YEAST JAR STARTS FIRE

A fire of peculiar origin started in the home of W. B. Harvey, who lives on a farm in Frosty valley about two miles this side of Buckhorn one evening last week. Mr. Harvey and his brother are the only occupants of the house, so all of the household work, along with the other work of the farm, falls to them.

On the evening in question, Mr. Harvey was carrying a jar of electric yeast across the room when the jar bursted in his hand with great force. Fragments of the jar flew in all parts of the room. The bottom of the jar flew and hit the lamp and broke it into many pieces. The oil in the lamp was spilled on the table and on the floor around the table. This was ignited by the flame of the lamp and burned very rapidly. With great presence of mind Vincent Harvey, the brother of the person who was carrying the yeast ran up stairs and secured a very heavy house blanket, which they used to good advantage in smothering the flames.

Both of the men received some burns while extinguishing the flames, but W. B. Harvey received the most severe burns. His one hand was burned very badly. It will be some time before he will be able to use that member again.

Funeral of Jesse Hollingshead.

Jesse Hollingshead, whose death occurred at Milton Friday morning, was consigned to the grave in Odd Fellows' cemetery near this city Monday.

The body was brought from Milton on the 11:21 P. & R. train. At the Bloom street station, in addition to relatives and others, were a number of Odd Fellows, who had marched down from the lodge room in a body and were waiting to accompany the funeral to the cemetery.

The body was taken down Church street and placed on a trolley car, that was in waiting. The services were conducted by the Rev. L. Dow Ott, pastor of the Trinity M. E. church. The pall bearers, all Odd Fellows, were as follows: George A. Fry, J. H. Woodside, Joseph Longenberger, John Tovey, John Sandel and Peter Burger.

The burial rites of the Odd Fellows were observed at the grave. When the funeral reached the cemetery it was raining pretty fast. The large canvas or tent provided by the cemetery association, which was stretched over the grave, afforded shelter for practically all those present and the services were completed without any inconvenience or discomfort.

In Favor of Postal Banks.

In a recent address in Chicago, Postmaster General Meyer brought out a timely argument in favor of postal savings banks. He showed how the cash which is taken out of the banks and hidden away in strong boxes at times of financial excitement like the present would in large part be deposited in a government savings bank if such an institution existed, from which it would promptly find its way back into the banks to restore some of the strength they had lost by the lack of popular confidence. That is a sound argument for the postal savings system which will appeal to men of the very class from which the enemies of the system are most apt to come. In Great Britain, where the postal savings bank has had a great development, the private banks are not regarded as weakened but rather as strengthened by this reservoir for savings. Ten million persons, or almost one-quarter of all the men, women and children in the United Kingdom, have accounts with the postal savings bank. The average sum on deposit is about $78,000,000. The increase in this total last year over the preceding year was $20,000,000. In connection the government operates an investment bureau for its depositors and will purchase government securities for them on easy terms.

Turkey Is Not Essential.

In view of the high prices which it seems will be forced upon the people for turkey for the Thanksgiving Day feast, the Chester Times suggests various other means whereby a good dinner may be had, by saying: "But turkey is not an essential to a good dinner for Thanksgiving or any other occasion, and the good housekeeper can easily get along with some other menu. It is a good year to demonstrate that turkey is not necessarily an element of the Thanksgiving for the market stalls teem with edibles to help the family out. Young porkers do not cost as much as turkey and a dinner on stuffed pig is preferred to turkey by some epicures and the meat tastes very much like the first out of the national bird. But if the menu cannot be pig, then why not try chicken, which can be procured at a reasonable rate, either for a roast or the old-time stew, while there is lamb, the varied cuts of beef and the whole sisterhood of meats that make good eating and will serve to circumvent the turkey trust and if there is care in looking for the side dishes and the extras that go to make up the Thanksgiving feast, much money can be saved."

There is nothing better for stomach troubles than KODOL, which contains the same juices found in a healthy stomach. KODOL is offered on a guaranteed plan for the relief of heart burn, flatulence, sour stomach, belching of gas, nausea, and all stomach troubles. So at times when you don't feel just right, when you are drowsy after meals, and your head aches or when you have no ambition, and you are cross and irritable, take a little KODOL. It digests what you eat. It will make you healthy. Sold by Pauls & Co.

Brought on Paralysis.

