A Spanish War Criticism. When the Spanish war came A Spanish War Criticism.
When the Spanish war came upon us Commodore Dewey was at Hongkong. The navy department had sent him no preliminary orders. He didn't know anything about the ultimate policy or what the ultimate plan of campaign would be. The navy department didn't itself know. Dewey should didn't itself know. Dewey should have moved two or three days sooner than he did, and two or three days sometimes are vital. But our Wash-ington officials were only aroused to the necessity of giving Admiral Dewey an order by a cablegram from Dewey informing them that the British gov-ernor of Hongkong insisted that our fleet must leave there. We were so dazed by the immediate exigencies of war that the English government had to prod us in the ribs to wake us up. Then our Washington authorities is-Then our Washington authorities is-sued an order and not till then. They told Dewey to proceed to the Philip-pine Islands and capture or destroy the Spanish fleet. In other words, they gave him the stereotyped war order in the phraseology of the signal code, which, literally translated, read: "Go ahead and do the best you can. We give it up."—Collier's.

Hotel Grafters

The proprietor of one of the largest hotels in New York, speaking of the uses made by nonpaying customers of his house, said to a rural guest a few days ago: "We have a large number of patrons from whom we never collect a cent, although we have no such thing as a free list. They come here in the morning, pick up a castoff paper, which they read, keeping an eye open for another, which they grab as soon as it is dropped. After reading awhile they stand at the ticker, often giving long lectures to their fellows on financial conditions and stock possibilities. The overcoat becomes burdensome, and it is taken to the check room, where its owner knows it will be perfectly safe. Then, if they can tear themselves from the ticker, letters are written on our stationery. They do not use our telephones because we charge an extra 5 cents for the call, but they carry home matches, toothpicks, blank cards and blotters and use up the soap in our lavatories. They also take generous nitbles of the cheese and crackers in the cafe. The strangest part of all is this—that the majority of this class are well tod on and highly respectable, and on that account we do not shut them out."—New York Tribune.

"The Blood is The Life."

Science has never gone beyond the above simple statement of scripture. But it has illuminated that statement and given it a meaning ever broadening with the increasing breadth of knowledge. When the blood is "bad" or impure it is not alone the body which suffers through disease. The brain is also clouded, the mind and judgement are exceted, and many an evil deed or impure thought may be firectly traced to the impure of the broad Foul, impure blood can be made cure by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.
