CHAS. A. SIDLER'S INTERESTING LETTER

The following letter from Charles A. Sidler, Esq., of Sunbury, who is at present at Etzatlan, Mexico, to his brother Register and Recorder W. A. Sidler of this city, will prove of interest to many of our citizens. Mr. Sidler is deeply interested in the Amparo Mining Company, a heavy copper producing concern. There are 40,000 shares of Amparo mining stock held by Danville residents and it may prove an interesting fact to know that this stock which originally brought 25 cents a share is now selling at 50 cents. The letter reads as follows:

Dear Brother:—We arrived in Guadalupe on the 1st, tired and dirty travelers, as we had been traveling five consecutive days and nights. After attending to some business in Guadalupe we came to Etzatlan on the evening of the 3rd, or one week ago. Mr. Ferdinand Susteris, our new General Manager, met us at Durango, and he and his wife were on the party during the rest of the journey. Last Sunday we spent here at the offices and saw the employees paid off, which took about all of the forenoon. Early Monday morning we started for the mines, going up over the new road, and arrived there in about two hours. Clarence Voris rode up in the covered wagon, but I preferred to go upon horseback, and rode with Mr. Susteris.

After dinner we all went into the mine and spent nearly all the afternoon there. Mr. Susteris went all through the different workings under the guidance of Mr. Callahan, Mine Superintendent, but Mr. Voris and I did not care to climb Mexican ladders, so we went down in the ore hoist and met them at the bottom of the shaft when they reached there. Mr. Susteris is a man of few words, but after his examination of the mine he said that it was magnificent, one of the finest that he had ever seen. He said that it is a rare thing to find a mine in which the side walls are so clearly defined as in the Santo Domingo. They shipped 67 cars of ore during the month of August, and are now shipping about forty tons per day. The San Juan shaft is 410 feet deep and there is not a stick of timber in it. The fact is there is no timber in the mine as the walls are so firm they do not require it. Mr. Callahan is unimpaired in his praise of the mine. He says that he has examined most of the best mines in Mexico for different people, some of which sold for anywhere from $5,000,000, to $8,000,000 Mexican money, and of them all there is but one better mine in this country than the Santo Domingo. He thinks that our company has a great future before it, but that the change in the management was made none too soon, as many things were neglected by the old management.

In Mr. Susteris the company has one of the best metallurgists and engineers in this country and under his guidance our company is going to forge to the front very rapidly. With us the only question is how soon will we be able to pay dividends. The Santo Domingo has the reputation all through this country of being one of the great mines of Mexico, and it certainly could not have gotten such a reputation unless it produced the ore. One man in Guadalupe told me that he has known the mine for the last twenty-five years, and that it is a very fine mine. We are having the rainy season here at present, and as I ride along in the cars in the valleys and look out over the fields of corn, it is not unlike a ride through the country there. But when we pass through some immense ranch, where there are fields of two and three hundred acres one realizes that he is not in Pennsylvania at least. Last Saturday on our way here we passed one field in which I counted 93 head of oxen ploughing; but not as we plough in our country. They simply scratch the ground around here. The land is now being prepared for wheat. They have plenty of rain this season and the crops are fine. Here you can see corn, sugar cane and tobacco raised side by side. Mr. Voris expects to start for home one week from today but I shall remain here until October 1st and go into every detail of our business as requested by Judge Paxson.

Your brother,
CHAS. A. SIDLER.

Wall Strengthened.

A much needed improvement is now rapidly nearing completion at the Water Works. For some time past the surface water from the street has been percolating through the front wall of the pump room, carrying with it quantities of dirt and sand.

It was decided to make an excavation in front of the building and put a coat of cement on the wall. The efficiency of cement used in this capacity was clearly illustrated by the way in which the cemented rear wall of the pump room withstood the ravages of last winter's flood. The excavation which is 20 feet deep and 30 feet in length has been completed. All that remains to be done is to put on the coat of cement, and fill up the trench. The work is in charge of Superintendent P. J. Keefer.

WELL EQUIPPED LABORATORY

For several years past it has been the idea of the authorities in charge of our public schools to institute a laboratory for the practical demonstration of chemical and physical phenomena. This year it was decided to fit out one of the smaller rooms connected with the high school as a laboratory where the students in the chemistry and physics classes could perform experiments connected with their work.

