SPANISH-AMERICAN WAR VETERANS

The fifth annual reunion of the Spanish-American war veterans of the Twelfth regiment will be held in Lewisburg on Tuesday, October 29th.

Many prominent officers connected with the State militia will be present and make addresses. Among them will be General J. P. S. Gobin, who commanded the brigade in which the Twelfth served; Adjutant General Thomas J. Stewart, who occupied the same position at that time; Colonel James B. Corvill and Lieutenant Colonel Chas. M. Clement.

The committee on arrangements already has assurances that there will be a large turnout of the membership. The Williamsport delegation will be present with two hundred men headed by the famous Repasz Twelfth regiment band. Milton, Sunbury, Lock Haven and Danville will also be well represented.

A business session will be held in the afternoon at two o'clock. At five o'clock a supper will be served in armory hall and at seven o'clock the regiment will form in company formation, and headed by the Repasz band, will parade the streets of the town. There will also be a display of fire works. After the parade a camp fire will take place when the addresses will be delivered.

The members of Company "A" who are residing in Lewisburg are making an effort to make this a memorable event in the history of the old regiment. Captain Follmer is in communication with the members of the old company who have removed to distant points with a view of having a full representation of the company, as a company organization will likely be formed.

Lewisburg merchants have assured the committee that they will decorate their places of business, and the residences of the town will also be covered with the stars and stripes.

The program will be issued at some future time.

Hendrickson Family Reunion.

The reunion of the Hendrickson family held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Abram Hendrickson, Valley township on Saturday proved an exceedingly well attended and pleasant affair.

Those present at the reunion were mostly the grandchildren and great grandchildren of Abram and Mary Catherine Hendrickson, who settled in Valley township at a very early day and whose tombstones a couple of weeks ago were removed from the abandoned cemetery on Bloom street to the burial ground at Hendrickson's church, Valley township.

Prominent among those present was Harvey Hendrickson, one of the grandsons, who some twenty years ago emigrated to Oregon, this being his first visit to his native State. Mr. Hendrickson, whose home is at Paradise, Oregon, was accompanied East by his niece, Miss Mabel Wilson, of the same place. Miss Wilson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Wilson, who left Danville for Oregon at the same time that Harvey Hendrickson emigrated. The young lady was born in Oregon and the present is her first visit East. Charles Hendrickson of Joseph, Oregon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Abram Hendrickson, was present at the reunion after a sojourn of some years in the West.

Others at the reunion were: William Voris, and Miss Carrie Voris, Pottsgrove; Mrs. P. M. Ikeler, Moselle, Miss. Lloyd Surver of Pittsburg, Misses Fleda and Georgia Hendrickson, Herbert Hendrickson and Theodore Rush, Bloomsburg; Miss Bertha Surver, Mrs. Sarah C. Surver, Mr. and Mrs. William Hendrickson, of Riverside; Mr. and Mrs. James Shultz, Miss Belle Hendrickson, Danville; Mr. and Mrs. Abram Hendrickson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hendrickson, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hilkert, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Balliet, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Feustmacher, Mr. and Mrs. Barber Shultz, Misses Margaret Farnsworth, Maggie and Corabel Hendrickson, Edna, and Miriam Hendrickson, Mary Hilkert, Ruby Shultz, Messrs. Barton Hendrickson, Allen Shultz and Raymond Beyers.

SUNBURY CENTER OF TROLLEY WAR

Sunbury is just now the centre of a fierce trolley fight. The situation at present is in a fearful tangle, and it is doubtful if any but the lawyers who have charge of the numerous suits and counter suits now pending in the Northumberland county courts, have really a clear understanding of the situation.

In the development of the trolley lines in Northumberland county and adjacent territory, Sunbury is the natural centre of the system.

To the south of Sunbury the line to Selingsgrove is under construction; on the east the Shamokin line is gradually pushing its way toward Sunbury; on the north the road from this city will eventually run to Sunbury and on the northwest the extension to the Milton road has been planned.

