The oldest men in the service of the Pennsylvania Railroad at Altoona say they do not recall another winter when there was so much snow, when it is piled along the tracks from 5 to 15 feet high.

The boys and girls never had a better or more prolonged season of coasting than the past six weeks. There has not been so much snow, but just enough to 'patch' up the spots, and with a little thaw or rain and then freezing, an ideal surface has been formed on the hill streets.

It is predicted that by the year 2000 from 200 to 300 new foods will be at man's service. That is all very well, but better would it be to hear that those foods we have now were not to be put out of service to the average man by their ever-increasing cost.

St. Patrick's day is only a month away. That means the winding up of Winter.

February has a temperature deficiency of over 200 degrees as compared with the normal temperature for a like period. The rule of averages applied to this fact makes it probable that we shall have an excess of something like what many degrees above the normal next July and August. When you are shivering a bit today and tomorrow just console yourself with this reflection.

BOROUGH COUNCIL IN SESSION

At Friday night's regular meeting of Borough Council Mr. Reifsnnyder of the Light Committee stated that the Municipal Light plant would be in operation on or before March 1. Some delay has been occasioned by the severe weather of the past week, which made it impossible to do outside work.

It was recommended that an alarm whistle be placed at the new light plant to be used at night, when it is necessary to call the electrician. The matter was referred to the Light Committee as also the erection of guard rails, as a matter of safety, at the plant.

A communication was received from Caldwell, Barry and Leonard desiring to know why the payment of $19.00 due that firm from the Borough had been delayed. The Borough claims that said firm damaged the pavement at the Water Works during the erection of the bridge abutment, and that the amount of damage done would probably be equal to, if not exceed the amount due Caldwell, Barry and Leonard. Action in the bill was deferred until the matter was adjusted.

Mr. Reifsnnyder of the Streets and Bridges Committee recommended the purchasing of a car load of four foot cotta pipe to be used at the Ferry street culvert. The Secretary was instructed to secure prices on pipe of this size at once.

The following members were present: Reifsnnyder, Vastine, Boyer, Swank, Fenstermacher, Dietrich and Joseph Gibson. In the absence of President Davis, Mr. Vastine presided.

The following bills were ordered paid: Regular Employees, $82.50; Postage, 5.00; Street Labor and Hauling, 16.71; Sarah McCone, 3.00; W. H. Ammerman Co., 67.50; David R. Williams, 67.50; Labor at Light Plant, 6.00.

WATER DEPARTMENT. Regular Employees, $129.70; P. & R. R. Co., freight, 73.15; P. & R. Coal & Iron Co., 135.88; Washington Fire Co., 75; Joseph Lechner, 10.30; Labor on Streets, 3.00; Harry B. Patton, 20.00.

Martha Washington Supper. The W. M. C. A. auditorium never presented a more animated appearance than last evening, between the hours of 5 and 7 o'clock, during which time the Ladies' Auxiliary served a most delightful supper to about 450 persons. From the time the supper started, the room was filled, and presented a scene of activity and bustle that suggested there was "something doing."

It being Washington's Birthday and a "Martha Washington Supper," there were special decorations, consisting of flags and patriotic emblems, cherries and cherry trees, hats and other Washington reminders.

All the ladies in attendance were attired in Martha Washington cap and kerchief, and presided over the supper with grace and dignity, and served all in the most charming way. The entire evening was a success from beginning to end, and reflects great credit on the Ladies' Auxiliary, who may feel proud of their excellent supper.

Best Game of the Season. The basket ball fans who failed to attend the Danville-Ashtand game at the Army last night, missed the most brilliant game of the season. Both teams were at their best, but the local team seemed to have a shade the best of the visitors in passing and goal throwing.

The forward playing of S. J. Welliver was of the professional order and he succeeded in landing 8 goals from the field, several of which were marvelous. Fouls were numerous but can not be avoided in a game as fast as that of last night, and are excusable.

Schler was injured in the last half, severely cutting his finger on the wire screen while handling the ball. Barry was substituted and played the position in his usual fine form. Following is the score:

Will Occupy Brown Building. J. K. Evans, barber, who has been located at 420 East Market street for several years past, in the spring intends to occupy the first floor of the Brown building as a business stand.

