Science of the Future.

The subject of extracting nitrogen from the air for use in fertilization of arable land is not new. But Thomas A. Edison's approval means much, for he usually thinks before he speaks. He says, "Until recently, the utilization of atmospheric nitrogen was regarded as merely a laboratory demonstration. Business men said it would never be obtained cheaply enough to sell to the farmer as a fertilizer. In Norway a plant has been established which has been conducted with such good results that I expect to see an atmospheric fertilizer on the market in this country within the next few years. That such a product will soon be imperatively necessary there is no doubt. Every shipload of wheat and corn which goes abroad leaves the United States so much poorer, not in gold but in nitrogen."

Mr. Edison also thinks that electricity may be generated directly from fuel before long, at a tremendous saving. With new schemes for the utilization of waste for fuel, several of which seem practicable, the United States may view with less alarm the alleged depletion of its coal fields. As for the extraction of nitrogen, the idea itself is old, as are most of the scientific speculations. Along with the harnessing of the sea, it may come, but not soon. Nature's forces are only dimly understood, and as Mr. Edison said recently, for every fact known there are millions unexplained and millions only faintly conceived. The earth will support the race so long as the race exists.

Sane View on College Morals.

Some years ago the president of an American university, in conferring the doctor's degree on a professor who was also a great administrative officer, attributed the professor's power among the undergraduates to his faith in the predominance of good in young men. This is in pleasant contrast to the recent utterance of the head of another American university, which implied that a low state of morals exists in our institutions of learning, and impute to the governing officers of some of those institutions indifference to the ethical well-being of the students. Young men are not saints. College faculties cannot be police officers. It is not necessary that they should be. But no one who has attended any American college can believe that his alma mater is an unsafe place for most young men. The variety of physical and intellectual interests abundantly engages youthful energy and does not leave much for dissipation. To one student who passes the night in rioting are hundreds who come in healthily tired from the field, read an hour or two, go to bed. If a young man is not in college he is not safe anywhere, even a block away from home, says Youth's Companion. The tone of college life is distinctly high compared with most environments in which a young man might find himself. The increasing number of poor men working their way through college establishes a tone of industry which the few ruffians and idlers are not numerous enough to dispel. Unfortunately, when a college man does misbehave, his ill deed, even if it be not grave enough to give notoriety to a young man not in college, is printed in the newspapers, which contrive to give the name of the college a conspicuous place. Careful parents shake their heads, and without reason conclude that the business life is more sobering than life in college. This unfair view is damaging to the whole system of higher education, the endeavor of which in our country is to invite youth and strength into the educated life.

Two Cent Rate on Railroads.

Passenger rates on all railroads of the United States will be reduced to two cents a mile. The lowering of the price and the complete abolition of the old three-cent rate will begin on July first. This was the decision reached in Chicago on Friday by the leading railroad presidents of all the western and trans-continental roads. It was not a formal agreement but it is especially binding, for two large roads doing a trans-continental business are said to have served an ultimatum to others that they would put the rate into effect immediately. They said that no further fight would be made on the two cent laws already passed.

Brought Here for Burial.

Blanche E. the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George John of Taylorsville, whose body was brought to this city yesterday, will be buried in Odd Fellows' cemetery this afternoon. The remains were taken to the home of John Mauer, Cooper township, grandfather of the deceased child. The funeral will take place at 2 o'clock this afternoon from St. James Lutheran church at Ridgeville. Rev. George W. Fritsch, the pastor, will officiate.

475 Per Cent. of Children Work.

State Factory Inspector Delaney in his annual report for 1906, transmitted to Governor Stuart this week, says that Pennsylvania can show a less per cent of employed children under 16 than any state in the union. There were in 1906 just 40,371, a percentage of 4.75 less than any year since 1859. The inspector remarks that this is a small number out of 1,500,000 children, of whom 245,117 are enrolled in public schools.

BREEDING OF GOLD FISH

Druggist O. M. Leniger has just completed a very interesting and successful experiment in breeding gold fish. At the outset it should be explained that the breeding of these rare and delicate fish is carried on only on a very limited scale in this country and has never been accomplished, so far as known, except in especially constructed ponds, out of doors. It remained for Mr. Leniger to bring about the result in an aquarium in his drug store.

In his culture of gold fish the druggist first tried the experiment in a large tank in his back yard. Several healthy specimens were kept there for four years. All indications pointed to failure, when he removed the fish into the store, placing them in the front window, where with a large number of others they formed an attractive display.

