HAND INJURED IN MEAT CUTTER

George Hoffman, employed at Joseph Smith's meat market, this city, met with a bad accident about 11 a. m. Monday as the result of which his left hand was badly mutilated and he sustained the loss of two fingers.

Mr. Hoffman was cutting up meat for sausage, using the customary meat cutter operated by steam. He stopped the machinery and had his hand about the knives when something occurred to cause the cutter to start. In an instant the man's hand was under the knives, which are so arranged that in an instant they are capable of doing fearful execution on whatever falls under them.

By the time Mr. Hoffman was able to extricate his hand it was shockingly mutilated. The first and second fingers up to the middle joints were literally chopped to pieces. On the ball of the thumb there was a long gash, which laid the flesh open to the bone. The end of the thumb was also very badly lacerated.

The injured man was hurried off to the office of Dr. P. C. Newbaker. He pluckily bore up under the painful injury and was able to walk all the way to the doctor's office, although the loss of blood was very great and he could be tracked by the red trail that he left on the sidewalk.

The man was in the doctor's hands for nearly two hours. Dr. Curry was called in to assist in making the amputation. The first and second fingers of the left hand were amputated at the middle joint, in addition to which the several cuts and gashes on the hand were sewed up.

BLOCKADED

Every Household in Danville Should Know How to Resist It.

The back aches because the kidneys are blockaded.

Help the kidneys with their work. The back will ache no more.

Lots of proof that Doan's Kidney Pills do this.

It's the best proof, for it comes from Danville.

Mrs. Charles D. Whispell, living at 263 Mill street, Danville, Pa., says: "My experience with Doan's Kidney Pills justifies me in recommending them as a remedy of merit. For some time prior to using them, I had pains through the small of my back and kidneys, and at times my back was so painful that I could hardly straighten after stooping. At night I was unable to assume a comfortable position and in the morning I would arise scarcely able to get about. A dull languid feeling sapped all my energy and I felt miserable. Doan's Kidney Pills were finally recommended to me so highly that I procured a box at Hunt's drug store, and their use promptly relieved the pain in my back. After using the contents of the box my strength and energy returned, and the backaches and other disorders of my kidneys disappeared. I give Doan's Kidney Pills my highest endorsement."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Will Leave Northumberland.

Northumberland county, particularly this section thereof, will in all probability soon be at the mercy of the lawless element, jubilant over the "panning out" of cases against Black Handers at the term of criminal court ended. The members of the state constabulary who did such excellent work in bringing offenders to "justice" are disgusted with the treatment accorded them in the courts here and it would not be surprising if Captain Groome orders his men to other fields, where their work will not be in vain.

SHERIFF, I'LL DIE GAME

"Sheriff," I'll die game and I'll die innocent," were the words uttered by Stanny Marcovich in his cell at the Northumberland county prison at Sunbury, Saturday morning when Sheriff Taby read the death warrant conveying to him the official information that Governor Stewart had fixed Tuesday, June 3th as the day for his execution.

During all the time that Sheriff Taby was reading the death warrant Marcovich paid close attention and never showed the least trace of nervousness. When the sheriff had concluded Marcovich answered as above in a strong, loud and clear voice.

The death warrant was received by Sheriff Taby on the early morning mail Saturday and bore the signatures of Governor Edwin M. Stuart and Secretary of the Commonwealth Robert McAfee.

Stanny's last hope now rests with the board of pardons, and if they do not commute the death sentence to life imprisonment, which is not considered likely, he will be taken to the jail yard and hanged on the day fixed by the governor.

Deafness Cannot be Cured.

Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

WITNESSES FAIL TO APPEAR

The coroner's jury consisting of William Kimbel, R. H. Bird, S. H. Shultz, Lafayette Sechler, William Welliver and M. L. Richart, empaneled in connection with the discovery of the body in the river at Kipp's run one week ago, reassembled at the office of Justice of the Peace E. W. Young Saturday evening, but they were unable to render a verdict owing to the absence of important witnesses.

The jurors were sworn Sunday of last week, after which they viewed the body. The intention was to reconvene Monday night following and render a verdict. The identification of the body as that of Abram W. Jones of Plymouth and the necessity of having some of the family of the deceased appear as witnesses led to a postponement of the inquest.

