"VOLUNTARY MANSLAUGHTER"

WILKES-BARRE, Sept. 25. Peter Dietrich, on trial in this city since Monday for the killing of James A. Jones, was convicted of voluntary manslaughter.

The case was given to the jury at 11 o'clock this morning. At 3:15 this evening a verdict was returned.

Judge Lynch occupied about an hour in his charge, which was considered by all who heard it most clear and impartial. He went over the evidence and defined murder in the first and second degrees as well as manslaughter.

The judge told the jury that if in view of all the testimony it believed beyond a reasonable doubt that Dietrich was insane at the time he fired the shot that killed James A. Jones it was his duty to acquit him.

If from the evidence the jury believed that when the fatal shot was fired Dietrich was handling his revolver in his place of business in a criminally negligent manner it was its duty to convict him of voluntary manslaughter.

In conclusion the court explained to the jury that it might find the defendant guilty of murder in the second degree, of voluntary manslaughter or it might acquit him.

The maximum penalty for voluntary manslaughter is two years' imprisonment, there being no minimum, by which it is implied that the court imposing the sentence may name any term of years under twelve.

When the jury returned Judge Lynch was at his summer home at Harvey's Lake and Judge Fuller sat while the verdict was taken.

EASILY DECIDED.

This Question Should Be Answered Easily by Danville People.

Which is wiser—to have confidence in the opinions of your fellow-citizens of people you know, or depend on statements made by utter strangers residing in far-away places? Read the following:

Mrs. George Ricketts, living at 405 Church street, Danville, Pa., says: "It is twelve years since Doan's Kidney Pills were first used in my family and I recommend them just as highly at this time. Mr. Ricketts had been more or less annoyed with pains through the small of his back which were even more severe when lying down than when at work. There was also a dull, heavy aching across his kidney regions accompanied by sharp, shooting twinges through his loins. Knowing that a kidney medicine was what his system required, he procured a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at Hunt's drug store. A short use gave him prompt and effective relief, removing the pain and lameness from his back and benefiting him in every way. He has used Doan's Kidney Pills on occasions since and has never failed to obtain satisfactory results."

A Giant Cypress.

Mrs. S. K. Hummer has a cypress vine growing in her yard at her home in South Danville, that is a wonder as vines go. It stands at least twenty feet high and is still growing. Early in its life it gave evidence of phenomenal growth, rapidly outgrowing the six foot rock that was built for it and climbing a convenient apple tree. It is covered with red and white flowers.

Mrs. Mary Eek has a champion bearing mango stalk in the yard of her home on Walnut street. It stands only three feet high but has twenty-six full sized mangoes.

AN ATTEMPT AT MURDER

Continued from 1st Page. her assailant. She fought as best she could, but she was unable to parry the stunning blows that fell on her head from the iron tube. By covering her face with her hands she not only shut out the infuriated gaze of the man that was trying to kill her, but she protected her eyes and face from the blows.

The poor woman fought heroically and thus managed to avert the full force of many of the blows, but the blood each time the iron descended upon her skull flowed from a fresh wound and not only covered her own body but left its tell tale stains on the would-be murderer's clothes. The floor of the room where the struggle took place, with its pools of blood, presented a horrible sight, attesting to the desperate nature of the struggle.

Mrs. Benfield pleaded with her assailant. Once she said: "Why you'll kill me." The reply, she says, that Welliver made to this was: "That's what I intend to do."

Soon after this Mrs. Benfield heard the welcome sound of Mr. Vognetz's approaching wagon. Welliver heard it also and it disconcerted him for a moment. Mrs. Benfield managed to escape to the door and ran down to the front gate. Her assailant, still carrying the iron weapon in his hand, ran out of another door and, by a circuitous route and leaping over the fence, caught Mrs. Benfield in front of the house and renewed the assault. At this spot three times he struck her on the head with the steel tub. It was at this juncture that Mr. Vognetz appeared in sight and Welliver leaped over the fence and ran away.

