RECEPTION FOR PASTOR AND WIFE

The members of Shiloh Reformed church Tuesday tendered a reception to their pastor, Rev. Joseph E. Guy, and his wife, which proved to be a most delightful affair.

Nearly the entire congregation was present. The newly installed pastor and his wife, who occupied a position near the front of the room, were introduced to the members and others invited by the officers of the church.

Rev. C. D. Lorch read the scripture and followed with prayer. The choir rendered an anthem in excellent style, after which Rev. L. D. Ulrich delivered the address of welcome, an exceedingly felicitous and appropriate effort.

The Double Male Quartette rendered a fine selection, which was followed with an address by Dr. Joo. Swaefort on behalf of the Consistory. Dr. Swaefort was followed by D. R. Williams with an address on behalf of the Sabbath School.

George Eggert rendered a solo very nicely, after which Mrs. Greenwald spoke on behalf of the Ladies' Aid Society. There was a charming selection by a mixed quartet, after which C. Ritter gave an address on behalf of the Christian Endeavor Society.

The Double Male Quartette sang a selection, which was followed by the address of the pastor, Rev. Mr. Guy, who spoke in a feeling and appreciative vein.

Among the clergymen of town who were present were: Rev. J. E. Hetchison, Rev. S. E. Evans, Rev. Dr. McCormack, Rev. E. B. Dunn.

The reception wound up with the serving of refreshments, consisting of coffee, cake, etc.

Brick Cornice Falls. A most unusual occurrence created a big excitement in the vicinity of William M. Seidel's store, Mill street, last evening.

It occurred between six and seven o'clock, when few people were on the street. Suddenly with a noise that resembled the report of a cannon several hundred weight of brick became detached from the eaves of the Seidel building, three stories high, and fell down on the street.

People rushed out of their houses on every side under the impression that an explosion had occurred somewhere, probably in J. C. Patterson's cellar. Mr. Patterson, however, was as much mystified as any one and it was some time before any one learned what had happened.

The cornice in the Seidel building is built of brick. This in the process of time had become insecure, the mortar between the brick crumbling and falling out. Last night the limit was reached and the bricks fell. Fortunately the awning was equal to the emergency, the broad top caught the brick that fell and kept them concealed from view. Fortunately the pedestrians were exposed to no danger. Mr. Seidel will have the damage repaired today.

SENATORIAL APPORTIONMENT

Propos of the task that shall come up at the coming special session of the State Legislature a writer in the "Philadelphia Ledger" discourses on the probability of the work being accomplished. In the speculative scheme among the new districts mapped out are the following, which will prove of especial interest to people of this section:

Northumberland and Montour have a population of 106,457. They can be made into one district without violence to the constitution.

Lycoming, Sullivan, Columbia and Montour at present comprise a senatorial district. With Montour dropped, the other three counties would have a population of 127,693, a little more than 1,000 in excess of a ratio.

Centre, Union, Snyder and Mifflin are adjoining counties, with a total population of 100,950, and would make a fairly compact district.

Janata, Perry and Cumberland would form a compact and as contiguous a district as could be found in the state, outside of a single county. They have a population of 92,561. This is less than four-fifths of a ratio, but it is difficult to carve out a more populous district in this section of the state.

Lebanon is not entitled to be constituted a separate district. Although the four adjoining counties are each entitled to "one or more senators," Lebanon has not "one-half a ratio," and therefore must be attached to one of the adjoining counties. As Dauphin has the least population by 35,000, it follows that Dauphin and Lebanon shall constitute a senatorial district.

Adams, Franklin and Fulton are now part of three districts. By combining them a district is formed with a population of 99,322.

Although Bedford and Somerset have a population of only 88,929, their formation into a separate district is held to be unavoidable because of the populous surrounding counties, except Fulton, which is attached to an adjoining district.

Carbon, Monroe, Pike and Wayne form a natural district. Combined they have a population of 104,618. Susquehanna, Wroning and Bradford can hardly escape being joined together to form a senatorial district. Their population is 118,508.

