WHO CAN RECALL JOHN J. PHILLIPS

It has been discovered that John J. Phillips, the wealthy Cleveland resident, whose palatial home adjoins John D. Rockefeller's estate and whose mysterious death last week has kept the detectives busy, was a native of Danville and grew to manhood in this city.

Mr. Phillips, who was one of the most widely known coal men of Cleveland, was killed by a bullet from a revolver early on Monday morning of last week at his residence in Mt. Union Avenue, East Cleveland.

The 'Cleveland Leader' is authority for the statement that Mr. Phillips was having financial troubles, which weighed upon him heavily and made him despondent, all of which gave substance to the suicide theory.

The Cleveland Leader says: 'Mr. Phillips has been a resident of Cleveland since 1888. He was born in Danville, Pa. in 1858, and when twenty years of age established a general store at Youngstown, O., which he managed for five years.

SIXTY RED MEN HEAR SERMON

Rev. Lloyd W. Walter, pastor of the Pine Street Lutheran church, Sunday morning preached a sermon to Mahoning Tribe No. 77, I. O. B. M., of this city. A good representation of the order numbering some 60 members was present, while the sermon was an especially interesting and appropriate effort delivered in the young pastor's happiest style.

During his introductory remarks Rev. Mr. Walter informed the Red men that they constituted the first secret organization that he had ever addressed from the pulpit. He reminded them that he had not consulted any of them as to the nature of the discourse that might be desired on the occasion, but explained that inasmuch as they had invited him to preach to them at the regular hour of worship Sunday morning he assumed that they had no other thought than of hearing a sermon such as is regularly preached dwelling on Jesus Christ, his love and power to save.

He therefore took his text from First Corinthians 3-11: 'For other foundation can no man lay, than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ.' Following is a brief synopsis of the sermon:

Dwelling upon the nature of that 'foundation' the speaker took up the person of Jesus. The relation which is always found to exist between the foundation and the superstructure is found to exist between Jesus Christ and the human race. As Jesus in his humanity was a perfect man so as a foundation for the human race he is perfect, implying fatherly care, love and redemption from the sins of the world.

Out of the perfect being one would expect perfect action. Christ makes a way for the imperfect to reach holiness or perfection. The way has been made; it is open. For man remains the voluntary act of acceptance or rejection.

The 'foundation' is reliable. Christ's purpose in its scope is irrefragable. The millions that have died, the millions that are living as well as the generations yet to be born—for their redemption this foundation of Christ's love and saving grace is laid.

It is a reliable foundation. Of all the sin in the world, or the agencies of sin, objective and subjective, Christ is able to save even to the uttermost Jesus desires and is willing to save. The great love of Jesus and the mercy of God through Christ desires the salvation of all men.

Christ as a foundation is exclusive. He is the only foundation. Mankind can never find a substitute. Neither can it improve this foundation by adding to it or by subtracting from it. God never provided another. He never will provide another; neither will he modify this foundation.

There are a great many people who have slight attacks of indigestion and dyspepsia nearly all the time. Their food may satisfy the appetite but it fails to nourish the body simply because the stomach is not in fit condition to do the work it is supposed to do. It can't digest the food you eat. The stomach should be given help. You ought take something that will do the work your stomach can't do.

Largest Market of the Season. The largest market of the season took place on Saturday morning, when the vehicles, standing closely side by side, lined the curbstone from the First National Bank to the Opera House block.

The proceeds from the market in the form of fees on Saturday amounted to two dollars more than at any other time this season. In all there were 132 stands in line.

The produce brought in from the farms embraced nearly every known variety. Peaches seemed to be the single commodity that was scarce and they were correspondingly high in price. There were large quantities of potatoes in market. The farmers insist that the potato crop will be short, nevertheless potatoes this year form the one commodity to which unduly high prices are not attached. The selling price at present ranges from 55 cents to 60 cents per bushel. Potatoes in quantity embracing less than ten bushels Saturday were purchased at 50 cents per bushel.

Occasional headache, belching, bad taste in the mouth, lack of appetite and slight nervousness are symptoms of indigestion which, when allowed to go uncorrected, will develop into a case of dyspepsia that will take a long time to get rid of. Don't neglect your stomach. At the first indication of trouble take something that will help it along in its work of digesting the food you eat. Kodol For Indigestion and Dyspepsia will do this. Kodol will make your food do you good and will enable you to enjoy what you eat. Sold by Paules & Co.

ELK KILLED AT BILLMEYER'S

Hon. Alexander Billmeyer had the misfortune on Friday to lose one of the finest of his herd of elk—a two-year-old bull—when the animal became entangled in the wire fence and broke his neck.

The animal which was killed was one that Mr. Billmeyer prized very highly. He still has left, however, of his bull elk, two 2-year-olds, a yearling beside Jumbo and Job. Several weeks ago when Job paid the penalty of fighting and conquering Jumbo, he was dehorned. Jumbo for a while allowed his rival to enjoy the fruits of victory, but as his big antlers came out the 'velvet' he started to make things lively for his dehorned conqueror, and was himself penned up.

After Jumbo had been put behind the bars Job began 'running' the four younger bull elk. The younger bulls were all afraid of Job, and it took pretty lively hustling on their part to keep out of his way.

