The time of year has arrived when ickness is more prevalent. The report of the local registrar, Dr. Shultz, for September shows that there are seven ases of diphtheria in the district as against one in July and none in Augist. Although Danville enjoyed an immunity from diphtheria during the ummer the dreaded disease was lurking about in the rural districts, notably Mahoning township, and that it has broken over the boundaries and taken root in Danville is not at all surprising to the physicians. There has been one new case in October. Unless precautions are employed diphtheria will

A circumstance which helped to make the situation unique was the fact that the jurors soon after Judge Evans arrived came out of their room and filing int the court room, took their places in the chairs they occupied during the letective engaged at the expense of Angle, Bedea, Finnigan, Hughes, Jatrial. The attorneys for the defense had not yet arrived and, while Judge with one accord solemnly arose and filing out through the door returned to their room, where they continued their deliberations for an hour or so longer. Their strange action was explained by the assumption that they whole aroused much curiosity.

thonotary rang out: "Gentlemen of the jury, harken to your verdict as the court has recorded it. You say that in the case of Commonwealth vs. Peter Dietrich, you find the defendant, Peter Dietrich, guilty of murder in the second degree and that you recommend him to the mercy of the court."

On motion of Mr. Ikeler the court ordered that the jury be polled, by which it is understood that each of the twelve men was called upon to anwer individually as to his concurrence in the verdict. The response of each juror was that his verdict was 'murder in the second dergee, recomnending the prisoner to the mercy of the court."

Bear at Mainville.

While driving along the McAuley road near John Breisch's farm in Main township, Columbia county, Monday evening about 6:30 o'clock, Frank Pursel, the Mainville merchant, came across a bear.

The horse was jogging along at the time when bruin came out of the brush on one side of the road, and crossed a few yards ahead of the horse. Pursel saw the animal, but as it was getting dark he at first took it for a big dog until the horse became frightened and then Pursel saw that it was a genuine bear. The animal did not step, how ever, but disappeared in the woods on the other side of the road. This must be the famous Mainville