Blair and Huntington form a natural senatorial district. They run parallel, and have a population of 119,749. Clearfield with Cameron and Elk on the north, come within the constitutional provisions as a senatorial district. These three counties have a population of 120,565.

Tioga, Potter and Clinton are not compact, nor, strictly speaking, contiguous. Tioga is east of Potter and Clinton is on the south of Potter; Clinton and Tioga do not touch. Still it would be difficult to improve on these as one district.

The writer continues: The senators from the Jefferson-Indiana and the Mercer-Lawrence districts will probably support the bill, as their districts are continued intact, and the senator from the new Somerset-Bedford district may be disposed to vote in the affirmative, as the only alternative to his district is to make it smaller by relieving it of Fulton county. The same reason for voting for the bill applies to the senator from the Lycoming-Sullivan-Columbia-Montour district, which has Montour eliminated in the proposed apportionment.

The senator from the Northumberland-Union-Snyder district is likely to be for the bill, as it cuts off Union and Snyder, which has been a political disadvantage and attaches Montour to Northumberland. The number of possible supporters of senatorial reapportionment is brought up to thirty-four more than is necessary.

There may be several senators to whom the reapportionment will be a disadvantage, who will feel consequently obliged to vote for it in compliance with their oath to support the constitution.

Surprise Party. Mrs. Calvin Eggert was tendered a pleasant surprise party at her home, Upper Mulberry street, Monday evening in honor of her fifty-third birthday. The following guests were present: Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Bennett and son, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Fornwald and son, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Eggert, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Angle, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Winner and children, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller and children, Mr. and Mrs. William Mottern and children, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Frye and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mottern, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Boettinger, Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Hemmery, Mrs. Charles Posey, Mrs. Joseph Diehl, Mrs. George Rodenhoffer, Mrs. Mary Hofer, Mrs. Augustus Heiss, Mrs. John Fox, Mrs. D. F. Slattery, Mrs. Joseph Mottern, Mrs. John Wieglin, Mrs. Peter Mottern, Mrs. Wesley Bodine.

During the evening a splendid supper was served. Vocal and instrumental music was rendered to the delight of the jolly good natured party, who, at a seasonable hour, highly delighted with the entire entertainment, departed for their homes.

The "Winter Excursion Book" Just issued by the Passenger Department of the Pennsylvania Railroad company, is one of the finest recent books ever gotten out by any railroad company. It is a comprehensive manual of the leading Winter resorts of the entire United States, containing one hundred and sixty-eight pages of interesting reading matter, and profusely illustrated with half-tone engravings. One may obtain full information in reference to wintering places, routes and rates tereto. The book is bound in an artistic cover-chaste in design and harmonious in color. This valuable work may be obtained free of charge at the principal ticket offices of the Pennsylvania Railroad company, or will be sent, postpaid, upon application to Geo. W. Boyd, General Passenger Agent, Broad Street Station, Philadelphia.

IN CHRISTMAS DRESS When did the store windows of our town ever present a prettier or a more tasteful appearance, or when did the display made include more new ideas, in short more new goods? A large amount of Christmas goods has already been disposed of so that the window display has to be constantly replenished. Nevertheless the merchants are succeeding admirably and it is really a pleasant diversion to walk along the street and view the various windows, all which have something in them that distinctively belongs to Christmas.

THE SAD CASE OF JACOB WEIMER

Jacob Weimer, the Hebrew Shoemaker on Lower Mulberry street, whose pitiable case was described in these columns over a week ago, is still in doubt as to the fate of his wife and four children—whether they are still alive awaiting help from him or have fallen a victim to the fury of the mob. Since the last article was written he has lived through nearly ten days additional of anxiety and suspense, which is almost killing him.

The time since purchasing tickets and sending the money to his family has now grown to some forty-eight days, whereas the longest time required for full information in reply under normal conditions would be some thirty or thirty-five days. In view of the horrible massacres that have taken place in Kishenev where the family reside the continued silence is tell of dreadful portents.