Hurley Benfield at once telephoned into Danville for Chief Mincemoyer, who hurried to the Benfield farm. Meanwhile the township constable and citizens started out in search of the would-be murderer.

Welliver was found working in the buckwheat field. He disclaimed all knowledge of the affair and said that he had been working in the field all the morning. He followed the party to the Benfield farm, where even the scene of the crime did not move him and his protestations of innocence were so loud as almost to disarm suspicion.

When Officer Mincemoyer reached Benfield's, Welliver had not been arrested and, along with others, sat upon the fence, apparently by no means the most concerned.

Officer Mincemoyer asked him how he had gotten the blood stains upon his clothing. "Oh," was the reply, "my nose bled."

The officer requested Welliver to take him to the spot where his nose had bled. Rather reluctantly the fellow turned to comply, when a thought struck him and he said: "Oh, you can't see the blood, I covered it up."

The officer asked him why he covered up the blood and he replied that that was his custom when his nose bled.

"Well, we'll go and see the spot any how," the officer said. Welliver seemed to realize that he would have to comply and he went along. Before they reached the field the officer had the boy hopelessly tangled up. Finally, he broke down and made a full confession. He went to the Benfield house, he said, for the purpose of killing Mrs. Benfield and that he would have killed her had help not arrived. He said he wanted "to get even with her" and concluded his confession with the remark: "I don't want to hang for it."

Officer Mincemoyer brought Welliver into town and placed him in prison. Before leaving, however, he was taken to the Benfield homestead, where he was fully identified by Mrs. Benfield.

The two physicians found Mrs. Benfield in a pitiable condition. There were fifteen separate gashes cut in her head, indicating that many blows with the heavy steel instrument. On the top of her head the skull was laid bare for the size of a man's hand. Elsewhere from her forehead to the back of her head the scalp was cut and bruised over nearly every inch of the surface. It required 35 stitches to sew up the wound and the hair had to be shaved off the woman's head.

An unfortunate feature was, owing to the woman's condition, it was not deemed advisable to administer an anesthetic. She stood the ordeal bravely, however. The physicians found no fracture or depression in the skull to the brain and, if the woman overcomes the effect of the fright and shock, they see no reason why she should not recover. At last accounts she was doing as well as could be expected.

Arthur Welliver, the accused, is a son of N. B. Welliver, of Valley township.

Saved His Boy's Life.

"My three year old boy was badly constipated, had a high fever and was in an awful condition. HUGH H. VASTINE PASSES AWAY

Hugh H. Vastine died at his residence, at South Danville at 2:45 o'clock Friday morning following a protracted illness.

The cause of death was valvular heart affection. He was in impaired health for many years prior to his death. For two years his condition was very serious.

Mr. Vastine was a native of Rush township, where he spent the greater part of his life, removing later to Gearhart township where he resided up to the time of his demise. He followed farming all his life and was most successful in that vocation.

He belonged to one of the oldest families in this section, his father, William Vastine, also being a native of Northumberland county. The deceased was a veteran of the civil war, serving for nine months in the 172nd regiment, P. V. L., as fourth sergeant, under Captain Herman K. Eckman. He enlisted on October 16, 1862. He was a kind and generous parent, an obliging neighbor and a good citizen.

The deceased was aged 70 years, 2 months and 3 days. He is survived by his wife, two sons, Wilson and Spencer Vastine, and one daughter, Miss Elizabeth, who, along with her brother Wilson, resides at the parental home. Two brothers, Amos Vastine of this city, and Simon Vastine of Rush township, also survive, along with one sister, Mrs. James Oglesby of Danville.

THE GREAT HI HENRY IS DEAD

Hi Henry, the famous minstrel man, who has often appeared in Danville at the head of his minstrel company, is dead. He was stricken with paralysis recently at his home near Boise, Idaho. He was born in Towanda, N. Y., and later in life moved to Reno, where he was employed in the Pennsylvania railroad shops for a short time. In his early days he was musically inclined and soon became proficient on a cornet, being considered one of the best virtuosi in the United States. He organized a minstrel show and visited this city many times. He amassed a fortune in the business.

