MRS. DAVID GROVE'S

Mrs. David Grove, No. 218 Ash street, fell on the ice Sunday evening as the result of which she will be con fined to her home for a long time. She was returning from church and had reached the corner of Ash and Spruce streets when she slipped on the ice and fell striking her hip. She was unable to walk as the result of the fall and had to be assisted to her home.

Later Dr. Paules was called who made the discovery that the hip bone was broken. Such an injury, always very serious, is rendered more so in the case of Mrs. Grove, who is well up invears. She suffered a great deal of pain at times.

The payements at this season become very slippery at times and great care should be exercised by pedestrians. What aids in making the sidewalks treacherous is the bad practice of sliding upon them frequently indulged in by boys. The spots selected for this sport are generally on a hillside and there, smoothed down by the action of many feet, sliding one after another, the pavement becomes as smooth as glass and it would be remarkable, indeed, if now and then a fall did not occur at these places. Mill street even is not exempt from nuisances of this sort and frequently when there is ice the concrete pavements are appropriated by the boys, who soon render them doubly treacherous by sliding upon them. The practice should be stopped.

John Kilgus Remembered.

Our townsman, John Kilgus, was ery pleasantly honored on Saturday vening, the occasion being a large Reg surprise party gotten up by his employer, Andrew Schatz, to mark the Retwenty-fifth anniversary of the date when Mr. Kilgus entered his employ.

Mr. Kilgus with his family bade adieu to the Fatherland in 1880, landing at Philadelphia on September 4th Ad of that year. On February 17th following they came to Danville, Mr. Kilgus immediately entering the employ of Andrew Schatz.

For the quarter of a century that has elapsed Mr. Kilgus has been pegging away in Mr. Schatz's establishment, always faithful to his employer's in- Pai terest and always true to himself, so that while be has given satisfaction to his employer he has built up a reputa- 3 B tion as a peaceful sober industrious Pai citizen beloved in his family circle and nonored in the community.

The surprise party on Saturday evening proved a great surprise indeed. Mr. Kilgus had no intimation of what was on foot until he arrived home and found the house already half filled with guests. There were dancing and singing, in addition to which refreshments were served. Mr. Kilgus received a handsome fountain pen as a gift from Mr. Schatz.

Following were the guests: Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Schatz, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stritmatter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kehl, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Molter. Mr. and Mrs. Jacob VonBlohn, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wendell, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. William L. Deutsch, Mr. and Mrs Joseph A. Himmen, Fred Wendel, Sr. Charles Molter, Jacob Haney, John Moser, Mrs. George A. Meyers, Miss Maud Freeze, Walter Renner, Roy Smith, Clarence VonBlohn.
