DRESSING FOR DINNER.

A Habit to Be Cultivated by All Classes of Persons. Dressing for dinner" is regarded by some as a piece of arrogance and as evidencing merely a desire to appear annerior to somebody else. They observe no dignity in the custom and perhaps do not realize the fact that the change of clothes is consistent with personal comfort and cleanliness, whether the new garments donned be of the evening dress pattern or not The most important meal of the day affords to those who dine in the evening an excellent opportunity of exchanging their workaday clothes for a suit which has been brushed and aired. The bracing effect of a change of clothes is well known. Many a man. being almost too fatigued after an arduous day's work to change his clothes finds himself considerably refreshed when be experiences a feeling of cleanliness and preparedness for his dinner, and good digestion invariably waits on bealthy appetite. The changing of clothes may even thus favorably affect autrition. Nor need the changing of clothes be the exclusive luxury of the persons who dress for dinner. The hard worked clerk, the shopkeeper and the workingman would all be better if they would cast off their workaday clothes and put on clean clothes for the evening meal after the day of toil is over. The change freshens the body, gives a gentle stimulus to the wearled hand and head, and a brighter view of things is thereby engendered. The habit is, besides, cleanly, dignified and becoming -Lancet.

NEEDLESS NOISES.

Maddening Effect of Some Sounds

It is the needler ness of most noise that renders them insufferable. You sleep very well through the roar of a wintry storm, but if some one has forgotten to fasten a blind and it begins to bang then you are lost. You might as well get up and locate that blind and fasten it first as last. The manifold noises of your steamer's plunga through the night, with the perpetual wash of the sea, unite in a lullaby to which the worst conscience sinks into repose, but a snore breaking from the BOROUGH EXPENDITURE ext stateroom recalls the memory of all one's sins The rush and lean and incessant but varied grind and clang of the sleeping car become soothing at lest but a radiator, beginning to fizz and click after the steam has been turned off, seems to leave the would be sleeper no resource but suicide. If you could get at the second engineer and leave him weltering in his gore, you could snatch a few cat naps before morning. But you cannot get at the secend engineer after midnight in most hotels. Continuous noises and necessare noises are things you can adjust senses or your spirits to, but the noise without a reason, without an apparent right, like the gnawing of a rat in the wainscot, is what drives so many to J H Cole...... perdition.-W. D. Howells in Harper's.

On a family druggist's prescription fle is an oft repeated prescription bearing number 37,111. The Latin of the twentieth century reads: "Recipe. Ticketorii theatrici numera duo sigue. Take this afternoon. Dr. -

Obviously it is an order on the druggist written by a reputable physician for two theater tickets, and the patients, mother and daughter, are enabled to take needed treatment at a matinee while the busy husband and father remains at work. The reason for the scheme as told the druggist by the doctor was the absolute need of mother and daughter for recreation, and as the druggist has a theater ticket office it was readily and satisfactorily arranged .- New York Sun.

Girl Slaves In China. A native writer in a Chinese publication remarks: "When a girl is sold in China she becomes the slave of her owner and a part of his property. She no longer retains her freeborn rights, but surrenders them all to the will of those who own her. She receives no James Rim compensation for her labor, but is obliged to accept such raiment and food as her owners may be pleased to give her. In cases of tyranny or gross cruelty she cannot appeal for redress. Same Mills ... Friendship Fire her be resold given away or give her. In cases of tyranny or gross She may be resold, given away or cast off in the streets at the arbitrary will of her master. All freedom is denied her, and she remains a tool and chattel in the hands of her owner until she is sold again or until death re leases her from her unwilling fate."

Historical Accuracy. Perish the thought that the novelist or playwright should be tied down to historical accuracy! Lady Dorothy Neville quotes an amusing correspondence between Bulwer Lytton and her brother:

bored to death. I am thinking of writing a play about your great ancestor, Sir Robert. Had be not a sister Lucy, and did she not marry a Jacobite?

My brother promptly replied: My Dear Lytton—I care little for my family and still less for Sir Robert, but I know that he never had a sister Lucy, so she could not have married a Jacobite. However, this mattered little to Lord

My Dear Walpole-You are too late! Sh Robert had a sister Lucy, and she did marry a Jacobite. So, in defiance of history, the play

'Walpole" came to be written.

It is surprising how many noted Engish artists began life by painting inn Among them were Morland, David Cox. Herring and Sir William Beechey. Millais painted a George and Dragon sign for the George inn, Hayes common. Another George and Dragon, at Wargrave on Thames, has a double sided sign painted by two R. A.'s. Gor ing on Thames has a sign from the brush of Marcus Stone, R. A. There are signs by Walter Crane and Caton Woodville at Gravshott and Fittleworth. Hogarth painted a number of signs for friendly publicans.

What Books Do. Books are friends whose society is extremely agreeable to me. They are lars per year, have distinguished themselves both in the ca inet and in the field and ob- Dollars per year, tained high bonors for their knowledge of the sciences. It is easy to gain ac cess to them, for they are always at Dollars per year, my service, and I admit them to my company and dismiss them from it troublesome, but immediately answer every question I ask them. Some reate to me the events of past ages, while others reveal to me the secrets of nature. Some teach me how to live and others how to die. Some, by their vivacity, drive away my cares and exhilarate my spirits, while others give fortitude to my mind and teach me the important lesson how to restrain my desires and depend wholly on myself. They open to me, in short, the various avenues of all the arts and sciences and upon their information I safely rely in all emergencies. In return for all these services they only ask me to accommodate them with a convenlent chamber in some corner of my humble habitation, where they may repose in peace, for these friends are more delighted by the tranquillity of retirement than with the tumults of society.-Francesco Petrarea.

The Early Trusts. Trusts were sometimes dealt with summarily in old England. For instance, the records of the Brewers company show that "on Monday, July 30, 1422, Robert Chichele, the mayor of London, sent for the masters and twelve of the most worthy of our company to appear at the guildhall for about the price and quantity of malt, wherein Whityngtone, the late mayor, declared that the brewers had ridden into the country and forestalled the Justice of the Peace of the said Bormalt, to raise its price, they were convicted in the penalty of £20 ($100). which objecting to, the masters were ordered to be kept in prison in the ed for the violation of Borough Ordinchamberlain's custody until they should pay it or find security for the payment

"Book of Mormon." proved to be a literary plagiarism, being a free paraphrase of a romance written by the Rev. Solomon Spalding in 1816, the manuscript of which came read as follows: into the possession of Joseph Smith and he, sitting behind a curtain, dic tated it to Oliver Cowdery, who, seated out of sight of the reader, wrote the matter as it was given him. Smith pretended that the book was discovered to him by revelation and dug up viz: from the side of a hill not far from Palmyra, in the county of Ontario, N. Y. The claim was made by Smith that 4.15 the writing on the plates was engraved 41.90 in "reformed Egyptian," which he was unable to read until magic spectacles. which he called his Urim and Thummim, were given to him, enabling him owned by the same person to the same both to read and translate into English. The spectacles and the metal plates have disappeared, and the story of the dictation makes tolerably clear