The shoemaker still clings to the one hope that the delay in the Post Office department in delivering the funds sent by money order and his wife's consequent failure to reply is due to the disorders existing throughout the empire and the various strikes that have tied up the railroads and the handling and delivery of mail. The same disorders, which have tied up the telegraph lines, makes it problematical whether anything would be accomplished by telegraphing. Nevertheless, the shoemaker informed a representative of this paper yesterday that the suspense had become intolerable and if no letter arrived today or tomorrow he would try to see what could be accomplished by telegraphing, although a brief telegram sent to that distant land would cost between nine and ten dollars.

At a meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Matoning Presbyterian church held in the lecture room, Wednesday evening, December 6th, 1905, a committee was appointed to draft resolutions on the death of our brother and associate Samuel M. Trumbower. The committee presents the following: Whereas, It has pleased our Heavenly Father in His infinite wisdom and providence, to remove from our midst our beloved brother in Christ, for years an efficient and useful member of our Board; therefore be it

Resolved, That in the death of Mr. Trumbower, the church has lost a good, earnest, faithful member; and the Board of Trustees, a wise counselor and helpful supporter.

The family a kind, tender and loving father and husband. The community a good neighbor, and a useful and honored citizen. Resolved, That we tender our sincerest sympathy to his esteemed wife and family praying that in this hour of sore affliction they may find the Savior near and put their trust in Him, believing that "all things work together for good to them that love God."

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread on the minutes and a copy sent to the family. DAVID SHELFART, J. K. ROBBINS, FRANK C. DERR, Committee.

Weak Kidneys Make Weak Bodies. Kidney Diseases Cause Half the Common Aches and Pains of Daily Life. As one weak link weakens a chain, so weak kidneys weaken the whole body and hasten to final breaking down.

Doan's Kidney Pills act directly on the kidneys and cure every kidney ail. Doan's pills cure are the proof. Levi Allegor, baker, of 102 North Spruce street, says: "I found more relief from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills than from anything I ever used for kidney trouble. About eight years ago I had considerable lameness in my back, over the hips, and a continual aching right over the kidneys. These pains cleared up when I used Doan's Pills, curing them and got a box. After taking them as directed I felt better and continued the treatment until I felt all right and cured my spine. All this time I read about Doan's Kidney Pills and I was glad when I saw that they strain brings on a tired or weak back they never fail to remove the trouble."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 c. For sale by Posters-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Will Complete State Road. An article has been going the rounds of the press to the effect that State Highway Commissioner Hunter has ordered a discontinuance of work on the State Highways in Pennsylvania for the winter.

A. R. Freeman, representative of the Maryland Construction Company, which is completing its contract between Danville and Valley township line on the Maudslaw road, states that the above order does not apply to this section of the State but to the northern tier of counties only. The Maryland Construction Company is still at work and with a continuance of the present mild weather the company hopes to put the finishing touches on the road yet this fall, so that the fine macadam highway will be ready to meet the demands of traffic next spring at a time when such a road will be most needed.

The rebuilding of the culvert at Grove Chapel's property near the old fair ground, which formed the most difficult part of the work, is just now about completed. The contractors next will begin work on raising the crown of the road to its specified height and making such changes as may prove necessary in the drains along side of the road. A short period of favorable weather would enable them to make rapid progress in the work.

IN CHRISTMAS DRESS When did the store windows of our town ever present a prettier or a more tasteful appearance, or when did the display made include more new ideas, in short more new goods? A large amount of Christmas goods has already been disposed of so that the window display has to be constantly replenished. Nevertheless the merchants are succeeding admirably and it is really a pleasant diversion to walk along the street and view the various windows, all which have something in them that distinctively belongs to Christmas.

Returned From Hospital. Elizabeth, the four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Jenkins, Upper Mulberry street, who had been undergoing treatment at a Philadelphia Hospital for several months, returned home last evening. The treatment was very successful in the little girl's case, her full recovery being assured.

