By CLAUDE PAMARES

In so quietly that he had been a guest for three or four days before it was generally known that he was present. He didn't cuss the train for being late or cuss the town on account of the mudholes in the streets. He took the or cuss the town on account of the been spying on the others, and then a been spying on the others, and then a look after Kittle. Cordially, DORA MONTEITH. mudholes in the streets. He took the free-for-all scrap occurred, and the poand might spend a month in recuperation and might spend a month in recuperation of the man who arrived, and might spend a month in recuperation of the man who arrived, and might spend a month in recuperation of the man who arrived, and might spend a month in recuperation of the man who arrived, and the policy of the man who arrived arrived of the man who arrived arriv ing. He ate supper and then sat down there was weeping and wailing and and answered but few questions and asked none at all, and it was the general verdict before he went to hed that eral verdict before he went to bed that given each other. The crime wave has he didn't amount to shavings compared

George K. Jones, as the man who arrived had given his name, moved about town for the next week without at- ance. tracting any particular notice and without any one caring particularly about his health. The landlord of the hotel had just told a friend of his that Jones was apparently a softy, who had tired himself out in wondering why a coffee mill turned to the right instead of the left, when he was asked for a private interview. He instantly made up his mind that Jones wanted to stand him off, but he granted the request. In two minutes there was a great formation. Jones of the sleepy became as alert eyes and lagging feet as a fox. He acknowledged that he had registered under a false name; he seemed; he owned up that he was at the head of a detective agency and ready to do business with his host or the most liberal terms. There hadn't been any crime of any account around Briggsville for several years, but this state of affairs could not last much longer. There would be a crime wave sweeping along pretty soon, and his agency wanted to be in it and make most of the arrests and receive most

He was there in advance of the wave to lay his wires. He wanted to make of the landlord a detective-a real old sleuth of the first order—and he had a printed commission duly dated and signed that would be exchanged for a twenty dollar bill. The landlord was to spot robbers and murderers as fast as they turned up and send in his reports and receive half the rewards.

It dld not take the proprietor of the Clarion over five minutes to decide on instructions, and half an hour later he was down in his bar and sizing up three or four old topers he had known for fifteen years and wondering which of them was plotting murder. That evening he picked out no less than seven men to keep an eye on in future, and it was generally remarked that he seemed more alert than

Next day the man who arrived sauntered into the livery stable. He had sauntered in there before, talked horse | England. Here the beautiful cathe was taken to the rear end of the barn | but its diameter is really greater than to be communicated with. Mr. Jones had noticed that he had a head on him.

Jones had also noticed that he had an Mr. Clarke saw them crawling round the garret of the Clarion.

Mr. Jones had left the stables the new-ly made detective had made up his the cross.

The man who arrived took another saunter that day. He sauntered in to see Mrs. Bascomb, who kept a small little plank from which he had reached up was not there!

Here was a peril and one for a cool confidential demeanor. His agency the postoffice. The could keep her eye feet hung over empty air. the smith and all his customers under a full hour's tailing to make Mrs. Basfor a detective's commission, but she finally parted and was advised to "spot" all crosseyed men mailing let-arrived was on the saunter most of the time. The two dry goods merchants and one of the grocers refused to buy commissions on account of religious or that he lived to tell the tale. some other scruples, but everybody else approached had only to be talked they wouldn't pay $30, the price was gradually reduced to $5. The arrest of a single murderer, they were told, would make them good a thousand times over.

Husband—What has become of those indestructible toys you got last week? Wife—They are out on the scrap heap, along with the indestructible kitchen utensils.—Life.

Not less than twenty women were included in Mr. Jones' list, and when he could secure no more clients in the Panin.