Acting Coroner E. W. Young called up a justice of the peace of Plymouth who had assisted in the identification and recovery of the body and requested that members of the family appear at South Danville Saturday evening for the purpose of testifying. The justice left the acting coroner under the impression that witnesses would be on hand.

As above stated, however, when the jurors reassembled there was no one present from Plymouth. Instead, however, there was an affidavit from the Rev. Mr. Griffith to the effect that he had identified the body as that of Abram W. Jones.

The latter evidence, of course, was essential, but it was not all. It was equally important that the jurors should hear testimony relating to the man's disappearance from his home so that they might determine whether it was a case of suicide or whether there was room for suspicion of foul play.

Under the circumstances the jurors decided not to proceed with the case, Saturday night, but to adjourn the inquest until some subsequent date, when, if possible, the wife or son of the deceased, if not both, should be present.

To procure their attendance when wanted the acting coroner will subpoena the witnesses needed in due and legal form.

If the facts relating to the man's disappearance, the leaving of a note behind, etc., as related by the Rev. Mr. Griffith and printed in the News, be sworn to by members of the family, eye witnesses of events, the jury would probably have no difficulty of reaching a verdict of death by suicide. No date for the inquest was fixed Saturday night.

It is a pity to see a person neglect indications of kidney or bladder trouble that may result in Bright's disease when Foley's Kidney Remedy will correct irregularities and strengthen these organs. Take Foley's Kidney Remedy at the first sign of danger. Sold by all dealers.

A Hearing at the Jail.

Charles Hulihan, arrested Saturday in connection with the robbery at James J. Whipple's dwelling on Railroad street last Thursday, was given a hearing at the jail Monday afternoon. In default of bail he was committed to jail to await the action of the grand jury.

The hearing was conducted by Justice of the Peace W. V. Oglesby, who temporarily removed his office to the county prison, occupying the sheriff's office. The defendant pleaded not guilty.

In addition to James J. Whipple, two boys, Morris Blee and Andrew Burke, were heard as witnesses. The boys swore that on Thursday, the date of the robbery, they saw Hulihan and another man with a gold and a silver watch in their possession, which were among the articles stolen from Whipple's dwelling.

The justice fixed bail at five hundred dollars, which the defendant failed to procure. He was accordingly remanded to jail.

SELLING WHEAT AT ONE DOLLAR

The farmers on the south side are benefiting from the advance in wheat and are practically cleaning out their granaries at one dollar per bushel.

Thomas Elmes and H. E. Bohner, the latter proprietor of the mill at Roaring Creek, are buying all the wheat that can be obtained in Rush, and adjoining townships. They are shipping from South Danville, Roaring creek and Paxinos. On Saturday they finished loading the second car at South Danville.

The scene presented about the station during the two days was quite a remarkable one. At times there were as many as sixteen wagons in a group waiting for an opportunity to unload. As early as 6 o'clock Saturday morning six loaded wagons were lined up near the car awaiting the arrival of the man in charge. All of which indicates that the farmers appreciate the opportunity to get rid of their wheat in such unlimited quantities at one dollar per bushel.

By Saturday night Messrs. Elmes and Bohner had loaded 3000 bushels of wheat at South Danville. Many of the farmers earlier in the season sold portions of their last year's crop, but the two dealers state that there is still a great deal of wheat stored up in Rush township, as well as elsewhere, the most of which they have purchased. During the present week they expect to ship six car loads additional.

Patient Escapes from Hospital.

A male patient escaped from the hospital for the insane on Saturday. After wandering up the river for several miles he lost his way; he traveled about without knowing which way he was going until he arrived at his starting place. At the sight of the familiar group of buildings comprising the hospital he quickly turned and fled, but it was too late. Attendants were soon on his trail and he was captured.

It was at noon when the patient made his escape. As soon as he was missed several attendants started in search of him. But they were unable to obtain any clue until evening when as the result of becoming confused the patient appeared at the institution. He was seen near the gas house by the crew on duty, who immediately called up the hospital. The patient had not proceeded very far up the river the second time when he was overtaken by the attendants.