Injured by a Fall. Mrs. F. H. Vaanan, South Danville is suffering from the effects of a fall sustained in her house on Saturday. She was in the act of stepping across the room when her foot caught in the fringe of a couch, which caused her to fall heavily to the floor. Her shoulder struck a piece of furniture and she sustained a painful bruise.

SUICIDE AT GROVANIA

About 5 o'clock Friday afternoon, a freight crew on the Philadelphia and Reading railroad saw a black object lying in the snow several rods from the tracks and about 100 yards from a man. The railroad men immediately notified a number of farmers of the find, and the latter after reaching the spot, recognized the dead man as Robert S. Middleton, of Shamokin.

There being no Justice of the Peace in Cooper township and none nearer than Danville, Squire William V. Oglesby went from this city to inquire into the case. He was accompanied by Chief of Police Mincewoyer and several others. Not deeming an inquest necessary at that time, but to be prepared to hold one at any time in the future should it be found necessary or demanded, Squire Oglesby empaneled a provisional jury consisting of J. C. Mincewoyer, Arthur L. Davis, Charles Fry, Stuart Hartman, Theo. R. Angle and Alonzo Mauser.

Statements made by witnesses present, showed that Middleton was first noticed in Grovania on Thursday afternoon. He was seen entering the place on a freight train. Then at 8 o'clock that evening, Guy Mowrey saw a man who answered a description of Middleton, coming up the lane from the power house. He walked up to the Bloom road, then to the stone quarry. From there he returned to the trolley tracks, and then started in the direction of Danville. Shortly after dinner yesterday, a man answering the description of Middleton was seen by an employe of the power house, walking on the Reading railroad tracks in the direction of this city, near the spot where Middleton's body was found a few hours later.

Middleton for the past several weeks had been making things very unpleasant for his wife. He threatened to kill her at different times since they were married. It is said that he was subject to periodical fits of insanity, and when in that condition was very abusive. On account of his cruelty and ill treatment, Mrs. Middleton picked up her two year old son and fled from her home in Shamokin, January 18, leaving her 4 years old child behind. She went to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Heimbach, Grovania, with whom she is now living.

On Wednesday, February 15, a constable arrived at Grovania with a warrant, sworn out by Middleton and charging his wife, Minnie Middleton, with desertion. She was arrested, and subsequently gave bail in the sum of $300 before Justice of the Peace Oglesby for her appearance at court. A counter warrant was then issued charging Middleton with threatening to kill his wife, and holding up his father-in-law a highly respected citizen of this county. The documents were never served.

Although Mrs. Middleton had received word from Shamokin that her husband had left that city on Wednesday, she had no idea that he was in the vicinity of Grovania. Before leaving Shamokin at the time stated, Middleton is credited with having said to his 4 years old son and several others: "You will never see me again; the Susquehanna river is large enough to hold me." He left town soon after, and under the impression that he had other intentions and purposes on his mind than that of committing suicide, word of his departure was sent to Mrs. Middleton.

The couple had been married a number of years, and two children were born to them—Ross Edgar, 4 years of age, and Paul Leonard, aged 2 years. Middleton was a carpenter, and when at home in Shamokin, worked at the Scott millinery.

Death of Mrs. Faux. Mrs. Mary E. Faux, widow of the late James Faux, died at her home, No. 364 Church street, yesterday afternoon, about four o'clock. The deceased had been ill for about one year, of a complication of diseases. She is survived by five sons and three daughters: William Moser, of Mahoning township; Peter Faux, of Shamokin; James Faux, of Mahoning township; Jacob and Samuel Faux, of this city; Mrs. Peter Kinn, Mrs. Arthur Kelly, Mrs. Charles Keefe, also of this city. She was 73 years of age. The funeral will be held at No. 364 Church street on Friday afternoon at three o'clock. Interment in Old Fellows' cemetery.

Will Likely Select Harrisburg. Since the first convention to elect a Bishop for the new Harrisburg diocese of the Protestant Episcopal Church, Williamsport, has been doing everything to have that city made the see of the diocese. Recently Bishop-elect Darlington has been tendered it, a fine residence without money and without price as a consideration for the location of the bishop's headquarters in Williamsport. As the Bishop-elect is a man of independent fortune he will likely select Harrisburg as the see city.