The laboratory, which is now completed, accommodates eight students. It is thoroughly modern in every respect both as to workmanship and equipment. Lockers and several drawers are provided for each student, in addition to which there is a full line of Bunsen burners, beakers, test tubes and chemicals. The room is provided with desks-chairs where the students can take lecture notes or do other writing. Nearly all the colleges and universities in the country demand that an entering student shall have had at least an elementary course in experimental chemistry and physics. As a result many of the high schools in the larger cities have installed laboratories. It is gratifying to know that those who have charge of public education in Danville are not allowing our schools to fall below the standard set by other progressive institutions.

Justice Dalton's Busy Day.

Justice of the Peace James Dalton has been quite busy for several days and during that time passed judgment on four cases, two of disorderly conduct and two of assault and battery. In one case of assault and battery the complainant did not appear. The other case of assault and battery proved to be a fictitious mix-up of two Polish families residing on Northumberland street. Mrs. Joseph Noblitz and Mrs. Maine were really the contestants, the altercation taking place early in the morning while the women were purchasing the daily milk supply. Mr. Noblitz, however, was the defendant in the case, his efforts as peace-maker resulting in a charge of assault and battery being preferred against him by Mr. Maine. Owing to the pressure of other business Justice Dalton could not hear the case until four o'clock yesterday afternoon, Noblitz meanwhile waiting his turn in the lock-up. Neither defendant or prosecutor could speak English, and through Mrs. Annie Heimbach acted as interpreter, the situation was most trying. Noblitz after much trouble was made to understand that he would have to pay $5.00 for the privilege of acting as referee, which he sensibly did.

A civil action was brought by W. H. Conrad against Mrs. Wagner of West Mahoning street yesterday. The prosecutor alleged that the sum of $150 was due him in wages, he having been employed on Mrs. Wagner's farm. The defendant stated that the agreement was that Conrad was to work for his board. The Justice reserved his decision.

Continental Picnic Next Saturday.

Hunter's Park will close the most successful season in its history with the big Continental Hose Company's picnic Saturday. The park this year has had a most unique list of diversions and has been visited by thousands of people. Picnics have been very numerous during the past summer and have included many parties from a distance. As a camping resort it has had a wonderful season, the cottages, tents, etc., being occupied during the entire summer. The spacious pavilion also has been the scene of many enjoyable affairs, the dances averaging about three a week.

The Continental picnic next Saturday promises to be a great event. The Committee is doing everything possible to show the visitors a good time. There will be music throughout the day and evening. Prof. Metherell's orchestra has been engaged and with good weather the dancers should have an enjoyable time. Various other attractions are being arranged for and refreshments at reasonable rates will be sold on the grounds. Everybody is invited to enjoy the last big picnic of the season.

Little Work for Truant Officer.

The pupils of the public schools are making good records for themselves in attendance this year. So far but few cases of truancy have been reported. The efficiency of Truant Officer Young in the past has made his services almost indispensable. So far this year, however, nothing more than the moral influence of his presence has been necessary to keep the refractory pupils in regular attendance. The total number of pupils attending the Borough schools this year is unusually large, there being 1250 enrolled. One hundred and forty of these are in the High School.

Died at Philadelphia.

Rev. D. N. McWilliams, a former well known resident of Elysburg, died at a Philadelphia hospital, Tuesday. The remains will be brought to Elysburg for burial. Services will be held in the Elysburg Presbyterian Church Friday at 2 p. m. Interment at Pine Grove cemetery.

Old Time Print Dead.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 21.—Daniel J. King, a veteran printer of this city, and one of the founders of the National Guard of Pennsylvania, is dead, aged 81. In 1839, Mr. King was one of a party of citizens who went to Harrisburg and secured the passage of the act establishing the National Guard. From his services in this connection he acquired the sobriquet of "Senator."

OPERA HOUSE IMPROVEMENTS

The season of 1904-05 at the Danville Opera House will be opened on September 29th, by the well known Murray & Mackey Company. The old favorites will play a three nights engagement.