Fell Into Canal.

A ripple of excitement was caused on Mill street Monday morning when the four-year-old son of V. Palmasano, the Italian fruiterer, fell from the top of the high culvert into the canal.

The accident took place about 10 o'clock. The little boy was playing on the culvert and finally climbed outside the railing, where he lost his balance and fell down over the edge of the wall into the canal.

The fall was one of fifteen feet. Fortunately the child landed in the middle of the canal where his fall was broken by a shallow stream of water and a bed of mud. He escaped injury, although he was very badly frightened.

Several bystanders saw the little fellow fall, among them being Walter Rupp, who ran to his assistance wading out into the middle of the canal and bringing the boy into shore.

The little fellow landed right at the entrance of the arched waterway and had the water been only a trifle higher he would have stood in great danger of being carried through under the culvert and probably drowned.

Francis Lange, of Philadelphia, aged 4 years, fell into a box of fresh slaked lime on Sunday and was severely burned about the face and body and may lose an eye. Only by his timely rescue was his life saved.

Civilization still nourishes a few nasty defects.

THE SUPREME COURT OPINION

Following is the supreme court's opinion in full relating to its recent decision reversing the lower court's decree that granted the Danville and Bloomsburg Street Railway Co., the right to cross the D. L. & W. track on Mill street at grade:

The Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad Co. vs. The Danville & Bloomsburg Street Railway Co., January Term, 1908, No. 35. Appeal from the court of common pleas of Montour county. Filed May 4, 1908. Foll, J.

The bill in this case was for an injunction to restrain the defendant, an electric passenger railway company, from crossing at grade the tracks of the defendant's road in the borough of Danville.

The proposed crossing was upon the main street of the borough, which was thirty-six feet in width between the curb lines and closely built up on both sides. At this place 14 regular trains cross the street daily and a full view of the plaintiff's tracks could not be had in either direction at a point more than a few feet from them. An order dissolving a preliminary injunction was reversed and the injunction reinstated to maintain the status quo until final hearing. On final hearing on the same testimony the injunction was dissolved and a grade crossing allowed subject to regulations imposed by the court.

The conclusion reached by the court that it is not reasonably practicable to avoid a grade crossing is not founded on a finding that it is impracticable to construct an overhead crossing at this place and to operate the defendant's cars upon it but upon the findings that the preponderance of the evidence establishes that an overhead crossing on Mill street would be more dangerous to life and limb to operate than the present grade crossing and that "the crossing is not so dangerous as to warrant equitable interference by the court."

In reaching this conclusion the wrong test was applied. The question is not as to the comparative dangers of an overhead and a grade crossing, nor as to the extent of the danger of the latter, but whether it was reasonably practicable to avoid a crossing at grade. The clear and explicit mandate of the act of June 19, 1871, is that "if, in the judgment of the court, it is reasonably practicable to avoid the grade crossing they shall by their process avoid a crossing at grade." The policy of the state as here declared has been given the fullest effect in an unbroken line of cases extending from Railroad vs. Railroad, 77 Pa. 173, the first case that arose under the act, to Railroad vs. Rogers 209 Pa. 559. The extent to which the risk may be reduced by the exercise of care, and the cost of constructing an overhead crossing, are not elements in determining the question; Tractor Co. vs. Canal Co., 1880 Pa. 610; Railroad Co. vs. Railway Co., 188 Pa. 84. The act is in effect a mandate to the courts to prohibit grade crossings unless it is impracticable to avoid them and unless crossing is an imperative necessity; Tractor Co. vs. Railroad 188 Pa. 105. What is reasonably practicable is determined largely by what is physically practicable; Railroad Co. vs. Railway Co., 192 Pa. 560.

