FOUR BALLOONS MAY BE LOST

BERLIN, Oct. 14. Four of the balloons that started in the international race are still missing, and today little doubt remains that they have fallen either into the North Sea or the Baltic and their daring aeronauts drowned.

HARDLY IN THE AIR. The Castilla was one of the three balloons that sailed in the James Gordon Bennett cup race on Saturday her competitors being the German Busley and the Swiss Helvetia, both of which are still missing.

TWO GERMAN MISSING. The German balloons Hegerzell, piloted by Lieutenant Toetsch, and the Plain, in charge of Herr Hackstetter, which started in the endurance race Monday, have not been heard from.

BRITON HAS BEST RECORD. The British balloon Banshee, reported in these dispatches yesterday as the probable winner of the Bennett cup, still has the best record. It came down at Hidding, Schleswig-Holstein, 435 kilometers from Berlin.

JOHN G. McHENRY, Candidate for Second Congressional Term. FROM THE DAILY MAIL OCT. 1, 1908.

MR. McHENRY'S SPEECHES.

Hon. John G. McHenry's speeches on banking and currency questions are commanding the widest attention and commendation from men of all sections and conditions.

Your district is to be congratulated upon being represented by one whose utterances in the last Congress, and whose recent addresses are shaping public opinion upon one of the important issues of the present campaign.

It would be impossible to form a higher tribute to the services of a public official than that expressed in the letter of Mr. Whalen to Mr. McHenry.

My Dear Sir:—I beg the privilege of writing you my high appreciation of two of your recent addresses upon the banking question.

Forced by my position to be a student of economic questions, I am reading current discussions with deep interest, and among all has no success-I believe no one has so successfully brought to the intricacies of the currency question within the grasp of the people.

Over one hundred miners are entombed in the Koenig coal mine in Silesia. The catastrophe was caused by an explosion.

VIENNA, Oct. 14. No hope remains of saving any of the imprisoned miners, as the fire has shut off the work of rescue.

It is believed that there are nearly 200 men entombed, and that they will all be burned to death.

There is no way of making lasting friends like "Making Good" and Doctor Pierce's medicines well exemplify this, and their friends, after more than two decades of popularity, are numbered by the hundreds of thousands.

Those who have ever read the book "Graumark," by George Barr McCutcheon, and a mighty interesting novel it is, dealing with a subject ever new, yet ever old, that of love, must have been much gratified if they attended the dramatization of the novel at the opera house last night.