METAL CEILING. The store room on Mill street owned by J. H. Gosser and occupied by Lovett & Hill is being remodeled. A metal ceiling ornamental, though appropriate in design, is among the improvements. Business is going on about the same as ever although the clerks are much handicapped in waiting upon customers by reason of the scaffolding which obstructs the store. The fine improvements, however, will well repay all inconveniences encountered.

Public Building For Bloomsburg? Word comes to us from Washington, D. C., today, that Congressman E. W. Samuel introduced a bill for a new public building for Bloomsburg at a cost not to exceed $100,000. This was done at the earnest solicitation of our citizens irrespective of politics and it is to be hoped that the Congressman will be successful in securing the building for our town. The structure would be used for a post-office and perhaps for Federal purposes—holding of United States Court, etc.

When called up and asked about it Hon. E. W. Samuel stated that he had been requested by leading citizens of Bloomsburg to introduce a bill asking for a public building for our town and would do all he possibly could to have the bill pass. He further stated that he had been requested to ask for a similar building for Shamokin and that he does not want to show any discrimination between the towns of his district, and will cheerfully introduce bills for public improvements where and when needed.—Bloomsburg Daily.

SOME OFFICES TO BE FILLED

Although the Spring election is over two months distant there is already some discussion as to what offices are to be filled and who might be named as candidates.

A new Chief Burgess will have to be elected in Danville next Spring. A tax receiver will also have to be elected.

The terms of the following councilmen will expire next Spring: George Reifensnyder, of the First Ward; Grant Fentersmeyer, of the Second Ward; J. H. Gosser, of the Third Ward; James T. Magill, of the Fourth Ward.

Following are the school directors whose terms expire: Robert Adams of the First Ward; J. N. Pursell, of the Second Ward; Samuel Werkheiser, of the Third Ward; Jacob Von Blohn, of the Fourth Ward.

At the coming election the new act of April 12, 1905, providing for three supervisors in townships of the second class goes into effect. The act provides as follows: That in every township of the second class in this Commonwealth the qualified voters shall on the Third Tuesday of February, 1906, elect one person to serve one year, one person to serve two years and one person to serve three years, who shall be styled road supervisors; and at each township election thereafter they shall elect one person to serve three years, provided, that in any township, which now has three supervisors or other officers having charge of roads elected under existing laws no new election under this section shall be required except as terms of said road officers expire.

Resolutions of Respect. At a meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Matoning Presbyterian church held in the lecture room, Wednesday evening, December 6th, 1905, a committee was appointed to draft resolutions on the death of our brother and associate Samuel M. The First Chapters of "Masquerades" and Five Christmas Stories in the Xmas Number of the Sunday North American.

The North American promises something decidedly out of the ordinary in its issue of December 17, the Christmas edition of the Sunday paper. The management has secured six Christmas stories by the best-known authors, and will also begin the serial publication of "THE MASQUERADER," by Katherine Cecil Thurston, the novel that has been praised by all of our critics as the greatest that has been written in the last ten years.

The short stories are: "A Stolen Christmas," by Mary E. Wilkins Freeman; "Davy's Christmas," by Annie Trenbull Slosson; "Solomon Crow's Christmas Pockets," by Ruth McKerny Stuart; "A Journey in Search of Christmas," by Owen Wister; "An Engineer's Christmas Story," by John A. Hill, and "The Christmas Gifts of Thaddeus," by John Kendrick Bangs.

The front cover of the magazine is said to be the finest head of Kris Kringle ever printed in a newspaper. There is a poem by Peter H. Doyle that the young folks will be reciting at the holiday entertainments.

All the magazine articles and comics will be full of the Christmas spirit, and one page that will be thoroughly practical is that which tells about the cost of the Christmas presents that are bought annually in the big cities.

The edition will be limited, owing to the extra work necessitated by the special features, so that it will be necessary to order the paper in advance.