Much to Mr. Leniger's surprise a short time afterward he noticed that two of the fish were spawning, which is a most interesting process and is very little understood even by the most ardent fanciers of gold fish.

The eggs were yellow about the size of a pin head and being quite adhesive, they clung to the blades of the grass-like plants, growing in the aquarium. In from two to seven days they hatched out and at first presented a very odd appearance, seeming all head and eyes and had attached to them a proportionately large ball, which was the yolk-sac containing a nutritive substance from which the young fishes were nourished. At present the young fry, apparently thousands in number, have attained the size of small ants. They are daily viewed by many persons interested in nature study.

An Attractive Home Wedding.

Miss Mabel Askins and Edward Aten of this city were united in marriage last evening. The ceremony took place at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Askins, No. 158 East Market street, at 8 o'clock, the Rev. L. Dow Ott, pastor of Trinity M. E. church, officiating. The parlor was very prettily decorated with flowers, ferns, &c. May Patton, Agnes Genevieve, and Grace Wolf, nieces of the groom, were flower girls. Beyond these the bride and groom were unattended. The ceremony was performed under a bell formed of mock orange blossoms. The bride wore a gown of Paris maslin and carried a large bouquet of bridal roses.

After the ceremony a wedding dinner was served, sixty guests surrounding the tables. Among those present from out of town were: Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stricker, Miss Alice Stricker, of Catawissa; Mrs. David Herber, of Bloomsburg; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Diehl of Ridgeville; Adam Wagner of Millville.

The bride was the recipient of many beautiful presents comprising linen, silverware, china, &c. The groom is the son of C. S. Aten, Church street, and is well and favorably known. The bride is also a popular and highly esteemed young lady.

Home-Grown Strawberries.

The curbstone market with its inviting supply of strawberries, green peas, and other vegetables is beginning to take on a seasonal appearance. Strawberries Tuesday morning seemed to be the ruling commodity. Those shipped from points south, which met the demand up to a week or ten days ago, have dropped out and have given the market over to the home grown product.

Up to a few weeks ago strawberry growers predicted a nearly total failure of the crop. As shown by the sequel, however, they were altogether too pessimistic. Strawberries, at least as far as quantity goes, will probably be an average crop. The yield, owing to the late spring, may be a little deficient in luscious qualities, but on the whole the berries seem well developed. Strawberries yesterday sold at the rate of two boxes for a quarter. An inferior grade could be purchased at ten cents per box.

Prout-Pursel.

Miss Agnes R. Pursel, daughter of Hugh Pursel, Bloom street, and Arthur S. Prout, son of Mr and Mrs. Thos. E. Prout, Grand street, were united in marriage yesterday forenoon. The ceremony took place in the newly furnished home of the young couple, corner of Pine and Mahoning street, at 11 o'clock, Rev. M. K. Foster of St. Paul's M. E. church officiating.

The beautiful ring ceremony was employed. The room was tastefully decorated with ferns and flowers. Miss Lois Williams, niece of the bride, was bridesmaid, while the groom was attended by his brother, Josiah Prout.

The happy pair left on the 12:10 Pennsylvania train for a trip to Philadelphia and Atlantic City.

Charles P. Nill, United States commissioner of labor, has been looking about New York with intent to post himself concerning the merits and scope of the threatened strike of telegraphers.

Many American parents will sympathize with the fears of the good woman who was willing that her boy should go in swimming if he should promise to stay away from the water.

PRISONER TORE UP JAIL INTERIOR

MILTON, June 26. A frenzied prisoner, who gave the name of Charles Henry, demolished the interior of the lock-up last night. He found in it a long iron weight, and tearing out the radiator, crawled down into the cellar and secured a pick. He then came up and proceeded to smash windows and tear out the partition, destroying the interior in a few minutes.

No one could pluck up courage to venture in and handcuff the prisoner in his drunken frenzy. The officers threatened through a window grating. After smashing the woodwork and windows, the fellow demolished locks and bolts on the double iron doors and inserted a bolt in a manner to lock himself in.

He then waited for a crowd, which had gathered, to disperse, and make good his escape. Before he could get away, however, Constable Levi Pfug-ger went in and handcuffed him, and he was taken to Sunbury at midnight. Henry was arrested for savagely fighting on the river bridge in the afternoon.

Annual Meeting of State Teachers.

