

BERWICK MAY GET THE COLLEGE

The final disposition of the question of the removal of Albright College which was expected to be made on Tuesday by the Board of Trustees at Meyersstown in a session there, will in all probability be delayed for several months in order to give the people of Berwick a chance to secure more funds to insure the final location of the college in their town.

TO MAKE A CHANGE IN GOOD ROADS LAW

State Highway Commissioner Hunter will make an effort at the coming session of the legislature to secure the passage of a bill amending the road law of 1903 so as to make it obligatory on the part of supervisors to give their approval when a majority of the property owners along a proposed road have petitioned for the improvements.

Christmas Home-Coming.

As Christmas approaches what heart that is not caloused with greed and selfishness does not ache with sweet longing for the old home?

At this mystic season, if at no other, memories of childhood become smiling angels that beckon us back through the years.

Idle sentiment? Not at all. All over our own land Christmas brings back to the old home the children and the children's children, once more to set our lips to the spring of love that is pure and undefiled.

Whether we turn back to it from success and joys or from failures and sorrows, the old home is ever a sanctuary of virtues and the sweetest earthly interpretation of heaven.

The king of finance and the prodigal once more become brothers at the old home and learn that the things which seem so important to us in this world are, after all, but a thin covering.

Whether we be wise or ignorant, rich or poor, great or little, the old home offers us satisfaction and inspiration to be found nowhere else in the world.

For many of us the old home may no longer exist except in memory. But if in memory it is enshrined, then whatever the disappointments, the deceptions, the despairs of life, we may turn for new hope, new courage and renewed ideals back to the old home, where love glows steadily against the world's coldness.

If Christmas had no other meaning than just this—that it turned us back to the old home, that nursed of the infinite, and to the loves and dreams and longings and resolves of youth, the day would still be the happiest and most helpful one in all the year.

Another Victim.

Squire Dalton was another victim of icy sidewalks, Wednesday night. After stepping out of his office to come up street, he discovered that he had left some papers on his desk that he needed. He turned quickly to retrieve his papers, and his feet just as quickly slipped from under him. His back struck the sidewalk in a gentle manner, and his hat landed half way across the street. He escaped serious injury, but was considerably jarred by the sudden impact with the sidewalk.

Thirty-Two Dozen Quail.

The members of the committee of the Danville Rifle and Gun Club recently appointed to solicit funds for the purchase of quail to stock the country in this vicinity have about completed their work. Sufficient money has been pledged to warrant the purchase of thirty-two dozen quail. These birds will be distributed about the middle of March.

Christmas Trees.

Christmas trees were on sale in town yesterday and found a ready market. Several lots were disposed of during the day at prices ranging from 25 cents to $1, according to the size.

Arrested for Trespassing.

Charles Ashton and James Long were before Squire Oglesby Tuesday afternoon, charged with trespassing on the Reading Railroad and the larceny of coal. The information was lodged by Detectives Simmers and Purley. The case was settled and the defendants discharged from custody.

MISSING MAN FOUND AT MUNCY

Charles Johnson of Catawissa, whose strange disappearance from home on Friday last has caused his family and friends much anxiety, was heard of yesterday in this city. He was also in Muncy and Washingtonville. From Washingtonville he was traced to Muncy, where he spent last night. Two of his relatives passed through this city last evening enroute for Muncy to take charge of the man.

Tuesday morning he passed unnoticed through Danville and took the road to Maudsall. Mrs. J. H. Shultz of that place had driven to this city, and on her way home passed him. Some time after her arrival he presented himself at her door and asked for something to eat. As it was about dinner time and he was invited to remain for the meal. The family noticed his peculiar actions and appearance. He gave no name, and entered into no conversation. From some blood spots on his clothes, he appeared to have had a fall. After dinner he thanked Mrs. Shultz and started toward Washingtonville, and it was not until later in the day when the Morning News containing an account of the disappearance and a description of the man reached Maudsall that the Shultz family discovered who the man was. He tallied with the description in every respect, the missing tooth, the red hair and the suit case.

Toward evening he arrived in Washingtonville. He inquired his way to the Burgess, and upon finding Dr. R. S. Patten, told him that he was without money and looking for work; so he requested that the town furnish him with lodging and breakfast. Dr. Patten gave him an order as desired on Landlord Amador Heddens, at whose hotel he spent the night. Here, as at Maudsall, his actions were most eccentric. He gave a fictitious name, but told the truth about his home being at Catawissa. He was very quiet, only speaking when he was addressed, and then but shortly. After breakfast yesterday he left Washingtonville, taking the road to Turbotville and Muncy.

