Danville, Pa., Jan. 19, 1905.

STUDENT'S CASE IS SMALLPOX

After a careful diagnosis of the case the attending physicians announced on Tuesday morning that Ore, the sick student at Bucknell University, was suffering from a mild attack of smallpox, and the following statement was issued from the college:

John W. Cure, a Bucknell Freshman, was exposed to a case of smallpox during the holiday vacation. When the young man was taken ill, probably a case of varioloid, he was immediately quarantined in the town hospital four blocks from the college building, in care of an experienced nurse and under strict guard. Dr. T. C. Thornton, of the Borough Board of Health, and Dr. G. G. Groff, of the State Board of Health, have had the rooms and clothing disinfected and fumigated and as a further precaution all the students, professors and employes have been ordered to be vaccinated. Both of the physicians referred to are of the opinion that there is no danger and all of the students with the exception of two or three are remaining.

The case is reported to be a very mild one and Cure's condition is not considered at all serious. He is aged about 23 years and resides at Jersey, this State. It is said that while at home during the vacation he came in contact with a relative who it is now believed was suffering from smallpox. The authorities at the college have taken every precaution to prevent a spreading of the disease and no other cases are expected to develop.

POPULAR TELEPHONE PROMOTER TO WED

Frank M. Green, Esq., of Shamokin, who will be remembered by many Danville people as one of the promoters of the Montour and Columbia telephone line, will be married on the 24th inst. to Miss Elizabeth W. Durfee, of Washington, D. C. During the summer of 1899 Mr. Green was located in this city.

The Shamokin Herald says: "Mr. Green had told some of his most intimate friends of his intended marriage only within the last few days, and the announcement was received with great pleasure."

Miss Durfee is well known and has a host of good friends in Shamokin, having been for several years a prominent member of the High School faculty where she was instructor in French, German and art. She is a graduate of Wellesley College and was one of the most efficient teachers our High School has ever had. Endowed with a charming and attractive personality she made many friends among our best people who will wish her all happiness in her future life.

Mr. Green and his bride will make their home in Washington. Before coming to Shamokin he had lived in the Capital for thirty years, and he will be among his friends, and on the ground where he began business as a young man. He will again take up the practice of law.

HOUSE TO DISCUSS DUTY REDUCTION

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The ways and means committee of the House today decided to grant hearings, beginning next Monday and continuing daily through the week, on the Curtis bill, reducing the duties on sugar and tobacco from the Philippines to 25 per cent. of the prevailing Dingley tariff rate. The committee will take a vote on the bill on Monday a week. Secretary of War Taft is among the notables who will give testimony before the commission.

Without the delay the House upon convening today took up the Swayne articles of impeachment. By agreement voting upon the several propositions will begin at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Mr. McCall, (Rep., Mass.) the first speaker favored the minority proposition that Judge Swayne's only offense was not warranted by his actual expenses.

Prominent Editor Dead.

LANCASTER, Jan. 18.—J. M. W. Grist, one of the best known newspaper men in Pennsylvania, and one of the founders and, until recently, head of the editorial department of the New Era, died this morning from the infirmities incident to old age. He was in his eighty-first year and had been in ill health for about a year. He began his editorial career in 1844 as editor and publisher of the Reformer, a temperance journal published at Harrisburg. In 1866 he came to this city to take editorial charge of the Express, continuing as head of that journal until the New Era was founded in 1877.

Prominent Bethlehem Doctor Dead.

BETHLEHEM, Jan. 18.—Dr. Samuel J. Weaver, Lehigh Valley railroad surgeon, and the only Republican ever elected to the office of coroner of Northampton county, died suddenly today, of neuralgia of the heart, aged fifty-four years.

Deaf Mute Basketball Team.

The next basketball attraction will be on Saturday evening when the Silent Five, a team composed of deaf mutes from the Wyoming Valley, all of whom are graduates of the Mr. Airy Institute for the Deaf at Philadelphia, will play the Danville team.

THOUSANDS OF RATS IN SUNBURY PRISON

Rats by the hundreds and by the thousands have found a happy home in the Sunbury jail for many generations, but now their sweet seclusion is disturbed by the rude hand of man. They have romped and roamed at will through the prison corridors. In fond imagination they have grown to regard the delightful recesses of that charming citadel as their ancestral halls. But heartless and unpoetic man has sounded the death knell of the rodent's fondest dream.

George Stecker, of Mount Carmel, is the invader. He is a cement contractor, and is laying concrete floors in the Northumberland county prison. Wooden floors that have been untouched since the jail was built are being torn up and replaced by the more modern material.