The patrons of the theatre will be most greatly surprised at the many important changes that have been made since the house closed last season. All alterations as recommended by the committee have been fully complied with along with the establishment of many modern improvements.

An up-to-date fire escape has already been erected on the north side of the building, with two exits; one leading from the balcony and the other from the dress circle. Another fire escape, easy of descent, with wide landings, will be erected on the Mahoning street side of the building. There will be four exits onto this stairway. These exits along with the front and rear passageways will make it possible to dismiss a capacity audience within two minutes without crowding or resorting to haste. This estimate is based on a former record of four minutes when one of the largest audiences in the history of the theatre passed out of the front doors on Mill street in that time. The exits are all plainly marked and are very easy of access.

Another noteworthy improvement is the installing of electricity on the stage. This method of lighting will make it possible to give a performance in metropolitan style.

A complete change in scenery is another improvement that will aid greatly in the production of the different plays. The new scenery is of modern construction and will not be worked in grooves as formerly. It is dropped from the loft and under this system long waits between acts will be a thing of the past. The new scenery is very handsome and includes everything required in a first class theatre. Companies carrying their own scenic mounting can now use all drops, set pieces, etc. The width of the stage, which was formerly 36 feet, has been increased to 42 feet. In the past many companies were unable to hang some of their best scenes on account of the narrowness of the stage. As the widest drops are never more than 40 feet everything carried by any show can be placed on the local stage.

A handsome asbestos curtain is also to be hung before the house opens. This curtain will work straight up and down and can be dropped in a few seconds. The old style roller curtain has been entirely eliminated. The dressing rooms have been made easy of access and everything done for the convenience and comfort of the players.

With the many improvements it has been possible to book some strong attractions. Many of our favorites will again visit Danville, among them being Mildred Holland and Katharine Willard. Wyle's orchestra has been engaged for the season and will include nine of Danville's best musicians.

Patient Escapes From Hospital.

A female patient whose name is Benningham, escaped from the State Hospital at this place Monday afternoon and before she was captured and returned to the institution gave her pursuers no end of trouble. The woman in some manner secured a key to a door leading from the ward, in which she was confined, to a corridor and slipped out of the building unnoticed.

It was not long, however, before the patient was missed and four of the female attendants started in pursuit. A young man who was fishing a short distance above the hospital informed the nurses that the woman had started east over the D. L. & W. tracks. This young man joined in the chase, the party walking to a point above the D. L. & W. depot at Catawissa before they caught up with the patient. As soon as she discovered her pursuers she showed fight and hurled stones at them. They finally managed to get her as far as the depot. Here she again became frantic and attempted to board every trolley car that passed, saying she wanted to go to Berwick where she claimed to have a sister living. The patient remained docile for a time and inquired the time of the next train to Berwick. Upon being told that there was no train for three or four hours she again made a dash up the track closely followed by the attendants. They again closed around her but the woman fought so desperately that it was necessary to secure the assistance of the D. L. & W. section crew before she could be subdued. The attendants in their hasty departure from the Hospital had forgotten to provide themselves with funds and until the 6:55 train east arrived, were in quite an embarrassing position. Another one of the female attendants arrived on this train with funds to take the party back and the patient was induced to return to the Hospital without further trouble, the party arriving on the 9:15 train.

The patient is about 45 years of age and until the time of her escape had given the attendants but little trouble.

What's in a Name.

Everything is in the name when it comes to Witch Hazel Salve. E. C. DeWitt & Co., of Chicago, discovered some years ago how to make a salve from Witch Hazel that is a specific for Piles. For Blind, bleeding, itching and protruding Piles, eczema, cuts, burns, bruises and all skin diseases, DeWitt's Salve has no equal. This has given rise to numerous worthless counterfeits. Ask for DeWitt's—the genuine. Sold by Paules & Co., Gosh & Co.

BAND SHOWS MARKED IMPROVEMENTS

Much favorable comment has been heard on the excellent concert given by Stoes' band during the past month. The band is showing a marked improvement along all lines and with the proper interest and a good attendance at rehearsals, this organization will improve very much.

