BRIDGES REPORTED.

The constables' returns were next taken. There were no violations of law reported in any of the districts except in the township of Derry, where Con stable Charles Hollabaugh reported the bridges at Henry Cooper's and on DeGreen's roads as out of repair, holes appearing in the plank flooring, and there being other defects that might result in accident. The court explained the necessity of keeping bridges in good repair. Should an accident occur it was stated the township could be mulcted in heavy damages. The matter was referred to the district attornev with instructions to notify the supervisors to make the proper repairs without delay.

NO CARDS AT JAIL.

In a statement to the court Sheriff Williams reported that he has seven prisoners in jail, three of whom are under sentence. He explained what degree of freedom is given the prisoners in the corridor in order to give them the amount of exercise essential to the maintenance of health. It has been the practice to permit the prisoners to mingle in the corridor between the hours of 8 a. m. and 5:30 p. m At other times they are kept locked in which had come to the ears of the court, to the effect that the prisoners while mingling in the corridor are practice among the prisoners may have been up to the present time, the rules in force at the jail now strictly prohibit card playing. The court expressed approval and made it very plain that card playing among the prisoners can not be tolerated.

WALTER RUPP GETS 60 DAYS. At 11:20 o'clock the grand jury returned a true bill in the case of Commonwealth vs. Walter Rupp, the charge being assault and battery. At 11:40 the case proceeded to trial. The jury was called, after which Walter, was asked whether he had any counsel. He replied that he had none and did not think it was necessary to have a lawyer, as he wished to plead guilty. The defendant's plea was accordingly taken, after which Chief-of-Police Mincemoyer was called before court to explain the circumstances of the as-
