Danville, Pa., Jan. 16, 1908.

Orn and Tomatoes.

It was asserted that the late cold Spring of 1907 would mean a poor tomato crop, but the lateness of frost in the fall enabled the tomatoes to ripen and give the largest pack on record. In Maryland more than 5,000,000 cases were packed last year, more than one-third of the total tomato-pack of the United States.

To offset the increase in the tomato pack, there was a serious shortage in the corn pack, which amounted to only 7,000,044 cases against 9,561,000 cases in 1906.

How far the short pack of canned corn will operate to stiffen the price of that article and thus nullify its competition with canned tomatoes—how far the general trade depression will cut down the pressure for canned vegetables, necessitating the lowering of prices to effect sales—no one can at present predict.

THOMAS CROSSLEY IS NO MORE

Thomas Crossley, an old and widely known resident of Valley township, departed this life at 8 o'clock Monday night. He was in his seventy-seventh year and had been in feeble health for some months past.

He was a native of Valley township and was born on the homestead farm, where he spent his entire life, on April 3, 1830. His father, Joseph Crossley, was among the pioneers of Montour county and assisted to build the William Montgomery residence in this city about the close of the eighteenth century.

The deceased was a representative and esteemed citizen. For a number of years he was overseer of the poor of Valley township. He was also assessor and tax receiver. He was a member of Straub's church and was a consistent Christian.

The deceased was a widower, his wife dying in 1872. He is survived by two sons and one daughter: Samuel Crossley, of New Boston, Ill.; W. L. Crossley, of Central City, Col.; Mahala (Mrs. Baldy Hartman) of Forks, Columbia county. The deceased was the last of a family of twelve children.

Town Hall for Washingtonville.

The borough council of Washingtonville on Monday evening decided to purchase the lot of land on Water street, opposite the Excelsior hotel, from Frank Courson. The purchase price was $275.00. It is the intention to build on the lot in the spring.

The lot which the borough has taken over is about 25 feet by 50 feet and extends from Water street back to the Chillisquaque creek. The building which will be erected will have a basement on one side of which will be used for the storage of fire apparatus and the other portion for a borough lock-up. Also in the building will be a council chamber, to be used by the borough fathers for their meetings.

At the same meeting Monday evening it was decided to purchase the harness shop of Adam Wagner for $50, the building to be moved onto the lot at once and used as a temporary meeting place for council.

The court made an order directing that a venire be issued to the sheriff and jury commissioners commanding them to empanel and the sheriff to summon thirty-six persons as traverse jurors and twenty-four persons as grand jurors to serve at the regular term of court to be held during the week commencing February 24th, 1908.

Wednesday's Proceedings.

After reconvening yesterday morning court attached the case of Commonwealth vs. Harry Hinshelwood. The twenty-four men called to the jury box were sworn as a whole after which each one was interrogated separately as to whether he had been improperly approached, had formed an opinion in the case or was a patient of the defendant. On request, the twelve men challenged, retired, which left the following jurors in the box to decide on the case:

W. T. Madden, C. C. Moyer, William Messersmith, Jacob Holdren, Elmer E. Renn, Samuel Hiltner, Thomas Woods, Joseph Wintersteen, William Rogert, William I. Dyer, George Vanorderstran and Jacob Harman.

The charge in this case was procuring an abortion, which resulted in death.

William H. Treas, father of Salome Jones, wife of Arthur Jones, the victim of the alleged abortion, was the first witness. He merely testified as to the marriage of his daughter, the fact of her death and physical condition prior to it, which he said was good.

Mrs. Mabel Pursel, sister of the alleged victim, was called to the stand. She testified as to her sister's condition, which had been delicate for over a month prior to her death.

Dr. Curry, who was called to attend Mrs. Jones on the Sunday before her death, was called to the stand. He found the woman suffering with symptoms of peritonitis, which might have resulted from an injury. He gathered from what he had learned from the husband what had occurred, a state of affairs, which frequently results in peritonitis. On the afternoon of the day following Mrs. Jones died. The woman was taken ill the Wednesday prior to the Sunday that Dr. Curry was called.

Mrs. Eliza Treas, mother of Mrs. Jones, was the next witness. She saw her daughter on Wednesday, November 20th, at the home of the latter. She was then suffering very much with pains in the abdominal region. On that day she was obliged to take her bed, which she kept until death followed.

On Friday afternoon Mrs. Jones, the alleged victim, made a statement to her mother confessing what had occurred and incriminating the defendant. The sick woman's mind then was clear and she was perfectly rational. She said she felt sure that she would not get well, as she had been hurt internally.