A Jeweler's Experience.

C. R. Kluger, the Jeweler, 1069 Virginia Ave., Indianapolis, Ind., writes: "I was so weak from kidney trouble that I could hardly walk a hundred feet. Four bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy cleared my complexion, cured my backache and the irregularities disappeared, and I can now attend to business every day, and recommend Foley's Kidney Remedy to all sufferers, as it cured me after the doctors and other remedies had failed. An Attempt to Burglarize.

An attempt was made to break into the store of J. H. Kase, South Danville, on Friday night. Saturday morning it was discovered that two of the thin strips of wood that hold in place the large glass inserted in the front door had been partially removed, which made it evident not only that burglars had been trying to effect an entrance, but also that if they had been given a few minutes more time they would no doubt have succeeded in robbing the store.

About 3 o'clock Saturday morning H. O. Kase, who lives nearby, heard a noise in the direction of the store, which resembled the sound of a hammer.

If the attempt to burglarize occurred at that time the microscans were no doubt frightened away by mill hands passing on their way to work.

Burned to Death.

An explosion of a gasoline tank in the refining yards of the Titusville Oil works, at Titusville, on Sunday started a fire which destroyed the lubricating plant, storage tanks and several thousand barrels of oil and benzine. Geo. Mayer was burned to death and John O'Neill is missing. Loss $50,000.

Woman Interrupts Political Speaker.

A well dressed woman interrupted a political speaker recently by continually coughing. If she had taken Foley's Honey and Tar it would have cured her cough quickly and expelled the cold from her system. The genuine Foley's Honey and Tar contains no opiates and is in a yellow package. Refuse substitutes. For Sale by Paules & Co's Pharmacy.

Offending Bicyclists.

Frequent complaint is heard of these days of violations of the ordinance which prohibits the riding of bicycles on the sidewalks. Evidently many of the local bicyclists believe this law is a dead letter, and are indulging themselves accordingly. A few fines for wilful violation of the ordinance would probably prove an effective restraint. The lives and limbs of children are particularly jeopardized by the riding of bicycles on the sidewalks, and the practice ought to be promptly restrained by the police.

Transfer of Marble Works.

The Danville marble works, sold at trustees sale on Friday, along with the most of the stock, was purchased by Geo. F. Reifsnyder. On Saturday afternoon the plant was transferred by Mr. Reifsnyder to Thomas J. Swank, who will operate the works as soon as he can get things in shape.

If you cannot make a good appearance you might as well make an effective disappearance.

Dispensary Has 14 Patients

The report of the tuberculosis dispensary for the month ending September 20th reveals that there are a total of 14 patients, on the list, 10 of which are in active attendance at the dispensary. Two new patients have been admitted during the month.

Eight of the patients show a total gain of 19 1/4 pounds, two of the patients gaining five and four pounds, respectively. One reveals neither gain nor loss and one less than a pound. Miss Geddes, the nurse, made twelve visits among the patients enrolled at the local dispensary during the month. Orders were given for 224 quarts of milk and 79 dozen of eggs.

The dispensary has now been in existence 6 months. Dr. Stock has entered on the crusade against tuberculosis with much enthusiasm. He brings into the work those rare qualities which are sure to make for success. He is a deep reader and employs every spare moment in advancing himself in his profession and keeping abreast with the times in the war that is being waged on tuberculosis.

As soon as the dispensary is removed into its new and enlarged quarters on Bloom street, at least twice a month Dr. Stock will deliver lectures to his patients on the subject of tuberculosis. The general public will be admitted. Dr. Stock is an active member of the International Congress on tuberculosis, which will meet in Washington, D. C. next week. He will be present at least a portion of the time.

Gym Class Schedule.

The gymnasium class schedule at the Y. M. C. A. will be practically the same as last year except that all intermediate classes will be held in the evening.