Birthday Party. The home of John Dalton, Centre street, was the scene of a pleasant party on Tuesday night, which was held in honor of the 15th birthday of his son, James Dalton. The evening was delightfully spent with playing games of all kinds. Refreshments were served during the evening. Many very handsome presents were received.

The following guests were present: Catherine Grimes, Esther Fedders, Margaret McKenna, May Foy, Catherine Hawkey, Annie Hawkey, Anna Payne, Margaret Switzer, Dora Oakner, Alice Hooley, Susie Mazelle, Catherine Reilly, Mary Murphy, Catherine Murphy, Ruth Brooks, Catherine O'Brien, Mary O'Brien, Mary Hawker, Claire Foy, Irene Nevis, Julia Murphy, Mrs. John Murphy, Mrs. Bernard Murphy, Mrs. Michael O'Brien, Mrs. John Dalton, James Dalton, John Peckens, William Reilly, Frank Ford, Charles Grimes, James Hieker, Bernard Dalton, John Dalton, Benjamin Nevis, Harold Reilly, Wood Yeager, John Hooley, Grier Meyers, Peter Reilly, Michael Dalton, Joseph Law, Len. Parrett, William Dalton, Vincent Payne, John O'Brien.

The fact that it will be "off year" in the spring elections is no reason for a lack of interest in filling the positions.

TROLLEY CREWS NEW OUTFIT

The trolley crews of the Danville and Bloomsburg line are rigged out in new outfits for winter, consisting of long blue overcoats and caps of the same color. The motormen's coats are marked with silver colored buttons, while those of the conductors have brass buttons. The finest of material is employed and when dressed in the new uniforms the three crews along with the cozy cars present a spick and span appearance.

The crews are quite proud of their outfit. The entire group in uniform along with two of the cars, which met at Grovonia, were photographed the other day. The picture—some eight by ten inches—is a very good one.

Superintendent W. R. Miller stands at the head of the group. Below him stand in a line: J. S. Raver, Raymond Barrett, W. R. Kiser and Frank Mensch, conductors, and William C. Burger, Clyde Dyer, and William Christian, motormen.

Everything on the Danville and Bloomsburg line is ready for winter. The track along its entire course has been raised out of the mud and at a level where the snow will be less likely to interfere with it. The snow plow has been overhauled and is ready for use whenever needed.

Mr. Miller has proven himself a most efficient superintendent, a fact attested not alone by the excellent running condition of the road but by the pleasant and friendly relations that exist between himself and the employes of the company.

The Buzzards Let Loose. About 8 o'clock Saturday night post-trains on Mill street were mystified and not a little alarmed by a series of unseemly sounds proceeding from K. G. E. Hall, made up of discordant yells, which might have suggested the frenzy of wild men.

It was all explained a little later when fifty-six members of the order were seen to file down the narrow stairway and proceed to the City Hotel, where a banquet was the next thing in order.

On this occasion, however, it was not distinctively the Golden Eagles that was creating all the furor, but the less dignified birds known as the "Buzards," who form a side degree of the Golden Eagles.

Saturday night was the date selected for a gala occasion, when the Buzards were let loose. The first thing in order was the initiation of four candidates, which means substantially that four members of the Golden Eagles were brought over to roost with the Buzards. It was during this unique process that the unseemly noises were heard from the street.

Down at the City Hotel the Buzards comported themselves very decorously, attacking the fine bill of fare that Landlord Johnny Meyer had provided in the most approved and dignified manner. The banquet was much enjoyed and pronounced by the Buzards as fine a feast as they ever partook of.

Speer's Port Grape Wine in Europe. It has a wide reputation there from its efficacy in the sick room. Its reputation as a curative wine extends all over the world.

Policemen in New Overcoats. Our two policemen, J. C. Minneymoyr, Chief, and John Grier, Vice-assistant, on Saturday morning received their new overcoats. The officers had a good deal of trouble in getting equipped for the winter. They looked over a great variety of samples and decided upon coats, which finally arrived, but had to be returned, as they were found to be overcoats of a pattern belonging to conductors of trolley cars and not a cut or texture becoming the physical structure of men selected to uphold the majesty of the law. The coats which arrived Saturday seem to fill the bill in every detail and are much admired.

