STUART SCORES IN SCHOOL TAX ISSUE

HIS COLLEAGUES Would Further Relieve Local Taxation Burdens From State Revenues. Republicans Will Sweep the State

IS A POPULAR PROPOSITION

Pennsylvania Has Been Most Liberal In General Appropriations For Educational Purposes.

S. Stuart, Republican nominee for Governor, in favor of the enactment of giving greater state aid for the building of good roads and for charitable purposes, have met with popular favor. His statement made in Jefferson sions of approval in many quarters. from the treasury.

Candidate Stuart's views regarding the school tax are especially pleasing State Association for the Abolition of the School Tax. Theodore P. Rynder, secretary of this organization, says: "We have an organization extending over the state having for its purpose the abolition of the school tax on real estate thereby relieving especially small farmers and city home lic education.

An Abundance of State Revenue. "The only question ever raised has been whether the state has the financial means to do it. As briefly as may be, let me answer that question. "The total cost for the whole state of teachers' wages, text books and supplies for last year was $15,537,020. To meet that bill the state now has a surplus of over $11,250,000, which by the beginning of the next fiscal year will reach at least $16,750,-

000. Then there can be added to this the $4,500,000 of annual current income, which during the last two years has been applied to equipping our new capitol, as well as some additional amounts that went into construction, and also the amount heretofore appropriated for the sinking fund. This $11,250,000 surplus, plus $5,500,000 regular school appropriation, plus $4,500,000 new capitol expenditures, will give us $21,250,000 with which to pay the $15,537,020 of teachers' wages, text book's and supand leave $6,000,000 and all interest and additional revenues to be added to apply to the ordinary ex-

"There are abundant sources of new revenue justly used in other states that can be availed of by the next legislature should any new revenue be needed.

"Mr. Stuart's pronounced stand on this issue will, in the event of his election, enable the state to take this great advance step in public education and make Pennsylvania the leader in intelligence, as she is in material prosperity."

What Counties Got Last Year.

While Mr. Stuart is advocating further relief of local taxation from the general revenues of the state, he does not overlook the fact that enormous sums are now being paid annually from the state treasury to the several counties for public school pur-