A SMALL AUDIENCE

The mass meeting held in the interest of the Soldiers' Monument took place in the Opera House last night. Although it carried with it some disappointment as to the number of speakers, if not as to the size of the audience, it yet developed a high degree of interest.

Col. Hitchcock, of Scranton, and Thomas J. Semple, of Allegheny City, were both detained at their homes by illness and the Committee had to rely wholly upon local speakers. These by the way never acquitted themselves more creditably, proving wholly equal to the emergency.

After a selection by the band, Hon. James Foster, James Scarlet, Esq., District Attorney Ralph Kiser, Father Jules Poin, John H. Gosser and Major I. H. Seesholtz filed in before the floodlights and took seats upon the stage.

Hon. James Foster made some opening remarks, explaining the object of the meeting. He gave a history of the movement to build a Soldiers' Monument in Montour County dwelling upon the hard struggle that has been encountered. He expressed deep regret that a larger audience was not present to greet the speakers and that the pastors of to-wa as a class had not been proper to accept the invitation sent out to be present and help the cause along by giving each a short address.

The first speaker introduced was District Attorney Ralph Kiser, who made a ringing address along the line of patriotism which started enthusiastic applause.

Rev. Father Foin, rector of St. Hubert's Catholic church, was next introduced. Father Foin soon impressed the audience as an ardent patriot. He roused an impressive climax when he asked the audience to rise and produce a leaflet read extracts from Washington's Farewell address delivered in 1796, which stood as a keynote of all in the line of civil duty and patriotism that was advanced during the evening.

James Scarlet, Esq., was introduced as the next speaker. The popularity of this orator was well attested by the prolonged applause with which he was greeted. His address was all that was anticipated in effect being an irresistible appeal for assistance in erecting a suitable memorial to those who fell in the great Civil War.

He rose to a thrilling climax as he dwelt upon the brilliant military record of little Montour County, not only as related to the Civil War, but also to the war with Mexico. A Soldiers' Monument, he beautifully said, is not needed to honor the memory of those who went out to fight their country's battles; it should be built not to honor the dead, but to honor the living, a monument to the sacrifices of a bloody war—in honor of the wife whose husband never returned—in honor of the children who kissed their father for the last time. It is needed to inspire the youth of our day and to demonstrate that there is in Montour County gratitude as well as self-sacrifice.

About 7 o'clock Rev. S. B. Evans, pastor of St. Paul's M. E. church and Hon. H. M. Hinckley entered the Opera House and took their places on the stage. Rev. Evans followed Mr. Scarlet with a fine and practical address, which was enthusiastically received.

Mr. Hinckley next took the platform, speaking at considerable length. Mr. Hinckley is an enthusiastic speaker and last night he was wholly in his element. He soon had the audience roused to the highest pitch of enthusiasm. He dwelt upon the need of patriotism at the present day, such as inspired the soldiers of '61, aptly illustrating by the remark that "no doubt today many men shouted themselves hoarse over the memory of Washington who yesterday were busy buying and selling votes."

The last address of the evening was delivered by Major I. H. Seesholtz, of Catawissa, who gave the audience some points on building soldiers' monuments. Major Seesholtz was chairman of the Soldiers' Monument Committee when the memorial to the soldiers of the Civil War was raised in Catawissa. According to his remarks the task of rearing a Soldiers' Monument if rightly taken hold of is not so difficult a one as might be imagined.

The Opera House was tendered for the mass meeting free of cost. The band, too, gave its services free. The only ones who seemed to fall short of a full appreciation of duty were the citizens who failed to attend the meeting. The audience was a small one. Nevertheless Mr. Foster as Chairman of the Monument Committee expressed confidence that the monument would be erected. All those who wished to subscribe later were requested to hand their names to J. H. Gosser, Treasurer of the Monument Committee.

