MILTON HIGH DEFEATS DANVILLE

In a snappy game at the armory on Saturday night, the Reading Iron company basketball team was defeated by the strong Milton high school aggregation by the score of 21-14.

The playing of Cooper for Danville deserves mention. Placed as forward, he played all over, no mixup was too fierce for him and a number of times he was completely lost to the view of the spectators.

A HARD STRUGGLE

Many a Danville Citizen Finds the Struggle Hard. With a back constantly aching, with distressing urinary disorders, daily existence is but a struggle.

Supreme Organizer of Heptasoph. John W. Cruett, of Baltimore, supreme organizer of the Heptasoph, was in this city between trains Monday afternoon for the purpose of conferring with A. M. Peters, district deputy supreme archon on matters of importance relating to the order.

DEATH AFTER LONG ILLNESS

In the death of William H. Ammerman, the well known insurance agent, Danville is called upon to mourn the loss of one of its most beloved and honored citizens.

Death, which was due to a nervous breakdown, occurred at 7 o'clock last evening after a siege of suffering nine weeks in duration. The deceased had been very low for several days and death was not unexpected.

William H. Ammerman was born in Rush township, Northumberland county, on November 19th, 1834. He followed farming until he was 23 years of age.

In 1867 he formed a partnership with Patterson Johnson, the firm doing a general insurance business for 18 years until the death of Mr. Johnson in 1883. Following the death of Mr. Johnson the insurance business was conducted by William H. Ammerman.

The deceased was a member of Danville lodge, No. 224, F. & A. M. He is also a member of Mounton lodge, No. 109, I. O. O. F.

For many years he was a consistent member of the Mahoning Presbyterian church. He was a good citizen, a man of sterling integrity, who will be much missed in the community.

WOMAN STRUCK BY TRAIN

Mrs. Henry Messer, of Riverside, was struck by the 4:31 passenger train Saturday evening and hurled from the track. She sustained only slight injuries, however.

Mrs. Messer, who is 67 years of age, was walking down the track. Her hearing is bad, in addition to which she had her shawl over her head. She had reached a point below the silk mill known as Wildsmith's crossing when the down passenger train approached.

There was a train of freight cars on the siding, in addition to which there is a curve just above that point, which prevented the engineer from seeing the woman until he was quite near.

He sounded the whistle indicating danger. The people living near heard the whistle, but Mrs. Messer, with her ears muffled by her shawl, was unable to hear a sound. She kept on her way, walking on the track, while the engineer applied the emergency brake.

Before he could stop the train, however, the front part of the locomotive to which the pilot is attached struck the woman directly under the shoulder blade and hurled her head first off the track.

The train passed on and as soon as it could be brought to a stop returned to where the accident occurred. There were several eye witnesses of the affair and they all thought that the woman was fatally injured. To the surprise of all, however, she leaped to her feet and when the crew of the train came to her aid she refused all assistance and proceeded to her home alone.

Dr. I. G. Barber, of this city, physician for the Pennsylvania railroad company, visited Mrs. Messer later and discovered that although bruised somewhat, yet she was not seriously hurt.

The injured woman is the mother of Joseph and Andrew Smith, butchers, of this city.

Mrs. McRaney's Experience

Mrs. McRaney, Prentiss, Miss., writes: "I was confined to my bed for three months with kidney and bladder trouble, and was treated by two physicians but failed to get relief. No human tongue can tell how I suffered, and I had given up hope of ever getting well until I began taking Foley's Kidney Remedy. After taking two bottles I felt like a new person, and feel it my duty to tell suffering women what Foley's Kidney Remedy did for me." For sale at Paules & Co. Pharmacy.

"Don't Honor" Test Arouses Interest.

The following is from Tuesday's Philadelphia Press: "Much interest has been aroused among jurists and lawyers throughout the State in an experiment tried by Judge Charles C. Evans, of Berwick, presiding judge of the twenty-second judicial district. He has suspended sentence on two chronic offenders, several times convicted of larceny, in order to give them a chance to live upright lives if it is in them to do so. If they fail to reform they are to serve six years each at hard labor and in solitary confinement.

SCAFFOLD NEARLY ALL REMOVED

By last evening the scaffolding was nearly all removed from the soldiers' monument and for the first time the full effect of the noble obelisk was noted by the people passing. All the granite needed to complete the base including a block to replace the one condemned has arrived at Danville and the most of it has been delivered at the monument. Our citizens are immensely interested in the fine memorial and as the work progresses there is always a group of persons nearby looking on.

ESTIMATE COST INCLUDES PUMPING

Owing to the near approach of the date when the borough must prepare and submit plans for a sewage disposal plant the article in our last issue aroused a great deal of interest among the taxpayers of the borough.

Several persons have asked for further information on the subject. First, they desire to know whether thirty thousand dollars, the approximate cost, includes the installing of the pumping plant, which goes with the sprinkling filter recommended by the committee.

Borough Secretary Harry Patton yesterday stated that he was present when the expert made the estimate and that as he understood it the installing of the sprinkling filter would cost $20,000 and the pumping plant $10,000 additional.

Second, they desire to know what the probable cost of maintaining such a plant would be.

In regard to maintenance it seems that no definite estimate was made by the expert.

The city of Williamsport, which is figuring on a sewage disposal plant to cost over $300,000, has obtained some data as to maintenance, &c., that has given the project a decided setback.