Obstinacy is the mask under which weakness hides its lack of firmness.—
Panin.

town he worked the surrounding cour try. Not a farmer or a farmer's hired man turned him down. It happened in veral cases that both the farmer and ils man took commissions and were nstructed to watch each other. When Mr. Jones departed he left more than a hundred detectives behind him to watch for the coming of the crime wave. They were to make reports to the home office whenever they struck a clew. Not on their life or lives ere they to give away the fact that they were working for the agency or Pittsfield express stopped in the open keeping their eyes peeled. Craft, cunning and silence must be the order of

During the next two months Briggsbe termed everyday arrivals. Drum- ville had an uncomfortable time of it. looking for an opportunity to go into Every one had a feeling that he was looking for an opportunity to go into under espionage, and his feeling was did not yearn for a week end in the tention, and I dare say her head has mers paid the town a visit; men when Every one had a feeling that he was and driving easterly rain outside. He business would come that way; stran-gers who didn't always unburden them-day and by night. Men and women sit-Montelth's wife had set her heart upon "Oh." selves to the inquisitive landlord would ting in their church pews of a Sunday celebrating her husband's birthday at come and go. Each and every guest recome and go. Each and every guest received more or less public notice, but dropped out of mind when he dropped glared around in a suspicious data, and forgot all about the sermon. Boys and girls of tender years found themselves shadowed and went home to tell selves shadowed and went home to tell wisely submitted to the inevitable.

Mrs. Monteith's note had not tended not arrived, but they glare and shake their fists at each other. And in some locality the man who arrived is arriving again and repeating his perform-

Opera Under Difficulties.

A contemporary account says: "At the first performance of 'La Traviata' the tenor, Graziani, took cold and sang his part throughout in a hoarse and almost inaudible voice. M. Varesi, the baritone, having what we would call a secondary role, took no trouble to bring out the dramatic importance of this short but capital part, so that the effect of the celebrated duet between Violetta and Germond in the second act was entirely missed. Mme. Donatelli, who impersonated the delicate, sickly heroine, was one of the stoutest ladies on the stage or off it, and when at the beginning of the third act the doctor declares that consumption has wasted away the young lady and that she cannot live more than a few hours the audience was thrown into a state of perfectly uproarious glee, a state very different from that necessary to appreciate the tragic action of the last No wonder that "La Traviata" made a flasco under these trying circumstances! Yet when more adequately performed the opera soon became an mmense favorite with audiences of all nations, and Verdi had no reason to remember the disasters attending its first appearance in public.

Attacks on Royalty. The king most often and most seri- ones of the heiress. ously shot at was Louis Philippe, who somehow was never hurt by his would be assassins. The most desperate attempt was made by Fleschi, the Corsican, who operated with an infernal other got up and went out his curiosity of the result of the continued and one man after another got up and went out his curiosity of the result of the continued and one man after another got up and went out his curiosity of the result of the continued and one man after another got up and went out his curiosity of the result of the continued and one man after another got up and went out his curiosity of the result of the continued and one man after another got up and went out his curiosity of the continued and one man after another got up and went out his curiosity of the continued and one man after another got up and went out his curiosity of the continued and one man after another got up and went out his curiosity of the continued and one man after another got up and went out his curiosity of the continued and one man after another got up and went out his curiosity of the continued and one man after another got up and went out his curiosity of the continued and one man after another got up and went out his curiosity of the continued and one man after another got up and went out his curiosity of the continued and one man after another got up and went out his curiosity of the continued and one man after another got up and went out his curiosity of the continued and one man after another got up and went out his curiosity of the continued and one man after another got up and went out his curiosity of the continued and one man after another got up and went out his curiosity of the continued and one man after another got up and went out his curiosity of the continued and one man after another got up and went out his curiosity of the continued and the continued a sican, who operated with an infernal machine. He was once fired upon at into the chilly, drizzling rain. Clarlon over five minutes to decide on handing over. His income from the detective business would not be less than $2,000 a year and might run to three times that, and his opportunities was made to assassinate Napoleon I. It was once hred upon at such close quarters that the flash of the pistol set fire to the bonnet of Queen Marie Amelle, who sat beside him in a carriage. But one serious attempt one was hurt, but it was an awkward to refrain from evil.—Cicero. three times that, and his opportunities for "spotting" were A1.

