Their cases, he thought, would be one that would appeal to the State 65 livestock sanitary board and that in all probability some provision would be made for them.

Danville Boy's Advancement.

Robert Arms, a graduate of the com mercial department of the Danville high school has made rapid advance-ment in the couple of years that have 63 elapsed since leaving school.

About eighteen months ago he en tered the employment of Hill, Clarke & company, machinery merchants, as stenographer, in the company's branch office in Philadelphia.

Mr. Arms made an excellent record and his employers decided to reward him with promotion. They according ly made him manager of the Philadel-phia house. The position is one of responsibility.
