MEETING OF COMMITTEE TONIGHT

The Citizens' Celebration Committee will hold a meeting at the office of Justice of the Peace Oglesby tonight for the purpose of completing arrangements for the Fourth of July celebration. The solicitors will present a full report of all the money that has been subscribed. The advertising committee will also meet.

Further action will be taken concerning the grand chorus, which it is proposed, shall be a feature of the afternoon. Other features which will be discussed at tonight's meeting will be band concerts, firemen's contest, etc.

The Friendship Fire Company held a special meeting last night at which it decided to hire the Catawissa band to accompany it on the line of march.

Royal Arcanum Homes.

Establishing homes for aged members, now being promoted in Western Pennsylvania, received the commendation of the Supreme Council of the Royal Arcanum at Atlantic City on Thursday. The executive committee was given power to change the laws of the order to legalize the homes. The council condemned the "branch" order which use the title Arcanum to obtain members, and the council will give close attention to the formation of these associations in future. The New York delegation wanted the $1,000 benefit abolished, but the resolution was voted down. Failure also followed a plan for changing the time of payment of dues. A memorial resolution was adopted in regard to the death of General Fitzhugh Lee, who, at the last meeting of the Arcanum presented the delegates and presented the presiding officer with a gavel made from wood from the historic James-town church.

Where to Spend the Summer.

The 1905 edition of "Pleasant Places on the Philadelphia and Reading Railway" is now ready for distribution. It is a neat booklet with a brief description of the summer resorts on the line of the Railway from the Seashore to the Mountains, within easy reach of the city. It gives the name of each place, price of board and post office address, giving valuable information to those seeking summer quarters. There is also a list of the Picnic Grounds suitable for a day's outing.

It can be procured at the principal ticket offices of the Company or will be mailed to any address upon receipt of a two-cent stamp by E. J. Waska, General Passenger Agent, Philadelphia.

Getting Right of Way.

Representatives of the Shamokin Extension electric railway visited Irish Valley Thursday for the purpose of securing rights of way from obstinate land owners who are blocking the building of the line because they ask exorbitant prices for the land desired for the construction of the line. The company proposed to build the line through Augustville but if terms cannot be reached with the obstinate land owners the system will run over the ridge to Seven Points thus cutting out the Augustville link.

Messrs. Pascoe, Kulp and other capitalists interested in the new company held a meeting at Philadelphia several days ago and decided to construct the system as soon as the present difficulties are removed.—Sunbury Daily Item.

June's Past Weather.

Some interesting data of June's weather, covering a period of sixteen years, has been compiled from the weather bureau records. The warmest June month was that in 1895, with an average of seventy-three degrees, while the coldest month was in 1903, when an average of sixty-five degrees was attained. The highest temperature of any one day was recorded on June 29, 1901, which was ninety-seven degrees and the lowest temperature of one day was on June 8, 1891, which was forty-three degrees.

The average precipitation, rain or snow, for the month is 3.45 inches. The greatest monthly precipitation was 7.18 inches, in 1899, while the least, which was 1.13 inches, occurred in 1901. The greatest amount of precipitation recorded in any twenty-four consecutive hours was 1.88 inches, on June 3 and 4, 1892. Of the last sixteen years, there has been an average of nine clear days in the month, while there have been eleven partly and ten altogether cloudy days the rest of the time. The prevailing winds have been mostly from the west, but have not exceeded the rate of six miles per hour.

Never in the history of Danville has there been such a general observance of Memorial Day. People more generally followed the charming custom of floral offering to the memory of dead friends. Every cemetery in the vicinity of the city was made beautiful with flowers and greens, while even more beautiful was the thought which put them there.

RUSSIAN ARMY IS IN OPEN REVOLT

News of Rojstevsky's Defeat Has Caused Turmoil Among Soldiers.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 31.—General Linevitch, the Russian commander, today said that the news of Rojstevsky's defeat has spread throughout the army in Manchuria and that the troops are in open revolt.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—The following official despatch was received this morning at the Japanese legation from Tokio:

"It is officially announced that in the last naval battle the damages sustained by our fleet were very slight and none of our battleships, cruisers, destroyers or other ships were lost, except three torpedo boats.

"Under imperial command, Admiral Togo was authorized to permit Admiral Nebogoroff to submit to the Czar his report of the battle and a list of the Russian killed, wounded and prisoners. The Admiral was also authorized to release on parole the surrendered officers of Nicholas I, Oreal, Aptaxia and Senovira.