Mrs. Lydia Campbell, of Allentown, aged 82 years, purchased a piano as a present for her daughter last week and on Sunday night she heard it played for the first time. Overjoyed by the music and the pleasure the gift seemed to afford her daughter, she was stricken with paralysis of the heart and died the same evening.

RAPID INCREASE OF TYPHOID

There would seem to be pretty good grounds for some anxiety on the score of the recent outbreak of typhoid fever. This is not due so much to the number of cases as to the rapidity with which they have multiplied during the few days past.

An investigation shows that there are in town no less than ten or a dozen cases in which the disease either has been diagnosed as typhoid fever or there are symptoms present that point to the development of that disease. A leading physician yesterday afternoon stated that he had four new cases to report to the local registrar, while there were on his list two other cases that would probably develop into that disease.

Dr. C. Shultz, the local registrar, states that there is nothing alarming in the number of cases reported up to date, although he admits that the sudden increase is a feature to be watched with some curiosity. Should the disease spread no further or only a little beyond its present scope, as above stated, there will be no especial cause for alarm. If, on the other hand, the new cases should continue to multiply it will be only a few days until the line of safety will be passed and the number of cases will be above the normal.

R. W. Snyder, of West Mahoning street, a typhoid fever patient, on Saturday was removed to the Joseph Ratti hospital at Bloomsburg for treatment. The disease at present is scattered over the entire town and seems to embrace all classes, old and young. Among the patients are representatives of some of the best known families of town. None of those suffering with the disease at the present time are in a dangerous condition.

As to the cause of the sudden outbreak the doctors are wholly at sea. The patients, without exception, use hydrant water, although a few plead guilty of taking occasionally a drink of well water.

A series of freshets during the six weeks past has kept the channel of the river well flushed so that danger from the hospital sewage is reduced to a minimum. It is a question, however, whether the sewage from the hospital at all times and under all circumstances is not a menace to the health of our town.

A physician of Danville, who is not altogether free from anxiety on the subject of typhoid, adverted to the quality of river water yesterday. He is not at all optimistic in the matter. "Think of the quantity of sewage accumulating at the hospital for the insane, a colony of approximately fifteen hundred people, every twenty-four hours. How much less than a ton is it for each day. Reflect for a moment on what sewage is made up of and then bear in mind that the stuff is dumped into the river a mile above our water works. Try to picture the extent of pollution that takes place and then reflect whether our filter plant, modern and well equipped as it is, can be relied upon to eliminate the impurities and protect our town from the danger of plague."

To many persons the above will suggest the advisability of boiling water used for culinary and drinking purposes which after all is the only safe course to pursue in an emergency of the present sort.

P. R. R. OBSERVES THE SABBATH

One of the most remarkable orders ever issued by the Pennsylvania Railroad company was responsible for the silencing of the local division of the system yesterday. Only two trains were run through South Danville yesterday, when usually Sunday is made the occasion of a particularly large freight movement, the long trains following each other sometimes at intervals of but a few miles.

The order which was sent to all points on the great system Saturday directed that no trains be run between 6 o'clock Saturday evening and 6 o'clock Sunday evening, except stock trains and the regular passenger trains.

No perishable freight trains were to be started from New York, Philadelphia or the other great centers of traffic. When machinery began to move again last night, everything was almost as it was left Saturday evening. There was no more or no less freight at any point than there was before.

The money stringency is the cause assigned by the company for this radical move. This month the road has had great difficulty in paying its men in cash. At Harrisburg 90 per cent. of each employe's wages was in script. This one day's shut down will save the company many thousands of dollars.

The Sunbury division officials say that they always have tried to keep down the Sunday movement of freight trains and would never run any if they could help it.

The company is now running at almost its fullest capacity especially on the Sunbury division. It is doubtful if it can profitably close down for one-seventh of the time without causing serious congestion. Every train is as heavy as the engines can pull, and the order will merely block all freight a full day.

Strenuous Night for the Police.

Saturday was a general pay day in town and, as is usual when all our industries are running on full time, a very large sum of money was disbursed in wages.

Business among the merchants was good Saturday afternoon and evening. Incidentally, the policemen were kept busy. Their labors did not cease until nearly daylight Sunday morning.

