PRESIDENT WILL ATTEND DEDICATION

The initial step toward the dedica tion of the new capitol was taken yesterday when the dedicatory commis sion met with Governor Pennypacker Governor Pennypacker presented a letter from President Roosevelt's secre tary, Mr. Loeb to the effect that Octo er 4, will suit him to attend the dedication, and the commission decided war, Hon. William Taft, who is also to hold the ceremonies on October 4.

It will be purely a military spec tacle, as the commission has decided that it will be more in keeping with and navy, the service of the disbursing the dignity of the occasion, and it would not comport well to have all departments and these are doing splenkinds of organizations in the line of parade. There will be no civic organizations whatever in the line, and it at the Danville National Bank yesteris thought that two provisional brigades of the national guard will be sufficient The president and Governor Pennypacker will be in the line.

take in the ceremony will be left entirely to himself. He may hold a reception, deliver an oration or do exactly as he nominates, and the governor will write to tell him so, and ask stages of relief work a dollar may save what he prefers.

There will be ceremonies on a grand stand to be erected in front of the capitol on which will be seated 3,000 people, and Speaker Walton, Senator Fox locate and see that the stand is erected. Speaker Walton was also authorized to take up the matter of transportation with the railroad companies, and it is expected that the crowd there will be the greatest in the history of Harrisburg. State Treasurer Mathues and Auditor General Snyder will look ed in this way $67.50, which added to after the matter of music, and it is said have designs on securing the services of the marine band, of Washington. After the ceremonies and parade in the day time there will be a banquet in the evening either in the hall pital for the insane and $21.75 collected of the new house of representatives or | in the 12 inch mill of the Reading in a large hall to be selected if it is not convenient to use the hall of the house.

It is expected that at least a thou sand persons will attend the banquet. The wife of president Roosevelt and the ladies of the cabinet will be invited to attend and will be entertained at the residences of prominent citizens. Others expected to be present are the United States senators and and ceived by the committee yesterday : congressmen from this State, the supreme and superior courts, senate and house, prominent scientists, men of W.