According to the figures of an expert it will cost Williamsport at least $30 per day, or almost $11,000 a year, for maintenance. The visiting engineer also jarred councils by the statement that systems and plans employed in the erection and operation of sewage disposal plants at this time may be considered obsolete ten years from now, leaving the impression that the expenditure of a large amount of money at present might be next to wasteful in the light of what the next decade may develop.

To Promote Basket Ball.

A league of the five basket ball teams of Danville was organized at the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday. The organization will be known as the Danville Amateur Basket Ball League. Represented in the league are the following: The Y. M. C. A. club, J. C. Ainsworth, manager. The Reading Iron Company A. A. club, Walter Lovett, manager. The officers elected are as follows: President, John Kase; vice president, Walter Lovett; secretary, J. C. Ainsworth; treasurer, R. Y. Gearhart. The board of directors will consist of the managers of the several teams. The officers elected are as follows: President, John Kase; vice president, Walter Lovett; secretary, J. C. Ainsworth; treasurer, R. Y. Gearhart. The object of organizing the league is to promote basket ball in Danville and to have a record of over forty years of existence. It is the most potent invigorating tonic and strengthening nerve known to medical science. It is made of the glyceric extracts of native medicinal roots found in our forests and contains not a drop of alcohol or harmful or habit-forming drugs. Its ingredients are all printed on the bottle wrapper and attested under oath as correct. Every ingredient entering into "Favorite Prescription" has the written endorsement of the most eminent medical writers of all the several schools of practice—more valuable than any amount of non-professional testimonials—though the latter are not lacking, having been contributed voluntarily by grateful patients in numbers to exceed the endorsements given to any other medicine extant for the cure of woman's ills. You cannot afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for this well proven remedy or know composition, even though the dealer may make a little more profit thereby. Your interest in regarding health is paramount to any selfish interest of his and it is an insult to your intelligence for him to try to palm off upon you a substitute. You know what you want and it is his business to supply the article called for.

Opening Bed of Blizard's Run.

The D. L. & W. Railroad company is excavating on Blizard's run at the bend of the stream east of the station. In order to prevent the run from overflowing the railroad a culvert of ample dimensions was constructed for the track at this point a year or so ago. South of the railroad, however, where the bend occurs, the bed of the stream is low and when rains occur the water, instead of draining off freely is thrown back upon the track.

Little Want Ads Always Pay

The tremendous buying and selling possibilities of a small classified advertisement in a great newspaper are seldom appreciated. "THE PHILADELPHIA PRESS" goes into thousands of homes and is read by a multitude of people, some of whom have what you want or want what you have. The advertisement brings buyer and seller together. For instance, a man in the South wanted a certain rare book. He wrote to the leading booksellers in New York, Philadelphia and Chicago without success. He then tried a small advertisement in "THE PHILADELPHIA PRESS" and secured the book within forty-eight hours. You can satisfy your wants as quickly by putting an advertisement in "THE PHILADELPHIA PRESS" if you have dogs or birds to sell, try "THE PRESS." If you have a farm to sell, small want ad placed in "THE PRESS" will accomplish the desired result.

Two-Horse Team IN RUNAWAY

The team of the Atlantic Refining company ran off with a loaded wagon yesterday but was caught before much damage ensued. At a moment when the driver was busy at the oil company's station along the canal the horses took fright and dashed off at a lively clip. With the driver in pursuit the team, in turning the corner at the slaughter house the wagon struck a small building and tore out one corner. Here also one of several barrels in the wagon fell out. The other barrels remained in place until the horses were caught, which occurred near Bloom street. The horses escaped injury; neither was the wagon damaged.

POLES ON STREET YIELD REVENUE

If the average citizen were asked to conjecture how many poles the different telephones, electric light and other companies maintain in Danville he would probably guess wide of the mark.

Are over one thousand poles on our streets supporting overhead the system of wires that conducts the electric current, in one or another of its forms that have become such indispensable factors in modern civilization.

To be exact there are just 1088 poles in Danville, distributed as follows: The American Telephone and Telegraph company, 53; Western Union company, 3; Standard Electric Light company, 339; Philadelphia, Reading and Pottsville Telephone company, 9; United Telephone and Telegraph company, 150; Danville and Bloomsburg Street Railway company, 70; Danville and Sunbury Transit company, 73; Bell Telephone company, 91; Danville Electric Light plant, 400.

While the poles in one sense are objectionable yet they yield the borough an annual revenue which is by no means to be despised. From each corporation outside the borough a year tax of sixty cents per pole is collected, amounting in the aggregate to over $400.

In the past some trouble was experienced in collecting the license owing to the multiplicity of poles and the difficulty in discovering the true owners. At present, however, the question of ownership is settled; none of the companies are disposed to dispute the legality of the tax and payment is promptly made.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect it.

Prevalence of Kidney Disease. Most people do not realize the alarming increase and remarkable prevalence of kidney disease. While kidney disorders are the most common diseases that prevail, they are almost the last recognized by patients and physicians, who content themselves with doctoring the effects, while the original disease undermines the system.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When home of Swamp-Root, writing mention this paper and don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y.

MEETING NOT A SUCCESS

From appearances it would seem that the mummies' parade, which for so many years past has been a feature on New Year's day, will be omitted in Danville this year. A gentleman who in years past has always been a prime mover in the New Year's demonstration Monday explained that there is a lack of enthusiasm at present which augurs ill for the success of the event. In fact, it would seem that the idea of holding a parade this year has been practically abandoned.