Of course he was told that looking wise and sawing wood was the foundation of detective work and given many verbal instructions, and half an hour ploded around his carriage, and the other was at the Bols de Boulogne, when a ball meant for his guest, Alexander I., whizzed by his ear and shot his aid-de-camp's horse.—London News.

ON THE SPIRE.

Thrilling Incident In the Life of James Freeman Clarke.

When James Freeman Clarke was a young man he visited Salisbury, for a few minutes and then sauntered | dral lifts its spire 404 feet into the out again, much to the disgust of the air. The spire is topped by a ball, and This time he didn't talk horse, on the ball stands a cross. From the The liveryman was all alone, but he ground the ball looks like an erange, eye like an eagle and a perspicacity the slim steeple in the golden afterthat enabled him to tell a horse from a cow on sight. The liveryman was flattered. He couldn't help but be. He had been called a fool often enough for trying to conduct a livery business in a county where there were 264 separate, distinct and steep hills and to find that all the people had been wrong about it all the time was like pouring. To run up the scaffolding to the about it all the time was like pouring sweet oil on a burn.

Ing. To run up the scaffolding to the ball was easy. Then came the slightly After an hour's conversation the man | more bulging curve of the ball. A of horses and buggles gave up $25 and short platform gave him foothold. He received a commission to act as detec- reached up, put his hands on the base tive. He was not to be confined to any of the cross and pulled himself up. one sort of crime, but could go ahead and do business with criminals of all "shinning" up a good sized tree, and sorts regardless of age or sex. Before soon he stood on the horizontal timber mind to keep an eye on the landlord of the hotel. He had long suspected that counterfeit money was being made in the clarker of the Clarker. slipped down over the great abdomen millinery and notion store. He had Here was a peril and one for a cool not come for a fall hat or a paper of head and sure eye. Of course he could halrpins. What he had come for he re- not look down. The hugging hold that lated in whispers, accompanied by a be had to keep on the bottom of the cross shortened the reach of his body needed women detectives. A word and made it less than when he had caught up now and then as a woman stood on the plank and reached up to customer was trying on a hat or huy-ing a y rel of the might lead to the un-earthing of a great mystery. Mrs. Baseous was located next to pull himself back if he should let himself down at arms' length, and his smith shop opposite. She could have the smith and all his customers under to recall exactly the angle at which he to recall exactly the angle at which he had reached for it, to make his memory tell him just how the edge of that square post had appeared. A few ters at night after the postoffice had strained his eye up the cross and figured his angle of approach. He cau-During the next week the man who thousing wormed himself to the right

Husband—What has become of those

Mrs. Monteith's Country Cousin

By EDITH M. DOANE

Copyright, 1906, by W. R. Caldwell A little way beyond Sheffield the Jack Austin leaned back in his seat n the drawing room car and gloomily viewed the discouraging vista of mud

"WILL YOU TELL ME IF THERE IS ANY DANGER?"

car, disgust written in the set of his the best? broad shoulders, in every line of his face. Suddenly as he passed down the aisle on his way to his seat a voice ex- Method of Attack With the Crescent ou tell me if there is any danger?"

"Oh, no; none whatever. I hope you sequence of an abortive plot to selze the reint of power." ng himself together as well as a man

"I confess it did startle me." He stood silent, looking down at her. to his own nation, and on his retur "But of course," demurely, "I am not and accession to the chieft aship ! frightened now."

lyed her face a delicious pink.

talks a great deal of Jack Austin—It was not very difficult to make two and ixwa, or broad bladed stabbing assa-reat at it. You would be surprised if told you all I know about you."

force is detached to engage the enemy while the horns creep around the flanks. told you all I know about you."

ghtful country town."