Returned From Hospital. Elizabeth, the four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Jenkins, Upper Mulberry street, who had been undergoing treatment at a Philadelphia Hospital for several months, returned home last evening. The treatment was very successful in the little girl's case, her full recovery being assured.

Tamaqua 79, Calvary 21. The famous Tamaqua team with its star players defeated Calvary last night at Parsons in as clean and interesting a game as can well be imagined by the score of 79 to 21. The playing of the visitors was consistent with their reputation and was a pleasant surprise to the large and enthusiastic audience. The feature was the work of Hough and Mulliner. The line-up: Tamaqua, forward—Dan Allen, center—Dunn O'Donnell, guard—Norwig Mulliner, guard—Schultz Wilson, guard—Seoby Hough, guard—Goeringer.

Baskets thrown from field—Hough 11, Mulliner 12, Allen 6, O'Donnell 9, Norwig 1, Schultz 2, Seoby 1, Goeringer 6; from fouls—Hough 3, Norwig 1—Wilkes-Barre Record.

THE IRONWORK HAS ARRIVED

After a long and discouraging delay material for two of the four steel bridges to be built in this county has arrived and the structures will be immediately built to the end that the roads where the streams are to be bridged may be in good and passable condition by the time of the spring break up when high water is likely to occur.

The material, which is now on the cars at Washingtonville, is for the bridge at Matthew Sheep's and the one at Hagerman's, both being in Antietam township, bridging streams which flow into the Chillisquaque. The former is 30 feet long and the latter 24 feet.

The contractor for both bridges is the Oswego Bridge Company, which will have men on the ground to erect the superstructures. The abutments were built by the township and all is ready for the iron work which will be hauled from the cars to the site of the bridges.

J. H. Cole has the contract for two other bridges, both of which will be in Liberty township, one at Henry Vincent's farm and the other over a branch of the Chillisquaque near William E. Boyer's. These will also be erected during the winter. The delay in getting the iron work on the ground is attributed to the pressure of work in the big industries where the bridges are made.

Funeral of T. J. Davis. Thomas J. Davis, Lower Mulberry street, whose death following long illness occurred on Thursday, was consigned to the grave in Odd Fellows' cemetery Sunday. The funeral took place from the family residence at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and was largely attended.

The services were conducted by Rev. William C. McCormack, D. D., pastor of Grove Presbyterian church. The pall bearers were: Richard L. Evans, John J. Evans, James H. Evans, William E. Evans, Edward Evans and William Kinn. Messrs. Richard L. Evans and James Evans and William Kinn of the pall bearers, were brothers-in-law of the deceased; Messrs. William E. John L. and Edward Evans were nephews.

The following relatives from out of town attended the funeral: Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Evans, Mrs. Sara A. Evans, Miss Annie Evans, William E. Evans, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Evans, John D. Evans, of Kingston; Mr. and Mrs. William Kinn; of Columbia; Mrs. Martha Morgan, Pittsburg; Joseph K. Evans, Forty Fort; Mrs. William Harle and Mrs. Thomas Harling, of Easton.

The most pleasant, safe and best remedy to use for Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, etc., is Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar. This remedy expels all cold from the system by acting as a cathartic on the bowels. Sold by Paules & Co.

Funeral of Mrs. Sainsbury. The remains of Mrs. Samuel Sainsbury were consigned to the grave in Odd Fellows' cemetery Saturday afternoon, the funeral, which was very largely attended, taking place from the late residence, Railroad street, at 2 p. m.

The services were conducted by Rev. Edward Hamilton. The pall bearers were: William J. Burns, Charles Brobst, Jacob Burger, Wesley McLane, Francis Hartman and Silas Wolverson, the three latter representing the order of the Golden Eagles. The floral offerings were a most beautiful tribute to the memory of the deceased.