As the army of workmen have proceeded with tearing up the floors, thousands of rats have been encountered. The men have been killing them off as rapidly as possible, and in the massed material assistance has been rendered by a corps of competent dogs. On Tuesday last week, according to actual count, over three thousand rats were slain. Mr. Stecker and other gentlemen of un doubted veracity are authority for this statement.

The merciless destruction of the rats may form the subject matter for future contemplation. The long-tailed, ebony-eyed, nocturnal ringer had become a fixture at the jail, and every man or woman or child who has there found a haven of rest will never permit fond remembrance to dwell upon the delightful associations there without expressing well wishes for the little animals who were such close and constant companions.

Long term guests at this summer and winter resort who have grown to regard conditions there as home like will find it an additional hardship to accustom themselves to a life without rats. We cannot believe that the prison authorities have any warrant to thus visit impunity and punishment to the life of the prisoner. Perhaps they have neglected to devote to this matter the due consideration it deserves.

Unhappy felon! No longer will he awake during the long vigils of the night, and muse

"In the prison cell I sit, Watling rodents as they fit; Joy is mine in this old jail, Squinting at my pet rat's tail."

All who use Atomizers in treating nasal catarrh will get the best result from Ely's Liquid Cream Balm. Price, including sprayer, tube, 75 cents. Sold by druggists or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren St., N. Y.

New Orleans, Sept. 1, 1900. Messrs. ELY BROS.—I sold two bottles of your Liquid Cream Balm to a customer, Wm. Lambertson, 1415 Delachaise St., New Orleans; he has used the two bottles, giving him wonderful and most satisfactory results.

MURKIDEN PEOPLE LEAVE THE CITY

MURKIDEN, Jan. 18.—The Chinese population of the city are leaving in expectation of a Japanese advance. Natives report that 40,000 Japanese from General Nogai's force at Port Arthur have advanced northward to join Field Marshal Oyama.

RUSSIA BUILDING SUBMARINE BOATS

LONDON, Jan. 18.—The Central News correspondent at St. Petersburg reports that several submarine boats, on the type of the Protector recently imported from America are nearing completion at the Newsky works. One or two of the boats are ready for launching. The boats are being constructed in secret under the direction of an American expert. Two Ocean going steamers of the volunteer type, the correspondents adds, and some gunboats for Manchurian rivers are also being built.

NO MONEY FOR RED CROSS WORK

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 18.—Since the revelations recently of official irregularities in the conduct of the Russian Red Cross Society the subscriptions to the society have almost disappeared. The result of this is that the future operations of the society on the field of war are threatened with suspension.

In women's seclude clubs, at Bethlehem, substitutes are in demand owing to reasonable colds among members.

We hear that an attempt to raise rents is being made by some landlords. Until work improves the tenants will have about all the can do to raise their rents at present figures.

Andrew Carnegie has departed from his usual habit of library endowing by giving $1,000 to the Hugh Beaver Memorial Gymnasium in Bellefonte. Mr. Carnegie was personally acquainted with the young son of ex-Governor Beaver whose premature death in 1897 is still sorrowfully remembered. Every one who came in contact with Hugh Beaver could not fail to be impressed with his personality and deep spiritual nature and Mr. Carnegie is evidently no exception.

Indiana miners complain that they have not enough working days. Things are different in Pennsylvania. Here the miners have so many working days that in pure self-defense or something of that kind they find it necessary to take holidays frequently.

III With Diphtheria.

Adaline, the little daughter of Rev. and Mrs. A. Lawrence Miller, of Catawissa, is suffering from a severe attack of diphtheria. Rev. Mr. Miller was a former pastor of Saint Peter's M. E. church, South Danville.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood. If they are sick or fail of order, they fail to do their work. Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidneys.

Kidney trouble causes quick or steady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is overworking in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries. It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits.

You may have a sample bottle by mail. Home of Swamp-Root, free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

Don't make no mistake but try it under the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

TUCKER DEFENSE TO TRY FOR AN ALIBI

BOSTON, Jan. 18.—The defense in the trial of Charles L. Tucker, on trial for killing Mabel Page, has summoned at least six and possibly ten new witnesses, whose names have never before been mentioned in connection with the case.

They are relied on to complete the testimony on which the defendant's counsel will base Tucker's alibi. The names of all these witnesses have been jealously guarded. Louis White and Frank Kimball are two of them. White it is said, saw Tucker talking to Charles Bourne on Commonwealth avenue, shortly before they met Miss Mabel Walker, the mysteriously missing witness.

White is expected also to tell as nearly as he can the time he is said to have passed Edward Page, father of the murdered woman on his way home on that fateful afternoon. Kimball is a young man employed at the Thorpe and Marlin store, where Tucker worked for a time. He has known Tucker for several years and the two young men were friends.

