COUNCILMEN
IN SESSION

The Borough Council held a regular meeting Friday night. The session although busy enough was attended with action on only a few matters of importance. Nearly three hours were spent in a discussion of a suitable bond to be given by the Danville and Sunbury Street Railway Company. Borough Solicitor E. S. Gearhart was present at the meeting along with C. G. Yetter, Attorney for the Danville and Sunbury Street Railway Company. A couple of details in the provisions of the bond to be given by the Borough became the subject of prolonged discussion by the two attorneys and the members of council. The matter was not settled but will be taken up at an adjourned session.

MARKET STREET
SHOULD BE PAVED

Despite many inquiries it is practically impossible to determine the exact status of street paving on East Market street. That the sentiment in favor of paving largely predominates along certain portions of the thoroughfare there would seem to be but little doubt. There is some opposition, it is true, but whether it will prove sufficient to hold up paving can hardly be determined until it comes to the test.

BOTH SIDES OF THE QUESTION

There is much complaint about the approach to the river bridge on the Danville side, which at the present stage of improvements shows up oddly, owing chiefly to the location of the curb lines, which are broken up into a good many different angles and in directions that do not conform with any of the other street lines.

SUBSCRIPTIONS ARE SLOW

The Citizens' Celebration Committee held a meeting last evening. Those present were: Ralph Kiser, Esq., Burgess W. G. Parsel, W. V. Ogleby, Esq., Jacob Boyer, Johnny Moyer and F. M. Gotwalds.

The time was principally devoted to considering the question of finances, which proves to be a pretty weighty proposition. The reports showed that the solicitors had accomplished very little and were much discouraged. They had put forth an earnest effort but found responses indifferent and slow.

The Committee, however, could not be brought to believe that the citizens of Danville after due consideration would fail to measure up to the requirements of the occasion and determined to press onward and endeavor to arrange for a demonstration that will reflect in a proper way the public spirit and enterprise that belongs to our town.

It is obvious that a big sum of money will be required. Invitations have been extended and the news of the demonstration has been copied into newspapers of neighboring towns. All eyes are turned toward Danville and the town on the Fourth of July must do itself proud. To fail in this crisis would be to invite general ridicule.

It is very evident that to raise the money contributions must come not from one source, but from all sources. It is a mistake to think that only hotels, restaurants and the like, which appeal to the inner man, will be benefited by the great influx of visitors. Indirectly, there is scarcely a line of business but will be benefited, while as an advertisement of the town and its fine system of improvements the big celebration will have a beneficial effect in which every citizen will share.

Subscriptions, therefore, should not be limited to any class of business people, but should take in every citizen who has an interest in his town. The solicitors will start out again, and endeavor to bring the facts as presented above before those they approach and they will approach in a manner every one.

The Best of Everything.

The pleasing announcement is made that the Sig. Santelle & Welsh Brothers Combined Railroad Shows and Menagerie are coming to Danville on Tuesday, May 16. This great union of shows is one of the tented enterprises of this day where ladies and children can visit safely, and where no word, act or deed is permitted to offend the most exacting or intellectual visitor.

The entire equipment of these shows this season is all new, and besides the circus and hippodrome features are entirely new to this section, and all of a strikingly original and novel character. The Press Agent of the show declares the new street parade in the following language. It is a "superb and sense-awakening pageantry, presenting a glittering avalanche of splendor."

According to the claims of the modest Press Agent it certainly will be worth seeing. This feature is given each morning, leaving the show grounds at ten o'clock, and will pass through the principal streets. Upon the return of the parade to the grounds, a number of free open-air exhibitions are promised, including a remarkably high-dive from a lofty ladder into a net below by Capt. D. Lattip, a fireman of the Brooklyn, N. Y. department.

Gas a Popular Fuel.

The Standard Gas Company is extending its service on a large scale by installing a new four inch main along several thoroughfares that were not supplied with gas before.

Excavation for pipe at present is in progress along Church street between Front and Market streets. The extension beginning at the gas works extends south on Nassau street, to Front street, down the latter thoroughfare to Church street, and north on the latter street to Bloom street. The comparatively limited territory on Church street between East Market street and A. C. Amesbury's is about the only part covered by the extension that has gas at present.

Gas is becoming very popular as a summer fuel and is rapidly displacing coal or oil. It is to meet this growing demand that the new main was made necessary.

The pipe has been delivered along Church street, but it will be some time before the main will be completed in its entirety.

Fall Results in Broken Arm.

Miss Clara Beaver, West Mahoning street, met with a very bad accident yesterday. She was assisting at house-cleaning and was standing on a chair, when by a misstep she fell to the floor. In order to break the fall she instinctively threw out her right hand, which received the weight of her body.

As a result the right forearm was fractured at the wrist, one of the bones, the radius, being broken half an inch from the joint. Dr. Harpel was called who set the broken bone. Later Miss Beaver was reported as doing very well, although the injury is considered quite serious.