"Admiral Rojstevsky was taken to Sasebo naval hospital. No other admiral was captured from the Russian, the last report in this respect being due to a clerical error."

WASHINGTON, May 31.—United States Minister Grison telegraphs to the State Department from Tokio at 11:45 this morning, as follows:

"Rojstevsky's skull fractured, requiring operation. Serious, but not dangerous. Total Japanese losses to date, three torpedo boats sunk, three officers killed and about two hundred men killed and disabled."

TWO SHIPS ONLY HAVE REACHED PORT

ST. PETERSBURG, May 31.—A long report giving an account in detail of the part taken by the cruiser Almaz and the torpedo boat destroyer Orzov in the recent naval battle has reached here from Vladivostok, where the two warships arrived yesterday after escaping from the pursuing Japanese.

The officers of the two vessels could not give a definite report as to the outcome of the great battle because, acting under orders they separated from the main fleet on Saturday before the end of the same. The officers say enough however to know that the Russian vessels suffered heavily.

The officers of the Almaz made the statement that before the fog shut out the view of the battle they saw two of the Japanese battleships sink and two cruisers seemed ready to plunge to the bottom.

The blow which destroyed the Kuzak Suvaroff, the officers believe was delivered by a submarine, or else the vessel struck a mine. She sank within a few moments after she was struck.

ATAZIN INDIFFERENCE SHOWN IN RUSSIA

ST. PETERSBURG, May 31.—While the people now are generally aware of the fact that Rojstevsky has been defeated by the Japanese, hardly more than 200 persons know the full extent of the loss, pains having been taken to conceal the news. The most amazing indifference is shown in regard to the disaster. Last night the Admiralty was entirely deserted, all the officers having either gone to their villas or being spectators at the theaters.

MINISTER OF NAVY CONGRATULATES TOGO

TOKYO, May 31.—A message congratulating Admiral Togo and the men under his command was sent to the Japanese naval commander today by Admiral Yamamot, Minister of the navy, in reply to the reports made yesterday by Togo in which he announced the capture of a part of the Russian main force near Liancourt rocks on May 28, the sinking of the coast defense vessel Admiral Ushakov, and the cruiser Dmitri Donskoi and the capture of the Destroyer Biedovy with Admiral Rojstevsky and Admiral Volkensan aboard, and the pursuit of the remaining Russian vessels.

Of course every patron of the publication will receive a copy free. CHERRIES ARE GETTING RIPE

A fine branch of ripe cherries were left at this office yesterday, which undoubtedly enjoy the distinction of being the first of the season. The cherries grow on the premises of Alfred McMillin, Siller Hill, and were brought down to the News office by mail carrier Harley Meyer. The cherries are of the red sweet variety and have a delicious flavor.

At most places the cherries are only beginning to ripen. The crop according to present indications will be a fairly large one. At places the trees this year bear very poorly, but on a long drive over the country one sees an abundance of ripening cherries.

Indigestion Causes Catarrh of the Stomach.

For many years it has been supposed that Catarrh of the Stomach causes indigestion and dyspepsia, but the truth is exactly the opposite. Indigestion causes Catarrh. The medicinal alkalis of Indigestion inflame the mucous membrane lining the stomach and excite the secretions of the stomach, thus causing the glands to secrete mucus instead of the juices of natural digestion. This is the real cause of the Stomach.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure

relieves all inflammation of the mucous membrane, also builds the stomach, cures the nervous, indigestion, sour eructs, astringent, flatulency, heartburn, indigestion, and all other symptoms.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It.

How To Find Out. Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates ailing kidneys. The evidence of kidney trouble, too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also a convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do. There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, sore eyes, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and cures that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extra-ordinary effects of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail. Address: Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

We all think we get the worst of it. It does not take up any more time to be polite than disagreeable.

It is not what you say, but how you say it. It means friends or enemies.

At the Dangerous End.

After the collapse of the Confederacy ex-Senator Wigfall, a member of the Confederate congress from Texas, fell in with a party of Union soldiers in that state. Being well disguised, he entered freely into conversation with the soldiers of the guard. In the course of which he asked what they would do with "old Wigfall" if they were to catch him. "We should hang him, sure," was the prompt reply. "Serve him right," exclaimed Wigfall. "If I were with you I'd be pulling at one end of the rope myself!"