The Pennsylvania State Educational Association will hold its annual meeting at Greensburg, July 2, 3 and 4, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week. It promises to be a most profitable and enjoyable session. Among those who will take part on the program are Hon. Henry Honck, Harrisburg; Dr. E. T. Jeffers, York; Dr. J. D. Moffat, President Washington and Jefferson College; Miss Olive Jones, Principal of Schools for Chronic Truants and Incurables, New York City; Supt. Eli M. Rapp, Berks county; Gen. James A. Beaver, Bellefonte, Acting President State College; Librarian Geo. H. Lamb, Braddock, and Bishop John H. Vincent, Chautauqua, N. Y. Splendid programs have been arranged for round table conferences by the Department of Child Study, Department of High Schools, Kindergarten Department and Manual Training Department. The music will be a feature of the program. In addition to noted singers from Pittsburgh and vicinity, Miss Regina Arta, of the Manhattan Opera, New York, will be present the entire session. Miss Arta is the artist so often mentioned throughout the State by Hon. Henry Honck in his lectures upon his trip abroad. This meeting should be well attended.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE, Penn'a State Educational Association.

Great Activity in Hatcheries.

There will be great activity in the State fish hatcheries this summer, there having been a specific appropriation for extensive repairs. Commissioner Meehan has been apportioning the money so as to give each a share, which will result in putting each station in the best possible shape. He expects to have most of the work completed before winter sets in so that everything will be in readiness for operation next spring. This year the output of fish was over 632,000,000. With the completion of the new buildings and ponds the output in the near future will be more than 1,000,000,000 a year. This summer also a contract will be placed for the building of a large tug for Lake Erie. This vessel will materially assist in increasing the output of fish by the State. It is designed to use it partly for the purpose of spawning gathering on Lake Erie, and for patrolling purposes to suppress illegal fishing on Lake Erie within the jurisdiction of Pennsylvania. When the work planned by Commissioner Meehan is completed, the hatcheries will be better equipped for immense outputs of fish than any of the other State hatcheries and will only be exceeded by those of the United States government. Commissioner Meehan starts on his tour of the hatcheries on the first of July and he expects that it will occupy his time for fully three weeks.

No Riding on Engines.

Orders were issued yesterday calling the attention of trainmen of the Pennsylvania Railroad to the general notice issued on June 3. The notice issued on this date reads as follows: "The practice of trainmen permitting persons to ride on the engines, cabins or trains must be stopped. No person, whether employed or not will be allowed to ride without an order or pass."

Funeral of Mrs. Stoes.

The funeral of Mrs. Esther Savidge Stoes took place from the residence of Joseph W. Keely, West Mahoning street, at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The services were conducted by the Rev. Edward Houghton. The pall bearers were W. B. Rhoades, F. C. Angle, Esq., W. J. Williams and Charles Cloud. Interment was made in Episcopal cemetery.

Safe Was Locked Twelve Years.

Captain J. E. Harder, the Clearfield safelock expert, had business in Bloomsburg Tuesday. The safe-opener was called there to open a 6000 pound fire and burglar-proof safe in the building occupied by Townsend's Mercantile firm. The safe had been locked for twelve years, ever since its owner had disappeared from that town. Receiving word from the factory where the safe was made that their experts could not gain an entrance except by blowing it, and not desiring the destruction of the safe the present owners summoned expert Harder, who opened it after some manipulation and hard work.

FRANK LEE MILES IN NOVA SCOTIA

The following clipping from the Yarmouth, (Nova Scotia) "Daily Globe" affords a pleasing mental glimpse of our townsman, Frank Lee Miles, who is now holding forth in the far North East:

"The meeting held last Tuesday evening in I. O. O. F. hall, at which Bro. Frank Lee Miles, P. G. of Penna. was the principal speaker, was well attended by the Rebekah Odd Fellows and their friends.

Bro. Miles' address was listened to with closest attention as he portrayed in an excellent manner the history and objects of this branch of the Order, setting forth its advantages in a masterly way which convinced many of his listeners that they also should "go and do likewise."

It is certain that Bro. Miles' visit will be productive of good to the Order in Yarmouth.

The members of Diamond Lodge will have an opportunity of hearing this gifted speaker at regular meeting on Thursday evening, and no Odd Fellow should miss attending that meeting."

Columbia Park in Gala Attire.

Columbia park, at Lime Ridge, just above Bloomsburg, is now running full blast and there are but few parks of its size in Central Pennsylvania that are so well equipped to accommodate a large crowd as is this place. J. W. Peifer, the manager, has had erected two new cottages and these together with the other buildings will shelter a crowd of 4000 in case of rain.