"That you are about to make your of the vacant chair beside her. African Sun. "I have heard of you from your ousin, Mrs. Monteith," he said gently. e told me how difficult it was to get Hilldale. So many people." Some "Think how nervous I shall be before I do. The introductions—the first din-

"But I am to take you in to dinner." he returned contentedly. Truly the fates had been exceedingly kind. She glanced at him swiftly. "How do you know?" "Mrs. Monteith promised." Sure you won't regret it?" He eyed her reproachfully, and she

"Do you know the rest of the party?" He mentioned what names he knew. 'And the new western heiress," he

"Miss Reynolds. I doubt if you will

"I owe you a humiliating explana- ahead.

On the second stair she turned to looked ruefully toward a tall lean girl standing awkwardly on the hearth

"Poor Kitty!" she sighed.

it goes under the wire first on your horse."—Philadelphia Press.

s one of absorbing interest."-Toledo

ing our house pleasant to our friends, cousin were preferable to the golden and so we buy ice cream.-Emerson.

how to do well and has power enough

Bronson Alcott, the Concord philoso ousin, Jack Austin reflected grimly, you are going to eat meat at all," arswinging himself up the steps of the gued the Yankee Plato, "why not eat

ZULU WAR TACTICS.

"Mr. Austin!" and then, "I am sorry | Zulu military tactics are associated o trouble you, but," anxiously, "will with the name of Tyaka, the ruthless Zulu conqueror, who welded into the Austin turned, pulled his cap from his stock of the Amazulu, the people of the ead and found himself staring in blank | heavens, all the young men of the vaurprise into the face of a tall, dark rious tribes he conquered, incorporateyed girl, who eyed him with a mix- ing them into regiments and thus ture of amusement and apprehension. building up a powerful military na-"I—I beg your pardon," he stam-tion. Yet it was to Dingisiwayo, the wanderer, that the inception was due.
"Is there any danger?" she repeated | This man, the son of the chief of the Umtetwa, was driven into exile in con-

During that exile he lived in Cape can who is face to face with a distract-logly pretty girl.

Colony and saw the military methods of the British. With instinctive genius he saw how the idea could be adapted rightened now."

"I wonder, if you'd mind telling me," divided his people into regiments, distinguishing them by names and by he said irrelevantly, "how you came to special color of shield for each regiment, though for a time they retained She laughed, and a wave of color the umkomto, or throwing assagai, as "With the initials on your bag and a great use made by the British infantry hotograph at Mrs. Monteith's—who of their favorite weapon, the bayonet, two into four."

A sudden light illuminated Austin's brain. So this charming apparition was the "little country cousin." He would formation for attack, and it is notenot have jumped so quickly to his conclusion had he not dimly remembered that Mrs. Monteith had mentioned her their invasion of Natal and adopted by Lord Roberts in his advance through "Other people can make two and two into four," he returned radiantly. "I am delighted to meet you, Miss Adams."

Orange River Colony, and it was the fear of its success which kept the Boers continually on the run. The best It was easy taken that she was tremendously surprised. "How did you head of the stag headed beetle. Horns know?" she asked and laughed, and are thrown out widely on either flank, then she laughed again.

"Telepathy," he responded. "I am itself. From the main body a small while the main body forms the head

"For example?"

This force in the days of Tyaka was frequently dispatched with the command, "Go, sons of Zulu, go and re turn no more," and death at the hands "That you are about to make your irst plunge into that much overrated who returned. While this force was which you specialty." "Oh," she said, "how can you tell? t is wonderful?" She laughed again, ubsiding on her chair in her merriage the two horns had met in the rear of the county the hord or the rear "If you'll let me sit down," he said, launched upon the position, and the upshot was that the whole force of Til complete the picture."