Hymn No. 32 Wm.

The London Father tells why no hymn under thirty-seven is now sung at the English church at Monte Carlo. A member of the congregation, a certain English peer, once went to the rooms on Sunday immediately after the morning service and put the maximum on thirty-two, the number of the last hymn. It turned up, and the "inspiration" was widely talked about, as such things are in the frivolous society of the principality. The next Sunday the little church was crowded, and the last hymn being again a low number, an unseemly rush to the rooms took place directly it was announced. Curiously enough, the number again turned up, and the back was badly hit. On the following Sunday the church would not hold all the would-be worshippers, but their ungaily intent was frustrated, as all the hymns were "off the board," and had been so ever since.

The Hill Was Not in the Senate.

One of Senator Frye's scintillations as presiding officer, when the Philippine bill was near its passage in the Senate, should not be lost to the world. Such measures, till perfected, are considered in committee of the whole, not in the Senate, as the term goes. The distinction is of little popular significance, but of great parliamentary importance.

Senator Bacon, wishing to make a certain motion, was informed that the bill was not in the Senate, but in committee of the whole.

"Oh, I thought we were in the Senate," replied Mr. Frye.

"We are in the Senate," Mr. Frye responded, "but the bill is not."—Washington Post.

People Who Make Wills.

An English lawyer says: "The moment a man has £20 clear to leave he will begin spending money on testamentary disposition. I have even known a small farmer whose savings, after the restoration of his property and the payment of his just debts, could not have exceeded a £10 note to spend £3 or £4 a year over a course of thirty years in having fresh wills drawn up. As a matter of fact, when he died at last a will was found—fortunately the same as the first one I had drawn up for him thirty years before. If he had saved the money he spent with me and had put it out at compound interest he would have had a very snug sum—well on toward four figures—to add to his estate."

Don't Tread on a Minkerm.

"Dogs have a variety of gaits," said the boss of the kennels; "therefore I can't understand why it is that people who describe a certain style of locomotion always call it a dog trot. Judging by the universality of that expression, a body would think that a dog never moves any other way than on a trot. But he does. All the gaits belonging to other four-footed animals are also his. He runs, he bounces, he even racks and paces, so when a person in a hurry falls into a peculiar kind of cantor there would be just as much sense in speaking of his gait as 'dog run' or a 'dog gallop' as in saying as always to call it a dog trot."—New York Press.

A Paradox Explained.

Why does not a man weigh a pound more immediately after eating a pound weight of food? A little reflection will readily explain this apparent mystery. During the process of mastication, deglutition, etc., certain muscles are brought into active play, and the exercise of any muscle necessitates a temporary waste of its tissues, and a certain amount of carbon is eliminated and passed off during the course of the meal. This loss, however, is trifling as compared with that due to respiration and perspiration, which are increased during the various operations of making a meal.

The length of time one may take to consume a pound of food makes but little difference to those losses, for if it is eaten leisurely there is but slight increase of respiration or perspiration, whereas if it is hurried through both are abnormally accelerated. Hence by the time the pound is eaten the consumer has lost appreciably in moisture and carbon.

"When Fred is out late at night," she said, "I shall not scold him. I shall try to be reasonable. I think I shall try to make him cheery when he returns."

Her mother was silent.

"Don't you think it would be a good idea to keep the light burning?" she persisted.

"Well, it might do very well for the first month or so. But after you have had a few gas bills you'll probably conclude that it will be just as well to put the matches where he can find them and turn the light out."—New York Press.

One Day.

One day never goes south, but stay north during the coldest winters. It is said they live to be a hundred years old. Very few people have ever seen their nests or young. They can sing a dozen different tunes. I never kill them, for they once saved my life. I had been lost in the woods for two days. Night was coming, and it began to snow. I built a house camp, and while cutting wood cut a hollow log, which I split. I then opened four blue jars and placed a bushel of bread and meat. I built a fire and ate about a peck of the provisions. The fire did not go away, but came up to the sky and appeared to glow. My feet were cold, and I comforted myself by warming them. Then the birds sang the prettiest tune I ever heard. The storm lasted twenty-four hours. When it was over I climbed a tall pine, but I came down and saw a wet hen. I had discovered the lumber camp about fifteen rods distant.—Lewiston (Me.) Journal.
