The following obituary of the late Coatesville "Daily Union," of Friday. The kind words very beautifulecho the tender sentiments that abide in the hearts of Herbert's friends in Danville. The article states .

Herbert Clifton Moyer departed this life at 5 o'clock this morning at 271 East Chestnut street, in the 35th year Pa., on March 3, 1873, his parents being William H. and Minnie A. Moyer. At the age of 18 he graduated from the Danvilla high school. He came to Coatesville about 15 years ago and en-tered the employ of the Lukens Iron and Steel company as a draftsman. By close attention to business and hard study he made himself a particularly useful man to his employers and about 8 years ago was advanced to the important position of master mechanic of all the steel plants and mills of the Lukens company and filled that position with credit to himself and profit to those who had entrusted him with the responsibility of looking after their machinery. But in the midst of his success when the future looked very rosy and attractive to him and hope beat high in his manly heart, sickness seized him, and for the past seven months he has been a great sufferer, the extent of which only those who watched by his bedside bility of the men who did not vote by have any conception of. IN HIS BED Stephen Girard Keefer, a resident of this city, Saturday morning, was found dead in bed at the home of his son-inlaw, Frank Starr, a short distance below South Danville. The sudden death led to complications, which have held up the funeral arrangements and made it impossible to remove the body. The deceased retired Friday night in his usual health. On Saturday morning when he failed to arise Mrs. Starr sent one of the children up stairs to call him. The little one returned explaining that "grandfather was sleeping.' At 8 o'clock Mrs. Starr herself went up stairs to call her father and found him dead. At what time in the night he expired is not known, but from all been dead some six hours. The sudden death was brought to