The following persons from out of town attended the funeral: Mrs. Mark Rodman and daughter Nellie, of Shamokin; Mrs. E. J. Moore, of Roanoke, Va.; Mrs. Charles Gibbons, of Scranton; Mrs. Anna Reiser, of Wilkes-Barre; Mrs. Edward Geringer, of Sunbury; Miss Annie Geringer, of Clearfield, O.; Dr. Nieta Richards, Mrs. Sanford Pegg, Mr. and Mrs. William Pegg, of Bloomsburg.

Croup, Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, etc., have no terrors for children or adults who evacuate the bowels with Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar. This remedy expels all cold from the system and strengthens the throat, lungs and bronchial tubes. The Original Laxative Cough Syrup and Liquid Cold Cure. Sold by Paules & Co.

REPAIRING BOILERS. S. L. Ulrich representing E. F. Colvin, of Milton, was in this city yesterday putting some finishing touches on the heating apparatus in the Court House. It was thought the boilers there would have to be replaced with new, but Mr. Ulrich discovered that all they needed was a proper overhauling when, notwithstanding their thirteen years' service, they would be as good as new. The Milton dealer has put considerable work on the Court House boilers repairing and cleaning them with the result that one is now doing the work that two used to accomplish.

Rough Skin and cracked hands are not only cured by DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, but an occasional application will keep the skin soft and smooth. Best for Eczema, Cuts, Burns, Hoils, etc. The genuine DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve affords immediate relief in all forms of Blind, Bleeding, Itching and Protruding Piles. Sold by Paules & Co.

The Snow Question. The West Berwick Council has taken up an ordinance to compel property owners to shovel snow from their pavements in a reasonable number of hours after it has fallen. That borough has seen much sidewalk laying during the summer and the Council will endeavor to give full use of the improvement in all seasons. Berwick Council has been enforcing the snow shoveling ordinance and will no doubt take similar action this year.

New Market Van. D. C. Hunt has completed a very handsome market van for LeDac, the florist and market gardener, which was delivered yesterday afternoon. Mr. Hunt has turned out some very good work, but nothing that will surpass this unique vehicle. It is 8 feet by 4 1/2 feet; it is furnished with counter and a stove, and is beautifully painted.

INSTITUTE ADOPTS RESOLUTIONS

Danville, Pa., Dec. 8, 1905. The Committee on Resolutions begs to offer the following report: Resolved, That our thanks are hereby tendered to Superintendents Herby and Darr for their efforts and labors to make our 40th annual Institute a success.

Resolved, That a cordial expression of gratitude and appreciation be tendered to Professor Charles Albert of the Bloomsburg State Normal School, to Superintendent L. E. McGinnies of Steelton and to Prof. McNeal of Harrisburg, for forceful and practical instructions given to this assembly.

Resolved, That this Institute views with approval the growing sentiment in favor of nature study and of the maximum treatment of our dumb friends and will gladly countenance all efforts looking toward giving to these subjects their proper place in the school curriculum.

Resolved, That we, the teachers of Montour County, give grateful praise and thanks for the efforts made and being made throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to eliminate the "graters" who have made our State so conspicuous before the world on account of its political corruption.

Resolved, That we urge upon teachers and all educational leaders to recognize the continually insistent duty which devolves upon our teaching to produce hearts and minds trained for an efficient comprehension of civic duties and devotion to the patriotic services of our country.

In view of the fact that the vaccination law as now framed conflicts with the compulsory education law, there, by permitting parents to evade the latter. Therefore be it, Resolved, That we appeal to our Representative in the State Legislature to use his efforts in the framing of a law for "vaccination that will be effective, and that will not place a burden of obloquy upon the teacher."

In consideration of the appalling fact that thousands of girls and boys in this our beloved State, are being raised in homeless homes and in schools minus libraries, therefore be it Resolved, That the educational guardians of our youths take up the question of school libraries with an earnest persistent purpose, and not to