Arthur Tonk, the conductor, is a most pains-taking and conscientious bandmaster. He has had a wide experience in his work. The concert given at South Danville on Friday evening was a real musical treat and was much enjoyed. The program was made up of meritorious numbers and they were rendered in an artistic manner.

This organization should be supported in every way possible. A good band is necessary in a community, and affords diversion and amusement to everybody. Members of a band in the smaller towns usually have a thankless task. They devote much of their time to rehearsals and gratuitous playing and if public appreciation is not shown they have nothing for their trouble. In many towns work is secured for musicians as an incentive for them to locate in a community while expenses such as the band room rent and music are met by popular subscription. Members of Stoes' band have recently been compelled to pay room rent out of their own pockets.

Such incidents have a tendency to discourage an organization and under the circumstances Stoes' band deserves great credit for the showing made. Several plans are under way to raise funds for the band and they should be liberally supported.

SAVE YOUR HEALTH!

It is Worth Saving and some Danville People Know How to Save It.

There are some people who take their lives in their hands by continuing to neglect their kidneys when they know these organs need help. Sick kidneys are responsible for an immense amount of suffering and ill-health, but there is no need to suffer or to remain in danger when all diseases of the back and kidney complaint, weak kidneys can be quickly and permanently cured by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. Here is the statement of a Danville citizen who has reclaimed good health by the use of this remedy:

John James, puddler, of 11 Sycamore St., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills were of immense benefit to me in a case of backache and kidney complaint some years ago. I had suffered for months with pain and lameness in my back and used all kinds of remedies but received no permanent benefit. I was becoming discouraged but when Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended to me by Levi Alliger, I concluded to try them. I got a box and used them as directed. The result was far beyond my expectations. They cured me and I have had no return of the trouble." Plenty more proof like this from Danville people. Call at druggists and ask what their customers report.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Eel Season Nearly Over.

The eel season is now near closing and many are still being caught and offered for sale. Last Friday and Saturday nights several hundred fishermen were on the river all of them operating with more or less success.

The season for eel catching has almost reached its height and will soon be practically over as few will be running. The rise in the river during the last few days enabled many eels to get away or the catches would have been heavier. The price for the fish has been high but so great has been the demand that it was necessary to place advance orders in order to secure them.

The most successful way to catch eels is by means of the fish wall for which a license is necessary. The Danville fishermen have been making big hauls with the outline and other methods, though further up the river quite a few licenses have been taken out for fish walls.

Wyle's Orchestra Reorganized.

Wyle's orchestra last week reorganized for the coming season and its membership includes the best musicians in Danville. This organization, while accepting all engagements, is one that puts forth the best efforts in concert and solo work. The music played is of a standard order, including compositions between the "popular" and classic grades. The idea among its members being to advance along artistic lines and to secure a general knowledge of a high grade of music.

The orchestra possesses a fine library and is an organization that strives hard to interpret conscientiously. A number of concerts will be given during the winter and the orchestra will be a feature at the theatre during the season.

September Court on the 26th.

The September term of court in this county will convene on Monday, 26th inst. There has been no trial by jury in Montour County since last February. Court in June was practically no court at all. At the last moment it was discovered that there were no criminal cases for trial and that the civil suits were all continued. Notices therefore were sent out to the traverse jurors requesting them not to appear at court. The grand jurors were permitted to attend, but they would up the little business on hand in a single day. The remarkable part of it all is that there is little more business on hand now, after the lapse of six months than there was in June, some of the criminal cases are exceptional; there being but two prisoner awaiting trial.

MAY LOSE HIS EYESIGHT

William Krum, who resides near Grovania, met with a bad accident on Saturday as the result of which he is likely to lose his eyesight.

Krum is employed at the Mauser lime kiln and was blasting with powder on Saturday morning. He was preparing a blast and was putting in the last charge of powder when it exploded prematurely. Krum was thrown a distance of ten feet into the quarry.

The injured man was at once taken home and Dr. I. G. Bierman of Bloomsburg summoned. His face was found to be burned almost beyond recognition. The hair on the front part of his head was burned off and his eyes were swollen shut. The sight of his right eye is totally destroyed and there is but little hope that the left eye can be saved.

The hole in which the blast was being prepared had been used a little while before and was still hot. It is thought that this caused the explosion.