The schedule which has been arranged is as follows: Business Men, 4:15 to 5:15 p. m., Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. Seniors, 8 to 9:30 p. m., Tuesday, 8 to 9 p. m., Friday. Intermediate, 7:30 to 8:15 p. m., Monday and Thursday. Juniors, 4:30 to 5:30 p. m., Wednesday and 9:30 to 10:30 a. m., Saturday. Girls' class, 4:15 to 5:15 p. m., Friday. Special classes, 9:00 to 9:30 p. m., Friday.

All these classes will have their first session during the week beginning Monday, September 28th.

At the request of a number who have boys too young to take the regular junior class work, a class will be formed of boys from eight to ten years of age, under the name of the elementary juniors. This class will meet, 4:15 to 5:15 p. m. on Monday and 3:15 to 4:15 p. m. on Fridays.

This class will have its first session on Monday, October 5th, provided ten members are secured by that time. Arrangements can be made for any of the classes with either the secretary or the physical director.

BIG CROP AND DOLLAR WHEAT

The United States has grown a wheat crop this summer well above the average of ten years. In fact, it was one of the banner harvests on record. And yet we have dollar wheat. This is the more noteworthy, since the average price of all commodities has fallen considerably from the high point reached during the boom period that culminated last year. It is true that in some countries wheat was a partial failure in 1908, so that the demands for the American cereal are greater. But it is also a fact that the world is not overstocked with breadstuffs, and it seems incapable of ever attaining that condition. Dollar wheat may appear high for the consumer, but it has its redeeming quality for the American nation, which exports from 100,000,000 to 150,000,000 bushels a year. It is one of the chief commodities that swell this country's trade balance to such splendid proportions.

Sentence Was Not Imposed.

Peter Dietrich, who was found guilty of voluntary manslaughter in the Wilkes-Barre court on Friday, did not receive his sentence Saturday as was generally expected. Along with other prisoners he was brought down from the jail for sentence, but Judge Lynch before whom the case was tried, did not come down from his home at Harvey's Lake. Dietrich, therefore, was the only prisoner found guilty during the week on whom sentence was not passed.

A report was current about Danville to the effect that when the verdict was returned Friday evening the customary motion for an arrest of judgment and a new trial was made by Dietrich's counsel with the intention of appealing to the supreme court, if necessary.

Thomas C. Welsh, of counsel for the defense, who arrived home from Wilkes-Barre Saturday evening, stated that no such a move had been made. Judge Fuller, who took the verdict not being the judge before whom the case was tried, of course could not entertain a motion looking to a new trial. Mr. Welsh was not in position to say whether or not a new trial would be applied for.

Dietrich, it appears, will not be brought back to Danville. Pending the final disposition of the case he will remain in prison at Wilkes-Barre.

DIGEST OF GAME LAWS FOR HUNTERS

At the request of hunters for an authentic summary of animals and birds declared to be game in Pennsylvania, when they may be killed, the number, etc., the following is taken from the table issued by Dr. Joseph Kalbfus, secretary of the game commission, as it appears in his 1907 digest. With no session of legislature this year there can be of course no conflicting regulations:

Beaver, unlimited, October 1 to March 1. Black birds, all kinds, unlimited, September 1 to January 1. Doves (mourning or turtle), unlimited, September 1 to January 1. Deer, male with horns, one each season, November 15 to December 1. Pheasant, English, Monaghan or Chinese, five in one day, 20 in one week, 50 in one season, October 15 to December 1. Grouse (ruffed), commonly called pheasant, five in one day, 20 in one week, 50 in one season, October 1 to December 1. Hare or rabbit, unlimited, October 15 to December 1. Quail, commonly called Virginia partridge, 10 in one day, 40 in one week, 75 one season, November only. Webfooted wild fowl of all kinds, unlimited, September 1 to April 10. Wild turkey, one in a day, four in one season, October 15 to December 1. Woodcock, 10 in one day, 20 in one week, 50 in one season, October 1 to December 1. Squirrel, fox, black or grey, six of combined kinds in one day, October 1 to December 1. Shore birds, unlimited, September 1 to January 1. Snipe, Jack or Wilson, unlimited, September 1 to May 1. Plover, unlimited, July 15 to December 1. Remember that game killed in this commonwealth may be had in possession only during the open season for such game and for 15 days thereafter. No deer, pheasant or quail killed within the commonwealth can be bought or sold at any time. No pheasant killed outside the commonwealth can be sold within the commonwealth except during the open season in this State and 30 days thereafter. No wild turkey or woodcock killed either within or without the commonwealth can be bought or sold at any time. All other game can be bought or sold in season. No game of any kind can be legally carried or in any manner removed from the State.

