CLOAK MAN AT CATAWISSA

Catawissa, that usually quiet village man scare just at the present time. The man is said to wear a big black ulster, and it seems to be his delight to scare women and children.

Several days ago a well-known woman was walking down Main street at about 9 o'clock in the evening, when suddenly a big man in a great black coat stepped out from behind a tree and approached her. She was frightened so badly that she started to run,

Mrs. John Cooper, living at 400 Church street, Danville, Pa., says:

"Prior to using Doan's Kidney Pills, Mr. Cooper suffered severely from kidney trouble. He was so stiff and lame across the small of his back that in the morning he would have great difficulty in arising from his bed. Sharp twinges would seize him when he stooped or lifted and the pains were as severe at night as during the day, greatly interfering with his rest. Dizzy spells were of frequent occurrence, and at times everything would become so dark between him that he was afraid of falling. Headaches added to his kidneys were so irregular in action as toleance him much distress. He used a structure. kidneys were so irregular in action as to]cause him much distress. BY CIRCULAR SAW

A bad accident occurred on the farm of George Barnhart, near Rushtown, Monday afternoon, in which a hard working and industrious man was maimed for life.

The injured man was E. R. Barnhart, brother of George Barnhart, who for many years of his life resided in the West, his home more recently being in Omaha, Neb. About the holidays he came East on a visit and since that time has spent much of the time with his brother near Rushtown.

Monday George Barnhart was engaged in sawing wood, using a cir-cular saw, operated by a gasoline engine. The brother from the West volunteered to assist at the work and took his position along side the saw to throw away the wood as fast as it was

About 4 o'clock a couple of pieces of edging fell down between the saw and the frame in which it was set. E. R. Barnhart with his left hand reached down to remove the edgings, which seemed to be in the way. As he withdrew his hand holding the sticks he came too near the saw and quick as lightning the rapidly revolving teeth severed his hand, cutting diagonally across the palm and leaving only stump remaining.

The man was driven to town a rapidly as possible. At the office of Dr. C. Shultz he received treatment, up the river, is in the throes of a cloak after which he was removed to the Joseph Ratti hospital. The injured man is unmarried and is 53 years of age.

WHO REMEMBERS "BILLY BROWN?"

Ninety-six years of age, hale and hearty and as frolicsome as a boy—a man still living, who emigrated to America before the octogenarians of our town were born-such are some of the noteworthy facts connected with the life of William Brown, a former resident of Danville, who dropped into the Montour house Saturday even

The aged man, who was on his way from Wilkes-Barre to Philipsburg, Clearfield county, dropped off the 7:51 Pennsylvania train at the south side and came over to Danville for the pur pose of looking up old acquaintances. He was easily recalled by many of our older residents.

For an hour or more the man afforded rare entertainment by his reminiscences of Danville, by his cute observaions and his keen wit. When our court house was built he hauled the first load of stone used in its construction from Pinece's quarry above town. At an earlier day when a building boom was on he purchased two lots near what is now the Hanover brewery and built a house, which is still standing. For many years he was engaged in hauling for the Grove Brothers. During the reign of terror caused by the "Mollie Maguires" he was with Alexander Rea at Centralia. He built several houses in the coal region and for many years before the railroads became a factor he was engaged in teaming over this section. He gave a description of Danville in the early days of the canal and named all the prominent families.

The old gentleman was a master of polite sarcasm. Upon being asked where he resided he replied:

"Do you know where Philipsburg is-the poorest town in America? Well, I live a mile beyond that yet, sur.

He owns a house and lot, but the oal mining industry has advanced bevond that section, leaving the community without resources, while the abandoned mines have drained the water out of the farms. The object of his visit, he said, is to try to sell his place, but he added, with a twinkle in his eye; "If I can't sell it. I will

William (or Billy Brown as he was known) was born in Ireland, but emigrated to America eighty-two years ago, when he was fourteen years of age. Immediately upon landing, he said, he resolved to associate with the best American people. He accordingly learned to talk Dutch and at present he can converse as fluently in that language as the average "Pennsylvania Dutchman."

He attributes his sound health and unimpaired faculties at the age of ninety-six to the fact that during his life he has avoided indulgence in the tobacco and whiskey habit. He neither drinks, smokes nor chews tobacco. project he has in view for next year, which is nothing less than the raising realize big money.

Mr. Brown's father and his grandfather in Ireland were staunch Whigs. When he arrived in America he decided as far as possible to follow in the footsteps of his worthy progenitors and he accordingly voted the Republican ticket. He has been a follower of that party all through life.

Mr. Brown served two years and one month in the civil war as a member of the newspapers to ascertain what of Company I, 96th regiment under Col. Cake. He has not yet received a pension, although he has made application. He intimated that there is no particular hurry in the matter, as there are many years ahead of him in which to enjoy a pension.

Richard Umstead, of Bloomsburg, until Saturday morning had never been outside of Montour and Columbia counties, with the exception of a visit made to Milton several years ago. However, on Saturday he left for New York City, where he will visit for several days with his daughter Mrs.

Mr. Umstead intends making his initial trip one of pleasure and will make up for all these years he has been staying at home. He will take in all the sights of the big city. He has been reading of New York City considerably of late, and thinks he will have no trouble in getting around, although he says he will shun Chinatown.

STREET SWEEPING

A force of men were put to work by the borough scraping Mill street, Saturday morning. Since North Mill street has bee added to the paved territory the bor-ough finds itself confronted with a much weightier proposition when it comes to street sweeping. It is a question whether the primitive method employed last year will not have to be improved upon the coming summer. Certain it is that one man with shovel and hand cart will not be able to keep the long stretch of paving clean.

Whether another man and cart should be installed and the duplicate outfit kept at work on North Mill street or a modern sweeper drawn by horses should be adopted to keep the entire stretch of paving clean is a question that is already being discussed among the councilmen. There is little doubt that since North Mill street has been paved and the length of paving is doubled that council will decide to be progressive in the matter and adopt some modern method of cleaning.

Neighboring towns employ sweepers drawn by either one or two horses.

Moreover, the cleaning is mostly done in the night time so as to spare people to go find during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. Does Your Heart Beat

Yes. 100,000 times each day. Does it send out good blood or bad blood? You know, for good blood is good health; bad blood, bad health. And you know precisely what to take for bad blood - Aver's Sarsaparilla. Doctors have endorsed it for 60 years. One frequent cause of bad blood is a sluggish ver. This produces constipation. Poisonous ubstances are then absorbed into the blood-cep the bowels open with Ayer's Pills.