All these lines are as the spokes of a wheel, of which the present Sunbury & Northumberland line is the hub. The natural way to complete the comprehensive system would be to connect the Selingsgrove line with the southern end of the S. & N., the Danville and Shamokin lines with the eastern end and the Milton line with the Northumberland end.

But the Sunbury and Northumberland company has no intention of doing anything so accommodating as to allow all these spokes to connect. In the meanwhile, as there is no other way for them to get into Sunbury except over the right of way now occupied by the S. & N., they will have to stay out until the courts decide the matter.

Naturally the citizens of Sunbury and the adjacent territory would like to see their trolley dreams realized, and have Sunbury become a trolley centre as well as a steam railroad center. So the good people of that town have begun casting about for the obstacle that is preventing all these lines from the north, south, east and west from entering Sunbury, and now they think they have discovered the obstacle in the Sunbury & Northumberland road, which they accuse of dog-in-the-manger tactics.

The outcome of the matter none can foresee, but whatever the developments may be Sunbury will have the sympathy of the people of this community, who also have been treated to a dose of prolonged trolley hold-up.

AND LIGHTNING

Saturday brought us what in all probability was the last heavy thunder shower of the season—that is if meteoric precedents are to count. The shower covered an immense area and was accompanied not only with the heaviest rainfall of the season but also with vivid lightning and deafening peals of thunder. Heavy as the rainfall was in Danville, in Bloomsburg the downpour assumed almost the proportions of a cloudburst. The lightning struck at least at two different places in Danville.

An electric light pole on Mowrey street was struck by the electric fluid and slightly damaged. Former Councilman Thomas Swank who was seated on the porch of his residence opposite not only felt the effects of the shock but was struck by one of the splinters torn from the pole.

The stone house owned by the Reading Iron company and occupied by Joseph Geringer situated between the cinder tip and the P. & R. railway was struck and slightly damaged, while Mrs. Geringer was injured by the lightning. The lightning at this place played quite a freak, first striking a chimney near the middle of the house, whence it ran along the comb of the roof toward the southern end. The lightning caused little damage to the chimney or the roof until it reached a point near the gable, where it seemed to explode like a bombshell, hurling the slate and splinters over the top of the house and creating a hole in the roof nearly three feet square. From this point the electric fluid seemed to scatter, so that, while the traces of the lightning could be seen in the stonework of the dwelling near the roof, no special damage was noted.

Mrs. Geringer, who at the time happened to be immediately below where the lightning struck, was shocked and it was necessary to call in Dr. Paulus, the family physician. Yesterday, however, Mrs. Geringer had nearly recovered from the effects of the shock.

GOOD NEWS.

Many Danville Readers Have Heard it and Profited Thereby.

"Good news travels fast," and the thousands of bad back sufferers in Danville are glad to learn that prompt relief is within their reach. Many a lame, weak and aching back has been cured, thanks to Doan's Kidney Pills. Our citizens are telling the good news of their experience with the Old Quaker Remedy. Here is an example worth reading.

Miles Fry, carpenter, of 445 West First St., Bloomsburg, says: "The statement I made in 1896 is about all I can say regarding my experience with Doan's Kidney Pills. I have not had any backache since I used them. Before taking this remedy I had chills in my back across the loins accompanied by a weakness and dull heavy pain in my head as well. I was also very much annoyed by too frequent action of the kidney secretions. I used many remedies without relief until I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills and obtained a box. They soon cured me and I have had no return of the trouble during the past eight years. I also know of several other people in Bloomsburg who have used Doan's Kidney Pills with good results and who speak of them in the very highest terms."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Do Parents Take Enough Interest?