There was trouble of some sort nearly everywhere and all at the same time. There was a quarrel among the colored population on the flat and a case of aggravated assault and battery in the Polish quarter. Scores of men in the celebration of the big pay got loaded up with booze and required more or less attention from the police. Several delegations from the country sampled the product of the town bars a little too deeply, after which they found abundant cause for quarrel with the town boys. One of these parties started a small riot and but for the timely arrival of the police would no doubt have been seriously injured before they got out of town.

All disorder was quelled before any serious results followed. Only one man was lodged in the lockup and that was a denizen of the foreign quarter with an unpronounceable name, who was accused of making a deadly assault on a woman.

HOWE'S MOVING PICTURES TONIGHT

Lyman H. Howe's great moving picture exhibition will be at the opera house tonight. Mr. Howe will give the best moving picture program that was ever shown in Danville, promising to surpass even his own former efforts.

Among Mr. Howe's views are a number from South Africa — that "Dark Continent" — which we knew as "The Great Unknown" only a few short years ago. Since the intrepid Dr. David Livingstone sacrificed his life in exploiting this continent of amazing resources; South Africa has been the cynosure of the world powers. To discover the most magnificent and awe-inspiring scene on the face of the earth — The Great Falls of the Zambesi — was a fitting reward for the heroism and self-sacrifice of the great Livingstone. Defying all the hardships, risks and dangers that kept others back, Lyman H. Howe has finally secured the first comprehensive reproduction of the Great Victoria Falls of the Zambesi. For the first time, all the splendor of the original "Nature's Masterpieces" will be shown in the opera house tonight. This feature of Mr. Howe's new program reveals the gigantic gorges, foaming torrents, wonderful atmospheric effects, and clouds of water above and below the fall.

The prices for tonight's entertainment are gallery 25 cents, dress circle 35 cents, parquet 50 cents. Reserved seats 50 cents. Tickets and Board at HUNT'S.

While William Swank, aged 18 years, was oiling a shaft in the Champion Saw Works, at Beaver Falls, on Monday morning, his clothing was caught by a revolving shaft and he was whirled around and beaten against the side of the building until he dropped to the floor lifeless.

On Monday Alma Chester, aged 18 years, of Donora, Washington county, was arrested on a charge of burglary and she admitted her guilt, saying that she was forced to do this to provide for herself as she was driven from home by a drunken father.

DANVILLE WON FROM BLOOMSBURG

The Danville high school foot ball team trived the Bloomsburg high school eleven Saturday afternoon at DeWitt's park in one of the best games that has been played on the local gridiron this season. The sum of Danville scoring was two touchdowns with goals kicked from both. Bloomsburg failed to tally. Score 13 to 0.

A large crowd was present to witness the contest. Neither team had any advantage as to weight and the game was remarkably free from kicking. The visitors were well pleased with their treatment here and gracefully accepted their defeat.

The game was replete with sensational plays, made mostly by the local team. The Danville boys outplayed their opponents from start to finish. The play was most in Bloomsburg's territory and there was no time during the two halves when Danville's goal was in danger.

Danville made a touchdown in each half. Dailey made the score in the first on a well executed cross line back — a trick play in which the team is apparently massed for a plunge through one side of the line, while a half back takes the ball through the other side. In the second half Kase made a sensational run of 60 yards for the second touchdown on an end run.

GOOD NEWS.

Many Danville Readers Have Heard It and Profited Thereby.

"Good news travels fast," and the thousands of bad back sufferers in Danville are glad to learn that prompt relief is within their reach. Many a lame, weak and aching back is had no more, thanks to Doan's Kidney Pills. Our citizens are telling the good news of their experience with the Old Quaker Remedy. Here is an example worth reading.

Miles Fry, carpenter, of 145 West First street, Bloomsburg, says: "The statement I made in 1896 is about all I can say regarding my experience with Doan's Kidney Pills. I have not had any headache since I used them. Before taking this remedy I had chills in my back across the joints accompanied by a weakness and dull heavy pain in my head as well. I was also very much annoyed by too frequent action of the kidney secretions. I used many remedies without relief until I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills and obtained a box. They soon cured me and I had no return of the trouble since during the past eight years. I know of several other people in Bloomsburg who have used Doan's Kidney Pills with good results and who speak of them in the very highest terms."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name — Doan's — and take no other.