Fine flower beds have been laid out and present a very beautiful appearance. Scattered around through the grove are benches and tables which are used for basket picnics, while a new dining room large enough to accommodate 100 persons, has recently been erected for picnickers who wish dinners prepared on the grounds.

Almost every day there are several private parties on the grounds, and Mr. Peifer already has a large number of picnics booked for the present season, the parties coming from Danville, Bloomsburg, Catawissa and Berwick.

Last summer there were picnics at the park every day, many of the Sunday schools from this section having their annual outings at Columbia park, and the booking this year includes almost all of the institutions that picnicked at the park last summer, which alone speaks well for Columbia park.

Mr. Bittenbender, the assistant, is a hustler, and it is largely due to his efforts that the amusements are so popular.

Henry-Fry.

One of the prettiest weddings of the season was solemnized in this city at high noon yesterday, when Miss Mary B. Fry, one of Danville's charming daughters, became the bride of C. Herbert Henry, a popular young man of Millville.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. S. Brown of Williamsport and took place at the home of the bride's father, J. H. Fry, Lower Mulberry street. The residence was most beautifully decorated, the room in which the wedding took place being literally a bower of wild flowers. Margaret Henry of Millville was flower girl.

After the ceremony luncheon was served to the guests, about sixty in number, comprising the immediate relatives and friends of the bride and groom.

On the 2:11 D. L. & W. train Mr. and Mrs. Henry left on a trip to Delaware Water Gap, New York City and points along the Hudson. Upon their return they will take up their residence in a newly furnished home at Millville, where the groom is manager of a general store.

Among those present from out of town were: Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Henry, parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. V. P. Eves, Mr. and Mrs. LaRue Eves, Misses Martha Eves, Mary Eves, Myra Eves, Margaret Eves, Messrs. G. W. Henry, Morris Eves, Carl Grimes, George M. Henry, all of Millville; Mrs. Marsh Zehnder and daughter Mary, of Scranton; Arthur Henry of Bloomsburg, and Miss Blanche Pursel and Raymond Pursel of Frosty Valley.

Montague-Evans.

Miss Bessie Evans and Harry Montague, a well-known couple of this city, were united in matrimony yesterday morning. The nuptial knot was tied at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's uncle, George Stillwell, Grand street, the Rev. John Sherman, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiating.

Immediately following the ceremony the newly-wedded couple left on the 9 o'clock Pennsylvania train for a trip to Pittsburg and other points.

This honest and positive remedy contains no cocaine, mercury, nor other harmful ingredient. The worst cases are cured in a short time. # ACCIDENT CAST GLOOM OVER YALE

NEW HAVEN, CONN., June 26. A frightful accident causing the death of one undergraduate and injuries more or less serious to two other students and to a guest cast gloom over the commencement exercises at Yale University today.

By the overturning of an automobile touring car in Centerville, Daniel Leet Oliver, of Shields, near Allegheny City, a junior in the Sheffield Scientific school was instantly killed, J. C. Colliston seriously injured, and W. Strother Jones and E. Hudson slightly hurt.

The four were spinning along the railroad tracks when Oliver, who was driving the machine, saw a trestle ahead over a small stream. He turned the machine suddenly to take the road bridge, but as he did so the car struck an iron post beside the bridge, disabling the steering gear. The machine then shot down a fifteen foot embankment turning completely over. Oliver was taken out dead from beneath the car. Colliston suffered a broken nose and possibly internal injuries. The men landed in the grass and were cut and bruised.

Oliver is a nephew of George T. Oliver, multi-millionaire and owner of the Pittsburg Chronicle Telegraph.

Silk worms at Work.

A colony of Chinese silk worms was put to work in the window of the Globe Warehouse Tuesday morning and for the next ten days the store will afford an interesting study of one of nature's most wondrous processes. Already Tuesday the window was the object of much interest and there was scarcely an hour but the space around it outside was filled with persons curious to see the wonderful little toilers in the very commencement of their short and active life.

As indicated above the silk worms are the genuine Chinese product, imported direct from China, and were procured through the influence of Minister Conger. Most persons, no doubt think they have a correct idea of the process by which silk is produced, but a daily glance at the little spinners during the next week or more will probably convince them that they had very much to learn on the subject. In no branch of entomology is there a subject more of more fascinating interest.

The first phase of the strange object lesson is the feeding of the silk worms. A quantity of mulberry leaves along with the worms was placed in the window Tuesday morning. The worms, many of which are over two inches in length, are very voracious and a mulberry leaf when once attacked soon disappeared.