While he snake he had taken off hir heavy ulster and thrown it over the he POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

Keep away from people you dislike PRICES THE LOWEST! and don't talk about them, Put a hog in a parlor and he would It becomes necessary occasionally for every man to take punishment. When your time comes don't annoy others

Isn't it a fact that the most success accustomed to Then doesn't it follow that if you hope

Three Old Maids and a Widow

By C. B. LEWIS

Copyright, 1906, by M. M. Cunningham

lation that can boast of three old maids Miss Vinton was an old maid because the never had met with a man good enough for her. Miss Hopkins was an "I never saw a beautiful heiress yet was determined to marry none but a minister, and all the ministers who

The drive was not a long one, and the had solemnly assured the old maids a couple of mud puddles. that nothing on the face of this earth could induce her to be false to the

The widow let no grass grow under "You do, but I will spare you," she miled, holding out her hand in friendver fashion.

She did not despise him, then for heShe did not despise him, then for hedred of the town, and on the part of the other 399 she bade Mr. Strong wel-come to their midst. When he had thanked her she ordered two nutmegs | mind to abandon her object when the thanked her she ordered two nutnegs and a paper of starch, in addition to the sugar, to let him understand that the country, came along and the sugar, to let him understand that the country came along and the sugar.

duct was known to the three old maids, and up went three pairs of hands; six eyes were turned upward in horror and weeds and ran for her life. She fell three mouths opened to exclaim in cho- down and rolled over, and she rose up rus, "How shocking!"

Then, during the next two days, each of the old maids made an excuse to call at the store and follow the programme carried out by the widow. Each thought she was sly and slick, but they found each other out, and the was encouraged to persevere. The dog had met with such success that he was encouraged to persevere. The dog had met with such success that he was encouraged to persevere. The company was Microscott to persevere.

each other on the head. In most cases they go right on treating each other as nicely as they can to their faces, but skyscraper, and she continued on to using daggers and the darkness to assassinate. The three old maids and the widow gathered together as of yore, were furnished, but while she was out the dagger was used whenever using them she heard the ten-year-old daughter whispering to her mother that there was the least show.

Mr. Strong proved a social success. she'd bet a cent that Miss Hopkins had The widow gave a little dinner and brought him out, but the old maids really monopolized him for the even—

That was an awful night in Clifton, ng. Then Miss Warner gave an exhi-ition of her own paintings, which con-just how awful it was. Morning ect long and of a river running up actream lastead of down, and the wid-widow as if something more was still w held Mr. Strong's attention for an to happen. They were right. When hour while she talked about her crush-ed and departed. the butcher boy called for his orders he repeated the same words at every widow, but if the widow gets left she'll great?" be the first one I ever heard of." Even the small boys around town noticed how girly the old maids were be- me $5 for an hour? Leng-No. Go are They giggled, they uttered sit in the park for an hour; then you won't need it."—Chicago News. and found themselves face to ace with a cow, they tittered when hey asked for gum drops at the gro law and walked into the store two or three times a week to ask the mer chant if he thought the Seventy-sev enth National bank of Boston was per-fectly sound and to sigh with relief then he assured her of his confidence the institution. Sly reports were ntions to this or that one of the four. Then the other three would reply

At the end of six weeks the man who house on his route:

"Well, may be he is, but what on earth he can see in her is more than I can make out. She grows more homely and dowdified every day. Of course I'm telling you this in confidence, and, of course, it won't go further."

One fatal evening tragedy after tragedy happened, and the light went out several happy households. Mr. their chief weapon. He heard the Strong boarded with a family living half a mile from the store. He wanted the walk. He had to cross the bridge

> KILL THE COUCH AND CURE THE LUNCS WITH Dr. King's New Discovery FOR CONSUMPTION Price 50c & $1.00 Free Trial. Surest and Quickest Cure for all THROAT and LUNG TROUB-

A Reliable TIN SHOP

LES, or MONEY BACK.

For all kind of Tin Roofing Spouting and Ceneral Job Work.

Stoyes, Heaters, Ranges, Furnaces, etc.

QUALITY THE BEST!