You can't be well if you have a weak, unhealthy, tired out stomach. Neither can you feel good if by some little irregularity in eating you have caused the stomach to get out of order. These little stomach troubles are signs of indigestion, which may and very often does turn into a very bad case of dyspepsia. Don't allow this to go on a single day without doing something to overcome it. Take some good reliable and safe digestant like KODOL for Dyspepsia. KODOL is the best remedy known today for heart burn, belching and all troubles arising from a disordered digestion. It is pleasant to take and affords relief promptly. Sold by Pauls & Co.

The barn, with its contents, including live stock, of John Martin, of Lower Gwynedd, Montgomery county, was destroyed by fire on Monday night. The work was done by a viciously cruel incendiary, who stole an oil can from a neighbor to start the fire and had fastened the doors inside to prevent a rescue of the horses and cattle.

D. H. S. PUPILS WILL GIVE SHOW

The pupils of the Danville high school are arranging for an interesting dramatic event, which they will give during the first week in December in the Danville opera house. The play chosen is entitled, "The Old Vermont Farm," and is described as a delightful college rural comedy. The rehearsals and staging of the piece will be under the direction of G. Stuart Brodick, of New York City, who is already on the ground making the preliminary arrangements.

The proceeds of the entertainment are to be devoted to the Danville high school athletic association, and at a special meeting of the association held yesterday afternoon it was unanimously decided to present the play on Monday and Tuesday evenings, December 2nd and 3rd.

At the meeting Friday committees were appointed and everything arranged to proceed at once with the rehearsals.

The following committees have been chosen to take charge of the performance: Cast committee: Arthur Reifensnyder, William Hancock, Elizabeth Vastine, Lillian Foster.

Patrons and patronesses: William Books, Roy Shultz, Ralph Still, Marion Jones, Ivy Manger, Helen Gearhart.

Tickets: Edward Price, Tom Ryan, James Kase, Frances Hiatt, Mary Finigan.

Finance: Jay Sechler, Bruce Wolvenron.

Advertising: Curtis Lore, Harry Redding, Harold McClure.

A. O. & F. Employee Gets Big Damages.

The case against the American Car & Foundry company in which Agostino Delia Vertola, of Berwick, sued the company for $10,000 damages for injuries to his right arm, has been settled.

It appears that the defendant company is insured against accidents of the kind, which occurred to Vertola, in the Philadelphia Indemnity company. The insurance company agreed to pay a substantial sum to the plaintiff and the American Car & Foundry company further agreed to provide the plaintiff with employment of such a character as shall be suited to his crippled condition.

The defendant company also agreed to pay the costs of the trial. It is said the sum paid was in excess of $9,000.

Funeral of Charles Scott.

The funeral of Charles Scott, who died on Wednesday morning, took place on Saturday forenoon and was largely attended. Interment was made in Odd Fellows' cemetery near this city.

The funeral took place at 10 a. m. from the family residence near Chulasky. Rev. Joseph E. Guy, pastor of the Shiloh Reformed church, conducted the services. The choir of the church rendered a couple of appropriate selections.

"I'll Never Work in the Mines Again."

"I'll never work in the mines again," repeatedly asserts Michael McCabe, who was rescued from what nearly proved his tomb in the Draper workings near Gilberton last week after he had been imprisoned for almost four days. He says that he wonders that he has retained his right reason, for he believed himself certain to die and that death to be one of torture. Saturday he was in considerably better shape, as food is given to him in bigger quantities. He begged pitifully for water and food Friday, but a physician limited this to small quantities until his stomach would be able to stand it.

Saturday workmen started to clean up the culm in the mines as the work done for the rescue of McCabe consisted solely of getting through the quickest way possible. Many miners visited the scene of the accident Saturday and yesterday while as many more called at his home to shake hands with the man whom they the day before had never expected to again see alive.

MONTGOMERY COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY

The Montgomery County Medical society held its monthly meeting in the parlor of the Baldy house Friday afternoon.

The members present were: Drs. Newbaker, Free, Robbins, Oglesby, Stock, Shultz and Patten, of this city, and Dr. J. H. Snyder of Washingtonville.

Dr. Snyder read a paper on "The Treatment of Typhoid Fever," reporting several cases that came under his observation.

Dr. Shultz read a paper describing a rare case of "Septic Meningo Encephalitis," which proved of great interest to the members.

