A PLAY BY FE-MALE PATIENTS

Amusement Hall was the scene of a novel entertainment last night-probably the most interesting of the pleas- killed Mrs. Belle McDonald, a Pittsant series that has been arranged at burg colored woman, at the home of the Hospital for the holidays this year.

The feature of the entertainment Monday night, and then turned the was a play of two scenes entitled weapon on himself. There were no "Agatha Gray's Legacy," in which the performers were all female patients. There were also recitations and Mauro," which were rendered by the dead woman's 5 year old son home music and a play entitled "Train T.

It seems to be a part of the duty of the attendants to entertain the patients and many of these have been at the business so long that they are no longer novices and do exceedingly well.

The real interest centered in the play by the female patients. These had been drilled for their parts in a very pains taking way by Miss Benford, the musician. The manner in which the parts were performed is not a subject for criticism. Suffice it to say that all in the play gave evidence of the deepest interest and did the best they could, which in some cases was indeed quite surprising. The play proved a splendid diversion, which after all was the chief aim, and the indirect effect of it all will no doubt be quite beneficial to those who participated.

The patients at the Hospital are having by no means a dull week of it.

Aside from the sumptuous turkey dinner the patients received the usual large assortment of gifts on Christmas. These came not only from friends ne but also from the attendants. many of whom remembered the unfortunate ones under their care with very beautiful gifts. The presents came in to the Hospital during last week and by Christmas there were just 250 pack ages on hand. These were distributed on Christmas morning. That their presence diffused some degree of Christ mas cheer, if not of real happiness, throughout the gloomy wards is quite evident, reminding the insane that although incarcerated they were not forgotten by those at home.

PROCURE A COT.

The man who was found unconsciou at the Steel plant Sunday evening and who later was thought to be dying came around all right after spending the night by the warm fire in the Bor ough lock-up. His case, which was fit of the recreation that goes with attributed to an overindulgence in Christmas cheer, was very peculiar and the poor fellow evidently had a close call. The man was from Lewisburg, although he had lately been employed in Milton as a puddler in one of the rolling mills.

The man's case, however, which had to be taken care of by the Borough officials, brought out a very grave de ficiency in the equipment at the lock up. For the man chilled with long exposure, unable to move hand or foot and in whose bosom there lingered only a spark of life there were no other accommodations than the hard floor of the lock-up. That in this in stance the man did not die and that he may have been responsible for his condition, does not release the Borough from responsibility in not being pre pared to deal with such cases. The world is full of unfortunates and suffering, whether the result of disease tragedy or what not, is likely at the most unexpected moments to confron a municipality just as the case at the steel plant occurred on Sunday night.

The smallest possible thing that the Borough can do in the premises is to procure a cot so that at least there may be a pillow for the head and a blanke for the shivering frame when death o suffering overtakes the unfortunate and the homeless. If we had a city hospital, it might be altogether differ ent. But in the absence of such an institution the only way to promptly meet emergencies is to have a com fortable cot where it will always be ready for use in the Borough.

Shadow Social.

A Shadow Social will be held at the home of Frank Arnwine, near Long's church, Thursday evening, December 28th. Each lady is requested to bring a pie and gentle man his pocketbook. A good time is expected. All are invited. Proceeds for the benefit of the church.

Sensational Encounter

George W. Wagenseller, editor of the Middleburg Post, was on Monday publicly assaulted by District Attorney M. I. Potter, of Snyder county.

The trouble arose from the fact that Wagenseller, in last week's issue of the which moves The Lewisburg Journal Post, charged that the district attorney was incompetent and unfit to hold office. Wagenseller there said, in part "The district attorney's indictment of er business, published The Lewisburg false pretense against C. A. Detweiler was quashed by the court. Alone at Christmas.

If in this age of organizations innumerable there is room for one more, it is for an organization which would bring together, especially on Christmas, those who are alone in the world, particularly women, says the Ladies' Home Journal. Many of us who have our kin closest to us on Christmas day do not stop to realize what our feelings would be if they were not with us. Boiled Turkey and Oyster Stuffing. Take a medium sized turkey and stuff it with the following ingredients: Chop four ounces of suet very fine, mix it with six ounces or breadcrumbs, the grated rind of half a lemon, a teaspoonful of chopped parsley, salt, cayenne pepper and grated nutmeg to taste. Take the beards off two dozen oysters, add them and their liquor, strained, and lastly two eggs. Truss the bird, tie it in buttered paper and then in a cloth. Place the turkey, breast downward, in boiling water; let it come again to boil, skim it well and simmer gently for an hour and a half or longer, according to the size of the bird. Serve with rich white sauce.

lows, viz: The Second Monday o The custom of celebrating New January and the fourth Mondays of Year's day in our own country is large-February, May and September in each ly due to the Dutch. Old Peter Stuvesant made much of the day, and cheery assemblages were held at the governor's home in New Amsterdam. The Dutch method of kissing the women for "a happy new year" was observed and toll taken of all who were young and handsome. In fact, during the reign of Peter Stuyvesant, New Amsterdam was the most thoroughly bekissed country in all Christendom and formed a marked contrast to the staid Puritans, who thought the observance of this day savored strongly of reverence for the god Janus and who made no note of their first New Year's day in the new world save to record, "We went to work betimes."-
