

MONTEUR AMERICAN

FRANK C. ANGLE, Proprietor. Danville, Pa., Nov. 23, 1905.

MINOR MATTERS OF INTEREST

M. H. Sohran and Johnny Meyer in treading over Montour Ridge in search of game have run across the "Hunters' Spring," some four miles below town...

The spring is one of large dimensions, the water of which even in summer is cool and refreshing and of the clear and crystal sort associated with a brook on the mountain side.

On the morning of the day scores of gunners would assemble at different points and start out to hunt over Montour Ridge and possibly over the farm land lying at its base.

About 2 o'clock the hunters began to come in—all loaded down with game. It is recalled that on one occasion there were seventy-five squirrels on hand with pheasants, rabbits, quail, &c., in proportion.

Among prominent Danville people who always participated in the annual hunt were the following: John Deen, Jacob Cornelison, John R. S., William Myers, James E. Hill, John M. H., Myers Parris, Fred Hill, The Billmovers, the Blines, the McCrackens and other prominent families of the rural sections were also always represented at the hunt.

ONLY A LITTLE COLD in the head may be the beginning of an obstinate case of Nasal Catarrh. Drive out the invader with Ely's Cream Balm applied straight to the inflamed nostrils.

The Zenseto Congress, in session at Moscow, is expected to adopt resolutions declaring allegiance to Count Witte and the Government in an effort to stem the tide of anarchy.

Judge Staples at Shaversburg Tuesday sentenced Roy Dvorsky, aged 10 years, who stole from his father and purchased a gun to play cowboy, to go into the custody of Sheriff Evans, the latter to send him to school by day and to care for him at night.

On Sunday, November 20, the Philadelphia Inquirer will issue its annual Thanksgiving Number, which will contain this year, as a specially added supplement, a thirty two page cook book, handsomely printed in color.

The General Relief Committee in New York reports total collections of $700,000. Jews of New York are preparing to make increased effort to raise more money in that city.

The express automobile does not differ from the express railroad train in the fact that when it is wrecked at top speed somebody gets hurt.

WHAT WILL BE THE RESULT?

On the subject of Grauge Banks, concerning which an article appears on another page, there is much to say both pro and con, but just how much good can be derived from such institutions is yet to be learned by experience.

John G. McFerry, of Benton, well known in this county, and a probable Democratic candidate for Congress next year, is one of the promoters of a system of grauge national banks, which are to be established in the various counties of the state where the grauge has a strong membership.

Besides banking is a business just as farming or lumbering or making iron or anything else, and requires a special training and experience to ensure a reasonable degree of success.

THE ESKIMO CANOE.

It is in Greenland that the hunting ability of the Eskimo reaches its highest development. He has a fine mechanical skill. Bones, ivory, stones, a little driftwood, skins and the sinews of the reindeer are the materials from which he must make his boat and weapons.

"Round his waist there is a cylinder of sealskin, the lower edge of which draws over the wooden ring, and is pulled tight with a thong, making all water tight to the rim.

So right a good swimmer can turn his back to the wind and paddle with his hands, for he is as water proof as a duck. Moreover, his vessel is so flexible that it is almost safe from being crushed in the ice drift and, being limber, is extremely swift when propelled by the double ended paddle.

On the other hand, the vessel is so cranky that only about two-thirds of the native men have nerve and balance enough to hunt. Only three or four Danes in all Greenland have dared use a kayak.

OLD TIME SERVANTS.

Perhaps one reason why servants in Peppy's time were treated as "one of the family" was that they very often were blood relations. The diarist himself, in fact, engaged his own sister Pauline as his servant.

It is only within a century or so that servants have ceased to be relations of the family and the term "menial" has come to be considered derogatory instead of meaning simply "within walls"—intra moenia.

CLIMBING THE ALPS.

More than half the accidents in the Alps occur to those who have not the pluck to turn back. The guides are too often in favor of going on from professional motives. They have very few weeks to earn their living in, and it is a sort of tragedy for them to miss a single climb.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or scum will settle to the bottom. This indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stands clear, your kidneys are in good health.

A PAGAN MYTH.

It Linked May and Matrimony With Unhappiness and Misfortune. The pagans had a myth that "only bad women marry in May."

Quiet inland bathing offers you no extravagant opportunities to be a proser. If the water is warm, you loiter at it at your ease; your mind is soon steeped by the sensuousness in which you are immersed.