When the authorities learned yesterday of his presence in this vicinity, word was sent to the towns between Washingtonville and Muncy. Last night he was located in a hotel at Muncy and two of his brothers-in-law started at once to that town.

COLD STORAGE BIRDS IN REGION

Farmers in the vicinity of Herndon have made a big deal in cold storage turkeys and the markets in Shamokin promise to be flooded with ancient but well preserved birds on Thursday and Saturday.

A few of these progressive husbands, believing turkeys would be as high if not higher in Yuletide than they were at Thanksgiving time, recently bought a car-load of cold storage birds from Wisconsin.

These were quickly disposed of to neighboring farmers and four more car loads were ordered. These arrived a few days ago and were sold to farmers in the Mahanoy, Maitland and neighboring valleys, some reaching Irish Valley. The whole south-western part of Northumberland county is flooded with the birds.

Many of these delectable birds, most of them from four to eight years old, will find their way into the Shamokin market on Thursday and Saturday. Farmers will tell the housewife that they thought they would dress their turkeys this year instead of bringing them in alive, and in that way may dispose of many.

Christmas Spirits in Stores.

The time for purchasing Christmas presents is rapidly passing; and the shopper who delays is not only running the risk of not getting what he or she wants, but is running the risk of violating the Christmas spirit in various ways. The stores are crowded now and by the latter part of the week the crowds will create a good cheer. This is the season when good cheer is an inspiration to all and persons are supposed to act charitably toward their fellows. In no way is this spirit to be more effectively and worthily displayed than toward the saleswomen and salesmen in the stores. They are harassed from early until late by persistent inquiries of vague shoppers, who do not know their own mind and often seek expert advice as well as goods. They are blamed for errors for which they are not responsible. They are held accountable for defective articles or materials. They are scolded if they yield to weariness and answer tartly to impertinent remarks. They must be monuments of patience, tact and information. They are a role keenly grateful for a kindly word, for a bit of helpful consideration and a little patience on the part of customers. They cannot wait on everybody at once.

THE GUARD INVITED TO INAUGURATION

The National Guard of Pennsylvania, through Governor Pennypacker, its commander-in-chief, has been invited as a body to participate in the ceremonies attendant on the inauguration of President Roosevelt as President, in Washington, on the 4th of March. The matter of accepting the invitation was taken up by Governor Pennypacker and Adjutant General Stewart, Tuesday, but no definite action was taken, and a conclusion will not be reached until next week.

Whether the Guard will go as a whole, or whether a provisional brigade will be formed, are matters to be settled at a future meeting, if it is determined that Pennsylvania shall be represented by her military. For many years Pennsylvania has sent her Guardsmen to honor the inaugural occasion, and always with pride, but at the last inauguration some of the Guardsmen considered that a slight was put upon Pennsylvania by the people of Washington in blaming them for the misconduct of troops from other States, and Pennsylvania was made to pay for damage that was not done by her troops.

Then, too, the Pennsylvania troops have been sneered at by residents of Washington and they are not in mood to invite that sort of treatment again. As a matter of fact the sentiment against going to Washington to march in the inaugural parade prevails generally in the Guard, and it is possible that this is being considered by the Governor and his military advisors.

Boiler Explosion Killed Four.

Four men lost their lives in a terrible boiler explosion which occurred at Redline's saw mill, near Rohrsburg, Columbia county, about two o'clock yesterday afternoon. The dead are: William Redline, who leaves a wife and one child; Irvin Kline, a single man, who lived with his mother, on Frank Bogart's farm, Rohrsburg; Charles Wright, a brother of J. W. Wright, of Bloomsburg, who is survived by a wife and three children; Elias Ash, of Rohrsburg, aged 58 years. Survived by a wife and two children.

The boiler which exploded was one of thirty-five horse power and was considered in good condition. The cause of the explosion is not known. The suddenness and horror of the event was appalling. The four men killed were terribly mangled in the explosion. They were the only ones about the mill in such a position as to be caught, all others that might have been about the mill escaping injury.

The explosion was heard for many miles around. Bartley Albertson was working in the woods nearby. When the explosion occurred he ran to the mill. A terrible scene presented itself. The boiler, which was blown to portables type, was nearly blown to atoms, while the mill was little better than a pile of ruins.

