THEY MAY FLITTING

By FRANK H. SWEET

"The au-dac-ty!" Elizabeth Brown's eyes flashed, and she threw the note from her angrily.

"Read that!" she commanded hotly. Mrs. Brown took the letter and read it meekly. It was brief:

"My Dear Miss Betty—I have just left the house. It is down in the country and near the seashore and has a piazza and an apple orchard—in short, is an ideal home for a young married couple. Will you move in here tomorrow? I am waiting for you fully. Faithfully yours, JAMES GRAHAM."

"Why, child, we can't," I started demurely. "It will take a week at least. You know—"

"Yes, dear," meekly, "but where shall we go?" "Why, to— Oh, anywhere! It doesn't really matter. Suppose we try that little place where we had two weeks' outing last summer—Orchardville, you know."

"It is? Why, yes. I believe you are right, mother, but you know, for a few days he was just down there for a few days' fishing and that he didn't get a bite, so, of course, we wouldn't meet him again."

It was in China that the first autograph fans were seen, and they began to be fashionable here long years ago. Some carefully preserved specimens have belonged to the emperors and their wives.

Sea Birds' Thirst. How do sea birds quench their thirst? Sea birds are believed to satiate their thirst partly from falling rain and partly from the fat and oil which they devour ravenously when opportunity puts them in their way.

Why Prison Doorkeepers Are Surly. "Why are the doorkeepers of prisons always surly? I guess it is because they have to answer so many foolish questions," said a prison doorkeeper.

A VERY CAREFUL WOMAN.

Lady Eldon Could Not Abide Any-thing Like Extravagance.

Lady Eldon could not abide anything like extravagance. Her husband had died in his parsimonious habits by his wife, of whom it was said that she and her daughter had but one bond between them.

"Why, bless me," cried her ladyship, "you can't ride him, Lord Eldon. He has got no shoes on."

"Banks, can you remember just how much I love you?" "Thirteen dollars and twenty-five cents." "That's the exact sum, eh? Thank you."
