Great Sale of Uoal Land. The Steubenville (Ohio) Herald of August 25th contains an account of a great sale of coal land in Jefferson County, Ohio, involving the transfer of 1600 acres of the best coal land of the State. G. M. Shoemaker is president and Charles H. Alexander, Secretary and Treasurer of the Company making the purchase. A considerable portion of the capital is from Wilkesparre. It is considered a very large deal and will open up an entirely new mining territory. What gives the big deal a local inerest is the fact that the family of Mr. Shoemaker, the President of the Big Yellow Creek Coal Company, are spending the summer in Danville and have rooms at 425 Mill street. Mrs. Shoemaker, who is a daughter of the late George Peifer, will leave Danville next week, meeting her husband in Cleveland where they will take up with him. Chairman Cortelyou has been very complimentary in his references to Senator Penrose and in expressing the high regard in which he holds his opinion on political mat ters and of his appreciation of his strength as a party leader.

Just after the nomination of Roose velt and before he had left the convention city. Cortelvou called on Sen ator Penrose and informed him that he desired his active services in the national campaign. He recognized the fact that the Pennsylvania senator had a valuable training in the school of prac tical politics in his connection with the management of the party organization in this state.

It is quite likely that Senator Penrose will be called to New York fre quently during the national campaign, but he will not neglect the canvass in his home state. He has received a number of invitations to address meet ings in New York, Indiana, Delaware, New Jersey and other states, and as far as possible will comply with these requests, all of which come from as sociates in the United States senate members of the President's cabinet or from Chairman Cortelyou himself.

'We are anxious to carry every doubtful congressional district in Pennsylvania," said Chairman Pen rose, in discussing his plans for the campaign in this state. "We now have 29 of the 32 congressmen from Penneylvania. I would like to make our next delegation solidly Republican, but the best we can hope for, I guess, will be 30 of the 32. Pennsylvania is vitally interested in the present cam paign, not merely in retaining a Republican president in the White House but in seeing to it that both branche of congress shall continue with Republican majorities. The vast manufacturing and other industrial interests of this state have thriven under the Pennavlvania idea of a Republican protect tive tariff.

"There are many hundreds of thou sands of our citizens now finding profit able employment and there are mil lions of capital invested which would be placed in feopardy should the Dem ocrats get control of congress and 1 in a position to carry out their fr trade policies. It is all very well say that the United States senate reliably Republican, and that th house of representatives of itself can not pass a tariff act, but it should be remembered that political change come quickly in this country, and that we should always be on the alert for any contingency that might arise.

"In Pennsylvania this fall we shall he called upon to elect members of the legislature who will in January next elect a member of the United States senate to serve for the full term of six years. The man thus chosen will be elected for a term which will carry him over the next presidential elec tion. He will have two years to serve under the administration of the president who will be elected four years hence, and his vote may be the decid ing factor in much important legislation directly affecting the interests of Pennsylvania. This fact must not be forgotten in the balloting for members of the state senate and the state house of representatives when our citizens go to the polls in November next.