Friday morning the elk which was killed was standing near the wire fence, when Job approached from the rear. The younger bull did not notice Job until he was quite close, when he threw back his head and turning to flee at the same time, caught his horns in the wire netting and broke his neck.

This is the time of the year when the bull elk challenge each other. Night and day, at intervals of but a few minutes, they hurt their heads backward and forward. Job has now gotten over the humiliation of being dehorned, and is nearly as fierce as his big rival Jumbo. The ferocious animals, as they utter the sonorous intonations of their battle cry, are a truly wonderful sight.

NEW DOG LAW RELATING TO TAGS

The new dog law of June 1, 1907, relating to tags is invested with a special interest here through the outbreak among the dogs that has occurred during a couple of days past. Very few people are acquainted with the new law except in a general way and are anxious to know how far its provisions afford a remedy in the present case.

The act provides that all dogs be required to wear a substantial collar to which shall be attached a tag, said collar to be furnished by the owner of the dog and said tag to be furnished by the county commissioners and to be paid for by them out of the fund realized from the taxation of dogs.

Should the owner of any dog or dogs neglect to pay the tax assessed it is the duty of the proper tax collector to give either written or verbal notice to the owner that if he fails to pay such tax and also to comply with the provisions as to collar and tag within ten days, or to kill the dog himself with in said time, said dog will thereupon be killed by the constable of the proper district.

In case of default by any such owner as to complying with the requirements of this act and particularly with section four as to payment of tax, wearing collar and tag, and killing his said dog, it shall thereupon be the duty of the tax collector, and shall also be the right and privilege of any citizen of the proper district, to notify the proper constable of the said district, of such failure and default and it thereupon becomes the duty of said constable to kill said dog. And in either case it shall thereupon be the duty of such constable to kill all such dogs; and for such service said constable shall be entitled to receive for each dog killed by him, from the county commissioners, out of the fund realized from the taxation of dogs, the sum of fifty cents.

Section 6th provides that every person keeping a dog or dogs about his house or premises, permitting such dog or dogs to remain shall be taken and deemed to be the owner of such dog or dogs for all the purposes of this act.

Law Bars Wine for Communion.

Under a strict construction of the Georgia prohibition law which goes into effect January 1, 1908, it is held that it will be unlawful to administer wine at communion.

This feature of the law is causing protest and grand juries throughout the State have adopted the following: 'After January 1, 1908, every minister who hands sacramental wine to his members will subject himself to as many indictments as there are members.

'Every deacon who hands sacramental wine to the members of the church will subject himself to as many indictments as there are members.

'We petition the General Assembly of Georgia to make such amendments to the law as will allow the christian people of this State to worship God according to the dictates of their own conscience without violating the laws of the State.'

Conscience. Conscience appears to have had an alarming effect on a gang of poker players who were indulging in the seductive game at a secluded spot on the old tow path at Milton last Sunday. While immersed in the game they saw three men coming down the tow-path on horseback. Such a scatterment was never before witnessed thereabouts. Most of them did not stop to get coats, hats or even to grab up the jack pot. It turned out that the 'men on horseback' were three farmers who were looking for some cattle that strayed off.

Too Old for Mt. Carmel.

A statement is made in one of the city papers that Mrs. Nannie Woolcock, of Mt. Carmel, is 112 years of age. This is remarkable enough, if true; but what is more remarkable is the statement that she was born and lived 112 years in Mt. Carmel. That would make her a native and resident of that place at a time when its only inhabitants were bears, wildcats and other wild beasts of the forest.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood. All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood. If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work. Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries. It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake if by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmor's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits. If you druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail from Swamp-Root, free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmor & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

FOREIGNERS IN SHAMOKIN SECTION

Mt. Carmel is the stronghold of Italians and Austrians in this part of the State. Shamokin, with a population much larger than that of the former town has but thirty more families than the little borough of Marion Heights and falls short of Mt. Carmel's number by one hundred and twenty.

Interest in the Italian population is great at this time and the following figures will prove of more than ordinary interest to the people of this vicinity.

Two hundred families, of Italians and Austrians reside in Mt. Carmel proper. There are also about 1,000 single men and about half of these speak only the Italian language.

Fifty families make their homes in Marion Heights. The total number of Italians in that little town is about 550, and of this number about 300 are single.

Eighty families call Shamokin their home. The total number in Shamokin being about 1,000 souls, married and single.

Many are disposed to be prejudiced against the Italians because of the many Black Hand outrages and other crimes laid at their door. It cannot be denied that there is a lawless element among the foreign colonies.

A great fault the Italians commit and one that renders them open to the criticism of peaceable citizens is the carrying of concealed deadly weapons. They go about armed constantly, and though they are not as a rule looking for fight, still upon the least provocation their hot passions are aroused, the murderous stiletto flashes for an instant, and sinks into the body of its victim and another crime is registered against the Italians.

Cured Hay Fever & Summer Cold.

A. J. Nusham, Batesville, Indiana, writes: 'Last year I suffered for three months with a summer cold so distressing that it interfered with my business. Fortunately I insisted upon having Foley's Honey and Tar in the yellow package, and it quickly cured me. My wife has since used Foley's Honey and Tar with the same success.' For sale by all dealers.