JOHN HIXSON NO. 116 E. FRONT ST.

ouse between his boarding place and

The tramp came humping along through the town, bent on finding a 10 and wren 3 years. country strawstack as soon as possible, old maid because the young man she would have married at eighteen was sawed in two in a sawmill and she had vowed to be true to his memory. Miss like a duck she could at least scramble like a cat, and she managed to get the brakeman opened the door.

"Next station Lenox!" he bawled.

As the train slackened speed Austin

The old maids and the widow were on visiting terms—in fact, they rather liked each other. Where there was a shore. Her condition was dripping, substance. A simple tree sap, like also drooping, also indignant. She remaple sap, it is yet when applied to also drooping, also indignant. Show alized that no dripping, drooping woman stood the slightest show in that hol, against boiling water, against albown agents. The lacquer ward and was not improved in looks without quarreling. After the widow or temper by having to wade through | tree of Japan is very large. It is al Miss Vinton came next. She was wheels the door flew open and Mrs. Monteith peered out into the darkness. The carriage lump shone on the faces of the arrivals.

"Oh, Dick, it's Jack Austin, and Kate Reynolds is with him," she cried. Later, as Miss Reynolds was about to go to her room, Jack Austin stopped her at the foot of the wide staircase.

"Menough of the crushed, the quartet loved each other even more.

One day one of the merchants in the town sold out and a stranger came to take his place. If he had been a married man the dove of peace would have continued to hover over Rose street, but as he was single, only thirty and her at the foot of the wide staircase.

Menough to calculate life both as if they were fated to live a long and a scream for help, but there was no help.

Seream for help, but there was no help. brassy when the tramp, who was now | Japanese are very careful not to let scream for help, but there was no help, The widow let no grass grow under She had to extricate herself and follow she wasn't obliged to pinch pennies, and then departed.

An hour later her reprehensible conagain and struggled on, and when she from that moment the bond of friend- He came upon Miss Hopkins out of the ship snapped asunder like an old clothesline left out in the storms of a year.

When women make war on each oth
When women make war on each "Aside from the principle involved and in addition thereto," remarked the er they don't use fence rails to pound but for the fact that she fell upon soft mud. She couldn't go back to town sted of a cow apparently thirty-six dawned with a murky sky overhead.

ran the sawmill and had a mortgage on the mill dam figured it out to his Strong has gone to Phillipsville to git married today, and he's goin' to bring "There are three old maids to one the bride home tonight. Hain't it Short-I say, old man, will you lend me $5 for an hour? Leng-No. Go and sit in the park for an hour; then you won't need it."-Chlengo News.

Hitson, Berwick, Bloom Scranton, Kingstor, where it connects with trains leaving Sea you where it connects with trains leaving New York City at 1.00 p. m., Philadelphia at 12.00 p. m. and Buffolo at 9.30 a. m.

T. E. CLARKE, Gen'l Sup't.

The Home Paper

Of course you read

OPULAR

APER.

Everybody Reads It.

Published Every Morning Except

Sunday at

No. II E. Maho ng St.

Subscription o cen. Der Week.

of Danville.

The doctrine of vegeterianism ap pears to be slightly shaken by the re The three old maids and the widow had had their eyes on this road from the first. They had soon begun walk-law for every and the first. They had soon begun walk-law for every and the first walk and the widow had been supported by the first walk and the widow had been supported by the first walk and the widow had been supported by the first walk and the widow had had their eyes on this road from the first walk and the widow had had their eyes on this road from the first walk and the widow had had their eyes on this road from the first walk and the widow had had their eyes on this road from the first walk and the widow had had their eyes on this road from the first walk and the first walk and the widow had had their eyes on this road from the first walk and the fir the first. They had soon begun walking for exercise. They didn't walk at the hours the merchant might be expected, and if they encountered each other they made all manner of excuses, but each one understood what the other was at and determined to baffle her in the end.