Krum is 38 years of age and has a wife and three children.

A Power For Good.

The pills that are potent in their action and pleasant in effect are DeWitt's Little Early Risers. W. S. Philpot, of Albany, Ga., says: "During a bilious attack I took one. So small as it was it did me more good than calomel, blue mass or any other pill I ever took and at the same time the effect was pleasant. Little Early Risers are certainly an ideal pill." Sold by Paules & Co., J. D. Gosh & Co.

Some Advice From Sunbury.

For so long a period that the memory of the oldest inhabitant "ranneth not to the contrary," the principal thoroughfare in Danville has been known as Mill street; but since it is being paved with brick the delighted burghers are getting so stuck up about it that they have become dissatisfied with the old name of the street and are talking about rechristening it. Just hear how rhapsodically one of the local parsons speaks of the old street with its new brick habitation: "When paving is completed and the eye runs down over the cleanswept surface between the lines of trim curbing the effect will be exceptionally fine and Mill street will be a thoroughfare which in point of beauty will have few parallels in any of the towns the size of Danville."

With such a view of it, it may be a pardonable weakness on the part of the citizens to want to drop the old plebeian name and substitute something more fanciful and sonorous. But if it is not an intrusion, our advice would be to go slow in this matter. There is a good deal in a name, Shakespeare to the contrary notwithstanding, and the associations of street nomenclature should not be too readily discarded. Something would be wanting in Danville if the old historic and familiar name of Mill street were missing. Follow the example of Boston, where the homely name of Milk street is retained and cherished as one of its most prominent thoroughfares. So apparently insignificant a name as The Needle street is the centre of the financial business of London and the local office of the Bank of England. The Londoners would not do so profane a thing as to change the name of that street, nor would they give any other appellation to Rotten Row, a name that is applied to their most fashionable thoroughfare.

At all events, if the Danvillians should change the name of Mill street we hope they won't fall into the vulgarism of calling it a Boulevard. This dissertation may look like sticking our nose into other people's business, but we have a feeling for Danville.—Sunbury Item.

From 148 to 92 Pounds.

One of the most remarkable cases of a cold, deep-seated on the lungs, causing pneumonia, is that of Mrs. Gertrude E. Fenner, Marion, Ind., who was entirely cured by the use of One Minute Cough Cure. She says: "The coughing and straining so weakened me that I ran down in weight from 148 to 92 pounds. I tried a number of remedies to no avail until I used One Minute Cough Cure. Four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me entirely of the cough, strengthened my lungs and restored me to my normal weight, health and strength." Sold by Paules & Co., Gosh & Co.

This Marriage a Surprise.

Miss Mae Thomas, for some time a clerk in the Jos. M. Schain department store, has sprung quite a surprise on her many friends hereabouts by disclosing the fact that she became the bride of Harry Erwine, of Danville, on Labor Day. Miss Thomas was formerly of Danville and it was on September 15th, when she was visiting friends at that place that the wedding took place at the home of the groom. The couple kept a secret and Miss Thomas came to Berwick and to her wedding she gave Mr. Schain a note that she would have at that time. Her parents, "West Berwick" with her husband they will reside.

GYMNASIUM CLASSES

The opening of the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium for the fall and winter season is being looked forward to by a large number of men and boys and from present indications it is likely that not only will all the old members be enrolled, but many new ones will be included in the classes.

The gymnasium will be opened during the last week of the present month. Should the weather prove too warm, the opening will be deferred to early October. Classes for business men, young men and boys will be made up in the same manner as last year and besides the regular routine work, will include all reasonable outdoor sports. There will be no ladies' classes this year unless there is a guaranteed membership of at least fifteen.

Since last season new parallel bars have been installed. A striking bar of the most improved pattern is another new feature. The equipment has been overhauled and improved and all things considered splendid results are bound to be obtained during next season.

The various classes will be under the supervision of Physical Director Carpenter. Mr. Carpenter is an enthusiast on gymnasium work and since he has been in charge much interest in this line of work has been awakened.

State Firemen's Convention.

Danville will be well represented at the Silver Anniversary Convention of the Pennsylvania State Firemen's Association to be held in the city of Erie October 4th to 7th.