The details of Mrs. Jones' statement as testified to by Mrs. Treas were not of a sort that could appear in the public prints. In effect the statement set forth that on Tuesday night, November 19, Mrs. Jones accompanied by her husband went to the residence of the defendant in this city. She was taken into the house where instruments were employed by Dr. Hinshelwood. She endured great pain during the operation. With the process still in continuance she returned to her home with her husband and the next day became very ill as above explained. The defendant, the witness testified, called at the Jones residence and made his way to the sick chamber closing the door on the witness.

Mrs. Jones, according to the testimony, told her mother that she was cautioned to keep the operation a profound secret—that the defendant had cautioned them that they must come to his place after night, as he was watched, and that even the mother of Mrs. Jones must not know what had taken place. Mrs. Treas said that her daughter had informed her that her husband had paid the defendant five dollars and had given her ten dollars additional to pay him. In cross examination the witness explained that she did not inform Dr. Curry of the import of her daughter's statement when he was called to see the latter on Sunday morning.

The next witness was Mrs. J. W. Treas, a sister-in-law of Mrs. Jones, who testified as to the mental condition of the alleged victim on Friday, Nov. 22nd, the day on which she made her incriminating statement. The witness declared the woman's mind then was clear and she was perfectly rational.

Miss Moeschlin, who was with Mrs. Jones during her last illness and made some observations about the house, was an important witness.

Mrs. Moeschlin was corroborated by Mrs. Pursel, sister of Mrs. Jones, who was recalled to the stand.

Dr. A. T. DeWitt was called to the stand. He was the physician of Mrs. Jones, but was away from home when her illness and death occurred. He testified in support of Miss Moeschlin and Mrs. Pursel.

At 2 o'clock the Commonwealth rested. Up to the hour of noon W. Kase West had charge of the defense unassisted. During the afternoon session he was assisted by A. W. Duy of Bloomsburg, Hon. H. M. Hinckley as private counsel rendered valuable assistance to the Commonwealth. William Kase West in outlining the defense to the jury made it clear that an attempt would be made to discredit the alleged dying statement and to fix the responsibility of Mrs. Jones' death upon the woman herself. The first witness called by the defense was Dr. Harry Hinshelwood, the defendant. He explained that he is a graduate of Hahnemann medical college and has been practicing medicine since 1895. For some three years past he has been located in Danville. He did not deny that Mrs. Salome Jones appeared at his office on the evening of November 19 and that subsequently he visited her at her home as testified to by the Commonwealth. He denied, however, that there was anything criminal in his treatment of the patient. Mrs. Jones came to his office on the above date, stating that she was suffering from a female trouble and requested an examination. She was alone on the occasion. Her husband, Mrs. Jones explained to the doctor, had gone to the barber shop. Dr. Hinshelwood's wife was in the front office. He made the examination and explained to the jury the nature of the trouble that existed in Mrs. Jones' case, which he described as a common one. Desiring to make a further examination he requested Mrs. Jones to return to the office during daylight. On November 21st, he received a telephone call, in response to which he called on Mrs. Jones. He did not find the symptoms alarming. He continued to visit her until dismissed from the case. On one of his visits he found evidence that an operation had been performed. Mrs. Jones, he said, intimated that this was a matter which she wished kept secret. Mrs. Hinshelwood, wife of the defendant, was called to the stand. She corroborated the testimony of her husband on some points. Arthur Jones, husband of the alleged victim of malpractice, was called to the stand. He swore that he did not accompany his wife to Dr. Hinshelwood's office on the night of Nov. 19; nor did he know that she had made such a visit, until she told him about it on the way home. His testimony exculpated Dr. Hinshelwood and fixed the responsibility of his wife's death on the latter, herself. He denied that he had employed Dr. Hinshelwood or that he had ever paid him any money. Dr. W. R. Paulus was the next witness. He offered expert testimony in support of the view that there was nothing criminal or injurious in effect in the treatment that Dr. Hinshelwood, according to his testimony, had given Mrs. Arthur Jones. Dr. Paulus was followed by Dr. Harpel, Dr. Newbaker, Dr. Stock, Dr. Patton, Dr. Shultz, Dr. A. T. DeWitt and Dr. Curry, who testified to the same effect. The testimony closed last evening. The case will be given to the jury this morning. The jury in the case of Commonwealth vs. Harry Kinn, which was instructed by the court to return a verdict of "not guilty," returned a sealed verdict yesterday morning. The jury placed the costs in the case on the defendant. Harry Kinn accordingly was called before court and duly sentenced to pay the costs of prosecution or give bail for the payment of the same within ten days and to stand committed until the sentence is complied with. By permission of the court the matter pertaining to the constable's return in the fourth ward that had relation to a neglected road between Welsh hill and Sidler hill was continued until the next term of court. Judge Evans Monday instructed the district attorney to send up a bill of indictment against the town authorities.

