SUCCESS OF PARADE ASSURED

The mums' association held a meeting in the parlor of the Baldy house Tuesday night. The report of the finance committee was most encouraging.

The finance committee has collected $108.14, which will be expended in prizes and for music.

On motion last night it was decided to give five cash prizes, each in gold, as follows:

- First prize, twenty dollars.
Second prize, fifteen dollars.
Third prize, ten dollars.
Fourth prize, five dollars.
Fifth prize, two dollars and a half.

Music will be a great feature, three bands and three drum corps will be in line. Among the bands in all probability will be the Mechanicsville band.

Enthusiasm is growing daily and there is no question as to the success of the mums' parade.

Posters will be out in a few days extending to not only the rural sections of the county, but also to the neighboring towns.

Whenever you feel that your stomach has gone a little wrong, or when you feel that it is not in good order as is evidenced by mean headaches, nervousness, bad breath, and belching.

Witness Absent-She Had Twins. Mrs. Wallerio Yeozioraki, of Shamokin, was subpoenaed as a witness in the case of the Commonwealth vs. John and Rosie Sulawicz.

Do You Borrow Your Neighbors' Newspaper? If so, this will interest you. THE PHILADELPHIA PRESS offers the DAILEY edition of that publication for one year and a twelve blade safety RAZOR.

Accepted Position at Mt. Carmel. Miss Alice Peyton, North Mill street, a graduate of the Danville high school class of 1906, left yesterday for Mt. Carmel.

Pleasant Family Dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Mowrer, Strawberry Ridge, gave a very pleasant family dinner on Saturday.

How's This? We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system.

Looks like we might have a white Christmas. The work of cleaning boilers began at the water works Wednesday morning and will occupy two or three days.

USING "MERRY CHRISTMAS" STAMP

If you received a letter from Wilmington, Del., recently, it's likely that there was one stamp more on it than was needed to pay Uncle Sam for the carrying—not a sure-gone postage stamp, but a "Merry Christmas" one.

Nearly every letter out of Wilmington the last few days has borne one down in the lower left corner of the envelope. And back of the little sticker, with its Red Cross, its holly sprays and its gold greeting, all printed in crimson, is about the best Christmas present thought of since a Baby Boy was born in a Bethlehem stable long ago—the kind of present he himself so loved to give—healing to the sick!

For each of these "Merry Christmas" stamps shows that a penny has been given by some one to help along in a new way the big fight being waged against the most terrible of our foes, tuberculosis.

It must be remembered, however, that these stamps are not good to postage, and that they should be stuck on the envelope in the lower left corner. It must also be remembered that any one who might seek to counterfeit them—which hardly seems possible under such circumstances—is liable to federal interference for the Red Cross sign is government property now.

And every penny that comes from the sale of "Merry Christmas" stamps means not only a happy greeting passed along—not only that, but far, far more. It means another weapon battling against the plague of plagues, placed in the hands of those who are battling against the plague of plagues.

That artesian wells would make a good source of supply the writer is not prepared to guarantee, but he does think it worth the experiment. The water from the artesian wells sunk at the big mill was pronounced most excellent for drinking purposes.

Passed Examination Successfully. James Donahue, New Britain, Conn., writes: "I tried several kidney remedies, and was treated by our best physicians for diabetes, but did not improve until I took Foley's Kidney Cure. After the second bottle I showed improvement, and five bottles cured me completely."

Party in Valley. A very pleasant party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Fenstermacher, Valley township on Friday evening. The evening was spent with dancing and games.

Gifts for Thousands. Mrs. Eckley B. Cox, widow of the Drifton coal operator, has just completed a census of the children of the men employed in the Cox collieries for the purpose of distributing Christmas gifts.

Notice to Our Customers. We are pleased to announce the Foley's Honey and Tar for coughs, colds and lung troubles is not affected by law as it contains no opiates or other harmful drugs.

Warts on Bridge Floor. That the bridge flooring of the Catawissa river bridge was about the "bunniest" job ever is again being demonstrated. The recent rains have caused the blocks to swell and huge warts have risen in many places.

A CHANGE IN WATER SUPPLY

Editor American—Kindly permit the writer a little space in your paper to advocate a change in the source of our water supply.

That our water is generally clear and apparently all right we must admit, but essentially what is it? We have wells sunk in the river bottom supplied practically directly from the river.

Now all this is not particularly pleasant to reflect upon as we take the water into our systems. Of course, the water is filtered, but take even the last analysis, what is obtained—is it anything more than filtered sewage of greater or less strength?

That artesian wells would make a good source of supply the writer is not prepared to guarantee, but he does think it worth the experiment. The water from the artesian wells sunk at the big mill was pronounced most excellent for drinking purposes.

We are now at what is dangerously near an epidemic of typhoid fever. In this connection an item in the Philadelphia Press of recent date makes interesting reading.

The city of Camden, N. J., which depends upon artesian wells, it was stated, had, during the year, a total of five cases of typhoid fever, while Philadelphia, just across the Delaware, which uses river water, counts its cases of typhoid fever by the hundreds.

THE CELLARS WHITEWASHED

The unusual prevalence of sickness is having a detrimental effect upon the public schools. Each of the wards seem affected about the same, but while some of the classes have few absentees, others are very much reduced and the general effect may be quite apparent when it comes to the final showing next spring.