Miraculous Escape. Motorman Burger of Danville distinguished himself by an act of cool-headedness in Bloomsburg Friday afternoon whereby the life of a little girl was miraculously saved. The car, which was in charge of Conductor Stever Raver, had just descended the hill at the West end of Bloomsburg, and was running at a fast clip as is customary at that point. All of a sudden, bewildered or acting on some unaccountable impulse, an 8 year old girl dashed on the track right ahead of the car. The motorman had little hopes of saving the child, but all in a moment he reversed the car and did what else was required to effect an emergency stop. When the car came to a standstill it was less than a foot from the little girl. Eyewitnesses of the affair were horror-stricken and regard the stop made as one of the quickest and most remarkable on record.

VIEWERS' HEARING IS POSTPONED

Yesterday was the date set for the hearing in connection with the view on the old river road, which was held on the 10th inst. The hearing, however, was not held, although there was a good turnout of interested parties and the matter informally was once more fully discussed in all its bearings. Matthew Sheep, of Derry township and James Ellis, of Anthony township, viewers, put in appearance at the appointed time in the forenoon. D. F. Gouger, of Limestone township failed to arrive and the hearing was postponed until 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon hoping that by that time Mr. Gouger would be heard from.

When the viewers reconvened Mr. Gouger was still absent. It was learned, however, that he was indisposed and confined to his home. Under the circumstances, the hearing was adjourned until next Friday at 10 a. m. The old river road, which has been closed to travel for some two or three years has been the source of constant contention between the Supervisors of Mahoning township, who hold that the road is unnecessary and too burdensome to keep open, and several owners of property abutting on the thoroughfare and others who find it convenient to use the road, all of whom hold that the old highway is indispensable and who resist at every point measures adopted to vacate it. Twice already have the Supervisors been indicted charged with neglect of duty in not opening up the road.

Present at the hearing yesterday in addition to Messrs. Sheep and Ellis, viewers, were Edward L. White and James Heckendorf, Supervisors of Mahoning township, along with their attorneys, James Scarlet, Esq., and Hon. R. S. Ammerman. W. A. Shepperson and Robert Morris, who own land abutting on the old road, were also present along with others who consider the road a necessity. Hon. H. M. Hinckley and Edward S. Gearhart represent the citizens who oppose vacation.

The river road was laid out in 1832. About one-third of its length, about within the Borough limits. Between the creek's mouth and Lovers' Leap, about two-thirds of its length, the roads of the river long ago obliterated the last trace of the original road and before it was vacated the only way that vehicles could get through at certain points was by driving upon private property.

The heavy flood of the spring of 1903, cut up the old road along its entire length so badly as to make it practically impassable and it was closed by the Supervisors. To repair it, they held, would necessitate an outlay which was altogether unjustified in view of the fact that Northumberland street opened into a parallel road. Viewers were appointed, but an appeal was taken to their report, which favored vacation, and thus the matter has been in court ever since. Meanwhile the bridge at the creek's mouth, which could not be replaced for less than several thousand dollars, has been carried off, and this is urged as an additional reason why the road should be vacated.

Vacation is being opposed on the ground that the owners of the land below the creek's mouth would be deprived of an outlet; also that to close the river road would be in effect to vacate one of the streets of the Borough, which is held as a monstrous proposition that could not for a moment be countenanced.

The Supervisors deny that they desire to deprive any property of outlet. They seek to vacate only the superior right of the State, in which event the ground where the road still exists will revert to the owners of the land abutting there to be used as a private road or for any other purpose that the owners may see proper to apply to it.

Just what the report of the viewers may be will no doubt depend in great measure upon the result of the hearing next Friday.

District Organizer in Town. George Brown, of Shamokin, Division Organizer of the Sons of Veterans, arrived in this city last evening preparatory of mustering in a new Camp of the above named order tonight.

During an interview Mr. Brown stated that everything looked very encouraging and he had every reason to believe the new Camp would enter upon its career with some sixty members. Sons of Veterans are expected to be present from Shamokin, Bloomsburg and Milton, among the members from the latter place being a degree team which will do the work.

The meeting will be held in G. A. R. Hall at 7:30 o'clock. It is desirable however, that the members be on hand not later than 7:15 o'clock, owing to some preliminary matters pertaining to the muster that will have to be attended to first. All those whose names are on the list, and who have paid up, however, will become charter members of the Camp whether present tonight or not. At the same time they, even by complying as above, affords the last opportunity of becoming a charter member.