"The Blood is The Life."

Science has never gone beyond the above simple statement of scripture. But it has illuminated that statement and given it a meaning ever broadening with the increasing breadth of knowledge. When the blood is "bad" or impure it is not alone the body which suffers through disease. The brain is also clouded, the mind and judgment are affected, and many an evil deed or impure thought is the result of impure blood. The impure blood can be made pure by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures and purifies the blood thereby curing, pimples, blotches, eruptions and other cutaneous affections, as eczema, tetter, or salt-rheum, hives and other manifestations of impure blood.

In the cure of scrofulous swellings, enlarged glands, open eating sores, or old sores, the "Golden Medical Discovery" has performed the most marvelous cures. In cases of old sores, or open eating ulcers, it is well to apply to the open sores Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve, which possesses wonderful healing potency when used as an application to the sores in conjunction with the use of "Golden Medical Discovery" as a blood cleansing constitutional treatment. If your druggist don't happen to have the "All-Healing Salve" in stock, you can easily procure it by enclosing fifty-four cents in postage stamps to Dr. E. V. Pierce, 663 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post. Most druggists keep it as well as the "Golden Medical Discovery."

You can't afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery," which is a medicine of known composition, having a complete list of ingredients in plain English on its bottle-wrapper, the same being attested as correct under oath. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels.

$5000 FOR A MONUMENT

The grand jury in session Tuesday approved of the proposition that Montour county build or assist to build a monument to the memory of the soldiers and sailors of the civil war and recommended the expenditure of five thousand dollars for that purpose. The petition, signed by nearly two hundred representative citizens, presented to court on Monday, was submitted to the grand jury for the first thing in the afternoon session. Hon. R. S. Ammerman appeared before the grand jury in behalf of the petition of the citizens. Frank G. Schoch, secretary of the soldiers' monument committee, was present as a witness. He exhibited to the grand jurors the design of the proposed monument and testified as to the estimated cost of the same and the amount of money already raised to assist in paying for it. The action of the grand jury relating to the proposition followed after a very spirited debate, in which a large number of the members participated. Mr. Ammerman made a forceful plea on behalf of the monument. Following is the grand jury's report on the matter: The grand inquest inquiring for the county of Montour and having regularly before it a petition of fifty or more citizens of Montour county praying that the county of Montour erect and complete a monument in memory of the soldiers of the late war of the Rebellion or to pay debts heretofore contracted for or about the erection and construction of such monument, after full and fair hearing to all persons interested, this application, by proper resolution of this inquest, was approved and it is further recommended that the sum of five thousand dollars be expended by the county commissioners in carrying out this purpose of the citizens signing said petition. ALEX. H. GRONE, Foreman. McCLELLAN DIEHL IN AN EXPLOSION

McClellan Diehl of Washingtonville passed through an explosion Tuesday afternoon, which might have ended his career, but which fortunately did not result in anything more serious than a severe shock and a few bruises. Mr. Diehl uses acetylene gas as an illuminant for his store. About four o'clock yesterday afternoon he went into the cellar to charge his acetylene plant. While engaged in the task he held a lighted lantern aloft to see whether the buckets were full of water. Some of the carbide, which found its way through the buckets, came in contact with the lantern. Without a moment's warning there was a deafening explosion, which practically demolished the whole plant bursting the pipes, wresting them from their fastenings and hurling the man back against the wall, a distance of four feet. He was struck by a flying missile on the breast and also on the head but he was not seriously injured.

THE MIDWINTER OUTING.

This is the time for the midwinter outing. A dash of summer in the midst of winter is an agreeable variation. It makes for health and pleasure and stimulates vitality. For the extended trip, Southern California, the fruit and flower land of the Pacific Coast, offers unrivaled attractions. For the fortnight's trip, Florida, the summer garden of the Northern winter, bids you come and enjoy its genial sunshine, its tropical scenes and its out-door life. For the ten days' outing, Pinehurst, Camden, Aiken, Augusta, Southern Pines and other popular resorts in the pine belt of the Carolinas and Georgia offer many inducements. For the short trip—the week-end outing—Atlantic City is always attractive. The same breezes that depress the thermometer in summer seem to keep it up in winter. It offers great hotels on the ocean's edge, out-of-door life on land and sea, and a climate full of snap but shorn of the winter severity. Before deciding on your midwinter outing consult a Pennsylvania Railroad Ticket Agent and get a Pennsylvania Railroad Winter Excursion Book. Whether you select California, Florida, the Carolinas, or Atlantic City, the Pennsylvania Railroad offers a comprehensive train service, reasonable rates and ticketing arrangements, and the best facilities that modern transportation methods can provide.