The sick list, embracing sixty-eight pupils, reported to the school board Monday night, has not decreased any during the week. On the contrary it has grown. There is not a day but absentees are reported to the trustee officer, who invariably finds that illness in one of its varying forms is responsible for keeping the pupil out of school.

It is gratifying to note that everything practicable is being done about the school buildings to promote sanitary conditions. In the first ward the entire cellar taking in the original building and the annex, has been whitewashed by a modern process, which insures the introduction of lime into every corner and crevice.

In the other wards the cellars were white washed earlier in the term by the janitors. In the first ward, owing to the vast amount of work involved, Ambrose Prentiss was employed, who completed the work during the week of institute. The big cellar now presents a fresh appearance, while the odor of whitewash suggests the idea of cleanliness and purity.

The order issued by the school board that the water used by the pupils for drinking should be boiled is being faithfully carried out by all the janitors, although it adds considerably to their daily tasks.

In the first ward water has to be boiled twice a day in order to insure a fresh supply at all times in quantities sufficient to meet the demands of the pupils. In order that the water may be cool and palatable when needed Mr. Miller, the janitor, boils one vesselful at five o'clock in the morning. Another vesselful is boiled later in the day probably at evening so that it will be fit for use the next morning.

There is some difference of opinion as to how long water should boil in order to insure the killing of all organisms contained in it. To be on the safe side Mr. Miller adopts the extreme view and boils the water one-half an hour. In the third ward practically the same rules are observed as to the boiling of the water.

In the second and the fourth wards and on Welsh hill the contract for boiling the drinking water has been awarded to private families, who are in every way responsible.

The traditional open water bucket in which the pupils dipped the cup as it came from their lips has been discarded as a possible factor in the dissemination of disease.

AIR PREGNANT WITH XMAS SPIRIT

Counting the days till Christmas, are you, as you need to do in your "kiddie" days while you spent the rest of your waking hours computing the purchasing power of 25 cents and wondering how Santa Claus, if he really were as fat as a bowlful of jelly, could slide down your small chimney and squeeze through a 10 by 12 radiator opening?

You have noticed, haven't you, that peculiar thing called Christmas spirit that stalks abroad at this time of the year? It makes everyone proud to be seen carrying a load of bundles that at other times would be lifted only with a block and tackle, delighted to go sloshing around through hills of slush and curb fortifications of mud and charmed with flinging away money, that on the day of days the dear home folks shall have everything for which a wish has been expressed, old friends a bit of remembrance and new friends a token as an assurance of appreciation.

This year that spirit of Christmas has woke up a bit in advance of the usual date, and so enthused all the procrastinators, the "put offers," who customarily shop at the eleventh hour, that they are buying now, crowding into the stores as if one, instead of but eight shopping days, was all that was left.

"I was thinking of getting this for him," or "that for her," may be heard on all sides, the speakers forming a curious contrast to the other type who goes methodically about with a scrap of paper, checking off purchases as made.

The local merchants say that while there are many people "looking around" that as yet there has not been an abundance of Christmas buying. This condition, however, has its parallel in other years. The bulk of the holiday buying in town is always done in the week preceding the great holiday, and it looks as though this year is going to be no exception.

It is anticipated that the buying this week will be very heavy.

Public Speaker Interrupted. Public speakers are frequently interrupted by people coughing. This won't happen if Foley's Honey and Tar were taken, as it cures coughs and colds and prevents pneumonia and consumption. The genuine contains no opiates and is in a yellow package. Sold by all dealers.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

Most people do not realize the alarming increase and remarkable prevalence of kidney disease. While kidney disorders are the most common diseases that prevail, they are almost the last recognized by patient and physician, who content themselves with doctoring the effects, while the original disease undermines the system.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmor's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmor & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When mentioning this paper and don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmor's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y.

ENGAGEMENT OF MISS MARY HARRIS

The following from the Chattanooga, Tenn., Sunday Times, of December 8th, announces the engagement of a former Danville young lady: Mr. Benjamin P. Harris announces the engagement and approaching marriage of his daughter Mary Jane to

Mr. William Cannon Flournoy, the wedding to take place at St. Paul's church, Wednesday, January 23, at 8 o'clock p. m.

The young couple will leave on a late train for an eastern wedding journey, after which they will return to Chattanooga to live. Miss Harris is a Pennsylvania girl. She came south a little over a year ago to visit Mrs. Thompson, at 436 Oak street, Chattanooga, and was followed soon afterwards by her father, whose business interests have detained him in this section. Mr. Flournoy came to this city from Pulaski, Tennessee, five or six years ago and is connected with the Volunteer State Life Insurance company.

SON IN LAW OF HARVEY LOWE

Jacob Johnson, one of the men employed on the ill-fated bridge at Millville, whose sensational escape from a horrible death when the bridge went down has excited wonder far and wide, is the son-in-law of Harvey Lowe, the Pennsylvania railroad pump man, on the south side.

Mr. Lowe Friday evening stated that Mr. Johnson has nearly recovered from all effects of the fall. The man was standing on the top of the big traveler and fell at least 180 feet. When the traveler went down he was thrown out into midstream clear of the tangled mass of iron work and it was this circumstance that saved him, although it was equally miraculous that he escaped drowning after his terrible fall.
