APPROPRIATIONS.

The Reading Times is convinced that large appropriations will be made at the coming session of the legislature for the improvement of the roads and other matters of importance. It says: "The State has a large surplus on hand and the Republican party has committed itself to doing what is necessary for schools, highways and charitable institutions, including especially a strong attack on that great white plague, consumption. The income of the State is constantly increasing, and there will be funds for good enterprise." The News is favorable first of all to helping those who cannot help themselves. The insane and the defective part of the population must be cared for because they have no recourse except in the mercy of the State. A little more interest in the building of good roads would largely increase their number without materially increasing the general appropriation

The possibility of a citizen protest ing against the outlay of a large sum this expense and asking that a surcharge be entered has been suggested, sioners of many counties stop and think before going on with this arrangement for the new system.

A test case to test the constitutionality of the new primary law will no doubt be instituted, so that the various boards of county commissioners throughout the State may be able to act intelligently in enforcing the provisions of the measure.

WHEN VACCINATION FAILS TO TAKE

"After three carefully performed but should be admitted and the department of health has provided for this," said State Health Commissioner Samuel G. Dixon in an interview today.

called attention in the recent opinion it handed down reaffirming the validity of the so called vaccination law of June 18, 1895, to the hardship involved in the 12th section of that act when it is beyond the power of children of school age to be vaccinated although they may not previously have had smallpox nor previously been vaccinated; that even repeated attempts to per form the operation upon such children are without effect and vaccination will not take. In such cases, as the court points out, the physician can not certify that such child has been sucessfully vaccinated so as to meet the requirements of admission to school. The court's decision suggested the possibility of the health authorities, State or local, making a regulation setting child upon whom vaccination will not take should be permitted to attend chool. The court also suggests that the health authorities would have to sane. onsider whether such a regulation would be undesirable as affording opportunity for the evasion of the sta-

'In the rural districts. where there are no boards of health to pass upon such cases, I have always asked that after three unsuccessful attempts to vaccinate a child have been made, the name of the child and the physician who made the attempts be referred immediately to the State department of health. The cases have then been at once investigated by our county medical inspectors or some one deputized by them so that the child might not unjustly be debarred from school privileges. These methods of dealing with the situation have been in conformity with the supreme court's suggestion that the health authorities assume the responsibility of authorizing the admission to school of children upon whom after a reasonable number of attempts, vaccination does not take. "Taking advantage of the spirit of this part of the supreme court's opinon, we have also endeavored to deal with the cases of children where there was reason to believe that the child's physical condition did not make vaccination at the present time advisable. The attorney general of the State had given an opinion that a teacher was not authorized to accept a certificate from a physician, stating that the child was not in a physical condition to be vaccinated. It is reasonable to believe however, that although the simple giving of such a certificate by the family physician would not be sufficient, the spirit of the supreme court's opinion would permit the reognized health authorities throughout he State, after careful investigation, to pass upon such cases. CAN'T TELL THE TRUTH. And while we are in the political arena let us consider these remarks by the Pottsville Miners' Journal: "Candidates who ran for office at the recent election are still filing their campaign expenses. Of course the defamation of character is not included in the bill. But much said on the stump is not taken seriously, and hence can do no harm in the minds of those who do not believe all that is said in a political campaign." Unfortunately defamation of character and reckless lying about reputable citizens and faithful public servants still exits in certain Teachers' institutes in various parts of the State are passing resolutions in viding for the payment of pensions to veteran teachers. There will be no difficulty in securing the approval of teachers for such a measure; the essential and important thing is to get the friendship and favor of those who are not teachers.

It Quiets the Cough

This is one reason why Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is so valuable in consumption. It stops the wear and tear of useless coughing. But it does more -it controls the inflammation, quiets the fever, soothes, heals. Ask your doctor about this. The best kind of a testimonial-