The opening of our schools for another term prompts the press throughout the State to devote considerable attention to school work and many good suggestions are brought forth. The following excellent hints to parents are from the West Chester Village Record: "How many parents take a really active interest in what their children are doing at school? Not a perfunctory, half-hearted questioning about the routine of the school room, but a genuine, sympathetic interest in the details of the lessons, a friendly heart-to-heart discussion of the day's work. If you do not, why not? You can see readily enough, can you not, how such an interest would lend a new charm to the duties of the school room for your boy or girl, how it would dovetail with the work of the teacher in a really effective way? The teacher is not the only guiding factor in school work. The parent has his or her part as well to perform."

Burned in Columbia Co.

The severe electrical storm that swept this section Saturday afternoon, destroyed three barns in Columbia county, entailing big losses on the owners and tenants.

The large barn on the farm owned by Anna Johnson and tenanted by Isaiah Mausteller, about a half mile from Jerseytown was struck and burned to the ground, and with it the season's crops. The farming implements were saved. The loss is estimated at about $2000. There was a small insurance on the building, but none on the personal property.

At nearly the same time and about 500 yards from the Johnson barn, the farm of Peter Rudy was struck. This also was burned to the ground along with 100 bushels of wheat, 100 bushels of oats and a large hay stack.

The largest barn to burn was on the Frank Hagebuech farm in Centre township. The barn was 40 by 50. Also a straw shed 40 by 80, a hog pen and a wagon shed were destroyed at this place. A calf, the hogs, harness, some of the implements and all of the season's crops were burned. There was a small insurance, the actual loss being about $5000.

A special meeting of council was held Saturday night for the purpose of paying to D. J. Rogers $2,600.00, the greater part of the balance due him from the borough on the paving contract. This payment, along with contracts previously made, brings the amount up to about $5,000.00 that has been paid on the paving account.

This being practically the final payment it would imply that the portion of the North Mill street pavement contracted and paid for by the borough, at least, has been approved. The reconstruction of North Mill street by the borough and State jointly involves a peculiar entanglement, which is fully comprehended by comparatively few people.

In the first place under the law the State highway department in paving assumed only a strip twenty feet wide while the State awarded the contract for the paving of the entire width of twenty feet it really pays for only three-fourths. After the paving has been accepted and settled for by the State highway department the municipality has to refund to the State a sum equal to the cost of paving the remaining one-fourth or five feet.

North Mill street, however, presented a width of thirty-two feet, which left a width of twelve feet over and above the twenty feet assumed by the State highway department. This balance, along with the street intersections the borough had to take up independently of the State highway department. It represents a separate contract entered into with D. J. Rogers, in which the same figures prevail that holds good between Mr. Rogers and the State.

It will be seen, therefore, that the payments, approximating $5000.00, made by the borough to Mr. Rogers, represents a strip of pavement twelve feet wide along with the street intersections, and also, that it does not embrace all that the borough has to pay. Figures are not as yet available to enable one to approximate the entire cost of the North Mill street paving, but there seems to be little doubt but that the borough's share of the total expense will foot up nearly $8,000.00.

The following members were present at the special meeting: Swetsfort, Jacobs, Finnigan, Hughes, Angle, Dietz, Deutsch and Everhart.

Pittsburgh's Grim Record.

Much is said about the vast industries in and about Pittsburgh and their enormous output is the occasion for great gratification and not a little boasting at times. But there is another side to this picture that is shocking and distressing. "The Reader" says: "There are good many phases to Pittsburgh's gathering riches—her brilliant industrial supremacy—and one of these is the coroner's log book, in which is recorded the list of violent deaths. When this book was closed for 1906 there were noted in it 2,660 deaths. Of these 919 were the result of accident in mill, mine or on railroad. Each marked the grim relentlessness of these iron industries. When to this number was added the deaths occurring indirectly from the same causes, the total was sufficient to make more than fifty per cent of all violent deaths the cost in human life of the steel made in Pittsburgh for 1906. The record for the present year promises to be even more appalling. One thousand and ninety-five deaths have, in five months been recorded in the coroner's log, and of these 344 came violently in mills, mines and on railroads. No other city in the world, it is said, approaches this ghastly record."