Yes lived. The exception the carrion, or meat feeding birds, are the longer lived. The exception is the swan. The average ages of some of the best known birds are given in the following: Blackbird lives 12 years, black-cap 15, canary 24, crane 24, crow 100, eagle 100 fewl common 10; goldfingh. Mr. Strong had been given three months in which to declare his attentions, and he hadn't declared. Time 23, nightingale 18, parrot 60, partridge and a widow living on the same street, but that was the case with Clifton. thought was to return to his store after a pigeon 20, raven 100, robin 12, skylark 30, sparrow hawk 40, swan 100, thrush

"You say she's only an amateur

It was labor thrown away. The murse?

"Yes. If she had been a professional murse she wouldn't have married the managings her and in her fright she first patient that came along She'd. up against her, and in her fright she first patient that came along. She'd went over the low railing and down have looked around a little first."into the water. If she couldn't swim Cleveland Plain Dealer.

ways cut down at the age of forty years, as thereafter it begins to dry sauntering up the hill wondering how up. Each tree yields on its demoiltion "that widow" dared be so bold and about six barrels of lacquer sap. The

if they were fated to live a long and a hind his back we do not think, "How unpopular other people are!" but "How we all catch it when we are not

Don't worry if you are not good looking. You look all right to your friends. The best looks on earth could not make you look good to your enemles, and those who are not interested in you don't know how you look .-Atchison Globe.

Miss Oldham awoke in the middle of the night and found a burglar ransacking her trunk. She did not scream but, looking him square in the eye, she pointed to the door and said:

"Leave me at once, sir!" "Oh, that's all right, madam," said

LACKAWANNA RAILROAD. -BLOOMSBURG DIVISION

TRAINS LEAVE DANVILLE. EASTWARD.

7.07 a. m. daily for Bloomsburg, Kingston, Wilkes-Barre and Scranton. Arriving Scranton at 9.42 a. m., and connecting at Scranton with trains arriving at Philadelphia at 3.48 a. m. and New York City at 3.30 p. m.

10.19 a. m. weekly for Bloomsburg, Kingston, Wilkes-Barre, Scranton and intermediate stations, arriving at Scranton at 12.55 p. m. and connecting there with trains for New York City, Philadelphia and Buffalo.

2.11 weekly for Bloomsburg, Kingston, Wilkes-Barre, Scranton and intermediate stations, arriving at Scranton at 4.50 p. m.

5.33 p. m. daily for Bloomsburg, Espy, Plymouth, Kingston, Wilkes-Barre, Pittston, Scranton and intermediate stations, arriving at Scranton at 8.55 p. m. and connecting there with trains arriving at New York City at 6.50 a. m., Philadelpia 10 a. m. and Buffalo 7a m.

TRAINS ARRIVE AT DANVILLE EASTWARD.

TRAINS ARRIVE AT DANVILLE 9.15 a. m. weekly from Scranton, Pittston Kingston, Bloomsburg and intermediate stations, leaving Scranton at 6.35 a. m., where I connects with trains leaving New York City at 9.30 p. m., Philadelphia at 7.02 p. m. and Buffalo at 10.30 a. m. 12.44 p. m. daily from Scranton Pittston, Kingston, Berwick, Bloomsburg and intermediate stations, leaving Scranton at 10.10 a. m. and connecting there with train leaving Buffalo at 2.25 a. m.

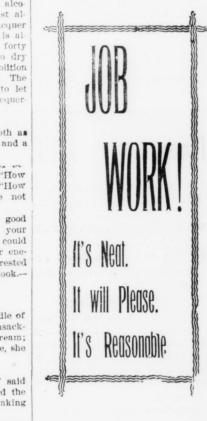

New Type, New Presses,

All you can ask.

A trial will make you our customer. We respectfully ask

No. 11 E. Mahoning St.

DANVILLE, PA

PRINTING DUNLY...

kinds of Printing

A well printed. tasty, Bill or Leter Head, Post.

Ticket, Circum Program, State ment or Card an advertisemen for your business, a satisfaction to you

Promptness-

that trial.