The store burglarized is situated on Market street and extends back to an alley. The robbery took place between midnight and morning, entrance being effected by breaking through a door at the rear.

Included in the rich haul made by the burglars were sixty revolvers, one-half dozen guns, rifles, knives and razors. It is thought that the burglars had a carriage, as about the hour of midnight some one saw a carriage in the vicinity of the store that was robbed.

What makes the robbery an especially bold one is the fact that the revolvers stolen were removed from the front part of the store within ten feet of the glass front where the robbers were clearly in view from the street.

The number of days on which it rained, however, is no criterion as to the amount of rainfall. Mr. Leighow states that on most occasions the rains were very light, barely settling the dust. As is well-known a drought prevailed during those months.

The first snow of the season fell on October 31st last. In November there were three snows; in December there were eleven snows.

"The Traveling Salesman." A marked feature of James Forbes' comedy success, "The Traveling Salesman," which comes to this city on Thursday, January 21st, is the large number of laughable slang expressions, entirely new to those who find much to interest them in the works of the celebrated slang authors of the day.

The change in the township road law contemplates that road supervisors should serve as roadmasters, their pay to be fixed by the township auditors. If roadmasters be appointed, the compensation should be $25 per annum each. The treasurer is to be a member of the board and the taxes are to be paid at the same time other taxes are paid to the township collector.

The tax is to be in cash, provided the State pay 50 cents for each dollar thus raised by the township, the maximum State payment not to exceed $20 per mile per township. It is also urged that, the State failing to pay its share as suggested, corporations be taxed locally for road and other township purposes.

Other laws favored were the repeal of the poll tax or $1 property tax; re-enactment of the law for additional township assessors; annual assessment in April instead of December; State payment of minimum salary for the minimum term of all school teachers in the State. The latter measure, which will require an increased school appropriation, will be drafted later, together with additional legislation.

THE POTATO CROP FOR 1908

The potato crop for 1908 is said to be 274,600,000 bushels 200,000 bushels less than the year preceding, while the quality of the yield is far below the previous year.

The potato crop for 1908 is said to be 274,600,000 bushels 200,000 bushels less than the year preceding, while the quality of the yield is far below the previous year. If the potatoes were all good the quantity will not supply the home demand, since it is only about three bushels per capita, and out of that seed must come for the next crop.

This will mean high prices for one of the most staple foods of the workingman, as the tariff on potatoes is so high as to permit the home farmers and retailers to charge a big price for their product, and prevent competition. No other country reporting the potato crop makes such a poor showing as the United States, only about eighty bushels to the acre, against 200 and more bushels by Great Britain, Germany and other countries.

It is strange that we do not grow enough potatoes to supply our home demand. The cause of this small yield from year to year, is said to be due more to planting poor seed than to any other one cause.

The smaller yield in 1908 than 1907 was due to a more unfavorable season, but the steadily declining yield must be due to other than climatic conditions, and seed seems to be the most probable cause. Doubtless it is true that seed is planted which is not desirable for other uses, when, in fact, the best specimens should be planted. Not the largest, but the smoothest, shapeliest and most nearly ideal specimens. It is doubtless true that those who are now growing good crops of potatoes do not care to see all others doing the same, being satisfied with conditions as they are.

But "the greatest good to the greatest number" is the sentiment which move the News to urge the growing of more bushels to the acre.

A DIARY OF THE WEATHER. Our townsman, George M. Leighow, one of few persons who succeeded in keeping a diary of the weather for the year past. Each day he accurately recorded whether or not there a rain or snow. The result shows that there were 91 rains and 38 snows in 1908.

In January it rained on five days and snowed on seven days. In February there were four rains and ten snows. In March there were nine rains and three snows. In April there were ten rains and two snows.

In May it rained on seventeen days; in June six days; in July ten days; in August ten days; in September, four days; in October, six days; in November, seven days; in December, three days.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs.

This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose. Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mid and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling all about it, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

LOST HER LIFE ON PENNSY TRACK

A terrible accident occurred on the Pennsylvania railroad at Northumberland, Saturday evening, when Mrs. Martha J. Miller, aged 68 years, was crushed to a shapeless mass beneath the wheels of a passenger train.

She lived with the family of Elmer Sanders on Duke street. About five o'clock, as dusk was falling, she started for the home of George Zellers, along the railroad, in the upper part of the town to get some milk. The railroad was the easiest way of reaching the place, and she started to walk up the track. The night was darkening as she passed between Fourth and Fifth streets and being deaf, she did not notice the approach of the east bound passenger train, due at Northumberland at 5:13 P. M., which had not begun to slacken speed for the station. Several small boys called to her but when she did see the train she was so bewildered that she was unable to move and it struck her and she was thrown beneath the wheels.

Her arms were both broken, her head badly crushed and her entire body bruised. Death resulted instantly. The train ran on for three squares before it could be stopped. It then backed up and picked up the mutilated body of the aged woman. It was taken to the station where it remained until it was identified.

The coroner's jury rendered a verdict exonerating the railroad from blame, as she was on their property without leave when killed.

"Penny" Settled. Rather than take its case into court, the Pennsylvania Railroad Co., has settled its case in which it was sued by Columbia county to recover $200, for its share of the expense incident to the burning of the old wooden bridge across the Catawissa creek at the paper mill. At the time of the flood of 1902, the old bridge was torn from its fastenings and tied up in a gorge just above the Penny's new structure below. That company fearing that it would lose the iron bridge agreed to pay $200, if the county would burn the old structure. This was agreed to, the bridge was burned, but the railroad company repudiated its part of the contract.

Suit was instituted prior to the December term, 1908, and the suit was continued. Afterwards it was settled by the railroad company paying $107,50, and all costs.
