 (iers.) The bill appropriates $20,000 for each company of infantry and $30,000 for each battery of artillery or troop of cavalry. That is not an enormous sum when it is considered that efficiency in drill cannot be attained unless there be room for constant drilling. $2743 82 At present this is not always possible. Some of the so-called armories are little better than depots for arms and munitions, and the companies owning them must drill in the open or not at The land, and the armories it i