There was formerly a Camp of Sons of Veterans in Danville, which ceased to exist in 1891.

The proposition to increase the borough debt of Mt. Carmel by $50,000 to complete the sewer system carried by a vote of about five to one.

A LIGHT VOTE POLLED

The election Tuesday passed off very quietly. The weather conditions were all that could be desired. Overhead the day was spring-like and balmy; underfoot the streets were sloppy it is true, but the ice had disappeared and the walking on the whole was much better than for weeks past.

Voters, however, failed to turnout in large numbers and the vote polled was small even for spring election. In a few of the districts there was some degree of rivalry between the candidates, notably for Council, but nowhere was there anything like a determined fight among the candidates for any of the offices.

In the district Henry Wireman won out for Overseer of the Poor. In the Borough Benton B. Brown was the choice for High Constable and John L. Jones for Auditor. The vote for the various candidates stood as follows:

DISTRICT POOR DIRECTOR. Henry Wireman, R. First Ward, 220; Second Ward, 124; Third Ward, 120; Fourth Ward, 131; Mahoning Township, 111. Total, 706.

High Constable. Benton B. Brown, R. First Ward, 242; Second Ward, 148; Third Ward, 159; Fourth Ward, 148. Total, 697.

Auditor. John L. Jones, R. First Ward, 197; Second Ward, 124; Third Ward, 104; Fourth Ward, 110. Total, 535.

First Ward Council. William W. Davis, R., 159; Dr. J. Sweisfort, D., 248.

School Directors. Dr. F. E. Harpel, R., 248; Robert Adams, R., 227; Dr. F. E. Harpel, D., 106; Robert Adams, D., 115.

Judge of Election. Frank M. Herrington, R., 230; Harry T. Rupp, D., 184.

Inspector of Election. W. B. Grubb, R., 184; M. L. Landau, D., 185.

Constable. William E. Young, R., 803; William M. Heddens, D., 103.

Second Ward Council. Thomas J. Swank, R., 84; Jacob Dietz, D., 146.

School Director. William J. Burns, R., 167.

Judge of Election. J. Harry Woodside, R., 93; Alex. H. Grove, R., 138; Jacob Fischer, D., 110; Charles Voris, D., 95.

Inspector of Election. Charles M. Johnston, R., 122; Samuel Welliver, D., 99.

BI-COUNTY CONVENTION

The bi-county convention of the P. O. S. of A., which met in the G. A. R. Hall of Danville on Washington's Birthday, was attended by some 125 members of the order belonging to Montour and Columbia counties. No more successful convention has ever been held in the history of the order in these two counties. The addresses were earnest efforts, eloquent in tone and abounding in patriotic sentiments. The hall, which had been especially decorated for the occasion, was resplendent with the stars and stripes and presented a most striking appearance.

Owing to the absence of A. H. Kline, President, Robert Mapstone, Vice President, presided at the convention. The address of welcome and eulogy of Washington was delivered by Ralph Kiser, Esq., of Camp No. 364 and was an especially able effort. Rev. Bachman of Camp No. 204, Newlin, made the response which was also an appropriate and felicitous effort.

After hearing the reports officers were elected as follows: President, Rev. I. M. Bachman of Camp No. 204, Newlin. Vice President, J. V. Wilson, Camp No. 364, Danville.

Master of Forms, W. C. Schweppenheiser, Camp No. 654, Mifflinville. Secretaries, C. B. Wilson, Camp 364, Danville; C. S. Waltz, 640, Catawissa; E. G. Scheppenheiser, 105, Berwick. Conductor, Isaac Gross, Camp 864, Danville.

Treasurer, I. H. Seesholtz, Camp 540, Catawissa. Inspector, Charles Berry, Camp 105, Berwick. Guard, Stephen Nevins, Camp 864, Danville.

Committees were appointed as follows: Special Committee on Resolutions—Ralph Kiser, 364; L. B. Kline, 540; I. H. Seesholtz, 540; T. Chapin, 503; J. W. Bellas, 123.

General Committee on Resolutions—L. B. Kline, 540; J. C. Snyder, 684; P. W. Unangst, 105; C. E. Rarig, 304; A. N. Shearer, 105.

Committee on Credentials—C. B. Wilson, 36