The convention this year promises to be the largest and most complete in the history of the organization. Nearly every company of volunteer firemen in the state of Pennsylvania, as well as Western New York and Eastern Ohio will be represented by a large delegation. One-fare rates from all points in Pennsylvania and New Jersey within a radius of 150 miles in New York and Ohio have been arranged on all roads leading into the convention city. Arrangements have been made for housing and entertaining 20,000 visitors. Among the features of entertainment to be provided will be excursions to Niagara Falls, a few hours' ride, by Lake Shore R. R., leaving Erie at 8 a. m., Tuesday and Saturday, October 4th and 8th, good returning for five days. The exhibit of fire apparatus and appliances will be the largest ever displayed.

The Danville Department will be represented by Chief Engineer John Sherwood of the Goodwill Company. Following are the delegates who have been elected to represent their respective companies: Friendship, John Vastine, delegate; Warren Road, alternate; Continental, Alfred Mellin, delegate; George Yerrick, alternate; Goodwill, Jacob Strasser, delegate; John Sherwood, alternate. The Washington Company will elect a delegate and alternate next Saturday evening and at the same time this company will probably decide to attend the convention in a body. The Continental Company will attend in a body and a full turn out is expected.

What Is Life.

In the last analysis nobody knows, but we do know that it is under strict law. Abuse that law even slightly, pain results. Irregular living means derangement of the organs, resulting in Constipation, Headache or Liver trouble. Dr. King's New Life Pills quickly re-adjust this. It's gentle, y thorough. Brick Work Complete.

The brick work on Fourmania Brewery will be fore the close of the year. This is but the beginning number of improvements made at the plant. The capacity of the plant will be increased from year to year to 15,000 barrels and many new improvements will be made.

SHALL THE NAME BE CHANGED

Mill street as far as paved shows up admirably and the citizens of Danville are more than delighted with the improvement. With the trees cut down, the canal bridges removed and the street leveled to conform with the established grade a most charming vista is afforded to the eye from almost any point along the long thoroughfare. When paving is completed and the eye runs down over the clean-swept surface between the lines of trim curbing the effect will be exceptionally fine and Mill street will be a thoroughfare which in point of beauty will have few parallels in any of the towns the size of Danville.

There is not an hour of the day but some one is heard to remark upon the beauty of the street. Not a few become very enthusiastic and think that the old name "Mill street," is no longer good enough and that the paved street should be rechristened to conform with new conditions. The homely title of "Mill street," they declare, might have been appropriate enough in the past, but that now a name should be selected more in harmony with the conception of a business thoroughfare beautified as ours is to be.

The choice of a name might be safely left with Council, which within a recent period rechristened another street of this town, whose title had become obsolete, the name, "Rough and Ready street," being changed to "Iron street."

Fearful Odds Against Him.

Bodridon, alone and destitute. Such in brief was the condition of an old soldier by name of J. J. Havens, Versailles, O. For years he was troubled with kidney disease and neither doctors nor medicines gave him relief. At length he tried Electric Bitters. It put him on his feet in short order and now he testifies: "I'm on the road to complete recovery." Best on earth for Liver and Kidney troubles and all forms of Stomach and Bowel Complaints. Only 50c. Guaranteed by Paules & Co., Druggists.

The Danville Y. M. C. A.

Inasmuch as the Y. M. C. A. building is here to stay, and the Association commends itself to all persons who are interested in the welfare of young men, it is our desire that you become personally interested in this work in your own town, so that you may be in touch with the great world wide movement.

Come in and let us talk the matter over. We will tell you how easy it is to join, and explain the privileges and price of membership tickets. We will also give you information regarding the gymnasium and time of classes, show you our bath rooms, and tell you about the men's meetings, the Bible classes, the reading room, the game room, and show you through the building, and give you some points about the value of a membership ticket in other Associations throughout the United States.

There are a good many more things to tell about the Y. M. C. A. than we can put in print; but this item is printed to let you know that we would count it a pleasure to see you and give you further information. With a competent instructor in charge of the gymnasium, who gives personal attention to measurements and prescribes proper exercise, and who conducts the classes, a membership ticket in the Danville Association this winter will be of special value to every young man in the community.