The mill was owned by Benjamin Redline, father of William Redline, who was one of the victims. The mill is located on the timber tract of I. P. Smith, situated about two miles above Rohrsburg.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

The Young Men's Christian Associations of the Northwest are beginning a building for the young men of Calgary, having already pledged, $6,000, and at Brandon, Manitoba, $4,000, is pledged. At Binghamton, N. Y., $100,000 has been pledged. At the suggestion of a young lady stenographer, Mrs. Hamiston, a lady seventy-five years old, gave $20,000 last week for a building for the Association at Pontiac, Ill., with the provision that $10,000 be secured for a site. Of this amount $,000 was pledged in one evening. The International Training school for Y. M. C. A. secretaries at Springfield, Mass., has just been notified of a bequest of $10,000 from Miss Frances S. Moody, of Bath, Me. Several colleges and universities, such as the State College at Ames, Ia., and the State University at Madison, Wis., have big Association building enterprises on hand, and buildings in process of erection, to cost $75,000 to $75,000. The amount of money the Associations have invested for new buildings the past year runs up into millions of dollars.

Famous Club House Burned.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—The Metropolitan club house, famous as a home of men prominent in social and official life, was completely gutted by fire which broke out at 5 o'clock this morning. In addition to the club house several adjoining buildings were destroyed. It is estimated that the loss will be from $50,000 to $100,000, partly covered by insurance. The fire was caused by a spark from an electric wire near the elevator shaft. The flames broke out at 5 o'clock this morning and, fanned by a strong wind, soon enveloped the entire building. They were not extinguished until nearly five hours later. The club has a large membership, embracing some of the best known men in public life, but none of them were in the building at the time of the fire. A library estimated to be worth upwards of $1,500 and containing some volumes that cannot be replaced escaped practically uninjured.

The good citizen is the man who removes snow and ice from his pavement and keeps it safe for pedestrians.

RIVER AT BERWICK NEARLY IMPASSABLE

While the people of Danville and Catawissa are being favored with a substantial and free passage across the river, those of Berwick are having trouble galore on their hands. They are paying dearly for some of it, too. The river between Neesopeck and Berwick is practically impassable. The strong efforts made at those places to keep the ferries running has had the effect of keeping the river at Berwick practically open, although full of drifting ice in huge masses, which make it very dangerous for boats.

Boats, however, crossed yesterday. After that few had the hardihood to venture out. The passenger who gets across the river now at Berwick pays for it. Fifty cents is the price charged by the boatmen and it is generally conceded that they earn the money, as it takes from an hour to an hour and a half to battle with the ice and to thread their way across.

A man must have urgent business and be of strong nerve to submit to the experience of crossing the river at present. Not only is the long ride in the cold a great trial in itself, but at every turn the passenger is menaced with danger from the ice cakes which are liable to crash the boat, and from the falls below that are waiting to swallow him up.

Save Santa.

There be persons who insist that all of life shall be laid out with rule and square and spirit level, and nothing outside their measurements shall be permitted. These people, whose continuous demand is for facts and nothing but facts, demand that no recognition be given to Santa Claus. They insist that Santa is a myth and that to give him any recognition is bound to weaken little children's love of truth.

Any child whose tendency truthward is obstructed only by belief in Santa has a better chance of immortality than many another who has not been friendly with His Grace, Veracity. Coming to a showdown, as the old gentleman would say, do we, all of us, all the time, set the little ones an admirable example in the telling of truth? Do our "not at home" files influence them? Do our pretensions of regard, publicly delivered to the recipient and privately withdrawn with accompanying disparagement and back-biting, leave the little hearers unmoved? Is the—but why continue? The man or woman whose veins are filled with red blood and who is not without the love of children, which is the one mundane evidence of the higher feeling—a boon if you would but know it—such a man or woman must know that Santa Claus is the personification of the Christmas Spirit—and he who should deny the Christmas Spirit would deny much more. But, say some of the gentlemen of rule and compass, Santa Claus is a relic of paganism and therefore pernicious. Go to! Or, rather, go to your books and learn how many of your cherished festivals are of hoary age, but none the less respectable thereof.

Meets With An Accident.

A lot of worthless dogs running at large through the street, bumping against and annoying people is a sufficient nuisance without the canines forming a combination with icy sidewalks to trip people up. Through such an association of forces Miss Alice Fry, daughter of Alfred Fry, North Mill street, sustained a bad fall, on Mill street, at about 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The young lady was about to cross the D. L. & W. railroad track, when two dogs, one chasing the other, dashed up behind her and before she could get out of their way, ran against her. The force of the collision, assisted by the icy sidewalks upon which she was walking, caused her to fall heavily, the back of her head striking the ice. She was assisted to her feet and into a store where attention was given her. Miss Fry was considerably dazed for awhile, but in a short time had recovered sufficiently from the severe shock she had sustained to return home unattended.

