WOMAN PRETENDED THAT SHE WAS DEAD

That a woman, would play off dead to deceive her husband with whom she had parted, seems to be a tale of fiction...

The funeral of Mrs. George W. Rymer, of 49 Hanover street will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the house...

The scheme failed to work, however, and the husband had no sooner heard of it than he brand it as an infamous trick on her part to mislead him.

The minister named in the funeral knew nothing of the matter. The husband of the woman saw her on the street after the funeral notice had been printed.

How's This. We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward of any case of Catarrh that can not be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

RIVER BRIDGE INSPECTED

This it is clear when all is finished would improve the appearance of the approach very much. There are still some persons in favor of rebuilding the wing wall at a different angle...

P. G. Baylor, Supervisor of Gearhart township, was introduced to the Secretary to the Commissioners of Public Grounds and Buildings and he fully explained the status of affairs relative to the bridge approach on South side.

The official expressed doubt as to whether the bridge would be thrown open to traffic with the approach in its present bad shape, even though the bridge proper might be found to conform wholly to plans and specifications...

Following the meeting in the Court House it was learned that the inspectors will make their report today, which will be returned to the Dauphin County Court. The approaches, it was said, were taken fully into consideration at the session in the Court House and the conclusion was reached that the inspection had to do only with the bridge proper and that the matter of approaches will not influence the report.

RAILROAD WRECK INVESTIGATION

That the terrific explosion which proved so fatal in Thursday's railroad wreck at Lochiel were due to the igniting of powder by live coals which may have been scattered among the boxes and heaps of explosives formed the gist of the testimony at the coroner's inquest.

The Primitive Methodist conference at Hazleton, decided that no ministers of their denomination should marry a divorced person. For many years it has been the policy to refuse to marry divorced persons unless their divorces were obtained for reasons sanctioned by the scriptures. It was found that advantage was taken to this exception and that considerable latitude was allowed. Consequently the conference refused permission to its ministers to marry any person who has been divorced for any reason whatever.
