemy and thus far the minor shifting of the enemy's detachments west of the Tayang river and northward of Moi Tung Ling are considered to be in the nature of screens.

If the two armies of the Russian commander-in-chief are trying to work a force around in the rear of General Kuroki or are planning a surprise, of course the fact is sedulously concealed. Uneasiness is displayed at the near approach of the rainy season, which will retard, if not completely stop field operations, although this plays directly into the Russian hands. The Russians continue to hold New Chwang, Kai Chou and Tashi Chou until a move in force is made towards Hai Ching with the object of cutting off the retirement of the force at Kai Chou, which is sufficient to stand off an ordinary force of the enemy and discourage the landing of troops there or at Hing Yu Chien. The Japanese are not in force north of Wafandian.

Apparently there is good warrant for the belief that General Kuroki has a strong line extending south from Liao Yang and west of Hai Ching, protecting an advance upon Kai Chou and New Chwang.

The Bourse Gazette insists that nobody in Europe knows whether China will remain neutral to the end of the war or whether two powers, one Japan's ally and the other friendly, will remain neutral during the peace negotiations.

The Russ says China's entrance into the conflict would be the signal for an advance of the Russian forces in Central Asia.

The report circulated by the St. Petersburg correspondent of the Central News that ten stokers were killed by an explosion yesterday on board the Russian battleship Orel at Cronstadt is absolutely denied.

The Novoe Vremya today prints the Paris report of last week that Germany is endeavoring to form an alliance between Russia, Germany and Austria.

Vaccinating Cattle.

At a meeting of the State Live Stock Sanitary Board held on Saturday reports were received relative to the investigation which is being conducted by the board for the protection of cattle from tuberculosis by vaccination.

State Veterinarian Dr. Leonard Pearson, and Dr. S. H. Gillard have been conducting experiments in the endeavor to ascertain whether cattle can be immunized from the disease by means of vaccination. These experiments have developed the fact that vaccinated cattle exposed for a year to daily contact with animals affected with the disease did not contract it while those which had not been vaccinated readily became affected.

Calves of infected cows are now being vaccinated and left with their diseased mothers. They are allowed to use the parent milk for the purpose of ascertaining whether vaccination will prove effective under these conditions. It is generally conceded that unvaccinated calves raised with cattle infected with tuberculosis contract the disease.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

A Portable Y. M. C. A. for Lumbermen. The lumber interests of the South, which are being developed by companies controlling great tracts of forest and employing thousands of men have followed the example of the railroads and called upon the Young Men's Christian Association to lead in the organization of their employees for their own personal benefit, co-operating financially and materially. The Arkansas Lumber Company, at Stamps, and the Pearl River Company, at Brookhaven, Miss., have already erected buildings at their new mill towns, which have sprung up as by magic. The Association provides the only social center of the town, and has secured the membership of a large percentage of the employees. It is a common meeting place for social, educational, recreational and physical advantages. The Pearl River Company has provided a movable building which can be lifted, like the other camp buildings, by great cranes onto flat cars and transported to the different points where the men are cutting. In this portable building are supplied bathing, reading, social and amusement rooms, entertainments and religious services. The company employs some hundred men at the cutting camps and nearly a thousand in the mill and shipping towns. Other lumber companies have applied to the International Committee for assistance in organizing similar Associations at their lumber towns and camps.