After commencing work the silk worms do not stop until their task is finished. The second act of the little drama is the spinning process. Having feasted upon the mulberry leaves the worms, or at least a good many of them, will persist in going to the top of the window to spin. The window on the inside is draped with mosquito netting. In the folds of the netting the worms will spin and as arranged a very good view of the process should be obtained from outside the window.

Miss Hazel Harman a June Bride.

The wedding of Miss Hazel Harman to Herman V. Yeager took place Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents at Harrisburg. The ceremony was very quiet, the only guests being immediate relatives of the contracting parties. The ceremony was performed by the bride's father.

The bride is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Harry Curtin Harman, and is well known and most popular in Danville, where her father was recently located as pastor of St. Paul's M. E. church. Miss Harman is the possessor of a fine voice and is a highly cultured young lady. The groom is a musician of extraordinary ability and is also well known and liked in this city.

After the ceremony Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Yeager left for a wedding trip to Boston and seaside resorts, after which they will go to Eagles Mere for the summer.

Surprise Party.

A very pleasant surprise party was tendered Saturday evening at the home of John W. Springer, Mowrey street. The evening was spent with games and refreshments were served.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. P. Cashner, and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. Cope and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Swank, Mr. and Mrs. William Raker, and Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Weidensaul and sons, Ralph and Floyd, Misses May Kocher, Florence Meyers, Wanda Shepperson, Margaret Hurley, Annie Springer, Messrs. James Arter, Bruce Springer and Mrs. John Springer.

MISSIONARY WORKERS' OUTING

The well shaded lawn around the Grove Presbyterian church will be the scene of an unusual, though pleasant outing tomorrow. A basket picnic under the auspices of the Woman's Missionary society will be held in the grove, which, in addition to the women of the Grove Presbyterian church, will be attended by the women's missionary societies of Berwick, Bloomsburg and Orangeville.

Three well-known workers in the missionary cause will be present as speakers—Mrs. Bailey, State Synodical President; Miss Rupert, Home Missionary from New Mexico; and Miss Alice Frick of Milton. Miss Rupert is supported in New Mexico by the women's missionary societies of the Northumberland Presbytery. Her address will relate to the progress of missionary work in that field and will no doubt abound in interest.

The visitors will probably number a couple of hundred. Berwick alone expects to send a delegation of ninety. Clergymen from the various churches represented will also be present. The contingent from up the river will come down on the Danville and Bloomsburg trolley line and will arrive during the forenoon.

Luncheon will be served at 12 o'clock. Speaking will begin at 2 o'clock.

Oil in Hard Coal Field.

The search for oil in the hard coal region is on again and it is expected that this time the long-mooted question as to whether petroleum exists in the vicinity of anthracite deposits will be definitely settled. Expert drillers are putting down a number of wells in West Penn township, Carbon county, and one of the holes has already been sunk to a depth of over 2,000 feet.

That our American forests abound in plants which possess the most valuable medicinal virtues is abundantly attested by scores of the most eminent medical writers and teachers. Even the untutored Indians had discovered the usefulness of many native plants before the advent of the white race. This information, imparted freely to the whites, led the latter to continue investigations until today we have a rich assortment of most valuable American medicinal roots.

Dr. Pierce believes that our American forests abound in most valuable medicinal roots for the cure of most obstinate and fatal diseases, if we could properly investigate them, and use them in this conviction, he believes with pride in the almost marvellous cures effected by his Golden Medical Discovery, which has proven itself to be the most efficient stomach tonic, liver invigorator, heart tonic, and regulator and blood purifier known to medical science. Dyspepsia, indigestion, torpid liver, functional and even valvular and other affections of the heart yield to its curative action. The reason why it cures the above named affections, is clearly shown in a little book of extracts from the standard medical works which is mailed free to any address by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., at his sending request for the same.

Not less marvelous in the unparalleled cases it is constantly making of woman's many peculiar affections, weakness and distressing derangements, is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which is amply attested by thousands of public testimonials, and is a valuable remedy for all ailments of the female system, such as irregularities, prolapsus and other disorders, and is especially adapted to the relief of uterine and kindred affections, often after many other advertised medicines, and physicians had failed.

Both the above mentioned medicines are wholly made up from the specific extracts of native medicinal roots. The processes employed in their manufacture were original with Dr. Pierce, and they are carried out by skilled chemists and pharmacists with the aid of apparatus and appliances especially designed and built for this purpose. Both medicines are entirely free from alcohol and all other harmful, habit-forming ingredients. A full list of their ingredients is printed on each bottle-wrapper.