Kimball is expected to identify the stick pin found in Tucker's pocket the evening of his arrest which Amy Roberts, the maid at the Page home declared was the property of Miss Mabel Page, as one that Tucker had when he was at work for Thorpe and Marlin. It has been learned that John Frost, the boat house man who saw Tucker crossing the Western bridge on his way toward Cutter's corner, will be the only witness called who saw the defendant twice during that fateful hour between 12 and one o'clock on the afternoon of the murder.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES. An organization of women who have received recognition and commendation from the President of the United States, Secretaries of War and Navy, for their services to soldiers and sailors, held their eighth annual meeting at the residence of Miss Helen Miller Gould, in New York City, last week. The Women's Auxiliary of the International Committee of the Young Men's Christian Association was organized by women who took the relief work and received the approbation of the country for their services to the sick and wounded who returned from Cuba and encamped at Montauk Point after the Spanish-American War. The organization has now nearly 500 members, with branches in several parts of the country. Its president is Mrs. E. A. McAlpin, Mrs. Russell Sage is first vice-president, Miss Helen Miller Gould second vice-president and Mrs. Charles F. Darlington secretary-treasurer. Many of the wives of prominent officers of the Army and Navy have taken the lead in the movement. Among these are Mrs. Barker, Mrs. Chaffee, Mrs. Luce and Mrs. McCallis.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and described remedial remedies, and by constantly trying to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. The offer of one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Hall's Family Pills are the best. Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Buy a Paper. A man over in Indiana in returning home from hunting the other day found his neighbor just leaving the house, and being of a jealous nature, drew his gun and fired the man's leg with fine shot. A law suit followed and it was learned that the man was there to borrow the local paper. The law suit cost $75 and the doctor bill was $25 and $1 would have saved the trouble.

TEACHING HIS MULES

Will Learn Anything His Mules Can Perform. Expert horsemen believe that a horse can be taught to do anything that it is possible for an animal so formed and to be utterly fearless. Thus we know of horses rushing into battle with a fearlessness that is magnificent, although in the beginning of their lives they may have been foolishly timid, shying at everything unusual that happened to be seen in their travels.

In order to teach a horse fearlessness he must be accustomed to all sorts of sights and sounds. He must come to know that because something that he sees or hears is unusual it does not follow that it is harmful, for it is the unusual things that frighten him. The horse is an animal of one idea at a time and is not able to discriminate, so any the men who have made a study of training a horse will tell him he will travel alone quietly close by the rear of a train, he may tremble at the flutter of a piece of loose paper flying in the wind. It is not the frightfulness of the object that seems to alarm him, but the unfamiliarity of it. Horse trainers say that the mistakes made in "breaking" a horse is that it is too often done in the seclusion of some country road instead of amid the sights and sounds that the animal must necessarily become familiar with later.

As soon as the horse becomes familiar with anything and has learned to believe that it will not hurt him, he will stand quietly or trot along peacefully, even though all sorts of noises and queer sights are about him. Thus the artillery horse will stand amid the roar of cannons, being used to the noise and not knowing that the sound predicts anguish and death. It is well to accustom a horse to unusual sounds as soon as possible after he is trained for riding or driving. It renders him safe and docile, even though he be a spirited animal. A certain trainer of horses said that an ideal school for horses would contain threshing machines, pile drivers, steam drills, disc plows and elevated cars, a band of martial music and a gang of quarrymen blasting rock. A horse that was drilled among such a bedlam as this would indeed prove immune to strange noises. The gentle family horse, petted by man and child, is not always trained to all this, yet he often makes a useful and faithful animal, loved by his owner and evidently making some return of affection.—Detroit Tribune.

MONKEY PRANKS.

The Way One Canning Ape Served a Thieving Crow. Recently a monkey got the better of the common enemy, the carrier pigeon, by feigning illness. He was fastened to a bamboo pole with a running ring. When he was on his perch the crows annoyed him by stealing from his porringer on the ground.

One morning they had been specially disagreeable. He closed his eyes and feigned to be ill. When his day's food was brought him the crows descended upon it, and he had scarcely strength to defend it. By good acting he managed to capture one of the crows. To pluck it alive was the obvious course. Then, instead of pulling it to pieces, like the king monkey whom Kipling and Sir Edward Buck attached a similar triumph at Simla, this monkey tossed the crow into the air, where its own companion fell upon it and killed it.

Monkeys certainly have a sense of fun. Darwin used to spend hours watching a young female orang outang in the zoological gardens and was sure that she had the comic sentiment. She delighted to put upon her head, like a cap, a peculiar shaped bowl, which had a droff effect, and she was sensitive to the effect which her joke produced upon the spectators.—Lahore Tribune.