In railroad Co. vs. Lawrence county, 198 Pa. where the cases of the subject are considered it was said by the present Chief Justice: "It must, therefore, be accepted as the settled policy of the State as administered by this court, that wherever the subject comes within its jurisdiction and control, no grade crossing of a railroad over another railroad or a common highway, will be permitted except in case of manifest and unavoidable necessity." In the latter case of B. & O. Railroad Co. vs. Butler Railway Co., 207 Pa. 406, our brother Mestrezat said "In all cases of proposed grade crossing, therefore, the only question is whether it is reasonably practicable to avoid it and, if so, the statute is mandatory to prevent it. In determining this question the main purpose of the statute, to protect life and property, is not to be ignored or disregarded. Experience teaches with absolute certainty that a grade crossing is unsafe and that its existence is a standing menace to human life. This fact should be kept constantly in mind in adjudicating the rights of railway companies in proceedings under the act of 1871."

The decree is reversed at the cost of the appellee and it is directed that an injunction issue restraining the defendant, its officers, agents and employees from constructing a crossing at grade of the plaintiff's tracks on Mill street in the borough of Danville.

THE Y. M. C. A. LACKS FUNDS

At a recent meeting of the board of directors of the local Y. M. C. A. the financial condition of the Association was thoroughly discussed. The directors found that they were being handicapped in all phases of the work by the lack of funds.

They found, among other things, that the general secretary, who should be devoting a good share of his time to spiritual work, under the existing conditions, is compelled to almost entirely confine his attention to money matters, in order to keep the income of the Association from falling below the actual running expenses. Recently, in order to meet expenses, the board was put to the necessity of borrowing.

To relieve the stringency the board is now perfecting plans for a thorough canvass of the town for memberships and funds. The Y. M. C. A. is a gift to Danville from one of the most public spirited men who ever lived in this town, and the citizens of the community which the Association is calculated to benefit should not allow a few dollars to retard its usefulness.

During the canvass about to be made the board of directors hope the people will respond and assist in placing the Association on a sound financial basis, thus permitting the officials to devote more of their time to religious work.

Workman's Eye Is Extracted.

The eye of Alexander Flakovicz, of this city, was extracted on Saturday morning. The man, it will be recalled, is a foreigner, who was injured at the Reading Iron works Thursday morning by being struck in the eye by a piece of steel while working at the shears.

Although the eye was wholly destroyed Flakovicz at first refused to have it extracted. A day or so later, when he learned that he was in danger of losing his remaining eye through sympathetic inflammation, he decided to submit to an operation.

The eye was extracted at Paul P. Swentek's by Dr. J. J. Brown, of Bloomsburg, assisted by Drs. Stock and Shultz, of this city. The operation was a success.

MRS THOMPSON LAID TO REST

The funeral of Mrs. Anna E. Thompson, whose death occurred Monday morning, took place at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon from the family home at Bloom street. Interment, which was private, was made in Odd Fellows' cemetery.

Evans, of Harrisburg, a former pastor of St. Paul's. The pall bearers were: Robert Y. Gearhart, M. G. Youngman, Thomas G. Vincent, A. H. Grone, J. B. Cleaver and W. J. Rogers.

The following persons from out of town attended the funeral:

INCREASED THE BISHOP'S SALARY

LOOK HAVEN, May 12.

The Episcopal diocesan convention in session here today took no action upon the matter of a bishop's residence, it being permitted to remain optional with the bishop. The bishop's salary was increased from $4,000 to $4,500, with $500 for traveling expenses and $500 for stenographer.

The convention is attended by sixty clergymen and ninety laymen. The opening session was held last night, following a procession from the parish house to the church, headed by Bishop Darlington and participated in by the clerical and lay delegates.

After last evening's session, from 9:30 to 11:30, a reception was held in the armory. Those who received were Bishop and Mrs. Darlington, the Rev. Mr. Niens and Mrs. A. D. Satterlee and Mrs. S. R. Peale.

It was agreed at this morning's session, by passage of resolutions, that no parish can be admitted to union with the convention unless it pay the latter $1,000 salary and house rent. This matter goes over until next year for final consideration.

The probability is that the next annual convention will be held at Shammokin.

Joseph Bright, formerly of Reading who a week ago last Saturday night kidnapped the 8-year-old son of William Steiner, of Nazareth, and then assaulted the lad and turned him loose at midnight to find his way home or perish, entered a plea of guilty on Monday in the Northampton county court and was sentenced to the penitentiary
