RESTRAINED FROM PUMPING WATER

Judge Evans has handed down an opinion in the case of John B. Smith that the deaths exceeded the births. vs. Peter C. Moser and Morris Moser. In view of October's showing the re-He makes the preliminary injunction perpetual restraining the defendants, Peter C. Moser and Morris Moser, from pumping water out of the limestone quarries on the road leading from Washingtonville to Strawberry Ridge and from permitting the same to drain down the public highway.

When the preliminary injunction was granted in the early part of last summer the defendants had set up and were operating a steam pump and engine and were pumping the water out of the excavation forming the quarry. discharging the same upon the public road, whence, it was alleged, the water flowed on and over the plaintiff's land, causing irreparable damage, preventing him from cultivating a portion of his farm.

The two adjoining farms now owned by the plaintiff and defendant were formerly owned by Stephen Smith, father of the plaintiff and father-in-law and defendant acquired title by proceedings in partition.

DECREE OF COURT.

And now, November 30, 1907, this cause came on to be heard, testimony was adduced, the case argued and upon consideration it is ordered, adjudged and decreed that the preliminary injunction granted in this case be made perpetual and that the defendauts, their agents and employes be, and are hereby, restrained and enjoined from further throwing or discharging the water from said reservoir or excavation so that the same flows on over the plaintiff's land, the prothonotary to enter decree nisi, notifying counsel hereof and if no exceptions be filed in ten days, decree absolute. Arranging for Holiday Traffic.

Managers of express companies and railroad officials are arranging for a series of meetings to be held this week ther of the plaintiff and father-in-law of the defendant, and both plaintiff holiday business. Preliminary meetings were held several days ago with representatives of some of the roads and it was announced Saturday that the roads are in fairly good condition to handle this traffic. It was explained that the lake season is drawing to a close and that cars of all classes will be more plentiful than at any time this year. There has also been a slight falling off in freight tonnage, due to the closing of some of the mills and coke plants.

Last year the railroads were unable to provide cars to handle the holiday traffic and goods that had been shipped early in December was not delivered until after Christmas. The express companies were naturally blamed for this delay, and the meetings this week will be held with a there is now a noticeable increase in this business.