Dr. Charles B. Mayberry of Retreat was to have read a paper, but owing to the pressure of engagements he was unable to be present at the meeting.

An hour or so was spent in discussing the above papers and the subject of typhoid fever, several cases of which have developed about town during the few weeks past. There is some anxiety on the score of this disease, but it was the sense of the physicians assembled that the number of cases, although slightly on the increase, is well within the normal and that at present the public has nothing to fear from typhoid.

The New Pure Food and Drug Law.

We are pleased to announce that Foley's Honey and Tar for coughs, colds and lung troubles is not affected by the National Pure Food and Drug law as it contains no opiates or other harmful drugs, and we recommend it as a safe remedy for children and adults. Sold by all dealers.

J. S. Brown Got Sixty Days.

J. S. Brown, the "furniture club" man was brought up for sentence at Sunbury Monday morning, and he escaped with a very light imprisonment, that of 60 days in the county jail. He must also pay a fine of $20, and the cost of the prosecution.

He entered at once upon the serving of the sentence.

Brown, it will be remembered, was the man who organized clubs of women in different towns in this section Danville being among the number and each was to pay a stated sum of money each week. At the end of the week there was to be a drawing, and the lucky woman was to get her piece of furniture and then stop paying. These drawings it was claimed were kept up for a few weeks, and then ceased. Some of the women grew angry at what they said was losing their money, and had Brown arrested. He claimed sickness caused him to become lax. A jury of his peers thought otherwise.

He employed the best of counsel, and tried to get a new trial but that was refused him. He then asked to have the case reopened, but was refused, and Monday morning was sentenced by Judge Auten.

Babies and children need prompt attention when suffering from coughs and colds. The best remedy for mothers to use is Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup. It tastes nearly as good as maple sugar, it contains no opiates, and it is laxative and drives the cold out of the system by gently moving the bowels. Sold by Pauls & Co.

Public Sale of Real Estate.

The real estate of Jane C. Hartman and Frances Hartman, this city, was put up at public sale on Saturday. Only one property, however, the one on Ferry street, was sold.

↑ The sale was held at the court house at 10 o'clock, Ellis Rees being auctioneer. The three story brick building on Mill street was first put up, but bidding was slow. It was run up to $3050 by A. G. Harris, the stationer, but the bid was rejected as too low.

The two story frame building on the west side of Ferry street was knocked down to John Jacobs' Sons for $270.

Mrs. John A. Carr departed this life at the hospital for the insane at 6:30 o'clock Saturday morning. She was aged fifty-two years. Beside the husband of the deceased three children survive: John, Jennie and Clarence.

Swallowed a Nickel.

Miss Liavale Murray, of Philadelphia, aged 18 years, entered a crowded street car on Sunday evening and was standing in the aisle trying to lace a pair of long gloves when the car gave a lurch, causing a nickel, intended for her car fare, which she was holding in her mouth, to slip down her throat. She gasped and fell forward on other passengers when she was taken off the car to a physician's office, where the obstacle was soon removed.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.

The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood. If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work.

Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail.

Home of Swamp-Root free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

"Saved from the Slums."

"Saved from the Slums," P. E. Carrigan's latest comedy drama, will occupy the boards at the opera house next Saturday and will introduce Baby Sault — the child actress — as Jimmy Jones, the newsboy.

The play is filled with thrilling climaxes and startling situations. In the third act one of the most effectual fire scenes ever introduced in a comedy drama will be shown. The scene represents pier 13, East River, N. Y. The villain, in an attempt to destroy all traces of his crimes and to prevent the heroine from giving evidence against him, locks her in an old abandoned ticket office and sets fire to the place, the hero appears on the scene, rescues the heroine and is finally the cause of the villain being sent to prison.

The acting company includes Jack Carrigan, the romantic actor, portraying the character of Bill Crust, the escaped convict.

Cured of Bright's Disease.

Mr. Robert O. Burke, Elmira, N. Y., writes: "Before I started to use Foley's Kidney Cure I had to get up from twelve to twenty times a night, and I was all bloated up with dropsy and my eyesight was so impaired I could scarcely see one of my family across the room. I had given up hope of living, when a friend recommended Foley's Kidney Cure. One 50 cent bottle worked wonders and before I had taken the third bottle the dropsy had gone, as well as all other symptoms of Bright's disease." Sold by all dealers.