A. J. Nusbaum, Batesville Indiana, writes: "Last year I suffered for three months with a summer cold so distressing that it interfered with my business. Fortunately I insisted upon having Foley's Honey and Tar in the yellow package, and it quickly cured me. My wife has since used Foley's Honey and Tar with the same success." For sale by all dealers.

Damaged Car Lines.

The most terrific rain and wind-storm in many years passed over the Panther Creek valley in Schuylkill and Carbon counties on Saturday doing great damage to railroad and trolley lines, unrooting trees, unroofing buildings and demolishing fences. At the Lansford park the large grand stand was blown down and ten persons were injured.

THE UNDERGRADE CROSSING

Bids have been invited for the undergrade crossing of the Danville and Sunbury Transit company where the latter is to pass under the track of the Pennsylvania railroad near the silk mill on the south side. It is confidently stated that work will begin on the crossing in two weeks at the furthest and that in a short time the cars will run through Riverside borough.

The plans and specifications, as is customary in such cases, have been furnished by the Pennsylvania railroad company. These have been much delayed, so that it is only on the approach of autumn that the Danville and Sunbury Transit company has been permitted to begin work on the crossing, which was an improvement arranged for early spring.

The plans call for concrete construction, the crossing to take in a width of the railroad equal to three tracks. At that point the railroad embankment is five feet high. The trolley track is to lie at a depth of seventeen feet below the level of the railroad, which implies that an excavation of twelve feet below the general level will have to be made. Allowing three feet for the frame work of the bridge, there will be an actual height of fourteen feet in the undergrade crossing, which will be fifteen feet wide in the clear.

Specifications have already been furnished to some half a dozen contractors including men of Danville, Bloomsburg and other towns. Mr. Hancock on Saturday stated that no time had as yet been set for opening the bids, but that it was safe to say that work on the undergrade crossing would begin in ten days or two weeks. In two months' time the crossing should be complete and the cars be running backwards and forward through the streets of Riverside.

The Pennsylvania railroad company will take care of its own track and will, therefore, be the first to begin operations, driving in piles and constructing false work to support the track while the undergrade crossing is being built.

Mr. Hancock says the Danville and Sunbury Transit company is much encouraged with the operation of the road even under its present handicap. That it is of service to the people was demonstrated a couple of months ago when in one day it carried 1,900 persons. With the completion of the undergrade crossing, when the car can get to Riverside, Mr. Hancock looks for a still more liberal patronage.

Next month the company expects a new car to arrive, which will be used alternately with one at present in daily operation.

EAST MARKET STREET PAVING

That council at its last meeting took no action in relation to the curbing to be installed in connection with the pavement projected on East Market street was quite a disappointment to the owners of abutting property, who are very anxious to learn whether or not there are any prospects of the pavement being laid next spring or at any time in the near future.

It is no secret that the proposed pavement is encountering considerable opposition from owners of abutting property covering several squares. The status of affairs at the meeting Friday night was substantially the same as at the previous meeting when it was considered inexpedient to open the bids that had been advertised for.

In the interim an effort was made to secure the signatures of those who refused to sign the first application. The objectionable clause wherein the property owner waived all rights and claims to damages that might result from the improvement was wholly cut out and the property owner was asked to obligate himself only to pay for the curbing and to keep his pavement in repair.

In making his report, Friday night, Mr. Jacobs reported that the form of application and agreement even modified as above failed to bring over any of those who stood out against paving.

Up to the present no ordinance to pave East Market street has been enacted by the borough and the report explained that the borough solicitor is now drafting an ordinance, which will be submitted to council at its next meeting.

In view of the loss of time, if for no other reason, the idea of installing the curbing this fall seems to have been practically abandoned. Whether or not the curbing accompanied with the paving will follow as a fact next summer depends altogether upon future developments.

The Milton fair, which will be held on the 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th of October this year, never had a brighter prospect for a good fair and a large attendance. It takes every precaution to protect its patrons and permits no gamblers or disreputable characters on the grounds.