Negro Student Honored.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Dec. 21.—W. C. Matthews, the negro foot ball and base ball player, was elected yesterday one of Harvard's senior class day officers. One of the highest honors in the gift of Crimson under graduates. Matthews will serve in the class day committee together with A. C. Travis, of New York, president of the Harvard Crimson, L. M. Thornton, manager of the base ball; Walter Harrison, captain of the water polo team and H. B. Webster, the oarsman.

Edward B. Kemble, editor of the Mt. Carmel Item, is lying dangerously ill at his home of blood poisoning, caused by a small cut. Mr. Kemble can't get milk. The member settled and on Friday was of great size. Saturday the editor became very ill and a physician ordered him to bed. His condition is extremely critical.

SLEIGHLOAD OF PEOPLE NEARLY DROWNS

What might have resulted in a very serious accident, took place at Wapwallopen Tuesday night when a sleigh party attempted to cross the river on the ice. The party thought it would be safe to cross and as none of the party seemed to have any fear as to the result the driver decided to drive across the stream.

Suddenly the ice broke and the horses and sleigh sank into the river. After a struggle they succeeded in getting out. The horses were finally gotten to shore but the sleigh is at the bottom of the river. There were eight persons in the sleigh and all were given a cold bath. The team and sleigh were the property of Berwick livyman.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed by a running cold or other cause, it swells and when it swells it causes deafness. It is not a permanent deafness, and unless the inflammation can be taken off and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever, nine cases out of ten are cured by using nothing but an anti-inflammatory condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that can not be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Sent on circulars, free. Hall's Family Pills are the best. Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Will Meet at Harrisburg.

The convention of the delegates to the diocesan convention of the Episcopal diocese of Harrisburg will no doubt be held in Harrisburg early in February for the election of a bishop to take the place which was so reluctantly declined by Rev. Dr. William T. Manning, of New York city. The arrangements for this gathering will be made by the standing committee of the diocese of which Rev. Dr. Charles Morrison, of Sunbury, is the chairman.

This standing committee will probably be called together within a few days by the chairman, and if present hopes are realized this convention will be held in Harrisburg. The invitation from that city for the next annual convention to be held there was accepted at Lancaster, and Harrisburg is favored for such meetings, because of its central location and railroad facilities.

The declination of Dr. Manning following his election to the assistant rectorship of Trinity Church, has again opened the discussion of candidates for the bishopric and there are many men mentioned. Almost all of the large cities of the diocese have men who are spoken of as candidates, and in some places there is a disposition to unite upon men inside of the diocese.

The convention will be a special meeting, at which the only business will be the election of a bishop, all other matters having been attended to at the Lancaster meeting.

Hotel Crushed by Falling Wall.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Dec. 20.—The east wall of the Peak building, Fifth street, Minneapolis, which was destroyed by fire last week, collapsed at 12:50 o'clock this morning and smashed Crocker's Hotel, a two-story lodging house that stood directly east of the ruins of the Peak building. The place was full of lodgers and the police of the locality say that many persons were asleep in the hotel when the structure, tearing it like an egg shell.

The building was reduced to a heap of ruins in the twinkling of an eye. A high wind that arose about midnight tore the southwest caught the tottering remnants of the Peak building and before warning could be conveyed to the patrons of the places in the vicinity the five-story pile of brick was away and fell. The lodgers were generally of the poorer class.

Fifty persons are known to have been in the hotel at the time of the accident. The ruined hotel building caught fire and the entire fire department started to rescue the people.

The civil court of appeals of San Antonio, Tex., has decided that a railroad ticket not used within a reasonable time is barred by the statute of limitations; that it was never contemplated that it should be held for half an average lifetime before being presented for transportation and carriers not occupy better position under the statute of limitations than a promissory note payable on demand.

Friends of the Rev. Dr. Eckel, of Williamsport, rector of Christ Episcopal church, are now urging his election to the bishopric. He is eminently fitted for the episcopal duties.

A New Swindle.

Don't be victimized by this new swindle. It is a clever one and unless you are posted you might easily be taken in by it. A stranger recently appeared at the hotel of John Westover, at Garmen's Mills, Cambria county, and stated that he had been without food and money for two days. He was taken to the dining room and told to eat all he wanted. When he finished the meal he drew his handkerchief from his pocket and a $20 note fell on the floor. The waitress picked it up and gave it to Westover, who was angered by the attempt to fleece him. Westover deducted 75 cents for the meal and handed over $19.25, which the man took and departed. Not long afterward Westover found the bill to be counterfeit.

The snowfall of Saturday afternoon cost New York $380,000, to be carted from the principal streets and dumped into the rivers. 25,000 men were engaged Sunday, in removing the 7.8 inches fall, in the business part of the metropolis.