Hiram Bevan Is No More.

Hiram Bevan, a well-known resident, died at his home, North Mill street, at 7:20 o'clock Saturday morning after a protracted illness, death being due to a complication of diseases. The deceased was 87 years of age and was the son of our former townsman Evan Bevan, now of Burnham. Besides his father the deceased is survived by his widow and three little sons. He is also survived by one sister, Mrs. Hoffman, of Shamokin and two brothers: David John, of Caribou Roads, British Columbia and Thomas, who resides in Monmouthshire, England. William Silcox is a half brother of the deceased.

Three weeks ago Mrs. Evan Bevan, mother of the deceased, died at Burnham and was brought here for burial.

Black Hand Letters.

Two Reading families have been greatly disturbed by the receipt, on last Friday, of Black Hand letters, demanding the payment of money, or their homes would be dynamited. The persons so addressed were Daniel Rismitler, of whom $300 was demanded, and George Fredericks, who was to deliver $500.

William T. Hess, of Philadelphia, aged about 30 years, fell from a trolley car near Bristol, Bucks county, on Monday night and was injured so severely about the head that he died in a short time.

Does Your Heart Beat

Yes, 100,000 times each day. Does it send out good blood or bad blood? You know, for good blood is good health; bad blood, bad health. And you know precisely what to take for bad blood—Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Doctors have endorsed it for 60 years.

One frequent cause of bad blood is a sluggish liver. This produces constipation. Poisonous substances collect in the blood. Keep the bowels open with Ayer's Pills.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know it.

How To Find Out. Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours. A sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys. If it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also evidence that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What To Do. There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

PLANS FOR Y. M. C. A. WORK

At the present time the prospect for an active season at the Y. M. C. A. is the best it has been for some time. The gymnasium, dressing rooms, bath rooms and lockers have all been cleaned, repaired and painted and present a neat and attractive appearance. The other rooms of the building are being put in condition and will be ready for use as soon as needed.

The work planned for the different departments is, in short, as follows: RELIGIOUS ACTIVITY. In the religious work arrangements are being made to have at least one Sunday afternoon men's meeting each month, with a speaker and a subject that will attract men. The purpose is to get not only men of recognized ability, but also men that otherwise it would not be the privilege of the people of Danville to hear.

The King's Business club, started last year, will continue its meetings on Tuesday evening at 8:30 beginning October 1st. A Life Problem club will start later and arrangements will be made for one or two shop meetings each week.

BOYS' WORK. For the juniors the Anchor club will meet as before on Monday evenings. On Friday evening at 7:30 a boys' meeting will be held to which all boys of town between the ages of eight and sixteen will be invited. More definite information about these meetings will be announced later.

EDUCATIONAL DEPARTMENT. The practical talks that were given last year met with much favor. It is planned to have a series this year beginning on October 6th, and continuing until the holidays. These will be given on Tuesday evening of each week from 7:20 to 7:50 o'clock. The schedule for October is as follows: October 6—"Health and Vigor," E. A. Curry, M. D. October 13—"What to Read and How to Read It," Prof. E. A. Bickel. October 20—"What Is a Political Campaign Good For?" W. L. Sidler, Esq. October
