Arrangements for the coming reunion of the Twelfth Regiment Pennsylvania Volunteer Association of the Spanish-American War, which will be held in Milton on Saturday, October and the only things needful to make the affair a great success are good weather and a large attendance of the members of the regiment. The latter to postmasters reads as follows : is reasonably assured, as the notices which are being received daily by the local committee indicate that a goodly number of the boys will be on hand. The sessions of the reunion will open promptly at two o'clock with President James B. Coryell presiding and will continue throughout the afternoon and evening. From five to seven p. m., supper will be served in the Armory. The supper will be given at the expense of the association and will be free to all visiting and local delegates. This feature will be in charge of the ladies of Trinity Lutheran church.

Promptly at 7:30 p. m., the regiment will form for a short parade. The procession will be headed by Gaskins' famous military band of Sunbury, and this celebrated musical organization will also be present at the evening session to play the soul-stirring marches so dear to the heart of every soldier boy.

Everybody is Contented.

The Danville real estate market in at present at low ebb. It may be taken as proof positive that all of the people living in this city and owning property here are content with their lot and have no desire to get rid of their possessions in order to move to ject must, of necessity, contain the other places. Unquestionably the pubthe advent of the new trolley line are adding to the desirability of this city story of "The Missouri Girl" that esbusiness and eventually will add to at the theatre witnessing this play is the value of property.

That the real estate market is dull is shown by the experience of one real estate man who has considerable business whenever properties are being transferred. To an AMERICCN man he said, when questioned yesterday, "I really know of only one property at the present time that is being offered for sale."

Such a condition is all right. Dan ville wants all of the present citizens and more, too. There is plenty of room to grow and the progressive people of the city feel certain that industrial growth is coming and with it increased population.
